On the other hand there is also no reason to doubt that if the Chinese authorities do not yield to the firm demands of the Ministers of the Powers concerted hostile action upon the part of the war vessels to the various nations represented in these waters is imminent. Too much damage has been done and too many outrages have been perpetrated upon the foreign residents of this country to permit to the representatives of the Powers submitting any longer to be put off with vague statements, which in the main actually mean that China cannot or will not redress the wrongs done to peaceful residents of foreign nationality, and that the latter have been outrageously treated in their persons or in their possessions by Chinese mobs, over which the authorities seem to have no control.

Such is the state of affairs it is now known that the foreign Ministers have been compelled to inform the Chinese government that a joint naval demonstration of an effective nature, in which the French, American, British and German squadrons will take part, will be ordered in the near future unless speedy reparation is made for the injuries, outrages and abuses complained of by the Ministers of the Powers.

Naturally the foreign population of this city being aware of the firm stand taken by the Ministers and having knowledge of the ultimatum sent to the Chinese government, is in a state of considerable anxious expectation.

Pensive and Expensive.

Many a woman shrinks from consulting a physician about functional derangements and weakness, and prefers to suffer in silence. She is sad and pensive, and her neglect of her ailments will prove expensive. It may cost her her life. One of the most skilful physicians of the day, who has had a vast experience in curing diseases peculiar to women, has prepared a remedy which is of inestimable aid to them. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. b

Everybody Admires Soft, White Hands, and every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6639

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

MORE cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses,

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Health in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. R. Greatrix, druggists. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCY, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the NERVOUS and MUSCULAR SYSTEMS.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Resolution of Condolence.

On Tuesday last, at the regular meeting of W. T. M. A. Charlotte street Methodist church, the following resolutions were passed: That we place on record our deep regret, that we as a society have sustained in the loss by death, of our dear sister and fellow worker, Mrs. Robert Stenton, and our deepest sympathy for the bereaved husband and family. And, That we may all strive to do our duty as faithfully as she did, always ready and willing to "do the right"; that we, like her, may hear the "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." And that a copy of this resolution be sent to her afflicted husband.

Appeals to Your Intelligence.

When all is said there is certainly a wonderful satisfaction when leaving a theatre to feel that you have seen something you can recall with delight; to have seen a story developed that has excited your interest; you have laughed uproariously at fun that happened naturally and was not dragged in, in such a senseless fashion as to be an insult to your intelligence. Such a play is "Casey's Troubles." The plot is wholesome: the fun unceasing; the songs new and catchy; the scenery superb; the climaxes thrilling, and the company headed by that piquant little ray of sunlight, Miss Lillian Kennedy, one of the best on the road. d43

OUR CIVIC HOLIDAY!

A Tremendous Exodus From the Town.

People Scuttle out of Town in Every Direction in Search of Enjoyment—Divers Successful Excursions, and Some Not So Much So—Sporting Successes and Reverses.

Yesterday the citizens of Peterborough loyally responded to the mayor's request to observe August 20th as a civic holiday. If Port Hope or Lindsay ever expect to capture Peterborough, they missed their chance by not pouncing on us yesterday. The population of the town was reduced to its lowest ebb—almost every able-bodied citizen of both sexes fled from its borders. The regularly advertised excursions took thousands away, and what depletion these did not effect was ably supplemented by private excursions of every kind. Every available horse and vehicle was pressed into service. Scores who could not get horses went on foot, and the wheel took a large numbers in divers directions. The home guard however had a delightful day of it. Though the temperature was sotive, the breeze, delightfully brisk and cool, was active also, and it is a moot matter whether the stay-at-home citizens did not enjoy the rest as much as many who went farther and, in some cases, perhaps, fared worse.

Foresters' Excursion.

The excursion exodus began at 4.45 in the morning, when about a hundred and seventy five joined the excursion party of Court Little John Foresters to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. Two hours later a similar number went out by a another train, about three hundred and fifty people altogether joining this delightful excursion route.

To Stony Lake.

One of the pleasantest excursions of the day went to Stony Lake under the auspices of St. John's Church. There were about 250 passengers aboard the "Golden City," which made a quick run up the lakes to Burleigh, Julian and the head waters. A few got off at different islands and enjoyed three or four with their friends, though the majority remained on the boat and took the round trip. The excursion was highly successful and a delightful day's outing.

Salvation Army Excursion.

The farewell excursion tendered to Staff-Capt. Beatty and wife, and Scribe Rawlings brought out over one hundred excursionists, who boarded the Daisy and the palace scow. The band was on board, and during the pleasant sail down the river devotional exercises were held. At Idyl Wild the excursionists spent a couple of pleasant hours in enjoying a picnic dinner. The return journey was cheered by devotional exercises also, and the happy party reached the home wharf at 10.20.

The C.M.B.A. Excursion.

The next most depopulating element of the day was perhaps the C.M.B.A. excursion, which took about 400 persons northward. At Chemong the party left the train and embarked on board the steamer Alice Ethel and the palace barge Lindsay. A pleasant sail brought the party to Bobcaygeon, dancing, to the music of Cawthorne's orchestra, beginning at Chemong and lasting the whole of the voyage. At Bobcaygeon the party enjoyed themselves for an hour, Mr. Smiff's sanctum being a centre of attraction, especially to the fair sex. The voyage and the dancing were renewed as the crafts passed through the locks, and Sturgeon Point was reached, where a stay of three hours was made, which time was divided between the important function of dining and the delightful employment of exploring the beauties of the Point. Here the Royal Templar's excursion, which had been switched off the Stony Lake route by low water, was encountered. The C.M.B.A. excursionists set sail for Lindsay, where they arrived at 8:30, remaining till eight, when they started for home, which was reached at 9 o'clock, the large party having spent a delightful day, to which the exertions and good management of the excursion committee largely contributed.

The Royal Templar's Erratic Excursion.

Between three hundred and fifty and four hundred excursionists, after a rather tedious wait pulled out of the G. T. R. station to go the round of the lakes. The start did not tend to put the excursionists in good humour nor was their amability increased by their being told that the steamer Crandella, could not take the lake circuit "the water being too low," and that the Bobcaygeon-Sturgeon Point route would be substituted. Accordingly in due time Bobcaygeon was reached where dinner was procured. Then another unpleasant hitch occurred. The captain of the Crandella steamed away leaving about sixty passengers and the committee, from whom it would be supposed he took his orders, behind, to waste their sweetness in Bobcaygeon. These had to charter the Esturion to take them to Sturgeon Point, where they rejoined their companions. The steamer being unfinished, the lack of an awning permitted the sparks to burn holes in gowns and hats, the condensed steam not being sufficient to extinguish them before the damage was done. The party returned home safely, though there was no little amount of grumbling at the breach of faith implied in the change of route and other unpleasant incidents of the trip.

The Firemen's Excursion and Regatta.

The firemen's excursion to Chemong Park took the largest crowd from town of any, as was to be expected from the cheapness of the trip and the other superior advantages it offered. The Grand Trunk Railway supplied three trains for the firemen, C.M.B.A. and Royal Templars excursions, all three taking the Chemong route. The steamer Maple Leaf, with scow attached, conveyed the passengers on the firemen's excursion to the Park, landing them about ten o'clock. With those who came in by other means it is estimated that there were seven or eight hundred people in in the Park Thursday.

The day was beautiful for a picnic, though the water was rather rough for boating. Most of the passengers took their baskets, and hot water was provided on the grounds for them. During the day dancing was carried on in the pavillion to the music of Butcher's orchestra.

The firemen were on the ground in uniform. In the morning they marched from the fire hall to the station, headed by the band, and during the day the fire ladies were indefatigable in their efforts to carry out the programme and make the picnickers comfortable.

The regatta was run off in the afternoon, with the following results:—

The first event was a sailing canoe race, one mile with turn. A. Mooney sailed over the course and was awarded first prize, a silver medal, presented by Clarke & Gibson, he being the only canoe that came to the scratch.

No. 2, single canoe race, was declared off, there being only one entry.

The Indian race, one mile with a turn, was won by W. Taylor; second, D. Wheetung. First prize was a silver cup, presented by G. W. Wyatt; second prize was a hammock, presented by McKee & Davidson.

Double bunting canoe race, half mile—1st, Wheetung and Taylor, a walnut clock presented by W. A. Sanderson; 2nd, J. Stadler and W. McIlmoyl, hat presented by Fairweather & Co. This was one of the best events of the day. There were five entries, and the race was hotly contested.

Boys canoe race—Walter English, first prize, fruit cake presented by J. C. Craig; second, Ernie Rutherford, knife presented by W. G. Bain.

The skiff race was changed to a double hunting canoe race, which was won by Wheetung and McIlmoyle, Taylor, and Stabler second.

The Hurry Skurry was won by Ernie Rutherford, R. Anderson second. First prize was a perfume sett presented by Geo. A. Schofield & Co.; second prize glass sett presented by C. B. Routley.

Several of the events on the programme, including the tug of war, did not take place for lack of entries.

The run home was quickly accomplished. The first load went early in the evening, but the bulk of the crowd remained for the last boat, which left the park at a quarter after eight. The excursionists filled ten coaches, but the railway men were equal to the occasion. This last train was in charge of Conductor Morris, with W. Pilling, engineer (No. 401), and R. Maitland, fireman. They handled their load in fine style.

The last of the excursionists reached home about ten o'clock, well pleased with the days' outing.

The Tour of the Baseball Club.

The Peterborough baseball team tried to play two games on civic holiday, and were defeated in both.

At Millbrook the score was 15 to 12 against them; at Cobourg they were not in it at all, McCabe pitched both games, O'Brien and Graham relieving each other behind the bat.

The boys feel sore enough over their defeats and they are ready to admit that they can't play ball, but they also wish it understood that if those who are so fond of telling them they had better quit it, think they can do any better themselves, they will gladly give them a chance to do so. The boys play for their own amusement and try to win every time; they are willing to strengthen their team with any of these fault-finding cranks who know how to do everything and can't do anything. The fact is, in the hardest job in the world to get up a baseball nine to represent Peterborough. A great many of those who pretend to play have no sportsmanlike spirit about them. They won't go to any trouble or expense to have a bit of fun on the diamond, and the team invariably has to be filled up with any who are willing to play, regardless of capability. If the young men of the town want a first-class club, let them get down to practice and show the people what they can do.

This does not imply that the present team is "no good," as some of the chronic faultfinders claim. The team has put up some good games at home this season, but it seems that they can't do as well on strange grounds, whatever is the reason.

In Thursday's games some awful work was done. McCabe was not in his best form, and first and second bases were very weak, as well as centre outfield. McCabe was hit pretty hard at times, but had he received any sort of support the heavy hitting of the opposing teams would not have resulted so disastrously. The Peterboroughs batted well, but their own fumbles and wild throws in the field and poor headwork accounted largely for their defeats. The error columns are staggering.

Millbrook has a good amateur club. Livingstone was in the box, and he was hit hard, as the score will show, but his field gave good support. They played clean, fast ball. Wilson, their catcher, was imported from Uxbridge for the occasion. McCabe threw slow at first, and was just getting down to work as the game finished. Graham and O'Brien did good work behind the bat. Several double plays were made by the Peterboroughs, but otherwise there were no special features. The Millbrooks took a good lead at the start and maintained it throughout. The umpire, Mr. Kells, has a lot to learn about baseball yet, and his decisions were decidedly unfavorable to Peterborough. Following is the score:

The above game was played in the forenoon, from 10 to 12 o'clock. The Peterborough team took the noon train to Port Hope and then drove over to Cobourg, where they met the Independents, who are laying claim —and with good grounds for doing so—to the amateur championship of Ontario. The Peterboroughs were simply not in it with the Independents. There was a large crowd of spectators, principally ladies, who came to see their pets do up the foreigners. McCabe again occupied the box, and for three innings threw a good ball, receiving fair support from the field. Then disaster came. The Independents, who are noted as a heavy batting team, got onto "Danny" and slugged the ball all over the field, and out of it. Half a dozen times they lifted the sphere over left field fence, and when the ball was batted inside the field it was pretty sure to be fumbled. Before the innings closed 12 runs had been scored—and then the jig was up. The Peterboroughs continued to rattle and the Independents to slug, though in the seventh and eighth innings the Peterboroughs braced up, "Danny" threw himself and the Independents were shut out. Peterborough only scored in two innings. During the game Lipsett was replaced by Parks at first base. Graham caught most of the game and caught it well, O'Brien taking a few innings behind the bat at the close. Grierson and Brown were the Independents' battery, and the Peterboroughs, though they managed to reach the ball often enough, were fielded out sharply. Parker, the star twirler of the Independents, went into the box the two last innings for practice, but he was batted as well as Grierson had been, which, of course, is not saying a great deal.

Mr. W. Salsbury umpired satisfactorily. Following is the score:—

Lacrosse at Norwood.

The juniors carried everything before them at Norwood on Civic Holiday—they defeated the rural lacrosse lads by three straight games. The respective teams lined up as follows:—

NORWOOD.		PETERBOROUGH
H Harper	goal	W Rogers
D Fraser	point	J Moin
R Henderson	cover point	W. Bulknap
J Calder	1st defence	G Heap
G Graham	2nd defence	W Borland
R Hall	3rd defence	G. McGregor
A Fraser	centre	G. Lipsett
W Cope	1st home	W. Galley
R Richardson	2nd "	E Wassen
J Fraser	inside home	R Glover
C Livingston	outside home	F Long
Stephenson	field captain	W Adams

The games were without particular incident except a personal experience of George Heap, who received a bad cut over the eye. It required an hour and eleven minutes to win the three games. The first game was the hardest struggle, thirty-five minutes elapsing from the time the ball was faced till Wasson took it in charge and put it between the flags. The next game only occupied twenty five minutes, Galley was the winner of this game. The final game was still briefer; at the end of eleven minutes play, Wasson again put the ball where it was needed, thus winning the game and the match. Without disparaging the general play, it may be mentioned that Mein, Belknap and Wasson distinguished themselves by unusual good play, while Graham, Calder and Henderson did excellent work. The juniors had a pleasant excursion and returned home in high spirits. They are to be complimented on so gallantly upholding lacrosse.

The Madoc Lacrosse Match.

The result of the lacrosse match at Madoc on Thursday was disappointing to the local team, the boys failing to score. The following is the composition and positions of the players:—

MADOC.	PETERBOROUGH
McDonald	goal F Larone
Huff	point J Parkman
Collings	cover point T Cronin
Kirk	1st defence J McCabe
Orr	2nd " J McDonough
Brough	3rd " E. Hickey

Harper	3rd home F Adams
W Cross	2nd " J Pegley
C Cross	1st " J Phelan
Muldrew	out-side " J Daly
McNamara	inside " W Phelan

Referee.—O'Flynn.

The play opened out very promisingly for the Peterborough boys. They took the playing and the Madocs had to play defence scores of times during the hour and twenty minutes during which the game lasted. But the Peterboroughs were for all that in hard luck. Shot after shot on the goal was cleverly stopped, or failed by a touch to get between the poles, while, in two of the games at least, the only shots the Madocs got on the goal were successful. The boys from town played lacrosse from start to finish, but they played with the hardest kind of luck. They do not complain of this, though it partially accounts for their failure to score. The field was new and rough for players accustomed to smooth sward. The referee was evidently not capable of writing a book on lacrosse, and his sense of what constitutes a foul was not quite pitmenly keen. The Madoc team, in addition to the really good material contained in the players selected from the home club, was strengthened from at least two outside sources, and this fact, taken in conjunction with other circumstances, has formed the grounds for a formal protest, which has been entered, claiming the game for Peterborough. The spectators of the game say that the Peterborough boys played first-class lacrosse, but to successfully combat hard luck, in which the element of chance neutralized the best play, and the play of a team especially prepared for the occasion, was beyond their power. They do not claim that they were not decidedly defeated, but that they were defeated under circumstances that constitute amateur lacrosse, they deny. The first game was awarded to the Madocs in eighty minutes, the second in seven minutes and the third in twenty minutes.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Alexander Gough.

Mrs. Alexander Gough died at the family residence, Hunter street, on Wednesday, after a fortnight's illness. The deceased lady was a native of Queen's county, Ireland, when she came to Canada with her mother at the age of 11 years, and settled near Toronto. Forty six years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Alexander Gough, and to this union were born seven sons and three daughters, the latter all living, and five of the sons survive their mother. The sons are Mr. Bernard Gough, Brantford, Mr. E. D. Gough, Toronto, Messrs. Gus and Richard Gough, of Peterborough, and Mr. Charles Gough, of North Carolina. With the exception of the latter all the children were at the mother's bedside in her last illness. Two years ago the deceased lady came to reside in Peterborough. The late Mrs. Gough was very highly respected, both in her first home and during her brief residence in Peterborough she won a wide circle of friends. She was a lady of unusual literary acquirements, and was noted as a warm friend to the destitute and oppressed, and a faithful worker in the promotion of the interests of the Church. The remains will be removed on Saturday morning by the 4:45 C.P.R. express to Kleinburg station, near Toronto, where the funeral will take place.

If the ladies would abandon cosmetics and more generally keep their blood pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, naturally fair complexions would be the rule instead of the exception, as at present. Pure blood is the best beautifier.

Pensive and Expensive.

Many a woman shrinks from consulting a physician about functional derangements and weaknesses, and prefers to suffer in silence. She is sad and pensive, and her neglect of her ailments will prove expensive. It may cost her her life. One of the most skilful physicians of the day, who has had a vast experience in curing diseases peculiar to women, has prepared a remedy which is of inestimable aid to them. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. b

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were plainly to be beheld; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has never as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

VON MOLTKE'S MEMOIRS.

THE WARRIOR'S LONG-EXPECTED LIFE HISTORY.

He Doesn't say Much About Politics But a Good Deal About War Bismarck Doesn't Cut Much Figure in the Story Bazaine's Treachery.

London, Aug. 22. The long expected memoirs of the Count von Moltke are printed to the extent of five columns in to-day's Times. The count touches very lightly upon political matters, but confines his attention almost exclusively to the military details of the war of 1870. He reviews at considerable length the incidents surrounding the surrender of Metz, and the alleged traitorous conduct of Marshall Bazaine. This disloyalty on the part of the general he rather accentuates than palliates, and goes even further than this and introduces the name of Gambetta into the peculiar affair of Bazaine being part of a political plot which had for its object the unseating of the dictatorship into the hands of Gambetta and his fellow conspirators. Von Moltke's criticism on the battle of Sedan gives many facts that will be entirely new to the readers of history, and gives additional interest to that marvelous cavalry fight. Much space is occupied in describing the capture of the then King William and it will probably excite some comment that he has passed over with only a cursory mention the connection which Prince Bismarck enjoyed with the empire. Von Moltke indulges in a lengthy discourse concerning the general calamity following all wars, and the difficulty of adopting some method by which they can be avoided. He compares the esprit du corps of the Russian army with what he regards as the selfish indifference of the French, or perhaps more properly, their lack of esprit for the want of a suitable leader. The book is written in an easy and therefore diverse and pungent style, and the Times, in printing these extracts from it, pays a high compliment to Von Moltke's literary talent.

PREPARING FOR BATTLE.

Balmaceda's Opponents Steal a March Upon Him.

Valparaiso, Aug. 21. The insurgent army, numbering nearly 10,000 men, landed yesterday morning at Quintero Bay, twenty miles north of this city. They were brought down from Caldera on eight transports, three ships and four warships. The point of landing is fifty miles from Santiago, where Balmaceda's forces to the number of 10,000 have been stationed. Quintero Bay is the entrance to a fertile valley, and is in a direct line with Santiago and Valparaiso. The Balmacedists have anticipated a movement south on the part of their foes, but they believed Coquimbo would be the first place attacked. It now appears that the loosing of the insurgent fleet in the neighborhood of Coquimbo was only a scheme to deceive Balmaceda. By coming south the insurgents have the advantage of placing Balmacedists at Coquimbo, many miles to the north of them, and helpless to render aid to the Government army in this neighborhood. The landing at Quintero Bay was therefore a complete surprise to the President, but as soon as he learned the news he acted promptly. By his command a large force was sent north to meet the enemy.

The Esmeralda, commanded by Silva Palma, is just outside the harbor. It is expected she will be joined at once by the other insurgent war vessels from Quintero Bay. It looks as if in connection with the advance of the land forces upon the city of the fleet will open fire upon the forts that defend this harbor. It is said the Government cannot train troops as does not seem likely that the fleet can silence the forts. A fierce fight is imminent. On its result depends in all likelihood the complete overthrow of Balmaceda or his appointee. The rout of the President's forces would undoubtedly be quickly followed by the capture of Valparaiso and Santiago by the victorious army of the insurgents.

SPAIN GIVES NOTICE

That Canada Will Be Shut Out from Most Favored Nation Treatment Next July.

Halifax, Aug. 22. The Halifax Herald will publish a cablegram announcing upon official authority that Spain has given Great Britain formal notice of its intention to terminate on the 1st July next the treaty by which the products of Canada are admitted into the Spanish West Indies under favored nation treatment. Much anxiety is manifested as to how Spanish officials will interpret that treaty under the new conditions entered by the recent reciprocity treaty with the United States.

Drowned at Welland.

Welland, Aug. 22. George, the only son of Mr. George Cronmiller, an undertaker of this place, was drowned in the canal way last evening. He and a companion had gone over to the gateway, and as his comrade went on an errand George went in to bathe, and, getting beyond his depth, was unable to save himself.

The German government has decided to form a marine station and torpedo harbor at Cuxhaven at a cost of 27,000,000 marks. A bill will be introduced in the Reichstag in November making the necessary appropriation for the work. The location of these important improvements at Cuxhaven is a recognition of the claims of Hamburg as the leading port of the empire

TRACING UP THE BOODLE.

Yesterday's Proceedings Before the Senate Railway Committee.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Before the Senate Railway Committee yesterday Mr. C. N. Armstrong was recalled. He said he went alone to Mr. Pacaud's office, when he was handed over the five checks of $20,000 each. He did not take the checks then. He was surprised that he was asked to endorse them. He expected that the $100,000 would be arranged among themselves, that is, he thought that Mr. Pacaud had a letter of credit and would get the money himself. He did not expect to handle any of the money. When he got to the office Chrysostom Langelier was in Pacaud's office with Mr. Pacaud. Chrysostom Langelier had the five checks and handed them to him, saying, "Here is the $100,000." Mr. Pacaud made a sign to me to go into the innerroffice, which I did, and I endorsed the checks and handed them over to Mr. Pacaud, Mr. Langelier remaining outside. When he signed the receipt for the $175,000 Mr. Langelier asked him no question about it.

While on a trip with Pacaud on March 13, the latter told him he had no doubt the Government would be prepared to deal with the syndicate as soon as they were off with McDonald & Cameron. Mr. Pacaud was acting as his agent with the Government.

To Mr. McCallum witness said it was after this trip that the $100,000 was paid. He understood from the first that he would have to pay something.

Mr. Power was proceeding to examine Mr. Armstrong when he was interrupted by Mr. Miller who took a question out of his mouth. Some hot words passed between them, which were terminated by Hon. Frank Smith exclaiming, "For God's sake go on with the business and quit your jawing."

To Mr. Atmon witness said that when he refused to answer the questions at first before the committee he wired Mr. Pacaud to meet him at Levis. Pacaud met him there on Saturday, Aug. 8. He asked Mr. Pacaud what he was going to say to the committee. Mr. Pacaud said he was going to Ottawa on Monday and that he would tell the committee he got $100,000, but would say that it was his own business what he did with it.

A Nova Scotian Impeached.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Sir Gordon Mowat, better known as Moses Oates, gave evidence to-day before the Agricultural Committee on climatology.

The next member of parliament who will be impeached in the House is a Nova Scotian representative.

Seneral Resigns.

Ottawa, Aug. 22. It is understood that Mr. A. Seneral, Superintendent of the Government Printing Bureau has resigned and that his resignation has been accepted.

The Quebec Cabinet Summoned.

Quebec, Aug. 22. The Mercury says: The members of the local cabinet are summoned to meet at the beginning of next week.

Another Mystery.

Minnedosa, Aug. 22. The Whale tragedy has created considerable talk concerning the sudden departure and continued absence of Mr. Nesbitt Potter of the Bucks House. He left town about the last of April and did not even take a change of clothing with him. It is supposed he had a few hundred dollars with him, but he left $35 scattered about in a writing desk in his room at the hotel. He was also the owner of a farm in Fullarton and he could have disposed of his horses, cattle, etc., if he had not intended returning. He was seen in Buffalo a few days after leaving Mitchell, but has never been heard of since, although his brother, Mr. James Potter, advertised in the Toronto papers for him. The impression seems to be in Manitoba that he has met with foul play somewhere and that some steps should be taken by the Government to investigate the matter.

$9,000 Lost in Speculation.

Orangeville, Aug. 22.—Tom Allen of Rosemont speculated in grain. He won the first time and this encouraged him to go on. Then he began to lose, but he kept on until he was pauperized. He is said to be in debt now to the sum of about $9000. He hastily left Mono a few weeks ago with all the chattels he could scrape together. He owed Halstead's bank in Shelburne $1000 and Manager Silk went in pursuit of him. Silk located Allen in Winnipeg and got out a warrant for his arrest for fraud. Allen telegraphed to his father, who is a wealthy farmer near Rosemont, and the old man telegraphed him the necessary money. Silk was paid the $1000.

Deserted Her Sick Children.

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—About three weeks ago David Webster, a laborer, came here from Toronto with his wife and family of small children, and took up their residence in a small house. Webster had hoped to get work, but was not immediately successful and the children took sick. In the midst of their trouble, Mrs. Webster, according to her husband's story to the officers of St. George's Society, left the city Yesterday the youngest of the family died and the relieving officer gave Mr. Webster an order for its burial. St. George's Society has helped the family and Mr. Webster has now got to work on a gravel train.

Crushed, then Drowned

Smith Falls, Ont., Aug. 22.—Eleven-year old James Harton was sitting on the ferry bridge and did not observe the bridge was gradually swinging in closer to him until it caught and pinioned him as the swing part came back against the side where he sat. The man turning it was shouted to and when he saw the accident he immediately began to swing the bridge out again to relieve the boy. When he did so the little fellow dropped into the water, sank and never came up until Mr. Conyea, engineer of the yacht Nellie, dived and brought him up quite dead.

Too Handy With His Gun.

Orangeville, Aug. 22.—James Delaney entered Samuel Scott's restaurant while drunk and was ejected, whereupon he drew a revolver, pointed it at Scott's breast and pulled the trigger, but the weapon hold fire, the nipper evidently being at the time at half-cock as the revolver was fully charged and one of the cartridges is indented. Delaney was arrested.

BRIGANDAGE IN TURKEY

FOREIGNERS CAPTURED BY ROBBERS AND HURRIED TO THE MOUNTAINS.

Heavy Ransom is Demanded for Their Release, and When it is Paid Both Messenger and Principal Are Killed—The Porte Will Have to Settle.

Constantinople, Aug. 22.—Another outrage upon the part of Turkish brigands is causing much uneasiness to the high authorities of this city. An Italian railroad inspector, who was at work seventy miles from Salonica, has been abducted by brigands and he is supposed to be held a prisoner pending the payment of a heavy ransom. The body of a murdered railroad workman was found near the spot where the inspector was last seen, and it is supposed that he was killed in order to prevent him from giving the authorities the cue as to the route taken by the brigands.

No news has been received of the Frenchman Rufier, who started about a week ago to ransom his employer, M. Raymond, who was held by the brigands. This last party of brigands recently made a descent upon the farm of M. Raymond, near Tcheresskoi, between Constantinople and Adrianople. Raymond and his overseer, Rufies, were, after making a determined resistance, carried off to the mountains, where, after being detained for a short time, Rufies was dispatched to this city with a letter to the French Ambassador, the Count of Montebello, demanding the sum of $25,000 as the price of the release of M. Raymond.

No Track of Either.

In this communication the French Ambassador was also informed that in the event of a refusal to pay the sum demanded, M. Raymond would be killed. The Count of Montebello immediately placed himself in communication with his government, and with the Porte, to whom he made strong protests as to the lawlessness existing, and as to the outrage to which M. Raymond and his overseer had been subjected. As a result of these presentations, Rufier was furnished with the sum demanded by the brigands and started out to ransom his employer and himself, for M. Raymond's life was to be sacrificed if his overseer failed to return. From that time nothing has been heard of Rufier, and it is feared that both the Frenchmen have been killed, and that the brigands are enjoying a high carousal with the money obtained through this their latest raid.

The farm owned by Mr. Raymond is situated near the scene of the recent robbery, probably by the same band of brigands of the oriental express. Upon this occasion the brigands placed obstructions across the railroad tracks, derailed the express train and captured several German and English tourists. Among the captives were Herr Oscan Gregor, Herr Israel, a banker of Berlin; Herr Maquel, a wealthy land owner of Siegelsdorf, Bavaria; Herr Oscar Kotyach, of Zorbig, Saxony, and others.

The Ransom Paid.

After reaching a place of safety the bandits sent Herr Israel to Constantinople, instructing him to get the sum of $40,000 within a specified time or else the captives would be slaughtered. Herr Israel applied to the German Ambassador, Herr von Radowitz, who, after communicating with the Chancellor von Caprivi, was authorized to advance the amount required.

Anastasius is the name of the chief of this band of brigands. Their depredations are likely to cost the Porte a good sum of money, as both the German and French Ambassador demand compensation for the Germans and Frenchmen who have suffered at the brigands' hands, and in addition the Porte will be required to refuse the ransoms extorted from the German and French Ministers as the price of the lives of the citizens under their protection.

The brigands who captured an Italian railroad inspector seventy miles from Salonica a few days ago also captured the railroad foreman and some workmen. The managers of the railroad have received a letter from the inspector imploring them not to pursue the brigands but to pay a ransom of $10,000 within two days.

TWO MASKED MEN HOLD UP A TRAIN

The Rear Brakeman Shot by the Robbers and Dies of His Wounds.

Kansas City, Aug. 22.—At two o'clock the morning freight No. 18, on the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs road, was held up and robbed at Murray switch, outside of Harlem.

Conductor Cassell started to ring up the watch tower at Harlem when two masked robbers presented themselves with revolvers in hand. The robbers took Cassell's watch and told him to signal the tower and learn if the track was clear.

Edward White, the rear brakeman, was ordered to get off by one of the outlaws. The two men accompanied Cassell to the way car, when they again ordered White off. As he stepped toward the ladder one robber discharged his revolver at White, who dropped dead, the ball having entered his left temple.

Conductor Cassell signalled the engineer and got in the way car as soon as he could, the train started and the robbers climbed on top of it. They then climbed down and ran into a thicket. When Harlem was reached the engineer and forward brakeman were informed of the robbery. When the train reached Kansas City the conductor made his report.

The city authorities have been notified and efforts are being made to catch the desperadoes. White was thirty-six years of age and leaves a widow, who lives in St. Joseph.

Manitoba's Crops.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22. Weather has taken rather a chilly change, but there is no fear of frost. If there should be frost, however, little damage could be done to crops as they are so far advanced now.

Harvesting may be said to have become general all over and next week will be a heavy one for work on every farm. Crops are simply immense so much so that at present dinners are found to be almost incapable of turning out the huge sheaves.

On to-day's train from Eastern Canada there were two colonist cars crowded with immigrants from eastern provinces. They were on the whole the best looking lot of immigrants that have arrived in the country this season.

A Baby's Sad Death.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Aug. 22.—Mabel 2½ year old daughter of D. Allport, was pushing her carriage along the verandah, when it ran over the edge and Mabel followed, striking her head on one of the bolts, receiving injuries from which she died in a few hours.

Fatal Fall From a Tree.

Smith Falls, Ont. Aug 22.—Yesterday the 10 year-old son of Thomas Hopkins, of Shawville, fell from a butternut tree on Jones Island and alighted head on on a rock and smashed his skull all to pieces.

LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Drowned in Sight of One Wife, While Another is on Her Way to Join Him.

San Francisco, Cal., August 22. On July 24 last Carl Schorr, a mining prospector from Australia, was drowned while bathing in the ocean near the Cliff House, in sight of his wife, to whom he had been married only one week. It was thought that Schorr left considerable property, and his wife has been trying to find it.

Yesterday a woman who says she was Schorr's wife arrived here from Butte Mont., and met Mrs. Schorr No. 2. On comparing their stories a similar tale of the drowned man's duplicity was unfolded. Mrs. Schorr No. 1 says she was married to Schorr ten years ago and they accumulated a little property in Butte. Her husband went to Australia and last May wrote her to join him there. Instead of waiting for her, he took passage for San Francisco.

With him came a Miss Taylor, whom he married on reaching here. He expected by the time that he reached San Francisco that his first wife would be on the way to Australia. Instead she missed the steamer and it is thought that Schorr, fearing prosecution for bigamy, committed suicide. The second wife gave all her money to Schorr and is now left penniless.

WILL NOT BE ANNEXED.

ENGLAND DOES NOT DESIRE THE MANIPUR PROVINCE.

Storm in the British Channel—Hundreds of Lives Reported Lost in the Hurricane Which Devastated Martinique—A Military Camp Destroyed.

Calcutta, Aug. 22.—The Jabraj or Manipur regent, who was the leader of the attack upon the British residency at Manipur, and Prince Augon Zena, whose sentences of death were commuted by the Viceroy of India to transportation for life and the forfeiture of their property, are now en route to Andaman Islands, a British convict settlement in the Bay of Bengal.

A decree has been issued in which the Queen announces that she forgoes the right to annex Manipur. The Viceroy will choose a native ruler of Manipur.

The Hurricane's Havoc.

Paris, Aug. 22.—Additional details of the hurricane at Martinique state that 218 people were killed in the coast towns alone, the towns in the interior not having been heard from.

The loss to the coffee and sugar planters in Martinique is very great. At Ducos only four houses remain standing, and of the inhabitants of Ducos 15 have been killed and a number injured. The troops and a large body of volunteers are at work in all directions succouring the injured and burying the dead.

The damage done to shipping and property is stupendous. About two-fifths of the island was under cultivation and the mountain slopes were covered with forests. All the cultivation and all the forests in the path of the hurricane appear to have been swept away. The numerous sugar, coffee, cotton and cocoa plantations which have felt the force of the tornado seem to have been utterly destroyed. Houses and barns, storehouses and stables have been crushed out of existence, and a considerable period must elapse before the island recovers from its terrible visitation.

There was some warning of the approach of the terrible wind, and thus many of the sailors escaped with their lives. Some of the vessels appear to have been carried bodily up the beach by the fearful wind and wave, others foundered at their anchorage, and others still alongside their wharves.

The military camp at Balata was entirely destroyed.

Port au Prince, Aug 21.—It is reported that the Haytian warship Toussaint L'Ouverture, which was at Martinique, was lost in the hurricane at that place.

Martinique.

The island of Martinique is one of the French West India islands. It is situated thirty miles south by west of Dominica and is twenty miles north of St Lucia. The island is of irregular formation, high and rooky, about forty-five miles long and ten to fifteen miles wide. Its loftiest peak is Mont Pelee, 4,450 feet high. There are six extinct volcanoes on the island and one of the craters is of large dimensions. Between the volcanic rocks which cover the interior and which extend from the mountains to the sea, are broad valleys of high fertility and highly cultivated. The mountain slopes are covered with primeval forests and many streams, some of them navigable, flow from the heights. The island is badly infested with serpents. The island of Martinique has several good harbors, the best of which is St. Pierre, the capital.

Martinique was discovered by the Spaniards in 1493. In 1635 it was settled by the French, and it was subsequently taken by the British in 1794. In 1802 the British restored the island to the French. In 1809 the British again captured it, and again restored it to the French at the close of the war of 1814. A floating dock was opened at Fort de France in 1867, and a telegraph line between that port and St. Pierre was opened in 1868. Since that time railroads have been established between these main towns. The exports of Martinique exceed $5,000,000 per year in value. The population is estimated to be under two hundred thousand, mostly composed of colored people.

Russia's War Preparations.

London, Aug. 22.—The Standard's correspondent at Bralia reports an enormous increase of the Russian troops on the Austrian frontier. He says the Bessarabia frontier guards, formerly a gendarmary corps to prevent smuggling, has grown into a permanent advance guard ready to invade Austria on a few hours' notice. Large forts and observation towers are being rapidly built, and the Russian government has given a heavy subsidy to the Black Sea and Danube Shipping Company to erect a large dockyard at Reni and to forward troops to any part of the Black Sea. The construction of pontoons is actively proceeding at Reni, to be placed at various towns for the transportation of troops, and barracks are being built in the vicinity of Reni for 5000 men.

The Great Naval Review.

Portsmouth, Aug. 22. The French fleet in taking position between the two lines of British warships off Spithead yesterday preparatory to the naval review, manœuvred badly and were swung broadside by the current. The sea was very rough.

The French ships got so much in each other's way that a series of collisions appeared imminent. However, the French men of war gradually cleared each other, although they were obliged to anchor in a curved line, instead of the straight line assigned to them between to two lines of British ships. The Queen embarked at Cowes on the royal steam yacht Victoria and Albert, and, regardless of the rough weather, passed through the lines of the French and English fleets. Yards were manned, the sailors cheered, and royal salutes were fired by the great guns of both fleets.

Would France Agree?

Berlin, Aug. 22. A member of the Upper House of the Prussian Diet has written a letter to The Tageblatt, in which he advises the recession of Alsace Lorraine to France on condition that France joins the Triple Alliance. Should France agree to take this step, according to the member referred to, it would then be possible to compel Russia to agree to a general disarming.

Caprivi to Resign.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—There are strong rumors afloat of Caprivi's approaching resignation. The Chancellor has for some time past been on formal terms with the Emperor, owing to his disapproval of measures that the Emperor approved, and it is said that the Emperor is willing that Caprivi should go, but does not wish to drive him away.

Storm on the Channel.

London, Aug. 22. A terrific storm raged in the English Channel last night. The sea has greatly damaged the public squares at Havre and the Frascati baths have been washed away. A bark has been wrecked at Ypor and four of her crew drowned.

A Lunatic's Legerdemain.

Whitby, Aug. 22.—A lunatic named McKinnon, committed from Beaverton, stripped all his clothing off in his cell. Several of the town constables tried to clothe him, and after some time spent in vain they handcuffed him behind his back. In a moment he bent down, slid his hand beneath his feet and brought them up in front. Such a display of agility paralyzed the jailor and constables.

Infanticide at Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—The police have another mysterious case of supposed infanticide on their hands for investigation. About 8 o'clock last night the dead body of a newly born infant was discovered in the yard of No. 117 Sherbourne street by a little girl named Welsford, whose parents occupy the ground floor of the house. The body was found close to the back steps and a hasty attempt had apparently been made to bury it, only a few handfuls of rubbish being scattered over the remains.

Does it pay to dress well? Assuredly. No money is better spent than what is laid out for domestic satisfaction. A man is pleased that his wife is dressed as well as other people, and the wife is pleased that she is so dressed. At no 365 George street you will do well to pause in your down-town career. There you will be pleasantly surprised at the variety of beautiful Dress Goods and the Low Prices that prevail during this month. Saturday was such a rushing day with us and though we were among the first to sign the petition for early closing yet we found it impossible to close our doors until after 11 o'clock and no wonder for the people fairly got excited over telling bargains. 33 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a prodigy, 20 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 must be cheap, 15 yards of Dress Goods for $1.00 is a paralyser. Rowse's, Rowse's, Rowse's is the spot for cheap Dress Goods and if you want also to see the nobbiest most attractive, elegant Dress Fabrics, Rowse's is still the spot. We show at 30c. Mr. Perley's Position.

Some of the friends of Mr. Henry F. Perley, the suspended chief engineer of the public works department, are pleading for lenient treatment for that gentlemen, and arguing that he has been sufficiently punished for accepting $1,865 worth of jewelry from Mr. Murphy. But it is Sir Hector Langevin's testimony, and not the charge established by Mr. Murphy's evidence, that the friends of Mr. Perley must deal with. To shield himself Sir Hector Langevin has thrown upon Mr. Perley the responsibility for all the jobbery, peculation and fraud perpetrated in connection with the Quebec harbor works and the Esquimalt dock. According to Sir Hector's sworn testimony he was himself a poor simpleton, who knew nothing about the letting of contracts, the making of specifications or the figuring out of tenders; that he followed Mr. Perley's advice in all things, and that, as Mr. Perley was a bad man, corrupted by Uncle Thomas and the Connollys, therefore he (Sir Hector) was led into trouble. Sir Hector says that Mr. Perley reduced the value of the British Columbia graving dock plant without authority; that he advised an increase in the charges for dredging without consulting the minister, and that he must be blamed for all the boodling. What have Mr. Perley's friends to say to Sir Hector's allegations? If Sir Hector tells the truth—and it must be confessed that his story is a serious reflection upon his own capacity as a minister—then the acceptance of jewellery from Mr. Murphy was but a trifling indiscretion on Mr. Perley's part, compared with his other offences. Unless Mr. Perley's friends can show that Sir Hector has not told the truth, and perhaps they can, they cannot ask special consideration for the late chief engineer. If the Conservative majority in the House of Commons accept Sir Hector's story and whitewash him they will throw all the responsibility for the harbor works boodling upon Mr. Perley. The late chief engineer made a great mistake when he failed to tell all he knew on the first occasion that he was called upon to give testimony. It was only after Mr. Perley had broken down, and after the privileges and elections committee had decided that he should not be asked to give further evidence, that Sir Hector mustered courage to go before that tribunal and throw all the responsibility for his boodling with Mick and Nrok upon his chief engineer. —Free Press.

Why Teach Music in the Public Schools?

"Music," says Martin Luther, "is a master which makes the people softer and mildor, more polite and more rational." It is a beautiful and noble gift of God. It is often remarked that in our schools the time is fully occupied. How, then, can the study of music be added? Teachers unanimously testify that fifteen or twenty minutes daily given to singing the music lesson is not so much time lost, because the pupils will do more and better work from the life and enthusiasm awakened in them by the singing. There is no more inherent difficulty in learning to read music at sight than there is in learning to read common print at sight. But what is singing at sight? It is to sing correctly, without the aid of an instrument, a piece of vocal music never seen before. Its advantages to a singer are great, either in private practice, in society, in choir singing or in festival chorus singing. He can at once render the piece, and with a limited practice he can perform it with an artistic finish. The rote singer is one who learns a piece by hearing it sung repeatedly. He must go to the trouble or expense of a teacher and must spend much time in learning each piece before he arrives at the commencing place of the sight singer. The result is that when home and business cares come upon him, he gives up his musical acquirements for want of time to learn new music, for both the singer and his friends soon tire of the old pieces. But it is not so with the sight singer. He would no more give up his singing than reading the newspaper or good books. Fresh fields are ever open to him, and, as he gains in experience, higher and better music is at his command. This may be illustrated by supposing that two persons recite equally well a poem in German. The one has merely learned this one piece, and even may be ignorant of its meaning; the other is a German scholar, and has at his command all the treasures of knowledge stored in the vast literature of the German language.

That all children, when properly taught, can understand the elements of music, and can learn to sing new music at sight as well as they can learn to read, and so understand writing and print, has been as clearly demonstrated as anything can be. It is equally true that children through music study in school can learn to use their voices correctly, thus training the entire vocal apparatus for reading and speech, as well as for song.

No one denies that our schools should furnish good moral training, and the world is fast waking up to the fact that music, wedded to good and pure words is a powerful means to this end. Music appeals directly to our moral nature, through our hearts and sentiments. The words of school songs should be good poetry and should adorn such subjects as song of country, home loving, the golden rule songs containing moral precepts lessons, etc. Songs of affection generally, will surely develop, like sentiments in the children who sing them.

In no better way can a code of morals be taught or the sensibilities and emotions be so trained and developed into their better and higher uses than through the instrumentality of song.

A school room full of fatigued children can be effectually refreshed by the singing of a hearty song, so that they return to their studies with new zest and interest. This is an every day experience with thousands of teachers. It is often thought that the time of childhood and youth is of but little worth, when in truth no period of life is more valuable, for in childhood are laid the foundations of whatever we attain in the mental and moral culture and graces of the matured lady or gentleman.

John Robinson's Show.

The Amusement Golconda of the Period.

More than seventy years of continuous ovation has characterized the career of the John Robinson show, which this season is reaching the proud culmination of its triumphs. No other show in existence can display so continuous and so clear a record. From the old waters of the Kennebec to the shores of the Pacific, from the northern boundaries of civilization to the southern limits of this continent, for more than one generation has the name of John Robinson been a household word, and the coming of the always unexceptionable exhibitional enterprise that bears his name is ever greeted with a hearty welcome. From the genesis of the show until its present colossal perfection there has not been a solitary season in which it has not led its fellows in the multiplicity and general excellence of its attractions, and now its towers above and dwarfs all contemporaneous tented exhibitions into comparative insignificance, and this season it presents such an opulence of sterling and meritorious attractions as to truly entitle it to be designated as a vast Amusement Golconda, whose wondrous wealth of entertainment is unlimited and immeasurable. It is merely a work of supererogation to say that his circus has always been the best and biggest, always in the van, always prolific in leading and sensational features, and always fully equipped with the finest stud of horses and the most skillful and finished bareback riders, gymnasts and acrobats in the profession; that his large, well-ordered and well-selected menagerie contains living, vigorous specimens of all that is strange, rare and curious within the range of natural history, and that his Royal Roman Hippodrome is a vivid and realistic reproduction of that of the days of imperial Cæsar.

It may be said, however, that to these always prominent and desirable attractions has been added, for the current season, a feature so stupendous in magnitude, so overpowering in unprecedented grandeur and impressiveness, and so enormous in the expense necessary to its production, that the features mentioned, grand and multifarious as they are, can at best play but a secondary part. The grand biblical, historical, scenecographic, lyric, terpsichorean and pantomimic spectacle of "Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba" is thus alluded to: A transcendently impressive and eminently moral and mind elevating pageantic and scenic production, from the fertile brain of Mr. John Kettig, the proprietor and creator of "Rome Under Nero," the "Fall of Babylon," "Montezuma," and "Bondage in Egypt," noted spectacles which have been annually produced under the Order of Cincinnatus, and which have been famous throughout the length and breadth of the land. To claim that "Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba" is the masterpiece of this brilliant artist is not transcending the limits of veracity. There is not a sensual, libidinous nor lascivious scene, act or thought in the spectacle, and everything in the entire presentation is holy, chaste and pure. The limits of a newspaper notice prevents mention in detail of the manifold characterization and excellencies of this gorgeous and imposing spectacle, but the reader will find exhaustive description in the bills, circulars and advertisements disseminated broadcast by the management.

The Robinson Show will exhibit in Peterborough on September 8th.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for adressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been need to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prises have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

MUNCASTER'S

391 GEORGE STREET.

NATURE'S NOBLEMAN.

JONAS CARPENTER, A VIRGINIAN WHO WAS BORN 150 YEARS AGO.

Still Hale and Hearty and Travelling Across the Continent on a Visit—Recounting Events of the Colonial Wars and Telling of George Washington.

Denver, says the News of that city, is a curious place and is often visited by remarkable people and phenomena of all descriptions, but previous records were knocked completely out last week, when Jonas Carpenter of West Virginia took a stroll around the city and surveyed the mighty proportions of Pueblo.

There is no big political steal on record as perpetrated by Mr. Carpenter to make him famous, neither did he ever run away with a wealthy man's wife or enjoy the notoriety gained in such a manner. He is one of those noblemen of nature who grow modestly into fame. Half a century ago he had achieved that distinction, for when the gray-haired fathers of today were little boys in time, Mr. Carpenter had seen half a century of boasting life and turmoil which are known now only by the fiction which paints the dim long ago days before the eye as a memory of old.

People wonder when they think of Indian wars in Pennsylvania and George Washington crossing the Delaware, and instinctively turn to the pages of Bancroft, starting at the first chapters of American history to learn the details of these oft repeated tales. But Mr. Carpenter does not have to do that, but merely close his eyes and exercise his memory and the pictures come back to him again as he himself saw them in the infant days of the nation's growth.

Jonas Carpenter was born in Loudoun county, Virginia, in the year 1742, being now 149 years old. He is now en route for California on a visit to his son in law, who is over 80 years old, and is stopping over as the guest of W. T. Sawyer, a native of his own state.

JONAS CARPENTER, BORN IN 1742.

"I remember George Washington well. I saw him only once, when they brought the dead body of Gen. Braddock back from his defeat. He was a fine sprightly young fellow then.

The family bible gives the date of Mr. Carpenter's birth 1742, but at that time, he states, he was driving an ox team in General Braddock's army during the Indian wars of that period. He has an old $40 continental bill which he received during the war for services as a teamster, and he has kept it ever since. After the war he went back to Virginia. He was well acquainted, he says, with Daniel Boone, Simon Kenton, and other famous men of their time, and when he first returned to his native state the wars he had helped to fight were the only topics of conversation. He was the first to discover the salt sulphur springs at Ashlawn, W. Va., in 1780.6

The only battle he remembers having participated in was that at Point Pleasant against the Shoshone Indians. He knew the Mingo chief Logan, the chimney of whose old cabin is still standing today near the old man's place back in Virginia. Mr. Carpenter was well acquainted with Sammy Lynch and helped him to bring the first whisky still across the Alleghanies.

His principal business in those troublous times was to supply food to the fighters, and although he was a pioneer and hunter, he does not remember having been in any other battles, except many with wild animals. He has in his possession a discharge receipt from Braddock's army in his capacity as sutler—an old flintlock musket and its type even before that in the shape of a giant matchlock gun.

His wife died some four score years ago, and he has now a daughter living in Mono 80 years old and a son in law in California about the same age. A son, who died some fifteen years ago, was known under the title of "Devil Sagl," being quite a good violinist, and having been in Aaron Burr's famous expedition. This was his oldest son, and was over 100 years old when he died.

Mr. Carpenter has never used either tobacco or whisky, and has never been so sick as to be unable to walk. He has taken coffee all his life with milk, but no sugar, except during the civil war for a time, when the coffee supply was cut off. For many years he has lived pretty much by himself on a little squatter's property in West Virginia, and had never been in a big city to stay until he came to Denver two days ago. Mr. Sawyer having promised him that he would take him on to California to see his son in law. He was completely astonished at the blocks of street cars, and many other things, and exceedingly suspicious of elevators. Before the long journey well, retiring about 9 and rising soon after sunrise, as is his custom. He has lived very regularly all his life. His memory is quite good when he feels that he is among friends and at home; he has half a dozen perfectly sound teeth, being the third set, and hears well. His eyesight is failing, but his appetite is still hearty. His hair is long and of a silver hue, and the wrinkles in his face very deep, but his skin has not escaped the parchment like tint noticeable in extreme old age. He walks without a stick, and stands still considerably over 6 feet high, weighing over 200 pounds. Mr. Carpenter gave the reporter a hearty grip of the hand and a "good day" in deep and steady tones, and appears to have as yet an indefinite lease of life.

He does not remember much of the Rocky mountain pioneers, as it seems difficult for him to realize that the first range of mountains back in the east is not on the border now. Taking Mr. Carpenter altogether and considering the fact that he has not been sleeping, it may safely be said that Rip Van Winkle is not in it.

MARTINIQUE HURRICANE.

Immense Damage has Been Occasioned in All Parts of the Island.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—Particulars received here from the Island of Martinique shows that the hurricane burst at about 7 o'clock in the evening though its approach was felt sometime before that hour. The hurricane then raged furiously for about three hours. Besides demolishing the crops, blowing down houses, etc., the hurricane destroyed the main part of the hospital at Fort Defiance, which building collapsed and crushed two artillerymen to death. All the vessels at St. Pierre when the hurricane broke up on the island were stranded, and at least one vessel of importance and several smaller craft are lost.

The disorder is said to equal the famous cyclone which swept over the island of Antigua in 1851. So far as can be learned there have been nearly if not quite sixty deaths as a result of the hurricane's violence, but it will be some time before the full estimate of the disaster is known. From all parts of the island comes the tales of woe and destruction. All the forests in the path of the hurricane appear to have been swept away. The numerous sugar, coffee and cotton plantations which have felt the force of the tornado seem to have been destroyed.

The Chinese Riots.

BERLIN, Aug. 21. The North German gazette confirms the report that the German Minister to China, acting in concert with the representatives of the other powers, has remonstrated with China in regard to the outrages which foreigners have been subjected to.

Gladstone and Parnell.

LONDON, Aug. 21. Mr. Gladstone has written a letter denying Mr. Parnell's statement that he (Mr. Gladstone had means of communication with Mr. Parnell, which he employed on behalf of Mr. Morley. Mr. Gladstone reaffirms his previous statement that the only address of Mr. Parnell known to him was the House of Commons. Mr. Gladstone adds that he was obliged to write to Mr. Parnell through the medium of Mr. McCarthy in November last in order to reach the former before the meeting of the Irish members.

And He Was Once Parnell's Lieutenant.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—William O'Brien, in a long letter bidding evicted tenants not despair but to hold out pending the settlement of the dispute over the Paris fund or the result of a new appeal to the country, reproaches Parnell for his apparent desire to have evicted tenants to despair and ruin, merely to discredit Dillon's capacity as a political leader.

Ended the Usual Way.

LUCERNE, Aug. 21. A well known and popular young student, Baron Zedlitz-Neukirch, shot his mistress, Lizzie Meissner, yesterday and then shot himself. Both are dead.

Thereby Hangs a Tale.

"And so from hour to hour, we ripe and ripe,
And then from hour to hour, we rot and rot,
And thereby hang a tale."

And truly, "'tis a tale of woe," of one who had Catarrh in the head for many years, and who really had been "rotting" from hour to hour, until Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy came to his notice. He used it at first with slight signs of relief, but he persisted until a permanent cure was effected, and the world was again pleasant to live in. From his awful sufferings he was set free by the expenditure of a few dollars in that incomparable remedy.c

Everybody Admires Soft, White Hands and every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d39

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

MORE cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. R. Greatrix, druggists. dw

BY THE DORENWEND
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Variety the Spice of Life.

There is nothing benefits mankind so much as a change, even if its only a change of linen. But what we mean to convey is that too much of any one thing becomes monotonous. The clerk, tied for hours to his desk, seeks relaxation on his flying wheel; the policeman, on his feet for hours (?) finds relaxation in an easy chair by his, or any other friend's fireside; a man badgered by a shrew of a wife seeks relaxation by tilting a can over his head, and as the bee disappears he gazes with consolation at his reflected countenance at the bottom of the growler. Even at the theatre how many plays are monotonous when all on the one theme; how a bit of sentiment is relieved by a hearty laugh, a merry dance or comic song. And if "variety is the spice of life," it reaches perfection in the great comedy, "Casey's Troubles." d44

Visiting Cyclists.

Mr. T. Bogart of the Newmarket Bicycle club, and Mr. B. F. Stewart of the Orillia club, are in town making a short stop on their tour. They came from Orillia by way of Beaverton and Lindsay. They will proceed from here to Port Hope and continue east to Kingston. They experienced rather rough roads between here and Orillia but they may count on compensation on the stretch of twenty-five miles between Napanee and Kingston which they will find the finest public road in Canada, at least it was that a few years ago. These gentlemen will be joined at Cobourg by the Newmarket club which was expected to be in town to-morrow. But a change of programme has deprived the local wheelmen of the pleasure of entertaining their revolutionary brethren.

Contending Mill Interests.

An Important Meeting of Mill Owners—No Results Obtained.

For years past the flow of water from Stony Lake into the Otonabee and Indian rivers has been a bone of contention amongst the several mill owners on these respective streams, and between the rival interests, the Government Superintendant, Mr. R. B. Rogers, has been in rather a dilemma. The opposing forces would not mutually agree to any terms but were continually asserting their claims and causing endless trouble. On Wednesday Mr. Rogers succeeded in bringing together the mill-owners on both streams and the matter was pretty thoroughly discussed, though no result was arrived at. A party of about twenty gentlemen interested in the matter were taken up on the government yacht "Empire" to the inlet of the Indian river at Stony Lake, where a meeting of several hours' duration was held. Mr. Kennedy, C.E., of Owen Sound, being an independent party, was elected chairman. There were present: Mr. R. B. Rogers, Supt. Engineer, T.V. Works; Messrs. Geo. Hilliard, J. M. Irwin, T. G. Hazlitt, G.W. Hatton, G.W. Ramsey, A. P. Pousette, E. A. Peck, Peterborough; C. Young, Young's Point; Jno. Hall, Lakefield, representing the interests on the Otonabee river; and Messrs. Jno. Wasson, Geo. Payne, Warsaw; Richard Hope, John Duncan, Lang; and Jas. Yourex, Keene, representing the interests on the Indian river.

Mr. L. Croly acted as secretary.

The object of the meeting was stated by Mr. Rogers to be the hearing of the opinions of the different parties interested regarding the water supply of the Otonabee and Indian Rivers. A good deal of dissatisfaction had existed, the Otonabee people claiming that a quantity of water properly belonging to the Otonabee river was now running down the Indian river, thereby interfering seriously with their mill operations; whilst the Indian river interests claimed that this was not the case, but that they themselves were not receiving their proper supply of water. He hoped the contending interests would be able to arrive at some understanding and have the difficulty removed.

Each of the representatives was then given a hearing.

The mouthpieces of the Otonabeans interests claimed that since the new high dam was built at Young's Point by the government the water had been kept back and so much thrown down the Indian river that the Otonabee did not get its natural flow and consequently the mills suffered.

The Indian river representatives admitted that they were not entitled to any more water than they got before the new dam at Young's Point was built; but they claimed they were not getting that amount of water because the cut into the Indian river had been narrowed. This matter had been tested in the Chancery Court some years ago, when the decision was that Indian river was entitled to the natural flow, but since that time the channel had been narrowed some ten or twelve inches. The contention of the Chancery suit in question had been that the Otonabee people claimed the opening of the Indian River was an artificial one and that the Indian River people had no right to the water which passed through it; but they claimed the decision had justified their right to the water going through this channel.

Mr. Hazlitt contended that the bottom of the cut had been deepened by blasting, thus making a larger channel than Indian River was entitled to and taking off the water from the Stony Lake reservoir that belonged rightfully to the Otonabee.

Mr. Hilliard then proposed:—that taking the height of the old dam as a standard, the present obstruction, or guard dam, in the Indian River, be taken away and a guard dam be constructed at the head of the cut, and the sill of that dam be kept as much higher, permanently, as the apex of the new dam at Young's Point is above the level of the old dam there, and should the level of the water at Young's Point be raised at any time by means of stop logs, then stop-logs to be put in at the proposed guard dam at Indian River sufficient to equalize the rise at Young's Point.

A good deal of discussion took place over this proposal, but the Indian river representatives would not accept it, they maintaining that the supply should come from the bottom, as it was in the case of the first pier constructed at the inlet above referred to.

Another proposition made by the Otonabee interests was that the whole matter be left in the hands of the government, represented by the superintending engineer, Mr. R. B. Rogers, to deal with, and that the interests on both streams memorialize the government to that effect.

This appeared to be more favourably entertained by the Indian river interests, but they were not ready to second a motion to that effect.

Mr. Hilliard again proposed that three parties be selected by the interests on both streams, they to choose a competent engineer to decide the matter of the proper flow of water belonging to each stream and settle the whole question.

This also did not meet with the approval of the Indian river representatives, and after a considerable amount of discussion it was decided to leave the matter in abeyance for the present, the Indian river representatives being of opinion that the disputed point of proper quantity of water belonging to Indian river was settled by the Rogers law-suit before referred to, and they wishing to ascertain exactly what the result of that law-suit was, the meeting adjourned.

After returning from Indian River Inlet and parting with the gentlemen representing the interests of that artificial stream, the Supt. Engineer, Mr. Rogers, accompanied by Messrs. Hilliard and Kennedy, C. E. measured the height of water over the apex of the original dam at Young's Point, commencing immediately east of the old slide pier, and found the depth at that point to be 2½ inches from the apex at the old dam to the top of the water; then on the opposite of present log channel measuring from dam on east side of channel found the water exactly 20 inches; and again measuring from pier on east shore, found the depth of water 15½ inches.

The Golden Eye at Home.

The steamer "Golden Eye" has been brought back to Peterborough for repairs. She is moored at Peck's old brewery, in Little Lake. It will be remembered that about the first of July, while lying at Hastings, several holes were punched in the steamer's side and she sank to the bottom. The work of raising the vessel has been proceeding ever since and finally accomplished. The "Golden Eye" may yet run again this season.

New School—New Flag.

The new school near Birdsall's, to take the place of that so mysteriously burned, is about completed, and on the afternoon of Sept. 4th a new flag will be raised with appropriate and elaborate ceremonies—patriotic speeches and songs by the children. Parties from town wishing to attend the ceremonies can do so by leaving the station here at 1.30 and going to Birdsall's station, a short distance from the school, and returning by the evening train.

Royal Templars' Excursion.

In the EXAMINER'S report of the Royal Templars' Excursion an error in information led to a statement that did an injustice to the committee of management, who state that the change of route was entirely unavoidable, the Buckhorn route being impassable on account of low water. It was also an exaggeration to state that fifty or sixty persons were left at Bobcaygeon, the exact number being twenty adults and children all told. The EXAMINER made the statement it did make on the strength of information it had every reason to believe was correct, and without any desire to gratuitously injure any member of the committee.

An Ashburnham Apple Appropriater.

At the police court this morning there was no work for the town police magistrate, but County Cadi Edmison occupied the woolsack, so to speak. A lad named Colborne Losey was arraigned, charged with the larceny of apples and pairs from the orchard of Mr. Theodore Ludgate. He visited the orchard before six o'clock, and when apprehended he had 38 full grown pears stowed away in the unusually capacious pockets of the coat he was wearing. The lad was allowed to go on suspended sentence, and it is probable that his evidence will be used in connection with other charges which may arise out of the statements made by him.

Rousing up the Warriors.

Sweeping Changes—Commissioner Adams' Local Scheme Unworkable—Two Hundred Officers Affected by the New Plan—A French-Speaking Officer Coming—Col. Young to go to England.

Learning that the Salvation Army in Canada was undergoing a more than ordinary change in officership, a Toronto reporter paid a visit to headquarters and had an agreeable chat with the Chief of Staff, Col. Young.

The Chief, in reply to questions, said that there certainly was a somewhat big "rousing up" going into effect. Every five or six months the divisional officers recommended that certain subordinates should farewell and a general change is adopted; but in this case the increased number of changes were due to the fact that the system of local government by brigadiers, inaugurated by Commissioner Adams as an experiment, was found to be unworkable, and a return to the old system of direct control was about to be made. This necessitates a thorough reorganization of officers and stations, and so about 200 of them would be more or less affected. The divisions will be enlarged and the D.O.'s, having more territory under their command, will, it is believed, be able to show better results.

Asked as to whether it was true that a special officer was on his way from England to take charge of the French Canadian campaign, Col. Young said that Commissioner Rees being very desirous of extending the French work a French-speaking officer had been sent from National Headquarters to labor under the present efficient head, Staff-Captain Simcoe.

Before concluding the brief interview the Chief was asked as to his own retirement, a rumor having gone abroad that the popular young officer was to farewell shortly. He replied that it was quite true; he would sever his connection with Canadian headquarters at the anniversary meeting to be held next month, after seven years' work, having been ordered by National Headquarters to farewell to England without delay. He did not know where he was to go to in his next appointment; that rested with his superior officers.

"Are you glad or sorry, Chief, to part?" said the reporter.

"I'm sorry to leave, for I love the country. I cannot say I am pleased or sorry beyond that one direction. The soldier's duty is to obey and not to reason why. It certainly was a great surprise to me." And cheeringly bidding the reporter good-bye, the Chief turned his attention to a mass of correspondence that lay on his desk.

Robinson's Circus.

A Union Meeting.

A union meeting of the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavour will be held on Monday evening in the George Street Methodist Church. Mr. E. A. Hardy, B.A., Lindsay, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Provincial Union, will be present and give an address. The public invited.

More Drinking Fountains.

This morning the town clerk received notice from R. G. Olmstead, Hamilton, that he had shipped three drinking fountains, to be placed at points on the streets yet to be selected. Two are the same as that in front of the town buildings on Water street, and one has a ball cock attachment, which obviates the necessity of waste pipes to carry off surplus water. When the basin becomes filled to a certain point, the ball automatically closes the cock and the supply ceases.

Fell Upon a Scythe

On Monday Mr. Alex. Windover of Harvey, met with a painful accident. The Lakefield Chronicle says that as he was returning from his work in the beaver meadow, where he had been cutting hay, his foot slipped and he fell upon the scythe he was carrying, making a large cut clean across the right wrist, severing the blood vessels and several of the chords of the fingers. He was driven to Dr. D. Fraser's office where the wound was dressed.

An Interesting Reminiscence.

Mr. John Grady, of Westwood, is in town to-day. Mr. Grady is over 80 years of age, and assisted Col. Richard Birdsall to survey the present site of the town about 65 years ago. Mr. Grady, in spite of his early acquaintance with the site of the town, could not to-day locate or identify any place, so great has been the change. Mr. Frank Birdsall, of Asphodel, has in his possession the government order, instructing his father to make a survey of the town. It is written on gilt edge paper, too, a premonition of the gilt edge character of the future of the briskest town in the Dominion.

A Painful Accident.

Last night Mr. J. J. Turner, the celebrated awning and tent maker, met with a very painful accident but one which it is probable will have no serious nor permanent evil results. He was driving from Trenton to catch the midnight train for Belleville. On the way the horse became frightened and making a sudden plunge threw out both the driver and Mr. Turner. The latter received an exceedingly severe bruising extending down his left thigh and leg from the hip to the ankle. The skin was literally flayed from the surface over this distance. A surgeon was at once sent for and he bandaged Mr. Turner's wounds sufficiently to enable him to reach home where he arrived on the 8.10 train this morning. Dr. Clarke was called in but was able to report that no permanent injuries had been inflicted.

Personal.

Mrs. (Dr.) Stephenson is visiting at her old home in Cobourg.

Mrs. J. Wilson, formerly of Peterborough, is visiting at A. R. Stephenson, V.S., 217 Brock street.

Mr. Heap, late of Lindsay, the new Classical Master of the Collegiate Institute, arrived in town to-day.

Mr. Andrew Mercer and bride arrived home Friday evening, and have taken up residence on Rubidge street.

Miss Harrington, of Brantford, who has been visiting Miss Katie White, Charlotte street, left for home this morning.

It is expected, says the Lindsay Post, that the Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, will visit Lindsay about Sept. 9th.

Mrs. W. R. Russell and children, of Quebec, and Miss Maggie Russell, of Toronto, are visiting Mrs. J. S. Hartley, 52 Murray street, east.

Miss Nellie Minore, of Peterborough, is visiting friends in Lindsay, and has been the guest of Miss Goodwin at Sturgeon Point for some days past.

The Port Hope Guide says that Miss Josie Philp, who has been spending her holidays at home, returned to her school duties, near Peterborough this week.

A camping party comprising Messrs. A. O'Leary, John O'Leary, R. P. Spratt and W. J. Cairns, of Lindsay; John F. Hurley, of Peterborough, and Rev. Father Spratt, of Wolf Island, left Monday last for Big Mud Turtle Lake, above Coboconk. They went by train as far as Fenelon Falls, and paddled from thence in easy stages. It is probable that Rev. Father McEvay, of Hamilton, and several other gentlemen will join the party before the end of the week.

On Fire with Eczema
Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 6 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense, the sore sores spread to his limbs, body, face, and head; until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA REMEDIES and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.
The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92

Increase over 1889	75,649.65
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07

A PRIEST IN PRISON.

A TORONTO FATHER INDULGES IN A LARGE-SIZED JAG.

He Goes to See the Elephant in New York Gets Inebriated and Refuses to Pay the Hackman and is Locked up in a Police Cell.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A one-horse cab stopped in front of the Twenty third Precinct Police Station at 3 a.m. yesterday. Frank Courtney, the driver, said he had a passenger inside whom he had been carrying around the city ever since 11 o'clock. He had tried to collect his fare, but the man had at first disputed the amount and finally had refused to pay at all. Courtney wanted him arrested.

Officer Boyle opened the door of the cab and found a short, fat man snugly curled up on the seat and sound asleep. He had to shake him in a pretty lively fashion before he could wake him. The man was taken into the station, where his priestly garb attracted attention. He gave his name as the Rev. Francis Hayden, and said he lived in Toronto, Ont. He had just returned from a trip to Ireland, he explained, and had hired the cabman to take him to a hotel.

Courtney told a different story. He said the priest had hailed him near the Grand Central station and asked to be driven to a house in Thirty-first s reet. The priest remained there some time and when he reappeared he was jovial.

The obliging cabman drove him from one place to another until long after midnight, and then his fare asked to be taken to the Grand Central Hotel. There accommodation was refused as well as at other hotels.

As the Rev. Mr. Hayden was evidently in a muddled condition the police decided to hold him. On being searched not a cent was found on his person. All that he packets contained were a string of beads, a crucifix, several visiting cards and an old wallet which had been padded out with a piece of newspaper.

The Rev. Francis Hayden was not very presentable when he appeared in the dock at the Yorkville Police Court. His eyes were bloodshot, his face was covered with several days's growth of beard, and his linen was soiled. Justice McMahon, after listening to the story told by the cabman, decided to hold the prisoner in $300 bail for trial, in default of which he was again placed in a cell.

"Drunk?" he said. "No, I was not drunk. The fact is, I was sick on Thursday and I took a drink or two by way of medicine—summer complaint, you know—but I knew what I was doing. I can't get bail yet, but hope some of my friends in the city will come to my relief."

Then he said he had been in the city since Monday last. On Thursday night he took the cab and told the driver to take him to a nice house, and the latter responded by driving him to a horrid place in West Thirty-first street, where the inhabitants were all foreign and friendly and very decollete as to their raiment.

After staying long enough to express his horror and surprise to the young ladies and to the lady in chief, who gave him a card marked "S Caskin," he came out and told the cabby to drive him to another hotel, and not play tricks upon an unoffending stranger, and the cabby responded by landing him at the police station, as above recorded.

"I have been a priest for 25 years. I am anxious to get back to Toronto to celebrate my silver anniversary on the 24th of this month." Father Hayden looked ruefully at the bars of his cell as he said this.

"I was born in Ireland and ordained at St. Michael's College, Toronto, when 23 years old. Was made the parish priest of Pickering, 22 miles east of Toronto, and was there two years. For three years I was assistant priest of St. Mary's Church in Toronto, one year in St. Paul's parish, Power street, Toronto. Besides this I have been sent by the Archbishop into many country places where I have remained from three to six months each. I was curate for two years and a half to Dean Northgraves, now editor of the Catholic Record of London, Ont. The last place I was in was Redford, five miles out of Detroit.

"On Feb. 11 I left this city for Ireland to see my dear old father, who was sick at the old home, Johnston's Bridge, county Leitrim. He died while I was there, leaving me a considerable sum.

"ALIVE IN ITS COFFIN.

Startling Discovery of a Breathing, Kicking Child Among Corpses.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. Keeper White, of the Morgue, yesterday afternoon, in looking over his dead bodies, found that he had one that was living and apparently in the best of health. The body was that of a child named Dooly, who was born yesterday morning. It was a boy and was brought to the institution by the father, Wilhelm Dooly, a German, of No. 1,465 Second avenue.

The father, when he brought the child to the Morgue, had it wrapped in a newspaper, and had a still birth death certificate which certified that the child had been born dead.

The supposed dead child was handed to an assistant in the Morgue and was consigned to a small wooden coffin. It was placed on the right side of the structure near the entrance.

The death certificate was then brought to Keeper White by his assistant, and as usual in such cases he started out to make an examination of the body for the purpose of seeing if there were no marks of violence on the body and getting a description of the remains for the records.

On arriving at the coffin containing the body of the babe Mr. White heard some commotion, and lifting the lid of the pine box found that the young one was living and kicking about. Not losing a minute he seized him and ran to Bellevue Hospital with the young one in his arms and asked that a doctor be sent for.

Dr. Schneider came and said the child was apparently in good health and assigned the case to ward 31. The child was doing well at eleven o'clock last night.

Seaforth Town Hall Burned.

SEAFORTH, Aug. 24. The large frame structure known as the Town Hall and market building with contents was totally destroyed by fire here yesterday. Loss on building and contents $4,500. Insurance $2300. Incendiarism was undoubtedly the cause.

HOLY COAT OF TREVES.

IS IT THE ORIGINAL GARMENT WORN BY THE SAVIOUR?

Proof Advanced That the Vesture is Genuine—German Military Men Disappointed in Count von Moltke's History—Three Lives Lost in a London Fire.

BERLIN, Aug. 24. A textile manufacturer, who was summoned to examine the garment known as the holy coat, now on exhibition in the cathedral at Treves, says that when the wrappers were removed the vesture was found to be in such a tattered condition that it could not be placed on exhibition. Bishop Korum, he adds, then consulted some experts and finally the coat was given to an aged and experienced nun, who gummed the fragments of the garment together, as the material was too much worn to stand the strain of needle and thread. The holy coat is now partially overlaid with layers of materials with which it has been wrapped up, and these wrappers having become decayed, cannot be separated from the coat.

Dr. Bock, of Aix-la-Chapelle, declares that he has examined the reverse side of the holy coat and that he found it was mounted on bygsin silk, which was used in the first century, which was never manufactured after the sixth century and which was always extremely costly. Catholic circles consider this to be proof that the holy coat is a genuine garment worn by our Lord.

It is explained that bygsene is a name given from ancient Greek and Roman times to the bundle of silky filaments by which many bivalve shells attach themselves to rocks or other fixed substances. In the puna of the Mediterranean these filaments are remarkably long and delicate and strong, have a silky luster and are capable of being woven into cloth upon which a very high value was placed. But now the animal which produces valuable filaments is so rare that it is almost exclusively an article of curiosity.

Military men are disappointed that Count von Moltke, in his history, makes no revelations in regard to the alleged disagreement with Gen. von Steinmetz. He confines himself to intimating that the battle of Spicheren was not fought in accordance with instructions from headquarters, and only explains the recall of Steinmetz by a reference to the necessity of a new formation of the army. His indulgence toward the mistakes of both German and French generals excites much comment. It is also remarked that throughout the book there is not a single reference to Germany's domestic policy.

One hundred thousand persons have already arrived to see the Holy Coat. Processions of pilgrims chanting as they marched are continually passing through the streets from 4 o'clock in the morning until midnight.

THE RUSSIAN FAMINE.

Incredible Stories of Destitution and Suffering Reported.

LONDON, Aug. 24. The stories of misery received from Russia are almost incredible. In Bessarabia parents are actually offering their children for sale in order to buy food, and dealers at Constantinople hearing of this have purchased through agents in the Russian villages a considerable number of female children. Many deaths have resulted from famine, and families may be found actually perishing from hunger and huddling together in their common misery. The stewards of crown lands and forests have been instructed to allow the peasantry to enjoy free pasture and freely to gather mushrooms, which are largely consumed among the lower classes of Russians, and to gather wild fruits in the forests and woods of the state. This, however, does not answer the demand for substantial food. Among the applicants at Marinpol were noblemen and noblewomen, the latter ruined in business through the loss of rent on account of the famine, and the former deprived of the margin between their debts and their income, on which they are dependent.

A LONDON HOLOCAUST.

Hemmed in by Flames Many Occupants of a Tenement House Perish.

LONDON, Aug. 24. Fire broke out early Saturday in a tenement house at Shadwell, a suburb of this city. The house was occupied by 10 persons. The flames spread with startling rapidity and before all the people could make their escape the staircase was a mass of flames. A woman occupying apartments on one of the upper floors, finding all hope of escape by the usual exit cut off and hemmed in by fire, jumped to the stone pavement below. She was instantly killed. The other persons who jumped received serious injuries. After the fire was subdued the firemen found the bodies of two unfortunates who had been unable to reach the windows and were overcome by smoke.

A Great Ball at Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 24.—A ball given last night by the English naval officers at the town hall here to the officers of the French fleet was the most brilliant ever witnessed at Portsmouth. When the officers separated and returned on board their respective ships the Frenchmen sang "God Save the Queen," and the British officers sang the "Marseillaise." Over 2000 persons attended the ball.

Russian Rye Exportation.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The exportation of rye from Russia to Germany goes on with feverish haste. All frontier stations are congested with wagons. Between 300 and 400 arrived at Wierbalen yesterday and are waiting to transfer their contents to German wagons. It is estimated one thousand wagons will pass Eydtkuhnen alone before the 27th. The total quantity from Poland is estimated at 30,000 tons. The army magazines are buying wheat and serving out half rye and half wheat rations.

The Woman Discharged.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—A coroner's jury was called Saturday evening to enquire into the death of the infant found in the rear of 117 Sherbourne street on Friday evening last. The doctor's evidence went to show that the body was so decomposed that it could not be stated whether the child was born alive or not. The jury returned an open verdict, and Mrs. Jackson the alleged mother of the infant, was discharged.

AWFUL FATALITY.

Fire and Explosion in a New York Building.

THE WALLS CRUMBLED

And Scores of Persons Perished Miserably in the Ruins—Pinioned People Burned Alive—Heroic Work by Firemen and Police—Horrifying Scenes and Miraculous Escapes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Saturday afternoon an explosion occurred in the five-story brick building extending from No. 60 to 74 (inclusive) Park Place, and in a moment a frightful rumbling noise was heard and the whole front portion of the walls collapsed and fell outward in a pile on the street. A large number of persons lost their lives in the fated building by being crushed to death under the debris or burned by the fierce fire that followed the explosion and collapse. About 50 people escaped from the building with their lives.

All the fire engines in the lower portion of the city were summoned to the scene, the police reserves were called out, and the wildest excitement prevailed throughout the city. Up to 9:30 o'clock last evening only 17 bodies had been dug out of the ruins. Only one person was taken out alive, and that was Mary Heagney, nine years old, who was found under two feet of debris, near the edge of the sidewalk. She had been sitting with her sister Anna, who was younger than herself, on a door-step, and when the explosion occurred started to run, but was pinned under the falling mass of wreckage. Anna was dug out dead, as was five-year-old Johnny Gibbs, who had been with the little girls.

John Eberle & Company, bookbinders, the Scutelle Art Designing Company, Ellis & Co., bookbinders, and the lithographing and printing establishment of Lieber & Mass occupied the upper floors of the building and they all employed many men and girls. On the street floor were the drug store of Frippe & Company and the restaurant of Andrew Peterson. As it was the noon hour the restaurant was crowded with customers and the kitchen in the basement was filled with help. Louis Rosenfeldt & Co. had a metal leaf and bronze factory on the first floor, and A. W. Lindsay a type foundry on the sixth floor. From some of the upper floors there were many narrow escapes, the occupants when they heard the explosion rushed to the fire escapes or escaping into the corner building and thence to the street. Although the walls of Nos. 68 to 74 collapsed, the building entire, known as the Taylor building, extended from 66 to No. 76. No. 76 is on the corner of Greenwich Street, and some of the manufacturing lofts opening from that portion of the building which collapsed into the corner building, afforded means of escape.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

The first body was dug out of the wreck just two hours after the explosion. It was that of little Mary Haegner, who was alive. Her father, Frank Haegner, is the janitor of the building No. 61 Park Place. When he heard that his children were crushed under the heap of brick and debris he was crazed with grief. As the firemen lifted Mary out of the debris and held her up in their arms the little one saw her mother at one of the windows opposite and exclaimed: "There my mamma." A cheer went up from the thousands of bystanders. The child was found to be uninjured except for slight contusions, although her clothing was coated with dirt and blackened with smoke. Her miraculous escape was due to the way in which some beams fell, forming a sort of arch which protected her from the falling brick and stone. Mary said her little sister and the boy Johnny Gibbs, who had been playing with her, were lying near by. She had heard Anna groaning and crying. In a short while the bodies of the other two children were dug out.

As the many streams of water drenched the burning pile of ruins the flames subsided and the firemen of the life-saving brigade were enabled to get to work. They could only dig for the dead, however.

PROMPT ASSISTANCE RENDERED.

Roundsman Taylor, who was passing near the scene of the disaster when the explosion occurred and the walls began falling ran to a hardware store on the next block and seizing a dozen axes distributed them among by-standers and firemen, who cut a hole in the side wall of No. 70 Park Place, through which 17 persons crowded. They were all bruised and blackened, but none of them fatally injured. Dominick Barker, cook in the restaurant of Andrew Peterson, was at work in the kitchen in the basement of No. 74. He escaped as if by a miracle. He said he was standing at the range when he heard the explosion. The next moment the whole building seemed to be falling about him and he was knocked to the floor. Finding that he was not hemmed in by the ruins he groped through a hole in the wall and finally found his way into the basement of a building on Greenwich Street through which he gained the street. Two others who were in the basement escaped through the same opening with the cook.

A. W. Lindsay, proprietor of the type foundry on the two upper floors of Nos. 74 and 76 Park Place, is said to be a brother-in-law of Inspector Williams of the Police Department. He employs about 20 girls. They all escaped by means of the fire escape at the Greenwich Street end of the building. Mr. Lindsay said: "The girls and myself were preparing to go home when the explosion occurred. In a moment we heard a rumbling noise and I shouted to the girls. We all rushed to the corner building, and as we ran we heard the walls behind us falling."

Policeman Joseph Peck was at the corner of West Street and Park Place when he heard the explosion. He ran to the scene and when he saw that nothing could be done from the front of the building he went through a basement on Greenwich Street and thence made his way with Fireman Vredenberg to the side wall of the burning building. They had axes and crowbars with which they dug an opening through the wall and rescued three employees of the restaurant who had been imprisoned in the basement. Others could be seen in the basement but they were held fast in the ruins and the flames soon enveloped them.

A THICK VEIL OF DUST.

Michael Cronin, president of the Volunteer Firemen's Association, was standing on the corner of College Place when the collapse occurred. He said the dust was so thick he could not see through it for several moments. He saw afterwards that all the electric light wires had been broken and that horses received shocks. One man running from the scene of the wreck came into contact with a live wire and was knocked down. Frank Burns of the Photo-Engraving Company was in an upper window opposite the scene of the disaster. He said he first heard an explosion and then a rumbling sound; then he saw the front of the building Nos. 68 and 70 sway and the wall fell with a deafening crash. As the wall began to fall the people opposite saw many persons try to jump from the windows, but the walls crushed down upon them before they landed on the sidewalk. The crash was so sudden that none of the pedestrians passing on the sidewalk in front of the Taylor building were seen to escape. H. W. Detzler, who had charge of the Art Department of Lieber & Mass, lithographers on the third and fourth floors of Nos. 74 and 76 Park Place, said he and 18 other men were at work when they heard the explosion. They all escaped by means of the fire escape at the Greenwich Street end. Detzler and his men helped to rescue the girls from Lindsay's type foundry.

Meanwhile the firemen were hard at work at the Park Place side. Streams of water were directed on the burning mass from every available point. At 2:40 o'clock the body of a young man was taken from the east end of the debris with the clothing completely burned off it. From under the debris near the edge of the sidewalk was taken out the body of Patrick Slattery, who was working for the subway company. A horrible sight was that of a human arm extending from the wall at the east end of the building, the fingers stretched out appealingly for help. The arm was burned black

As the afternoon advanced the police, under Inspector Williams, had all they could do to keep the thousands of people who had been attracted to the scene from breaking through the fire lines. Scores of men and women were begging to be allowed to get inside so that they might see if any of the bodies taken out of the ruins were those of their relatives or friends. All the dead bodies as fast as they were recovered were removed to the Morgue except the bodies of the children Annie Heagney and Johnny Gibbs which were taken to their homes.

SEARCHING FOR BODIES.

At 8 o'clock when the ruins had been cooled off and the flames deadened Assistant Foreman M. R. Slevin of Hook and Ladder 5 and Wm. Gergen, a member of the same company, taking two lanterns, effected an entrance through a small opening into the cellar. Working along with difficulty, and in five feet of water, they made as thorough an exploration of the cellar and the vaults under the sidewalk as the debris would permit. Among the overhanging timbers and iron pipes they discovered two bodies a few feet from the line of the building's front wedged in and held securely by several wooden timbers. Both men were dead and more or less burned. They made an effort to get at them, but in their attempt to tear away some of the obstructions found that such a course would result in bringing down upon their own heads the immense mass of brick above and possibly result in their death. Lieut. Slevin said that he had made a thorough investigation of the vaults under the sidewalk, and was positive that there were no bodies there. It was completely choked up with the debris from above and he thought it was very possible that many bodies would be found.

WORKING IN THE DARK.

When it became dark the firemen were greatly impeded in their efforts to find the bodies by the want of proper light. All along Park Place, between Church and Greenwich streets, the gas had been turned off from the street mains, leaving that portion of the street in total darkness. The only light the workers had was that given out by a few lanterns they carried.

WHAT A PRINTER SAW.

A printer named Henry Hoppe, who was passing at the time, says: "I left my office at 12 o'clock for home, going down Park Place. As I came near Greenwich street I heard a noise similar to that of letting off steam from a boat. I stopped a moment to see what it meant, when I saw the building next above the corner above Greenwich trembling, and the next moment I saw the whole front coming down. I could see human beings struggling in the wreck as it fell.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE.

"A woman passing behind me was struck by falling bricks and I caught her by the arm, but there was so much weight on her that I had to let go or else I would have been killed, as some bricks struck me on the shoulder and then I jumped away, as I saw the rest of the wall coming. The walls of the upper floors came first, and the others followed almost in one breath.

"By the time I reached the corner of Greenwich street I was almost paralyzed. There were other people following on the sidewalk, but on account of the dust and smoke I am unable to say whether any of them were killed or not, but I think some were buried in the ruins.

"Just at the time of the explosion which followed the escape of steam, I saw a man driving a horse and wagon directly in front of the building, and I suppose he and the horse were killed. I only heard cries of 'Help, help.' I saw one man falling with the debris with his head apparently smashed in. Being excited and somewhat injured from the bricks that struck me, I left the scene and went home. I hope never to witness such another scene."

SURVIVORS TELL THE FOLLOWING STORIES.

Dominick Barkie, who, with others, was employed in the kitchen of Peterson's restaurant, says they had a lucky escape from death. The first intimation that they had of danger was the crash falling on their heads. They at once made a rush for the street, and, strange as it may appear, they escaped with but a few bruises. Barkie said that he did not hear any explosion at the time; but between the time it hit him on the head and when he found himself safe in the street he remembers distinctly to have heard three separate reports.

Seventy-five Italians were engaged all through Saturday night and yesterday removing the debris from the burned buildings on Park-place. Two companies of firemen kept at their dreary task of searching for bodies. Their efforts resulted in the finding of five badly burned corpses. The bodies were taken to the morgue immediately. These were all that was recovered up to 6 o'clock. Two of the bodies were removed shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. They were both males. The first removed was that of a man of about 30 years old. The second was burned beyond recognition, the flesh being in shreds and the intestines hung over the spine as the body was carried to a coffin. John Low of Brooklyn called at the morgue this morning and identified one of the bodies as that of his son George, 15 years old. Two other bodies were identified later on as Gustave Zickler of Hoboken and Leonard R. Cole of Brooklyn. From a few shreds of clothing the body of Otto Walser, 24 years old, of 108 East Eight-street, was identified. The body was charred beyond recognition. Joseph Low, a broker, and brother-in-law of Louis Rosenfeld, the bronze powder dealer, called at Police Headquarters to day and said he was positive that Rosenfeld was one of the victims as he was known to have been in the buildings. The work of identification continued all evening up to 9 p. m. two more identifications had been made: Charles Brattner, 15 years old employed by Leibler & Mass; Frank Hach, 33 years old, of 121 First-street, was identified by his brother. The scenes about the morgue were heartrending.

Eleven bodies have thus far been recovered. It is believed there are still 40 bodies in the ruins.

SUICIDES.

The complete list of the identified dead up to 10 p.m. last night is:

COLE, LEONARD R., 40 years, Brooklyn.
LOWE, JOHN, 4 years, New York.
SLATTERY, MICHAEL, 55 years.
PETERSON, A. B., 21 years, New York.
LOW, GEORGE, 15, Brooklyn.
ZIEGLER, GUSTAV, Hoboken, N. J.
HEIDRICH, JOEL, 12, New York.
WALSER, OTTO, New York.
BRETTNER, CHARLES, New York.
HACH, FRANK, 33 years, New York.

Besides there are a number of unidentified bodies at the morgue.

At 8 o'clock to-night a steady downpour of rain stopped the work of removing the bodies from the ruins, the men being forced to quit work and seek shelter in the adjoining buildings. The ruined structure with its tottering walls presented a dismal picture, but all through the pouring rain anxious watchers stood outside the fire lines patiently waiting to hear some news that would be a clue to missing friends and relatives. It was reported late to-night that the number of missing would reach to 86.

The total number of bodies taken from the ruins up to the time the men stopped work to-night is 17. The number identified is 11.

Her Life for Her Sin.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—Margaret, generally known as "Madge" Stapely, a young girl of 20 years, died in the Temperance Hotel on the Russell-road early yesterday morning. It appears that the dead girl left the home of her parents some time ago and they heard nothing of her until about six days ago, when she sent for her younger sister to come and attend her as she was ill-disposed. About 10 o'clock on Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Stapely were summoned to the bedside of the wayward girl, who lingered until about 2 o'clock in the morning. There information was obtained to the effect that the house was one bearing a bad reputation, and that it was supposed the girl had died from the effects of an abortion. After having the body conveyed home yesterday, the parents asked that an inquest be held.

The Baie des Chaleurs Affair.

The Baie des Chaleurs inquiry has elicited the following facts, though it is to be borne in mind that the accused have yet to be heard in their defence:—Armstrong, the contractor, who is a relative of Sir Hector's, obtained $175 000 from the Quebec subsidy of $280,000 offered to any new company that would undertake to complete the line. He gave $100 000 of the money to Pacaud. Pacaud deposited this sum in the bank. He was carrying a number of notes endorsed by Quebec politicians. It has not been shown what these notes were discounted for. They could scarcely have been discounted in the course of Pacaud's very modest business as a newspaper publisher. The supposition, which may or may not be well founded, is that they were made for the purpose of raising money for political uses. With the $100,000, which he received as a "commission," he lifted these notes, bought a house on Dufferin terrace, and sent a $5,000 draft to Mr. Mercier in France. The balance he drew out to the last cent before leaving for Europe or elsewhere a few days since. From the evidence of Contractor John J. Macdonald and of Armstrong it is clear that Pacaud is what American politicians call a "steerer"—a person of political influence who sells his services as an intermediary to those having dealings with the public treasury. Macdonald leaves it to be understood that he had to pay him on one occasion, and that this experience led him when he was unsuccessfully dickering for the Baie des Chaleurs work to place $50,000 in his estimates as boodle for Mr. Pacaud. He says that no member of the Quebec Government ever suggested that he should employ Pacaud. It likewise appears from Macdonald's evidence that whilst he and a London financial agent with whom he was associated were willing to complete the road for a Quebec subsidy aggregating $400,000, or $10 000 per mile for the 40 miles, and expected to make a large profit at that, even after paying Pacaud $50,000, the contract was turned over to the new company for $560,000. The loss sustained by the Province on the contract amounts, therefore, on Macdonald's statement to $210,000, that being the difference between his tender, minus the $50,000 of boodle for Pacaud, and the figure allowed to the new company; and of this sum Pacaud has pocketed $100,000. It is alleged by the Bleu papers that Macdonald's connection with Pacaud dates from the construction of the Temiscouata road. That road of 81 miles was voted a bonus of $462,000 by the Quebec Legislature, in addition to one of $649,000 by the Dominion Parliament, and another of $36 000 by the New Brunswick Legislature; and it is stated that Macdonald, who was the contractor for the line and a director as well, paid Pacaud $20,000 out of the Quebec subsidy. But this matter is foreign to the subject under inquiry. Armstrong swears, however, that, in addition to the $100,000, he paid Pacaud $15,000 for his services as a "steerer" in connection with a former Provincial bonus to the Baie des Chaleurs line, which Armstrong built in part when it was controlled by Uncle Thomas and Senator Robitaille. In all, therefore, Pacaud has received $115 000 for his influence in connection with this road. His fight with the last of the boodle to Europe or the United States has told heavily against himself and against the Mercier Government. His paper, L'Electeur, has put forward no serious defence as yet. While he was legging it out of the country it sought to cover his retreat by raising the cry of Provincial rights against the Senate investigation. But that performance bore too close a likeness to the Tory dodge of waving the Old Flag to hide their rascalities, to deceive any intelligent man. La Patrie, the French Liberal journal of Montreal, urges him to return and face the accusations. Other papers advise Mr. Mercier to summon the Legislature, and others again beg Lieut.-Governor Angers to see that a thoroughly impartial commission is appointed to probe the whole story of Pacaud's meteoric career and of his relations with Mr. Mercier.

But the Senate Committee has accidentally struck its pick upon another scandal which may throw Pacaud's exploits into the shade. The Baie des Chaleurs road was voted a bonus of $620,000 by the Dominion Parliament and others amounting to $700 000 by the Quebec Legislature. This was down to June 30, 1890. Of these two subsidies it had at that time received $894,000. Since then it has been voted an additional subsidy of $280 000 by Quebec in the form of a grant of 800,000 acres of land redeemed by the Government at 35 cents per acre. Sixty miles of the line have been constructed. All the capital which the McGreevy-Robitaille crowd put up on account of this most liberally aided scheme was $30,000. But in reality they did not invest a cent of their own money, for when they gave their cheques for the $30,000 they presented bills for their services in promoting the enterprise for precisely the same amount, and the cheques were returned to them. Macdonald, who examined the road whilst he was negotiating with Pacaud and others, say that in his opinion, and he is a man of large experience in such matters, Uncle Thomas and Robitaille did not spend more than from $12,000 to $13,000 a mile in building and equipping the 60 miles. He places the bona fide value of all their work at $780,000. Hence the Federal and Provincial bonuses of $894 000 must have fully covered their outlay. But as a matter of fact the McGreevy Robitaille company did not pay its debts. It owed sub-contractors, settlers and storekeepers somewhere in the neighborhood of $400 000, so that if as Macdonald reasons the bonuses more than sufficed to pay for all the work that was done, rolling stock included, a very large margin remained "for the boy." Macdonald also declares that Thom, the secretary of the new company told him that Armstrong, who obtained the $175,000 from the Quebec subsidy on account of a claim against the road for $298 000, was willing to take from $30 000 to $50 000 for that claim; and Macdonald himself is of opinion that Armstrong had no just claim at all, the bonuses being more than ample to pay him for all he did for the old company. The Senate committee is in duty bound to probe these allegations to the bottom not only because they are pertinent to the question before it but also because they gravely affect the honor and standing of Mr. Robitaille, a member of the Senate, and of Uncle Thomas in the other House. Macdonald is not a man who speaks at random. His word is as good as his bond, and he knows as much about railroading as the next person. The committee has done a service in exposing Pacaud and showing how a Provincial bonus has been dissipated. Let it now proceed to throw light upon the disposition of the Federal bonus and upon the deeds of McGreevy, Robitaille and Riopel.

Altogether it is a fearful mess. The Ontario people are growing sick at heart of the daily revelations of uncleanness and fraud, especially as they know that the carnival is being carried on at their expense. Just think of the vast sums of public money that have been poured into this rat-hole at Baie des Chaleurs. The road was not required in the interests of commerce. No one pretends that its construction will draw population from the Old World or elsewhere to that inhospitable region. Macdonald says it will not pay running expenses at any rate for five years. The enterprise was undertaken solely as an agency for making the Gaspe district "solid" for the Ottawa Tories and for enriching two members of Parliament and their friends and relations, who seem to have contemplated unloading it upon the British investors when they had fleeced the Dominion and Quebec treasuries of all they could get in the form of subventions. Conceived in fraud it has been a source of fraud ever since, and we in this Province must sooner or later foot the bills. This is not a solitary case by any means. Thieves of high and low degree are running riot with our money all over this big country, and millions more are being wasted on enterprises which have no better reason for their existence than the exigencies of corrupt politicians.—Globe.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

THE FARMER'S CORNER.

THE CONDITIONS REQUIRED IN ASHES AS A FERTILIZER.

A Table Which Shows the Results of Selling Eggs by Weight—How Boys are Driven From the Farm—"Douglas Mixture" for Poultry.

ROF. Goessman says, in a bulletin recently issued, that the value of ashes as a fertilizer depends upon the quality of the ashes themselves, upon the character of the soil upon which they are used, and the needs of the crop which is to be grown. While their value is supposed to depend mostly upon the amount of potash they contain, there are certain other elements of some importance, such as carbonic acid, lime, phosphoric acid, magnesia, and soda, which are valuable in certain soils. The amount of all these varies in the ashes from different woods and other substances, but as a general rule it may be considered that hard-wood ashes have more potash and phosphoric acid than soft-wood ashes, and the ashes from twigs and young wood is stronger than that from old wood. The amounts will also vary with the heat to which they have been subjected in burning, as at a very high temperature the potash and sand or silicate of the ashes will unite by melting together into glass, so that the potash will not be soluble in water, and the plants cannot reach it. Old farmers know this, and often speak of ashes as losing their value by being "burned to death." Upon some soil the lime is very valuable and perhaps more so than the potash. And on others the phosphoric acid is of great importance. This will in part explain why leached ashes seems to show as good results as unleached ashes upon some soils, although the potash is largely leached out of it. But another good result from ashes is their mechanical effect upon the soil. Being finer than the loam soil, they mix with it and make it less porous, so that it holds water better and draws up moisture from below more rapidly. But upon a dry soil they have an opposite effect making it more porous and less liable to bake and harden up. On such soils coal ashes often show a good result that is not due to the potash, as they have but little. It will be seen, then, that it is impossible to tell what price a farmer can afford to pay for ashes, as we cannot tell how strong the ashes are, or how badly this soil needs the carbonate acid or lime or the potash they may contain. Experiment with them upon your land, and if they show good results buy more liberally, and use upon soils and crops of similar character. As a general rule, it may be considered that ashes are valuable where potash is needed, and that they do not do as well upon cold and moist land as upon dryer and warmer land. They bring in a variety of long green moss upon such soils, and many would not use them if they could get them for nothing.

Eggs by the Pound.

Selling eggs by weight is advocated by many and it would be a more just way than to sell them by number. An English poultry paper, Land and Water, gives the following interesting table about the various breeds:

	Size per Bird per year.	Number to the pound.	Pounds per year.
Leghorns,	150 to 200	9	17
Hamburg,	175	9	19
Houdan,	150	8	19
La Fleche,	150	7	21
Black Spanish,	150	7	21
Dominiques,	120	9	13
Games,	120	9	13
Plymouth Rock,	100	8	12
Light Brahma,	80 to 100	7	11 to 14
Dark Brahma	70	8	9
Cochins,	80	7	13

It will be seen that the Leghorns are peers among the breeds, both in the number of the eggs laid and their total weight. Hamburgs are second in numbers and La Fleche and Black Spanish second in total weight. Now is it not unjust to the breeders of these last two breeds to make them take one-third less for their total egg product than the Leghorn breeders get for theirs, while the total amount of matter in each is nearly the same. The American estimate of this table would probably place the number of eggs laid by the Dark Brahma a little higher, also the Houdan higher and the Hamburg possibly a little lower. The Houdans are considered next best layers to Leghorns and are far superior table fowls.

Driving the Boys Off the Farm.

In driving along a certain highway in one of our counties not long since, we observed a lad of tender years with a spud in hand in a great ten acre field battling with thistles, which were numerous enough to keep ten boys for many days before they would get over that field. Our thoughts went back to the days of long ago, when, upon another farm, we were set to cut thistles with a butcher knife, where they grew from two to six to the square foot. The task then appeared overwhelming, and because sweet belonging it was irksome. The very hopelessness of getting over it bred discontent, and many a time we wished the thistles far away, and the writer, too. We pitied the boy, and deplored the lack of judgment which put him alone at a task, which like the story of the king and the locust, was literally without any end.—Canadian Live Stock Journal.

Literature of the Seventh Commandment.

It is not surprising that one almost involuntarily says that if this is what the people prefer to read, it were better had they never learned their letters. Such a feeling can be only momentary, but it is natural..... The literature of the seventh commandment has not hitherto flourished in communities of English blood either in the crude or the developed form of fiction; but it is certainly increasing on the book-stalls, and it is widely read. It is not long ago that the plea was made by one of those who regret the limitations imposed on the English novel that, since we are to have such stories by inferior authors and in their most unliterary form, it would be better to have them by masters of the art in the French taste. This is the same error as that involved in the expectation that a better American sort of popular reading will force out of the market the English wares already referred to. The public which demands the inferior kind will not take the better, if produced. An American Guy de Maupassant would not compete with Sultus or any other of the authors in this part of the field. These books are seldom mentioned in our journals or magazines except when advertised; they are published and circulated silently; so far as criticism is concerned, they are ignored; but they are read.—George E. Woodberry in August Forum.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria!

Lieut. Reyron of the Alpine Chasseurs, while ascending the Chambeyron Peak, fell down a precipice 1500 feet and was crushed into a pulp.

The British Government has notified the Government of China that from this time forth no British officer will be allowed to serve in the Chinese navy.

By a fire at Ocean Spray, Mass., a number of small cottages were burned. The loss will be $15,000. Two men who were asleep in the loft of Devo's stable were burned to death as were also 10 horses.

Stokers on the S. S. Obdam showed signs of mutiny and one of them attempted to strike Capt. Baker with a fireman's comb. The captain promptly shot him dead and effectually quelled the mutineers.

The British Government has notified Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister at Washington, to bring under the notice of the Washington Government the question of the improper packing of cotton cargoes for England.

The London Times correspondent at St. Petersburg says: In spite of the official denial it is still asserted that a government order has been despatched to all Russian Polish railways forbidding exportation of any more rye wheat or flour.

The Ural provinces inhabited by the Korzeez, are the most affected by the failure of the Russian harvest which was in the greater part devoured by locusts. As there are no railroads leading to that part of the empire the Government is unable to relieve the inhabitants there.

On the Premier's fervent appeal on the ground of the necessity of defending the country's neutrality, the Brussels Senate yesterday, by a large majority, voted a credit of $15,000,000 to fortify the Meuse, but censured Gen. Bryalmont, the Minister of War, for underrating the cost of the work.

It is stated that by the Kollman, Austria, flood 6000 cubic metres of stone have been hurled down the mountains a distance of 700 metres. Three hundred men are employed in diverting the water. Sixty bodies have been recovered, all horribly disfigured, and have been buried in rugs, sacks, etc., owing to lack of coffins.

The hideous scene at the Conway execution has caused an outcry throughout England, which is not unlikely to prove the beginning of the end of capital punishment. At the execution at Wodsworth last week a juryman found the rope saturated with blood, but was not allowed to see the neck of the victim, which was covered with thick wadding.

At Caroline Beach, 25 miles below Wilmington, Del., yesterday Charles Williams, a negro helper to the aeronaut, became entangled in the guys to the balloon and the balloon shot upward carrying the terrified negro to a height of 5000 feet. The balloon fell a mile away and it was supposed Williams had been killed but before reaching the ground he succeeded in disentangling himself jumped and escaped unhurt.

"Despise not the day of small things," as the tiny pill (taken from a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets) said to the 300-pound man, suffering from indigestion. As agents, thorough laxative, these Pellets resemble Nature more closely in their action than anything before discovered. Business and professional men, whose habits are sedentary, need something of this kind to ward of sick headache, biliousness and dyspepsia, but which will not strain and rack the digestive organs as did the old-fashioned Pills. 25 cents per vial, at all druggists. c

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Health in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. R. Greatrix, druggists. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in the line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. sod-w

Buggy Accident.

On Monday evening as Mr. Sylvester Davis was returning home from Lakefield his horse shied, upsetting the rig, when Mr. Davis' head struck against some hard, sharp pointed object, inflicting a large scalp wound, extending from the forehead to the crown of the head. He was brought to Lakefield, the Chronicle says, by Mr. Jas. Scott and his injuries attended to at the office of Dr. D. Fraser.

Lakefield's Civic Celebration.

At a meeting of citizens of Lakefield in the town hall on Tuesday evening it was decided to celebrate civic holiday, Wednesday, Sept. 2, in a similar manner to last year, and energetic committees were appointed to arrange the different programmes, consisting of horse races, field sports, a regatta and a general illumination of the village in the evening. Last year's celebration was a decided success, and as the different events are in the hands of energetic committees, a big day may be looked forward to this year.

The Dangerous Cartridge

Charlie Umbar, the fifteen year old son of Mr. Lorenzo Umber, Water street north, lost three fingers yesterday by the explosion of a cartridge. He was playing in company with some other children, and had a blank cartridge in which there was some explosive material. He touched a lighted match to it and the cartridge burst, carrying away the tops of his thumb and two first fingers of his right hand, and cutting his nose. The wounded digits were amputated at the first joint by Dr. Goldsmith. Two of Mr. Andrew Allison's children were struck by splinters of the cartridge but not hurt.

"Casey's Troubles."

This play is presented by one of the cleverest companies in existence, everyone of them being especially selected for their adaptability in portraying the character they represent. The star, Miss Lillian Kennedy, is the brightest Ingenu Soubrette in America, and in this comedy she has a role which gives full scope to her wonderful versatility. She is supported by a company which includes her brother, Mr. John J. Kennedy, one of the cleverest singing comedians before the public; Mr. E. P. Sullivan, the powerful romantic actor, and a large company, including a number of prominent artists; and as might be expected from such a star cast of theatrical celebrities a great performance is presented. d45

Natural Gas at Belleville.

Considerable excitement was caused in Belleville Thursday night, the Ontario says, when it became known that natural gas had been struck at a depth of 125 feet. A large crowd of citizens visited the well which gave forth a blowing sound and a strong odor of gas. When the gas was ignited it burned up fifteen inches above the well, although the pressure was naturally very slight. The drillers smothered the fire and from the bottom of the well came a low rumbling sound. While gas has been struck the quantity and force is so slight that as yet it cannot be utilized. The drilling will be pushed forward rapidly and the expectations of the shareholders will rise with every foot of earth thrown up.

Church Chimes.

The service of song at the George Street Methodist Church Sunday evening under the direction of Mr. L. Seward, organist, was very impressive. The full choir rendered two choice anthems, in which there was grand volume of sound as well as regard for technique; while Mrs. Chambers and Miss Chambers sang a duet entitled "Faith," and Mrs. Chambers gave a solo, "Abide with Me." Both these numbers were exceedingly well sung and made a deep impression on the audience. Rev. Mr. Locke preached the sermon of the evening.

Several of the town pulpits had new occupants Sunday. At St. Andrew's Rev. A. G. Lochhead, of Uxbridge, preached morning and evening; in St. Paul's Rev. Mr. Fraser, of Bowmanville, conducted the services of the day; at the Charlotte Street Church the pulpit was filled by Rev. E. A. Swartout.

A Heaping Record.

Mr. Daniel Crough, of Eanismore, a son of Reeve Wm. Crough, is a hustler in the harvest field. The other day with one of Mr. Peter Hamilton's light steel twine binders, he cut 14½ acres of heavy wheat in nine hours. This is a record that is seldom if ever beaten. If any other man in the county can do it, let him be heard from.

Almost Lost His Arm.

Saturday forenoon Mr. Joseph B. Grey, Garden Hill, while at work in his sawmill caught his foot in a hole in the floor and stumbled; in the fall his arm came in contact with the circular saw, nearly cutting it off between the wrist and the elbow. Drs. Powers and Perks was called. They have hopes of saving the fractured limb, but the prospects are that it will be months before the poor man will be able to work again.

His Foot Crushed.

Saturday afternoon Mr. John Pogue, an employee of the bridge works, met with a painful accident. He was assisting in the moving of a large iron truss, when the ponderous weight fell upon his foot, crushing the bones and tearing the flesh in a frightful manner. He was taken to his home on Park street, where Dr. Clark attended to his injuries. It is hoped the foot will be saved. Mr. Pogue has a family depending upon him, and the accident will be a serious matter for them all.

The National Game.

Thursday afternoon the Peterborough and Ontario (of Port Hope) lacrosse clubs will meet in friendly strife upon the P. A. A. A. grounds for the second time this season. The Ontarios won the last match, but the Peterboroughs are determined that they shan't run away with the victory this time. The home team has been playing great lacrosse lately and they confidently expect to redeem themselves Thursday afternoon. The boys should and doubtless will grasp every opportunity in the meantime to practice and get into condition for the match. Let every member of the team turn out for practice and leave no possibility of defeat on Thursday.

He Marked the Marker.

Before Mr. A. V. R. Young, J.P., a special session of the police court was held Saturday evening. Wm. Lane, familiarly known as "Doo," a river-man, was charged with assaulting Thos. Trennum, billiard marker of the Balmoral hotel. The assault consisted in Lane striking Trennum on the nose and drawing blood, during an altercation. Learning that Trennum was going to "take the law on him," Lane walked into the police station half an hour after the fracas occurred, the acting magistrate happened to be there at the time, and Lane expressing a wish to have the matter settled that night, as he wished to leave town Monday morning, he was accommodated. Pleading guilty to the charge, he was fined $2.

He was an Old Soldier.

Chief of Police Rossel received another letter of inquiry from Salem, Mass., regarding the late Wm. Walden. The letter is from Mr. John Fell, who on behalf of Mrs. Walden wants such information as will place the identity of the dead man beyond doubt, after which she will apply to the American Government for a pension, her husband having served in a Massachusetts regiment during the war of 1861-64. The writer states that Wm. Walden left home nineteen years ago, and had not been heard of by any of the family since twelve years ago, when he was seen in Chicago by a resident of Salem. They had supposed him dead long ago. He left his wife nineteen years ago totally unprovided for, and with five children, all of whom are yet living. The writer asked particulars as to the occupation of deceased, with whom he worked, how long he had resided in Peterborough, etc.

A Fair Tippler.

Mrs. Nash, an old resident of Peterborough and an old sampler of Peterborough whiskey, was taken in charge by the police Saturday night while drunk on the streets. A lady friend of hers accompanied Mrs. Nash, but she was allowed to go after being detained in the cells over Sunday. Mrs. Nash was arraigned this morning and discharged. Mr Nash said her fair name had suffered and been dragged through the mud as result of her spree, and she was going to leave town at once. But after leaving the police station in company with her sister grace, the aforesaid lady friend, Mrs. Nash went to her home on classic "Pig Alley," and began drinking again. Her husband thought she had enough and upset her mug of beer, which so incensed Mrs. Nash that she picked up a brick-bat and hit her hubby such a blow on the ear that the blood flowed in all directions. James is now looking for satisfaction, and visited the police station this afternoon with that purpose in view.

Used a Knife.

Mr. Sam. Bennett, proprietor of the Albion hotel, had quite a scrap with a couple of rough customers Saturday evening. Jas. Finney and M. Lavery were drinking in the bar about five o'clock, and managed to pick a quarrel with a stranger who was in the room. Mr. Bennett interferred and put Finney and Lavery out of the house. Not satisfied with this the two men, both of whom were well under the influence of liquor, returned and tried to force their way in. Mr. Bennett met them and a scuffle ensued, in which Finney drew a knife from his pocket and made a slash at Mr. Bennett. The latter caught the weapon with his hand, wrested it from Finney's grasp and fired both he and Lavery out again. Mr. Bennett's hand was cut, but not seriously. Constable Craig arrested Finney and Lavery, and this morning before Mr. John Wood, J. P., each of the prisoners was fined $2 and costs, or $4.90. Mr. Bennett did not prosecute the case.

Personal.

Miss Simmons, of Newcastle, is visiting with Mrs. Henthorne.

Judge Dartnell, of Whitby, who with his family has been spending a few weeks at Stony Lake, stopped over Sunday in town with Mayor Stevenson while en route to his home.

Our Manitoba correspondent writes:—Mr. Herbert Middleton, of Smith Township, who has been at Poplar Point viewing the country around about for the past six weeks, left here for his home near Peterborough on Tuesday, August 18th, and we hope has arrived safely. We do not think by his account of the country before he left he would wish to make his home here.

Two Mysterious Fires.

Apparently the Work of an Incendiary—A Thrilling Leap for Life.

Sunday morning about three o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded for a blaze on Louis street, which was discovered by the night patrolmen. The brigade turned out promptly and found the fire to be in a small frame story and a half house owned by Joe. Guerin and occupied by Harry Brault. The fire had completely mastered the structure before the brigade arrived, and when the flames were subdued the building was a wreck. The contents were also destroyed. Mr. Brault and the family were away from home, having gone down the river the previous evening to spend Sunday. There was no insurance on the house, but Mr. Brault carried a policy in the North British and Mercantile for about $400 on the contents. As there was no fire or combustible material in the house, the only tenable supposition is that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

THIS MORNING'S BLAZE.

At five o'clock this morning the brigade was again called out to a fire in Mr. Fred R. Morrison's grocery store in the end of the brick terrace at the corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets. The firemen extinguished the conflagration and succeeded in confining it to the shop premises. The stock was completely destroyed, as well as the store fixtures, though the building was not much damaged. Mr. Morrison slept over the store, and he was awakened by the smoke and flame belching up through a pipe hole in the floor of his room. Mr. Morrison was badly frightened, as any one else would be under the circumstances, and thinking the floor was ready to sink beneath him into the sea of fire below, he hastily threw his trunk out of the window, and himself after it. He fortunately received no more serious injuries than a few cuts and bruises. Mrs Jas. Pollard lived next the store, but her household goods were not damaged to any extent. Mr. Morrison's stock of groceries were insured for $200 in the National. Mr. Geo. Hall also carried an insurance on the building in the North British and Mercantile.

The origin of this fire is also shrouded in mystery. It has been suggested as a possible cause that mice got into the match boxes, but the fire evidently started in a different spot to where the matches were stored.

China Inland Mission.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

GANKING, CHINA, July 16th, 1891.

For some little time past I have been contemplating a visit to a Pagoda, which stands a little way outside the east gate of this city, and yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. Rogers of Australia and a Chinese teacher, I went to it.

There are two places to be seen before coming to the Pagoda itself, so I will endeavour to describe them first. One of these is a kind of entrance hall leading off the street to an open yard in which is and behind this is the Pagoda. In the hall there are four idols about 20 feet high, seated against the wall, two on either side. They all have crowns on their heads and are clad in armour, but in other respects they differ; the first one on the right reminded me very much of the real god of the heathen, he had a black face, a drawn sword in his hand and at his feet two smaller idols ridiag on sea-dragons; the next one has a pink face and is playing on a musical instrument something like a guitar; the one opposite this one has a white face, holds an umbrella in his hand and at his feet two smaller idols are riding in sea-shells; the other one on the left has a very fierce look about his face, which is painted fiery red, in one hand he is holding a serpent at arms length from him, while in the other hand he held a red pill which he seemed to be going to administer to the serpent. In middle of this hall a big case contains two idols. The one seen from the front is a clay one (I think) painted with gold paint. He is sitting down, seems to be taking things very easy. The one behind is a very valiant looking fellow (also covered with gold paint) who is in the act of thrusting a sword down a dragon's throat.

Coming now to the temple which is served by 30 priests who have their heads closely shaven and wear drab gowns, we noticed that a large case at the back contained three very elegant gold painted idols, two of which were represented as praying to the other one. In front of this case several stools are placed for the worshippers to kneel on while one side there is an immense drum and on the other a very large bell with a kind of a sentry box in in which a priest sits and at short intervals gives the bell a ring.

And now I come to a description of

THE PAGODA ITSELF.

Accompanied by a young priest we went as far up it as we could and the view from the top was grand. It is built in seven high stories, and each of these contains a room. The bottom one has an immense gold painted image standing in it about twenty feet high. Going up the winding staircase we noticed several idols, both moulded and painted on the walls, but one of the former especially took my attention, because he looked as if his admirers were very cruel to him, for, although he was riding in triumph on a dragon's back, some of the plaster with which he was covered had got knocked off and the straw with which they had stuffed him was sticking through. The fourth and fifth rooms in this building have forty small idols each around the wall near the top of them; while the two top rooms have twenty-four each. It was quite refreshing after inspecting this very interesting but, at the same time, sad exhibition of things and places connected with heathen worship to read a couple of lines written on the wall in the top room of the pagoda, especially when one remembers what the bottom one contained. These lines had evidently been written by two former visitors, whose thoughts rose above the things they had seen. One was, "Rejoice in the Lord," and the other was, "God bless all ye foreigners who preach the Gospel."

On getting down to terra firma once more the priests invited us to drink tea, and while we were doing so half a dozen of them were taking stock of us, one of whom was very mechanically counting his beads. Then we gave them two tracts which one immediately began to read. We finished our tea drinking, gave the priest a small sum of money for allowing us to see their place, and returned home to renew our studies of this difficult language, praying that the time may soon come when we shall tell these people in their own tongue of the way provided by which they may have power to turn from the worship of idols to serve the living and true God. "A million a month in China are dying without God."

Yours sincerely,
F. G. SAUNDERS.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

On Saturday evening the attendance at the Young Men's meeting was encouraging and much interest was manifested in the services by the young fellows. We are believing for good results from these services.

The Open Air Service yesterday afternoon was held on the street corner at the Association building, it being too wet to go to the Central Park. Rev. Mr. Sing very kindly gave an earnest gospel address which cannot fail to awaken those who heard it to think and realise the love of God for sinners. The attention and attendance was good and singing very helpful, being led by Messrs. John and Alfred Miller. We praise God for the privilege of sowing the seed in the highways, etc. He will take care of the results.

The gospel and song service last evening was a delightful and helpful service, the hall was well filled and Rev. Mr. Locke gave an excellent and thoughtful address on "Personal Consecration" which made a marked impression on all, for the Holy Spirit was present to convict of sin and lead to repentance. We praise the Lord Jesus for the joy we have in His service.

It Will Roam no More.

Mr. John Grady's horse won't get him into any more trouble. It wandered away from home once too often, for on Saturday night it was killed while roaming at large. Mr. Grady's horse was a confirmed vagrant and three different times it has occasioned its owner the loss of a fine in the police court on account of its illegal excursions about the streets of the town. Saturday at midnight the animal was killed at the crossing near the R. C. cemetery by the C. P. R. express.

After the Apple Thieves.

More of the Ashburnham orchard despoilers were brought up before P. M. Edmison at the court house this afternoon. Seven boys were charged with larceny and destruction of property by stealing apples and destroying trees in Mr. Theodore Ludgate's orchard. Mr. Ludgate says the damage done to his orchard by the systematic raids which have been made upon it, will reach $300, and numerous other complaints are made of the depredations caused by apple theives. Four of to-day's defendants, namely, A. Bridgewater, W. O'Brien, C. Dobbin and Sam Taylor, pleaded guilty to the charge; young Revoy pleaded not guilty, but the House brothers were not present, and the case was enlarged until to-morrow to have them present, when the whole batch of offenders will be disposed of.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 4 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, body, face, and head, until he was nearly covered. His tortures equaled were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,324 07
" " " 1886, "	90,452 97

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SLAUGHTERING OF UNITED STATES CATTLE IN CANADA.

Mr. Dewdney to Accept a Lieutenant-Governorship—The Theft of the Civil Service Examination Papers—Dr. Montague to be Impeached.

OTTAWA, Aug 25 In the Senate yesterday Mr. Abbott made an important announcement with regard to the cattle trade. He said that Mr. Lowe's act was disallowed, with the assent of the English authority, to allow railways to carry American cattle from Detroit to the Suspension Bridge. The animals were taken out of the cars at some point in transit and watered and rested. It was suggested that there would be no greater danger in allowing the cattle to be slaughtered at these points. Gentlemen of considerable capitalism propose to carry on the trade of slaughtering American cattle in Canada on a large scale at a point to be fixed and under such rules and regulations to be settled by the Government. Permission was not yet granted, but was under consideration by the Government. The proposed rules and regulations were submitted to the Imperial authorities who approved of them. It was probable that the manufacture of meats, and the different articles made from the offal of cattle would be permitted at more than one point in the country. He made this announcement because some uneasiness was felt, and he wanted it understood that the proposition involved no more danger from infection than the practice which has been carried on for some years and met with the approval of the English Privy Council.

There were no concurrence in Supply yesterday and around Parliament buildings everything presented a dull and deserted appearance. In the room over the Privileges and Elections and Public Accounts Committees will both be at work and further disclosures are looked for. The probability is that the further investigation of the Printing Bureau will be gone on with. If not the Pacific Railway Department will be taken up.

It is understood that among the members against whom charges are to be made in the House will be Mr. Montague and Mr. Mills of Annapolis, N. S.

The special committee appointed to investigate charges against Mr. Cochrane will be called for organization at once. The likelihood is that Col. Tisdale will be elected chairman.

The rumor is revived here that Dewdney will resign at the close of the session and will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor. The term of Lieutenant-Governor Nelson does not expire until March next.

It is said here that Mr. Lepine, M.P., and Mr. Faucher are candidates for the position of superintendent of Printing Bureau. The latter, who is a particular friend of Chapleau, has the best chance of obtaining it.

Col. Smith deputy sergeant at arms, returned to-day from Quebec after a second term of office as high constable.

The usual custom now is for the chief of examination papers prepare to the Civil Service examination of 1890 to [illegible] but the work was resumed to-day. John C. Aikins, a second-class clerk admitted that he had procured papers and given them to another. He gave the name of the party from whom he got them and a summons was at once issued.

Death of a Mining Expert.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 25 William Coe of Malden died at that place last night from a stroke of apoplexy. He was prominent in connection with mining, railway enterprises and stock breeding, and was a member of the Ontario Mining Commission. In 1886, he unsuccessfully opposed the Minister of Customs for the House of Commons. Mr. Coe was about 55 years of age. He leaves a widow, two daughters and four sons.

Robbed the Only Passenger.

ORILLIA, Aug 25 Robert Hall of Toronto was conveying three prisoners at the Orillia assizes Saturday morning. He was the sole passenger for Orillia. At 2:30 a.m. the train and was knocked down and robbed of all the money before leaving the station. He was kicked and terribly ill-used. Three young men named Darcy McMullen, Wilham Veasie and [illegible] Jones were arrested. Veasie pleaded guilty and was committed. Others were bailed until Wednesday.

Mysterious Death in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 23. The body of a man was found in the river 12 miles below Campbelltown. No money was found on his person, but in one of the pockets was a ticket from Chicago to Point Duchen and a baggage check which corresponds with an unexamined trunk that arrived at Point Duchen on Aug 8. The trunk is filled with clothing of a superior quality, but no sign of money except a $5 American counterfeit. The clothing was stamped with the name of James Shaw, Lake Forge, Cook County, Ill., and in the trunk was found a letter to the same address from his sister at Manitou Springs, Col. It was dated last December, and advised him, as the eldest member of the family, to go on a visit to their mother in Prince Edward Island. The express stops at Campbellton at midnight for Dominion, and it is supposed that Shaw got off for some purpose, and either walked into the river in the darkness or was robbed and thrown in.

The Grand Trunk Censured.

TORONTO, Aug 25. At the adjourned inquest held last night at Munico concerning the death of Edith Redding, the child killed at the railway crossing, the jury, after half an hour's consideration, found that the death was accidental. They found also that the Grand Trunk Railway Company is to blame for not protecting gate or watchman such a dangerous crossing as the one at Shuter street, and asserted that the safety of the public absolutely demands such protection immediately.

40 BODIES RECOVERED.

The Search For the Victims of the York Disaster.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. Six bodies were found yesterday huddled close together in the ruins at No. 70 Park Place. The faces presented the appearance of death by suffocation. The eyeballs and tongues protruded and the bodies are swollen to an abnormal size. The odor of the decomposing flesh arising from the ruins is becoming horrible, and the disinfectants hitherto used seem to produce little effect.

At 5 o'clock the body of a man was brought out from the basement of No. 70. It was found beneath the press frame that had been lifted out of the debris a few minutes before. The head and trunk were burned beyond recognition, but the legs and feet were comparatively intact. At 5:30 another body was brought out from the press room. Half an hour later another pine box was carried out of the ruins and laid beside the other two. When the lid was removed there was disclosed the frightfully charred remains of a young man.

Another body was removed from the ruins at 6:15 o'clock. This made the third charred body to be taken out. At 7:30 the excavation in the press room unearthed the body of a woman. Blood was flowing from her mouth and nose. The body had not been touched by the fire and was intact. The woman was apparently 28 years old. The body was under a heavy press and it was found impossible to get it out to-night. Thirteen bodies thus far has been identified at the morgue.

At 12:30 a. m. the total number of bodies recovered from the ruins was 35, none having been taken out since sunset. The number positively identified is 20 and the number reported missing 88.

A PECULIAR SUICIDE THIS.

Wrote His Epitaph and Coolly Called in Death.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. By injecting a poison, supposed to be morphine, into his veins with a hypoderme syringe Julius Rosenthal, forty-eight years old, escaped all his earthly troubles after writing his own epitaph. He was found dead in his room, at No. 228 West Thirty-sixth street, yesterday, and from the epitaph it is believed that he committed suicide on Friday night. The man was a private nurse, incurably ill with consumption, despondent, unable to get work and almost penniless. These were his reasons for killing himself. He left several letters addressed to various persons. They were found by his bedside. On the back of one of them, written in German and addressed to the coroner, was this inscription, which is said to be characteristic of the man:

"Julius Rosenthal," born January 9, 1844, at Berlin, Prussia. Came to this country, July, 1886. Died August 21, 1891.

An empty hypodermic syringe was by the side of the dead man and a sickening odor filled the room.

In the room were found a sealed letter to Seligman & Co., bankers, at 24 Broad street, a packet of cards, a bunch of official papers, a purse containing $1.56, three bottles of some dark liquid, a valise, and the letter to the coroner.

The effects were taken to the station house, where the letter was opened. It read as follows.

A STRANGE LETTER.

NEW YORK, August 21, 1891.

"To the Honorable Coroner of the City of New York:

"I am tired of living and have taken poison hypodermically, sick and suffering for a long time, only able to take liquid food, not able to find a position, nothing left to support me for the future, very much neglected by former friends, not able to find a natural death here -have taken my own life.

"To Mr. and Mrs. Ignatz Steirhart of San Francisco, Cal., to Julius Bache of Exchang Place, with Lewis Kuhn, bankers, and to Dr. Henry Schweig of No. 26 East Twentieth street, I send, for their noble kindness during my misery, my last farewell, and may the blessings of the good Lord in Heaven be and remain with them forever.

"I would prefer to leave this world a poor gentleman rather than to face this life as a beggar or thief. The grave of the pauper has no terrors for me. If the good Lord desires me he will find me in any place.

"I remain most respectfully,
"JULIUS ROSENTHAL."

On the back of the letter was the following memoranda:

HIS HISTORY.

"I am 48 years old. During the terrible epidemic of yellow fever in 1878 I rendered service for over four months in Memphis, Tenn., for many days and nights, and at last was found delirious and sick myself by members of Howard's Association.

"Have never recovered since that time my old strength and for my horrible suffering my name was published with great honor in the southern papers."

A Walking Barroom.

HAMBURG, Conn., Aug. 24.—Several years ago a man named Kildeer Huff came to this place from no one knows where and made his place of abode a rude hut on Potato Hill. He was eccentric and he led a solitary life. He pretended to be deaf and dumb, but boys who tantalized him say that he could swear very fluently. He was apparently humpbacked, and on account of his deformity he was an object of pity to the townspeople.

Last Friday he was found dead by the roadside near his hut. The villagers were surprised by the discovery that the dead man was a humpback no more. The deformity proved to be a padded sack, inside of which was found a dozen pint bottles containing rum, whisky and cordial, and in his pocket was found $197, mostly dimes and nickels. The humpback had been a walking barroom.

The town is a no license, and the Prohibitionists have flattered themselves that here at least no drinking was done. It is remembered now that Huff used to prowl around late at night, and it is alleged that he visited the houses of those who love occasional nip, and either sold them a pint bottle or else a drink, for which he charged but five cents.

LATEST MINING HORROR

COLLIERY DISASTER REPORTED FROM WALES.

Scenes at the Pit's Mouth—Hungary Threatened With Cholera—The Alps Covered With Snow—A Tragedy of Mount Blanc—General Foreign News.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Right Hon. Henry Cecil Raikes, M. P., Her Majesty's Postmaster General, died yesterday. For some time past he has been gradually recovering from a severe indisposition which has necessitated an entire cessation from official duty; but yesterday he went out walking, when he received a severe electric shock during a thunderstorm. On arriving home his condition was pronounced critical and the right hon. gentleman never rallied. His death does not create a Cabinet vacancy but leaves a blank in the Ministerial ranks.

The deceased statesman was the eldest son of the late Mr. Henry Raikes, of Llwynegrin, Flintshire; he was born in 1838 and was a lawyer by profession. From 1868 to 1880 he sat as the Conservative member for Chester, afterwards for Preston until November, 1882, when he was elected one of the members for Cambridge University, which he continued to represent up to the time of his death. From 1874 to 1880 he was chairman of committee and Deputy-Speaker of the British House of Commons, and became a member of her Majesty's Privy Council in 1880. In 1886 Lord Salisbury appointed him Postmaster-General. Apart from his active participation in politics he was largely interested in commerce.

GREAT BATTLE IN CHILI.

The Contending Factions Struggling Before Valparaiso.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Herald's despatch from Valparaiso says that a fierce battle is now in progress within a few miles of the city of Valparaiso, between the Balmacedists and the insurgents. The battle has been raging practically for three days, and it is believed that the number of killed and wounded on both sides has already reached nearly 3,000. The first day's fighting (on Friday) resulted in a reverse to the Government forces. The insurgents are receiving great assistance from their six warships which are cruising about in the Aconagua River. The Government commander has selected a strong position on the beach of Vina Delmar, as his second line of defence, and is confident that he will be able to repulse the rebels. The excitement in the city is intense, and thousands of people are watching the desperate struggle which is being fought under their very noses. Should the revolutionists succeed in defeating the Government troops, it is believed that Valparaiso will be bombarded by their warships. If, on the other hand, the Balmacedists gain the victory, the fleet will cover the retreat of the insurgent army, and, if necessary, re-embark the troops. All the Government officials here are confident that Balmaceda will drive the insurgents back, and, if he does not entirely destroy them, compel the remnants to re-embark in their transports and go back to the north.

Admiral Brown, commanding the American fleet here, and the commanding officers of the other foreign naval forces have combined to protect the lives and property of the foreign citizens, and in case of an attack on the city marines and blue jackets from the foreign warships will probably be landed to see that order so far as the foreign element is concerned is preserved. The fall of Valparaiso would mean the practical collapse of Balmaceda's power. Outside of the forces now engaged in the death struggle there are no troops to oppose the march of the insurgents to Santiago, and they would, with this city as a base of operation soon overrun all the southern provinces. The railroad to Santiago has not been disturbed, and with the capture of Valparaiso the fall of the capital would be but a matter of a few hours.

SHE WAS MARKED FOR LIFE.

A Rival Friend's Victim Driven to Suicide by Her Disfigurement.

TORONTO, Aug. 25. Miss Fenis Boyer committed suicide at Mill Grove some time during Friday night or Saturday morning by hanging. The story is a peculiarly sad one.

Some night about a year ago her family were startled by shrieks of agony coming from her room, and when they rushed in they found her writhing in agony. While she slept somebody had entered the room and thrown vitriol in her face. The intention was evidently to destroy her sight. Her face was horribly blistered by the fluid and she was scarred for life. This preyed on her mind, and when people turned and looked at her disfigured face it tortured her. One day she escaped the quick silver off the back of a mirror and swallowed it, but prompt medical aid saved her life.

On Friday Miss Boyer seemed to be in unusually bright spirits, but early yesterday morning her body was found hanging from the limb of a cherry tree. The suicide had been deliberately planned. In her room her clothing was found arranged and laid out for her burial.

Here is the third violent death in the Boyer family. Several years ago John Boyer, the eldest son, shot himself dead. Three years ago, the youngest son was shot by a woman in Bradford. He died soon afterwards.

RESTITUTION BY A BANDIT.

It Took Fifteen Years for Conscience to Effect Its Work.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25. Travelling Passenger Agent Baxter, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, yesterday received in his mail $60, stolen from him at the time a Burlington train was held up and robbed by frontier bandits fifteen years ago.

A poorly dressed man walked into the Burlington office at St. Joseph yesterday and inquired for Mr. Baxter. Being told that Baxter's headquarters were in Kansas City, the man explained that he was one of the bandits who robbed the train fifteen years ago, and handed the check for $60 in an envelope, asking that it be forwarded to Baxter.

He then disappeared and has not been seen since.

WANTED WIFE AND MONEY, TOO.

That Was Too Much for Farmer Phelps s. and He Shot the Desperado Dead.

BARBOURSVILLE, W. Va., Aug. 25.—John Phelps, a wealthy farmer near here, shot and killed William Hance, yesterday under remarkable circumstances. Hance was a notorious desperado, who took part in the Brumfield-Runyon feud, and had the reputation of having killed five men. In some unaccountable manner he won Mrs. Phelps's affection, and on Aug. 1 the two eloped. They went to Ironton, O., and lived there as man and wife. Finally Hance's money gave out, and then he ordered her to return to her husband and steal the money that she knew he possessed. The woman refused, and Hance returned to Barboursville with her.

Yesterday the couple marched boldly up to Phelps's house and called him out, and Hance demanded money that he said belonged to Mrs. Phelps. The farmer declined, and Hance made a motion to draw his revolver. Phelps was too quick for him, however, and drew a bead on him and shot him through the abdomen. The desperado turned to run, but fell dead at a second shot from Phelps's pistol.

Mrs. Phelps, who had watched the affair, drove to the home of her father, a respectable farmer, and two hours later made a futile attempt to commit suicide.

Hance had terrorized the community for months and no one could be found to molest him. Phelps will not be arrested, as public opinion approves his act.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—M. Ferry, speaking at a banquet at St. Die to-day, said he hoped that 50 years hence protection would have no enriched France that she would be like England, in a position to allow herself the luxury of being a free trader.

TRIALS OF EXPLORERS.

THE "KITE" VISITS GREENLAND'S ICY MOUNTAINS.

Attacked by a Polar Bear—What the Party of Scientists Saw and the Relics They Brought Back With Them—Mothers Who Would not Sell Their Babes.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Aug. 25.—The Arctic steamer Kite arrived here yesterday with reports of interesting experiences in Greenland, which include a struggle of three weeks with bergs and floe ice in Melville Bay, during which period she made only 100 miles. Lieutenant Peary, his wife and five associates were landed in McCormick Bay, Muchison Sound. Whale Sound, his original destination, was frozen over and inaccessible by reason of ice islands and bergs.

On July 16 the Kite was nearly lost. She got nipped between two floes, which began to come together rapidly. All hands were put to work, and by digging and blasting the vessel was saved from destruction. On the same night a polar bear attacked the ship and was killed at a range of 59 yards, several shots out of the volley of 30 bullets having taken effect.

By a series of small stages Cape York was reached July 20. It seemed impossible to go further and it looked as if the expedition must be abandoned, as if appeared impracticable to land even there. On July 23 however, the ice suddenly opened and a course was made clear to McCormick Bay.

CAMPED AMID GLACIERS.

A house was built on the slope of a mountain 1800 feet high, with the glaciers pouring down the hills in all directions. On July 30 the Kite bade the party farewell and steamed south.

The real trophy of the entire expedition was secured on Disco's Lane in the shape of a 300 pound meteorite. Three small fragments of meteorites were found there by Nordenskjold in 1875, and the Swedish Government fitted out a ship to bring them back.

Among the relics secured were the corpse of an Arctic Highlander, two years dead, and a fine assortment of Esquimo skins.

McCormick Bay is a gloomy spot at best even with the sun high above the horizon 24 hours a day as when the Kite was there. With the sun out of sight the high hills on all sides will make the prospect indeed dark and hideous. It seems fitted only for a home of white bears and whales, which found.

The academy party certainly had their fill of Arctic experiences. Among the food they were forced to eat are bear's blood pudding, bear tongue, patty of bear heart, sandwiches of seal pie, sea gulls and many varieties of birds. Lieutenant Peart saved a bear's carcase for winter use.

In the latitude of Camp Peary the Arctic night begins at the last of October and lasts 113 days. The members of the party who are in the best condition after that will go North. Lieutenant Peary, if not relieved will start home at the beginning of August, as he is not provisioned for a second winter.

There are many reminders near the camp, but the prospects for game are not very bright. Caches of blubber were found near the camp, showing the presence of natives in the neighborhood.

Dr. Keely, the ship's surgeon, tried to buy an Eskimo child at Cape York, but though the natives were destitute and sadly in need of wood and weapons, they could not be prevailed on to sell one of their children. This settlement is said to be dying out. Only 48 Eskimos from three villages boarded the ship.

Exploring the North.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 24.—The Behring Sea Commissioners appointed by the United States Government have returned from the north and are now at Nanaimo, where they arrived yesterday morning. Mr. Ivan Petroff, the United States special census agent, returned on the Albatross with the commissioners. He has been engaged in taking the census of the natives of Nunivak Island, located in Behring Sea in the sixtieth degree of north latitude. He found the population to consist of over 600 natives.

It was previously supposed that over 300 people lived on the island. There are no white men there and the natives live in a most primitive style. Their only food is the flesh of the walrus and their only possessions and wealth consist of ivory obtained from the tusks of that animal. There are a few land otter to be found on the island, but aside from these the natives catch no fur-bearing animals and they are extremely poor.

The labors of the the Commissioners of both nations have been concluded and the Danube is now on her way down with Sir George Baden Powell and Dr. Dawson and may be expected here any day.

The judge who tried the case has refused to accept the jury's verdict in the case of the proprietor editor, manager and printer of The Bangobashi, one of the principal vernacular newspapers of India, who were arrested and charged with attacking the Government. The judge ordered a re-trial of the case.

The King of Denmark, the Crown Prince of Denmark and the King of Greece went on board the royal yacht at Copenhagen yesterday to meet the Czar of Russia. The royal yacht, conveyed by an ironclad squadron, steamed out of the harbor and ran alongside of the Imperial yacht. The Czar was cordialy greeted by King Christain, the Crown Prince and the King of Greece. When the Czar landed he was enthusiastically cheered by enormous crowds of people. The Czar inspected the guard of honor commanded by Prince Christian, and then proceeded to Fredensburg.

The French sailors were entertained at a banquet in the Town Hall, Portsmouth, yesterday by the municipal authorities. The marching of the sailors in procession 400 strong to the town hall was made the occasion of a popular ovation. Simultaneously with the banquet in the town hall the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of Cambridge entertained the French officers at the Government House. The day's festivities closed with a grand military tatoo rendered by the united bands of the English and French fleets.

Floods and Riots in China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Advices were received here to-day from China and Japan. The China papers print a report that the son of the present Chinese Minister to England, France and Italy has been arrested, charged with being a prominent member of a secret society and is to be tried for that offense.

Riots were prevalent at Shanghai July 27 of a serious rebellion in Honan, but it turned out to be only a raid by bandits.

The Chinese custom officials of Chin Kiang arrested six men charged with being members of the Kolao Hui Secret Society, which it is said fomented.

The typhoon which passed near Hong Kong doing much damage, caused the British gunboat Tweed to break from her moorings and sink in deep water, proving, it is said, a total loss.

Floods at Tomayo, Japan, damaged nearly 9000 houses.

By the storm in Gagasaki-Ken, July 21, 11 persons were killed.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!
Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.
NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Discussion in the House of Commons on Wednesday.

Mr. Barron Exposes the Government's Course of Hypocrisy in Connection With the T.V.C.—His Charges and how they were Met—A Long Debate on the Subject.

In the House of Commons Wednesday, a discussion took place regarding the Trent Valley Canal. From Hansard the following report of the speeches is taken:

Trent Canal—Construction of lock and improvement of navigation between Lakefield and Balsam Lake..... $74,000

Mr. BARRON. I do not intend this evening to take up the time of the House by discussing this at any great length, but on a future occasion, I hope this session, we may devote three or four hours at least to discussing the merits and demerits of this canal. I see the hon. member for West Peterborough (Mr. Stevenson) and the hon. member for East Peterborough (Mr. Burnham) in their seats, and I would ask them, and now ask them, to note the fact and tell their constituents when they go back, that it has been announced to-night by the acting Minister of Railways and Canals that the Government intend at a cost of four or five millions to build a canal on the north side of the St. Lawrence River, when there is already one on the south side which is still apparently available for the same object, and yet they will not put a dollar in the estimates for the construction of the Trent Valley Canal. I particularly call the attention of the hon. members for East and West Peterborough and of the hon. member for East Northumberland (Mr. Cochrane) and of the hon. member for South Victoria (Mr. Fairbairn) to the fact that the Government are entering upon the work on the St. Lawrence, to which I have referred, and will not vote a solitary cent for the Trent Valley Canal, that work which has been time and time again promised—it is true just before a general election—to the people in the Midland districts of the Province of Ontario. But I do not propose to-night to discuss this matter at any length. I want to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that

FOR FIVE SUCCESSIVE SESSIONS

I have pointed out that at Fenelon Falls, north of the lock, the bridge remains as it always has been. I ask the Minister now what is going to be done about it. There is a lock at Fenelon Falls which has cost between $250,000 and $300,000. It is a very excellent lock, it is true. Good work was done there. A lockmaster was employed year after year, and the receipts last year were just $35 60, and the reason for that has been that for all these years since that lock was built, a bridge has been left across the river at one end of the lock, absolutely preventing any navigation whatsoever through that lock. The Government cannot plead ignorance of the matter. They cannot even say they have not received information from other quarters than their own engineers, because time and time again has their attention been brought to the fact that that bridge remains there and renders the lock impassible for craft of any kind except row boats. The Government engineer, in his last report, says, speaking of Fenelon Falls:

"This part of the route cannot be used until the swing is placed in the railway bridge at the upper entrance of the lock."

Are you, I now ask, going to leave the bridge there as it always has been, or are you going to have something done to benefit the people by making use of the lock and the canal which you have built there at the enormous expense of between $250,000 or $300,000? Now, I understand that the government are anxious to do something to make that water navigable, to make the lock beneficial to the people so as to enable them to go up and down from one lock to another. But about this business; they are willing to give something to the Grand Trunk Railway, and let the Grand Trunk put in a swing bridge. I tell the Government there is no use talking about a swing bridge. A swing bridge there would not be safe, it would be impossible by reason of the currents of the river. But they must make some arrangement with the Grand Trunk by which that bridge is removed entirely and the railway is put south of the lock where the banks on either side of the river are high enough to enable vessels to go underneath a railway bridge. Now, there may be a question of law involved in this matter, and I wish the Minister of Justice were here to discuss it. But it seems to me that where there is a non-navigable river made navigable by the government, the government then might require, by law, that any obstruction should be removed; but that the Government has to be at the expense of removing the obstruction in this case at an expense of $50,000 or $60,000 I cannot understand. I understand this proposition, it is perfectly sound and good law, and I say that the Government to-day cannot escape liability for the removal of the obstruction. But to go and say that they will give the Grand Trunk some $10,000 or $15,000 to put in a swing bridge will not answer the purpose, because a swing bridge will be unavailable, and, besides, will be always dangerous, and I understand the Grand Trunk very properly refuse to put in a swing bridge. Now, I want to draw the attention of the Minister again to the fact that they have been paying a lockmaster several years a salary of $250 to $300, and the receipts last year were only $35.60. Now the fact of allowing these receipts to be so small, is militating against because people do not understand that the reason why the receipts are so small is that the route is made impassable by reason of this bridge. I would, therefore, like the minister to say what is the intention of the Government in regard to that bridge. I would like him to say if it is the intention of the Government to make any arrangements with the Grand Trunk at once, because he will remember that every session this matter has been brought to his attention, and the same time-worn promise has been made that they would see about it. But that has been going on for five years now, and we are just where we began. Surely the minister must see how unwise and vicious the Government's policy is — to go to the enormous expense of putting a lock there, having the entire system of navigation on a long line of internal waters, interfered with and absolutely destroyed by reason of this bridge. Now, their own report year after year has told them that there are vessels in the upper waters wanting to come down into the lower waters, and are prevented from coming up or down by reason of this obstruction. Contracts have been entered into by different people, which they have been unable to fulfil by reason of this obstruction, they expecting that the Government would do its duty in the premises, but I am sorry to say they have been

DEPENDING UPON A BROKEN REED

—depending, at all events, upon promises which have always been broken. No wonder the people there feel indignant at the government for the course they have pursued. After the Minister has thought fit to answer these remarks, I shall ask him some more questions with regard to this route.

Mr. BOWELL.—The hon. gentleman professed his remarks by saying three or four times that he intended to take some future opportunity to devote two or three hours to this question. He has now discussed it with general condemnation, as he is wont to do every time that he addresses the House upon this subject. I think if it were not uncharitable, I would say that the hon. gentleman is more interested in the political effect which he thinks he can accomplish by the course he is pursuing, than he is desirous for the construction of the canal. That may be uncharitable, still, if it were not unparliamentary, I should be inclined to say so; but as it is unparliamentary for me to make such an insinuation, I refrain from doing so. Still, his language and his reasoning are such as would naturally lead anyone to that inference. The question of the navigation of the Trent Canal has been before the country for a great many years, and I hope the hon. gentleman will live long enough, as I hope myself to live long enough, to see it constructed. I remember very well in my boyhood reading of the Murray Canal project. At that time there was scarcely an election in which that was not of the party who sought the suffrages of the people on the Bay of Quinte and in the County of Northumberland. I have the pleasure of knowing that the work has been completed, and it requires very little more to make it produce the good results we anticipate from it. But the hon. gentleman will excuse me if I tell him that the statement he makes in reference to the project of building the Beauharnois Canal, is entirely unfair—I was going to use a stronger expression; but it appears to me that the hon. member for North Victoria (Mr. Barron) has forgotten, or intentionally omits to state, the fact that there is one grand project of increasing the canal accommodation from Lake Superior in the west down to the sea board, and that the $5,000,000 to which he has specially called the attention of the member for Peterborough East (Mr. Burnham) and West (Mr. Stevenson) is part of the expenditure on that great scheme. Is the hon. gentleman prepared to go to his constituents, or is he prepared to go into East or West Peterborough, and tell the electors—because they are reasonable men, they are men of common sense — that we should spend no less a sum than $16,000,000 in the enlargement of the Welland Canal, when we are about to expend some $3,000,000 on the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, and that

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—*The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. THE HOUSE OF DELMONICO.

The Progress from a Little Coffee-Room to a World-Famous Restaurant.

Charles C. Delmonico and the Misses Delmonico are guests at the Windsor. Who has not heard of "Delmonico's," New York? No name is more familiar to epicures than Delmonico, and yet few people know anything about the originals. Delmonicos, of whom there were three brothers, John, Lorenzo and Pierre. The real founder of the name was John, the youngest and most energetic of the three. He was the first who came to New York, and he sent out for the other two. John originally began his career as a trader between Havre and Havana. He made a little money and came to New York, dreaming, probably, as little of his future success as did A. T. Stewart when he first landed from Ireland. John started a little bakery and did fairly well—so well that he thought that with the aid of his brothers he could do better. So he wrote to his elder brothers to come over the Atlantic. This was quite a venturesome journey, especially for two Swiss peasant lads, for such they were. But they had faith in John, in fortune and in each other, so over they came—by sailship, of course.

The first Delmonico building was a combined bakery, bar, coffee room and restaurant. The bakery was run on the "pot luck" plan recently adopted at some lunch counters in New York—that is, no watch was kept on customers, who helped themselves to pie, tarts, turnovers and cakes, and their word was taken as to the amount they consumed. The bar had the best of wines and liquors at from sixpence to a shilling per glass. The coffee was always good and the meals well cooked and served and the prices were reasonable. A cup of fresh coffee and some delicious rolls and butter could be had for a shilling, and a cutlet only cost a shilling more. A regular dinner, with wine, could be enjoyed with fine service, for a dollar—fully equal to a $3 Delmonico dinner now. A good Havana cigar 25c., but four cents—such as costs twenty today.

The house of Delmonico prospered from the first, and by and by a second generation came on the carpet, and took part in the thriving concern. John, the founder of the house, took life easily towards the end, doing the marketing only, while his brothers played dominoes and smoked cigarettes. None of the Delmonicos, either the brothers, nephews or descendants, have been educated men. The original Delmonicos were decidedly uncultured. They spoke, in the latter part of their lives, three languages—English, French and Italian—but all three imperfectly. Nor were any of the Delmonicos good businessmen, in the American sense of that term. This may seem strange, considering their success, but it is a fact. None of them were keen or shrewd. None of them drove bargains. They attended strictly to one line of duties, treated everybody well, sold good articles and so got rich, and their fame as restaurateurs filled not only New York, not only America, but Europe. It is not generally known, but old-timers will still remember that the Delmonicos once kept a Summer garden in what is now East New York. Attached to this garden was a vegetable and dairy farm which was free to the guests a pleasant privilege in warm weather. There were various attractions, such as a band of music and a ten-pin alley. There was also an open space for target shooting and for athletic games—these were the happy days before baseball. This Delmonico Summer garden was a great resort for all the foreign residents in New York, particularly on Sundays, when all the German, French, Italian and Spanish notables could be seen here enjoying themselves.—Troy Times.

NOT DEAD LANGUAGES.

Greek and Latin Living Tongues if There Is Such a Thing.

Greek, then, and Latin are two members of that great family of languages of which our own and most of the other languages of Europe are also members, writes Professor Freeman, in Macmillan's Magazine. They are the two which were the earliest tested here in the record of European history. They are the two which for many ages stood side by side without fellow as the two exalted tongues of Europe. They are the two which have had, each in its own way, the greatest influence over the kindred tongues which came on the field in later times. No tongues of Europe, no people speaking any tongue of Europe, could have been what it is if the Greek and the Latin tongue had not been there before them.

One has sometimes heard the claims of these tongues pressed on the ground that they are "dead languages." Their real claim rests on the ground that they are not dead languages, but the most living of all. The tongues of the Hittites and the Babylonians are dead languages—they are most proper subjects of special study for specialists whose tastes lead them that way; but, because they are dead languages, they are therefore unfit to be insisted on as essential in the schoolmaster's phrase "compulsory" subjects for a whole university. But the tongues of Hellas and Latium, the tongues which have affected every stage of European history from its first beginnings till now, the tongues which still abide, in one shape or another, on the lips of a great part of Europe, are tongues emphatically living. Each has had its influence, but the influence of each has been of a different kind. The influence of Greek has been for us westerns mainly indirect; it has been an influence of example and analogy, an influence working largely by the help of Latin. The influence of Latin has been direct and universal; it has touched and modified everything.

Kindness to Dairy Cows

I visit many herds of cows during each year and it is impossible for me not to notice the different methods practiced by dairymen. There are many, judging from their actions, who seem to think that a cow has neither nerves nor senses. I believe she is possessed of a very nervous organization and is surpassed by very few of our domestic animals in intelligence. I have seen cows dragged from the pasture through the yard to the barn, covering their hogs with mud and filth and producing a nervous and frightened condition, causing them to hold their milk, thereby greatly impairing their usefulness. I have seen them after coming into the stable, instead of quietly taking their places, whirl around and around like a top, at the same time being pounded over the head and horns with a cudgel, and the hired man swearing at them because they would not take their places. And when milking time comes and the milker goes to the stable with the pails, and his well known voice resounds through the stable, they are momentarily keyed up for another nervous time and more or less of the milk is kicked over. Much of it is retained in the udder and the whole management is unprofitable and unsatisfactory.

I have seen cows driven gently from the pasture to the barn; if any of them failed to take their accustomed places, they were quietly guided to the right place, perhaps patted and fondled and sometimes would not even stop chewing the cud and were ready to repay the kind treatment. Both of these two methods is the most profitable and satisfactory.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Sued for a Cool $50,000.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—Thomas May & Co. have instituted an action for $50,000 damages against F. X. Cousineau, a merchant of Toronto. The case arises out of the rumors recently circulated, and denied that Thomas May & Co. were embarrassed and that they were about to go into liquidation. The plaintiffs declare that while at St. Leon Springs the defendant in the presence of several people declared that the rumors, in spite of the denial, were true, and that he was willing to bet $100 that he could prove them.

Blown 100 Feet in the Air.

WALSINGHAM CENTRE, Aug. 24.—Friday about 4 o'clock the boiler in a saw mill belonging to Messrs. Spencer exploded, blowing the fireman, Clark Brunson, about 100 feet from the fire hole. He was found a few moments after the occurrence in a terribly mangled condition. There was scarcely a bone in his body but what was broken, and his body was so badly scalded that the flesh peeled off. He lived but a few minutes.

Confiscating Export Grain.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—The Bourse Gazette declares the Russian Government has ordered the customs officials to confiscate all grain intended for export which is found to be mixed with more than 8 per cent. of rye.

Snow in the Moon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—A special from San Jose says Prof. Holden of the Lick Observatory has procured, through the big telescope, better photographs of the moon than have been taken anywhere else, and the photographing goes on every hour when the moon is visible. Upon the top of one of the mountains of the moon the photograph shows a luminous white spot that looks like snow. If that is snow the presence of an atmosphere is indicated. It has been believed that the moon has no atmosphere and therefore uninhabitable, but if it should be demonstrated that snow falls upon the surface of the satellite the accepted theory would be upset and astronomers would begin to study the moon with a new and greater interest. Prof. Holden does not expect to find any traces of man's work in the moon, but he may ascertain if any changes have taken place there within 30 years.

Crushed and Crippled.

CHATHAM, Aug. 24.—While removing a scaffold yesterday from St. Joseph's Hospital, in course of erection, William Draper, aged 17, son of George Draper, West-street slipped and fell 50 feet, breaking both legs and injuring himself internally. One leg is completely crushed. There are but slight hopes of his recovery.

Warm Weather in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—The Free Press received reports from all sections of Manitoba last night regarding frost, and all stated that no damage was done. C. P. R. private reports agree with this. Yesterday the weather took a warm turn and now all anxiety is over. To-day harvesting will be general throughout the country.

MORE cases, of sick headache, biliousness, or constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Storee.

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Merith in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. R. Greatrix, druggists. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

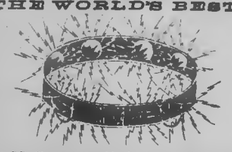
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not learn this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

The Trent Valley Canal.

To-day we begin the publication of the debate on the Trent Valley Canal, which was brought on in the House of Commons Wednesday night last by Mr. Barron, M. P., for North Victoria. Mr. Barron's charges and complaints will be endorsed by the people of the Midland district. The attitude of the local members on this question is also interesting. The debate is published verbatim in Hansard, and as it is too lengthy to be reproduced in one issue of the EXAMINER, the report will be given in two or three instalments as may be found necessary.

Mr. Patterson Coming To-morrow.

At the town council meeting last night the question was asked when the firm of Patterson & Corbin, or either member of it, would be in Peterborough to take the necessary steps to begin building operations. Councillor Davidson, chairman of the Finance Committee, replied that he had no direct communication from the firm, but he had been told by Chief Rozzel, who had just returned from his holiday trip to St. Catherines that Mr. Patterson had spoken to the chief and requested him to tell the council that he would be down himself on Wednesday, that is to-morrow. The company is very busy just now and Mr. Patterson finds it difficult to get away.

FROM DARKNESS INTO LIGHT.

The Town to Have Thirty all Night Electric Lights

And Thirty-one Additional Lamps Scattered Through the Quadrivia—The Patterson-Corbin Bylaw Given a Final Reading—A Corporation Funeral—The Park Street Drain Discussed.

At the meeting of the town council Monday night there were present Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Langford, Muldrum, Moore, Dawson, Bradburn, Winch, Davidson and Cahill.

A lengthy communication was read from H. M. Francis, in behalf of the Canad-Incall Edison syndicate, applying for the franchise for a street railway and offering certain terms and conditions.

Mr. MOORE said this communication had inadvertently been omitted from the last meeting, but as it embodied many of the conditions which the Street Railway Committee had included in their draft of terms he moved that it be referred to the committee.

Mr. Moore said the committee had met the gentlemen of this syndicate and had about come to terms with them, but they had not yet had a meeting with the other body of applicants, and they were not therefore prepared to report. The communication was referred to the committee.

Messrs. Wm. Croft and Chas. Cameron called the attention of the council to a nuisance which existed every fall and spring at the corner of Bethune and Dalhousie streets, where surface water gathered in large quantities. The petitioners asked the council to remedy the evil.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

Mr. R. W. Munoaster, caretaker of the town clock, notified the council that he did not intend removing from town, and had no intention of resigning his position.—Received.

Mrs. Bella Roberts sent in a number of accounts that had been sent to her in connection with the funeral of her little son, who was drowned last March in the open drain on Aylmer street. Mrs. Roberts claimed that the town was responsible for the accident in that the drain was not protected, and as she was in straitened circumstances she wished the council to pay the funeral expenses, as follows:—

A statement of moneys expended on the Court House Park by the Horticultural Society was presented to the council, showing the expenditures to have been $721.80. The statement was referred to the Finance Committee.

THE BY-LAW CONFIRMED.

The by-law granting aid to the Patterson-Corbin Car Works Company, the favourable results of the popular vote on which were read by the town clerk, was then given a third reading and finally sealed and signed.

MORE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

Mr. Cahill read this report:

To the Mayor and Town Council:

Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That twenty-one additional electric lights be taken from the Power and Light Company at the same rate per light as is now being paid, these additional lights to be placed where directed by your committee, following chiefly the line laid out by the Fire, Water and Light Committee last year.

2. That thirty lights be contracted for to burn all night at an additional cost of ten cents per light per night.

3. That the lights other than those which are to burn all night shall burn until one o'clock, or so long as the carbons will last.

4. That all gas lamps now on the streets and those in the arcades be discontinued so soon as the electric lights are ready for lighting.

5. That a contract based on these recommendations be entered into with the Power and Light Company for a period of five years.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOS. CAHILL, Chairman.

In presenting the report Mr. Cahill said it involved a considerable expenditure. The town was now paying for water and light close upon $10,000 a year. The additional cost to the town by this change would be about $1,300 a year, but he thought the service would be much more satisfactory than at present. Peterborough was getting her light as cheap if not cheaper than any other place in the country.

The report was then adopted without further discussion.

FULL SETTLEMENT.

Moved by Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that the Treasurer be authorized to issue a cheque in favor of A. Wright for twenty-five dollars and in favor of Thos. Kent for ten dollars in settlement of all claims against the corporation respectively—Carried.

A DANGEROUS SPOT.

Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Dawson,—That the Street and Bridge Committee examine into the matter of repairs to London street in front of Mr. Dumble's property, with power to do such repairs thereto as deemed proper. Carried.

Mr. MOORE explained that at a certain depression in the ground on the north side of London street, where the fence was falling away, there was a dangerous place, and Mr. Dumble had agreed to rebuild the fence if the town supplied some cedar stringers.

CHARITY TAXES

Moved by Mr. Winch, seconded by Mr. Davidson,—That the Charity Committee be authorized to pay Mrs. Wm. Reynold's taxes. Carried.

THE SEWERAGE MOVEMENT.

Mr. CAHILL enquired if the Sewerage Committee had done anything.

Mr. LANGFORD, chairman, stated that there had been no meeting of the committee. An engineer was here the other day looking over the ground and making estimates.

PARK STREET DRAIN.

The question of the drain petitioned for by residents of Park street and vicinity, praying for a drain on Park street, from Weller street to the end of the Edison Co. drain, was brought up.

Mr. CAHILL said the people wanted the drain, and this was the best time of year to build it.

Mr. Langford asked that the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to employ a surveyor to ascertain what lands would be benefitted by the drain in order that they might know how to assess them.

The petitioners, it will be remembered, requested that the town do the work, issue debentures for the expenditure, and assess the cost to the properties benefitted by the work.

Mr. Moore thought the work would cost a large amount and as a bylaw would have to be passed the council should first find out what property was to be benefitted before they plunged into it.

Mr. Cahill's motion, that the Street and Bridge Committee take steps to put the bylaw into effect was carried, the understanding being that the committee would report to the council.

AUDITORS REPORT.

The auditors report was presented and laid on the table.

On motion the account of A. McDonald, for cedar, amounting to $242.00, was ordered to be paid when certified to.

The council then adjourned.

Christian Endeavor Conference

A Stirring Appeal to be up and Doing—A Great Convention in October.

A meeting of the local union Y.P.S.C.E. was held last night in the George street Methodist church, to discuss arrangements for the October convention. There was a large attendance. Mr. A. E. Scott, President, occupied the chair.

The meeting was opened by prayer by Mr. R. J. Colville, President of the Provincial Union. J. Mr. Hardy, B.A., Lindsay, Sec.-Treas. of the Provincial Union, addressed the meeting. He spoke of the advantages derived from holding the convention here, it would be a good thing for the town because it advertised the place. It was a good thing also for the churches; it roused the members, put energy, zeal and enthusiasm into them and urged them on to accomplish better things for Christ. It was a good thing for the young people to come together thus once a year and exchange thoughts and ideas for further work, whilst at the same time there was nothing to prevent, but rather everything to encourage, their holding fast their own denominational principles and teaching them in their own societies. It was a good thing for the pastors; a good thing for Ontario. Many a delegate coming from outside places would receive new ideas of work and go back full of zeal and enthusiasm, thus, perhaps, cheering and helping a discouraged pastor, and in this way accomplishing work that would be felt throughout eternity. It meant a lot of hard work. Five hundred delegates were expected; there were over five hundred societies and an average of one each might certainly be looked for. The billeting of these five hundred would call for a lot of hard work, but if the members prayed and worked he knew the homes of Peterborough would be opened and there would be room and to spare. Lindsay would help them, he thought, in this matter; they talked of a special train service morning and evening. At all events they might count on their help even if they had to come one hundred and fifty strong and let Peterborough billet them all. Railway arrangements would have to be made and many other things involving work and push on the part of every member. This was going to be the largest and best convention yet and he urged every member to be much in prayer for its success and to do their respective work with a will. God's spirit must be with them if it was was to be successful, otherwise all their efforts were in vain.

Mr. Colville then read the convention programme. Many of the best speakers in the province are to be present, as well as Mr. J. W. Baer, General Secretary, International Union, Boston, Mass. The meetings would be all full of interest, commencing with the sunrise prayer meeting at 6.30. The Music Committee are urged to do great work, and all singers to attend all practices. Their success all depended on the prayer of the members, and he urged them one and all to remember the convention every day.

A quartette by Messrs. Nelson and Crane and Misses Cameron and Crane, with accompaniment by Miss N. Wrighton, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Locke closed the meeting.

Four of a Kind.

A Pretty Kettle of Fish for Last Night's Judicial Banquet.

Acting Magistrate Young has a penchant for night sessions of the police court. A special session was held last evening at eight o'clock to dispose of four prisoners who had been run in for drunkenness.

Wm. Neil, a native of Birdsall's, and at the same time an ardent admirer of Bacchus, was again charged with drunkenness. Neil is apparently an irreclaimable victim of alcohol. About a month ago he was arrested while drunk, but on promising to leave town at once he was allowed to go. The same evening he was again drunk and for this offence was given twenty days and warned to behave himself while his term was up. He got out of gaol the other day, and once more fell from grace. The police gathered him in in a state of drunkenness yesterday, and he was committed to gaol for a further term of 10 days. It is hoped the punishment will enforce the lesson, and that Neil will fight shy of temptation in the future.

Harry McGill walked into the police station last night to lay a complaint against a citizen for "throes-brookin." Harry was half seas over, and the chief advised him to go home and sober up before he entered the action. Harry couldn't be convinced that he was full, and for disobeying the chief's orders to move on, he was "run in." Harry gave an amusing account of his affairs in the police court, but his heavy eloquence was wasted. He was fined $2.

Mrs. Nash and her sister, Ellen Hughes, had scarcely cleared their skirts of police court taint when they were again arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Their neighbors on Louis street stigmatized them as "holy terrors." The two women with Harry Nash were kicking up an intolerable racket, and after they were taken to the police station their loud lamentations and oaths and oaths created an awful din. Occasionally the other occupants of the cells would join in, one singing the well known Crossley hymn, "Somebody's Waiting for Me," while his next door neighbour gave vent to a stream of loud talk and vile language. In the court room the women cut a ridiculous figure; neither was sober, and both looked like viragos of the toughest kind. Ellen Hughes was full of speech, and no amount of threats could keep her tongue still. "Yer Riverence," as he was addressed, said he would send the women to gaol for ten days, but they cried so loudly and pleaded so hard that if allowed to go they would leave town at once, that Mr. Young granted their request. They were ordered to get out of town by nine o'clock to-night. Some time after they took their departure Chief Rozzel received a telephone message from Louis street that the women were again creating a disturbance, but when two of the officers went down everything was quiet.

Low Water in the Lakes.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In your report of the excursion from Peterborough on Thursday I notice that the trip from Chemong to Lakefield, per steamer "Crandella," was abandoned because "the water was too low."

Will you kindly allow me space to state that this must be a mistake, as the "Sunbeam" is running regularly on this route, and, as all who have enjoyed this delightful trip can bear witness, has never failed to make the run well within advertised time.

Yours truly,
GEO. B. HILLIARD.

Royal Templars' Picnic.

The Royal Templars from Bellevilie and all along the line of the Grand Trunk will hold their annual picnic at Idyl Wild on Friday, the 28th August. This will be the largest picnic of the season held at this beautiful summer resort, Rice Lake.

A Great Success.

There are many remarkable successes on the road this season but none exceed the popularity enjoyed by the latest New York success, "Casey's Troubles." Press and public accord it an ovation wherever presented. The scenic effects are superb, the story an intense and interesting one, unlike the many unreasonable and unnatural plays with which the public are surfeited. It is full of hearty laughter, bright and catchy music, the most sensational climaxes. The company is one of the strongest on the road, the scenery the most magnificent ever built, and as the curtain rises on each act, prolonged applause attest the public appreciation of each beautiful stage picture. The great scenic artists, Messrs. Daniel Crimmins and Herbert Speck feel justly proud of their work on this production. d46

Mr. McKay, late of Markham, the newly appointed Principal of the South Ward School, has arrived in town.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

to render that available for the purposes for which that expenditure has been made, we must

in all the canals until we reach the sea board? Yes we have the hon. gentleman calling the attention of the representatives immediately interested, to the fact that we are spending $5,000,000 upon the enlargement of the Beauharnois Canal—the south, or $4 600,000 in the construction of a new canal on the north shore, when we refuse a dollar to the enterprise in which he is interested. I do not know whether the hon. gentleman thinks this House is so stupid as not to understand the absurdity of the proposition that he has laid before us. The hon. gentleman says that this canal to which he has referred, and in which he is so deeply interested, will cost four or five million dollars, or a sum equal to that we are expending on the enlargement of the Beauharnois Canal, or the construction of a new canal on the north shore. The proposition that is before the country in regard to the completion of the Trent Valley Canal is to obtain a depth of water from Georgian Bay to Bay of Quinte of 5½ feet. What are the facts in connection with the estimates, apart altogether from the merits of the scheme? The hon. gentleman says it is going to cost only four or five millions. I have before me Mr. Page's estimates for works not yet commenced, and it is $9,984 000 for a five feet and a half canal on the route to which I have referred. Mr. Rubidge estimates it at $8,884 500. I could give, if it were deemed advisable, the estimated cost of the different sections with which the hon. gentleman is perhaps as well acquainted as I am; but if we are to adopt the theory mentioned by the hon. member for Oxford, these estimates may prove

A LONG WAY BELOW THE ACTUAL COST.

However, I do not intend to enter into a full discussion of the question to-night, and I would not have said so much had not the hon. gentleman attempted to make some political points out of it, rather than argue the merits of the work itself. The only practical point to which he calls attention was that of the lock and that of the bridge, I admit frankly that these has been a great deal of delay, and I may say unnecessary delay, in accomplishing the object which he and those interested have in view, and that is in having a bridge, whether a swing bridge or not, or the Grand Trunk should change its line and cross the river at another point to be determined hereafter. But I can assure the hon. gentleman during the short time I have been in charge of the department I have taken active measures in connection with this bridge to insist on the Grand Trunk Railway doing that which we believe the law compels them to do, and which they deny their liability to do. That work will be completed as as early a day as possible. If there is anything necessary to make the locks available for the purpose for which they were constructed, this item in the estimates will be quite sufficient to accomplish the object we have in view. Of course I defer to the superior knowledge and engineering skill of the hon. member for North Nipissing (Mr. Barron), who shakes his head. If he would confine himself to shaking his intellectual head and not using his tongue, the House would be convinced of the very great wisdom it contains. But the engineer, whose duty it is to inform Ministers on this question, tells me, and no one knows better than the engineer who is on my left, that to accomplish what the hon. gentleman has in view, that the bridge, if we are obliged to construct it, will be made available and some of the boulders and obstructions which now exist in those portions of the river and lake at present navigable removed. We will be quite prepared to have a tilt with the hon. gentleman if he desires it on some future occasion, but let us discuss this question on its merits apart from political advantages to be derived from it.

Mr. BARRON, The Minister undertakes to give me a lecture.

Mr. BOWELL. Why not, you gave me one.

Mr. BARRON. Because I found fault. Yet he admits there has been a great deal of delay and of unnecessary delay.

Mr. BOWELL. I said unnecessary delay. I did not repeat it.

Mr. BARRON. He wonders that I rose after five years, asking that the people's rights be recognized, and showed a little warmth at the delay, which he himself admits should not have taken place, and which he characterized as unnecessary delay.

Mr. BOWELL. That is in regard to the bridge.

Mr. BARRON. As regards the rest of the route, he says there has been a great deal of delay.

Mr. BOWELL. I did not say so.

Mr. BARRON. The hon. gentleman referred to my intellectual appearance. Perhaps I am not very intellectual in appearance, but at all events I am quite willing to allow my appearance in regard to intellectuality to stand side by side with that of the acting Minister of Railways. As regards this particular work, the acting Minister of Railways knows so little about it that he says $74,000 in the Estimates will be quite sufficient to do all we ask to be done, to secure free navigation from Balsam Lake down.

Mr. BOWELL. I said nothing of the kind. I referred to the bridge and the lock.

Mr. BARRON. The hon. gentleman knows so little about the matter that he is not aware that the only obstruction from Balsam Lake down is the bridge. Moreover, he should have stated the law in connection with it.

THE LIABILITY IS UPON THE GOVERNMENT

here to do the work necessary to make the river navigable and remove the bridge. If he knew anything about his duties as acting Minister he would be aware that when a higher power makes a river navigible, which in its natural state is non-navigable, that Government has to bear all the expense. The hon. gentleman knows very well that the Government dare not put up a swing bridge because it would be exceedingly dangerous. He knows further that the Grand Trunk Company have strongly insisted that they would not allow a swing bridge there. Yet the hon. gentleman was not sufficiently candid to tell the House that the Grand Trunk Company had refused to allow a swing bridge there, and that the only way to get over the difficulty was to have the railway cross the river below the locks.

Purity is of importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is inherited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

NO SELLING OFF THE BOARD.

Before selling was began Mr. Clarkson introduced the motion of which he gave notice at the last meeting, namely, that any factory after once boarding its cheese must not sell off the Board without permission, and any factory thus selling off the Board to be erased from the membership list; but that any factory not receiving an offer at the meeting of the Board shall have liberty to sell off the Board.

Mr. Clarkson supported the resolution with a few remarks. He said he had always taken an interest in the Board and done everything he thought best for the Board. This resolution was framed not in the interests of the buyers (they were able to look after themselves) but of the Board. Salesmen should understand that it was to their interest to stand by the Board and adhere to its rules. Salesmen should know when buyers go about the country looking for pick ups, that cheese is on the rise, or they would not be doing that sort of thing. Mr. Clarkson pointed out an instance when this fact was exemplified. At a late meeting of the Board an adjournment was made, and between the time of the adjournment and next meeting several salesmen disposed of their cheese for 8¾c, while at the adjourned meeting those who had stood by the rules sold their cheese at 9c. This should be a lesson to salesmen, and it was to the interest of the Board that some such rule as the above be adopted.

A few other gentleman made remarks eulogizing the friendly spirit and upright conduct of Mr. Clarkson towards the Board, and the motion was unanimously adopted.

SALES OF THE DAY.

Mr. Clarkson started the bidding with an offer of 9½c. for the board, Mr. Hodgson (per Fitzgerald) advancing to 9¾c. for selections, and Mr. Clarkson to 9¾c. for the same. Mr. Clarkson took Warminster, Cherry Grove, Keene, Central Smith, Pine Grove, Lakefield, Oakdale and Maple Leaf, the only refusals being Westwood, Norwood and Ormonde. Mr. Hodgson again bid 9¾c., Mr. Clarkson raising to 9¾c., Mr. Cook to 9 11/16c., Mr. Flavelle to 9¾c. and Mr. Cook to 9 13/16c., taking at that figure Ormonde, Norwood and Westwood. Mr. Flavelle at 9¾c. took Mariposa, Cambray and Dunsford; Mr. Hodgson at 9 11/16c. took Trewerne; Mr. Flavelle offered the same figure for Fenelon Falls and Scotch Line, but only the former accepted. Mr. Cook bid 9 11/16 for Melrose Abbey, which also was refused. Mr. Clarkson's offer of 9¾ was accepted by Shearer, Warsaw and Missing Link, two factories, North Smith and Peterborough, declining. Subsequently Mr. Cook bid 9 11/16 and took Peterborough. Mr. Flavelle's offer of 9¾ for the balance of the Victoria board was refused by all except Kirkfield. Mr. Clarkson then got Fraserville and Beaufort at 9¾. Mr. Cook's bid of 9¾c. was accepted only by Omemee Union, Lang, North Dummer, Cedardale, Stony Lake, Mount Pleasant, Lakeview, Fleetwood, Perrytown, Hope, Orono and Newtonville. Subsequently North Smith sold at 9 11/16c. to Mr. Clarkson. This left nine factories still unsold, which had refused offers of 9¾c. Mr. Clarkson raised a sixteenth to these, and at 9 11/16c. took Myrtle and Ida; Mr. Flavelle then bid the same for the balance of the Victoria section, and bought Lorneville, the others declining. Five factories—Melrose Abbey, Scotch Line, Bobcaygeon, Downeyville and Roseboro did not sell.

The Board then adjourned for two weeks, with the understanding that at the next meeting the salesmen should board the last half of August make, and September and October as well for contract.

Before the meeting dispersed a heated discussion took place upon the request of the unsold Victoria factories to sell off the Board. The proposal was vigorously opposed as being contrary to the resolution. It was held that these factories had received a fair and square offer for their cheese, and it was preposterous for them to make such a request. By a vote of 16 to 13 the request was refused.

52 VICTIMS DUG OUT.

THE NEW YORK EXPLOSION HORROR GROWS.

The Dead Mangled and Torn Out of all Semblance of Humanity - Agonizing Scenes at the Morgue Most Sickening Sights Witnessed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—At 5.20 o'clock last night the workmen uncarthed the 52nd body at the Park Place ruins. It was the body of John M. Hills, the tinsmith, who a few minutes before the fatal crash, left his house in the street and went into Peterson's restaurant to eat his last meal. At 7.05 p.m. the 53rd body was brought out of the ruins. It was that of a female, but in such a night fully mutilated and charred condition that identification was impossible. Only a portion of the trunk was intact, the head being crushed into a shapeless mass, the arms and lower limbs being almost entirely charred. It was the most sickening sight yet of any results of the fire. Every particle of clothing had gone.

At 8.30 this evening another burned form was found. As it was being raised by the firemen the head dropped off and disappeared in the black depths below. The trunk was clothed in rags and seemed to have been once the form of a young girl of 17. Any one looking for a sister or a lady shortcoat. Although the manhood over the horrible sight, gave a muffled cry and hurried away, hiding his face in his hands.

Between 9 and 9.30 p.m. four bodies were recovered from the centre part of the ruins making a total at 10 p.m. of 18 bodies recovered.

Body 45 was that of a much adult five feet 6 and about 160. The body was terribly crushed and scalded.

No. 46 was also the body of a male adult. It was badly crushed, the legs having been cut off from the knee, and the hands being entirely gone.

No. 47 is said to resemble Louis Rosenfeld, the missing bonne poodle dog.

No. 48 was the corpse of a male aged about 22, smooth faced and with jet black hair. It was unidentified.

Inside another hour two more bodies were brought to the surface making 50 thus far recovered.

One of the Italians was seen searching a coat in the ruins. He was arrested and a pocketbook was found upon him which he claimed was his own.

Body No. 50 was the most horrible sight yet revealed. It was a male about 30 years old.

At 1.30 a.m. two more bodies were brought to view but they are wedged in with timber. This makes 52 bodies discovered in the ruins. The last body is that of a man. The 52nd has been identified as that of Jennie Flower, 19 years old.

The awful scenes witnessed at the Morgue cannot be told. The wails of tribulation; the distraction of mind; the heartrending grief of agonized relatives inquiring for their missing husbands or fathers; the sight of the charred and stench rendering dead, beaten by the cruel but swift hand of death almost beyond recognition, is too horrible a picture to attempt to describe in detail.

Even some of the reporters, so accustomed as they are to forms of human suffering in its most ghastly shape, were unmanned.

One of the most difficult hindrances to successful identification consists in the fact that nearly all the missing operatives, both men and women, were attired at the time of the collapse in their working clothes. They usually removed the outer garments and put on street dress as soon as the [illegible] at their looms and the before mentioned [illegible] one human face [illegible] marks [illegible] of the [illegible] of the [illegible] of the WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26 1891.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Discussion in the House of Commons on Wednesday.

Mr. Barron Exposes the Government's Course of Hypocrisy in Connection With the T.V.C. H's Charges and how they were Met—A Long Debate on the Subject.

MR. BARRON. Yet the hon. gentleman undertook to lecture me, because in my zeal to see the canal built I waxed a little warm in the interests of my constituents. The hon. gentleman claimed that I showed no knowledge of the subject. Much respect as I have for the hon. gentleman, I know much more about the work than does the acting Minister. He has told the House that the cost of the Trent Valley Canal is to be $10,000,000, according to Mr. Rubidge. But he was not candid enough to state that a large portion has already been spent. I venture to say that the hon. gentleman does not know

HOW MUCH HAS BEEN SPENT.

MR. BOWELL. I stated it was for works not already commenced.

MR. BARRON. The estimate of Mr. Rubidge was $8,685,000, of which there have been expended $1,600,000 leaving a balance of $7,585,000, instead of $8,685,000, which the acting Minister would lead the House to believe was the estimate. Now, sir, we know, too, that these locks have been very expensively built. Year after year the Government have been promising that this Trent Valley Canal should be built, and quite lately they shielded themselves behind a commission; they wanted to have delay take place, in order that they might excuse themselves to the people to whom they were making promises that this canal should be built, and so they had a commission appointed to investigate the matter. The commission reported in reference to the locks as follows:—

"The attention of the commissioners has been called to the width of the locks at present completed. There are twelve of these, 134 feet long by 33 wide. For modern locks this width is very great in proportion to the length. They are of the same size as those on the Rideau Canal. The latter, however, were built to accommodate sidewheel vessels which at this day is not necessary to use. The commissioners suggest that a width of 23 feet would be sufficient."

I would ask the attention of the Minister to this particular fact, that the commissioners reported that the width of the locks as already reported is too wide, and that the locks themselves and we find that by adopting the suggestion of the commissioners, there would be a saving of $20,000 on each of the 71 locks yet to be built, or a saving of $1,420,000. Then regarding the class of work which the commissioners suggest should not be so good as has been, there would be a saving of $2,000,000. We find, therefore, that according to the commissioners appointed by the Government to investigate this Trent Valley Canal, there would be a saving in all of $3,420,000, thus reducing Mr. Rubidge's figures to $4,125,000, instead of the $8,000,000 odd dollars which the Minister would like this House to believe would be the cost of the works already to be constructed. It is a very curious coincidence, and I would ask the House to notice it, that the reduction of Mr. Rubidge's by reason of carrying out the proposition made by the commissioners, would make the ultimate cost of the canal $4,125,000, and I would ask the Minister to note the fact that these figures almost correspond with the estimate of Mr. Sharke another engineer. When the Minister told us that this canal was going to cost $8,000,000 odd on Mr. Rubidge's estimate why did he not tell us that Mr. Starke, another engineer, had estimated that the cost would be $3,200,000 to complete the canal. I would ask the Minister to note that if the changes suggested by the commissioners in their report were adopted Mr. Starke's figures would almost correspond with the reduced figures of Mr. Rubidge, if the suggestions made by the commissioners were carried out. The Minister undertakes to lecture me for showing some anger, as I think he called it, in regard to this matter, and he attributes to me that I cannot discuss any question of this kind, without showing political motives. I think the Minister has already been told to-night that there are others in this House who

CAN SHOW POLITICAL MOTIVES.

The hon. gentleman who sits beside me, (Mr. Scriver) told the Minister himself a few moments ago, that possibly the Government might be desirous of building the Beauharnois Canal on the north side of the River St. Lawrence, for and from political motives. I do not say that is so, but in the meanwhile, the hon. Minister ought to be careful in charging me with political motives. If political motives have been shown by anybody in this House, I think I may say they have been shown by the gentlemen occupying the Treasury benches, because the very moment that I became member for North Victoria, the work on the Trent Valley Canal, so far as progressive work is concerned, ceased all through my riding, and from that time to the present not a dollar has been spent, because the people of North Victoria—if I am to attribute political motives—returned an opponent of the Government. Although all the facts show that political motives have been characteristic of hon. gentlemen on the other side of the House, yet because, anxious as I am for the construction of the canal, I show some warmth at the unnecessary delay which the Minister himself admits has taken place, he rises in his seat and accuses me of political motives. I say that the fact that work has ceased in my riding since I was elected, tends to show political motives on the other side of the House. I am zealous in the interest of my constituents, as I always shall be, and I hope I am zealous also in the national interest, but I am bound to point out that if political motives are to be attributed, that they may with more reason and justice be attributed who have stopped work on the Trent Valley Canal in my county since my constituents returned an opponent of the Government. I have a right also to find fault with this Government for not keeping faith with the people interested in the Trent Valley Canal. Let me read to this House a telegram which was sent by the late leader of the Government just prior to the last election. Mr. Murphy, of Trenton, was very anxious in the interest of the Government opposite, that the constituents should return a supporter of the Government and he telegraphed to the late Premier about the Trent Valley Canal, and what was the reply which he received. I will read it to the House ipsissima verba. The telegram says:

KINGSTON, 3rd March, 1891.

"To D. R. MURPHY, Trenton.

"The Trent Valley Canal Commission having reported favorably on the completion of the scheme, Parliament will be asked in the estimates next session for a grant for the purpose.

"(Signed)
"JNO. A. MACDONALD."

That telegram was sent on the 3rd March and the elections took place on the 5th March. I challenge hon. gentlemen opposite to deny that that telegram was sent, and if they do deny it, I ask the hon. member for West Peterborough (Mr. Stevenson) and the hon. member for East Peterborough (Mr. Barnham) to get up in their seats and state if a telegram of which I have read a copy, was not read at a public meeting in the town of Peterborough, at which they were both present. I have read a copy of that telegram; the original was read at a public meeting in the town of Peterborough; and what does it say? That the Trent Valley Canal Commission have reported favorably on the scheme, and that Parliament will be asked next session to vote a grant for this purpose; that is, this session. And yet the hon. Minister of Railways and Canals gets up and lectures me for showing some zeal. Here is that Parliament would be asked for a grant for the building of this canal, and we find that not one dollar for it is in the estimates. I complain, not that their promises made year after year have been broken, but that the promise made two or three days before the elections has been broken and disregarded. Do they not know that they carried constituency after constituency by these promises Does not the hon. member for East Peterborough (Mr. Barnham) know that men asked him about the prospects of the construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and that he told them on the faith of that promise:—"Yes, the canal is going to be built." And yet, when I tell the Government that their promises are broken, that the people have been deceived right and left, the acting Minister gets up and lectures me for showing some little warmth, because he is my senior in age. I say I am justified in showing some warmth on this occasion, because the whole history of the Government has been one of deception, of broken promises, of broken faith with the people—promising year after year before the elections that the canal would be built, but forgetting their promises so soon as the election is over. Yet they propose to expend about the same amount of money that would build the Trent Valley Canal, in order to construct a canal on the north side of the St. Lawrence, when there is already one on the south side of the river. Therefore I have a right to show some warmth, and any hon. gentlemen would do the same thing if he found that and the public money wasted; and I hurl back the insinuation made by the hon. Minister of Railways and Canals that I have shown undue warmth and zeal, or that I have been actuated by improper motives in this matter.

A PLEDGE MADE BY THE LATE PREMIER

MR. BOWELL. After that magnificent speech, would the hon. gentleman say whether I correctly understood him to say that some $4,000,000, had been spent, and that the original estimate of Mr. Rubidge was $8,685,000?

MR. BARRON. I said that it was $8,685,000, and that there had been expended already, $1,100,000, leaving $7,585,000 of Mr. Rubidge's estimate.

MR. BOWELL. Will the hon. gentleman kindly say where he got these estimates?

MR. BARRON. They were furnished by an engineer, James N. Irvine, who take them from Mr. Rubidge's report dated November 15th, 1887.

MR. BOWELL. I may tell the hon. gentleman that those figures, like his speech, are incorrect. The expenditure up to December, 1890, was $750,467.98.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quill Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

MARGARET ACH IFAN.

The Remarkable All-around Accomplishments of a Welsh Woman.

In Welsh lore we sometimes find things of doubtful authenticity; but the readers of this brief sketch may rest assured that it is no fiction. I find it in "Pennant's Tours in Wales," first published in English something over 100 years ago, and lately brought out in the Welsh language by the well-known publisher, H. Humphreys of Carnarvon. I take it from the Welsh edition. This phenomenal person was born about the year 1696, and brought up at Llanberis, North Wales. Nothing is said of any of her relatives. Mr. Pennant says:

"At the head of the lake there lives a very noted woman, Margaret Ach Ifan, and I was sadly disappointed on not finding her at home when I called. She is the last specimen of the strength and spirit of the daughters of the ancient Britons. At this writing (1776) she is about 90 years of age. In the line of hunting, shooting, and fishing, in her active days, she had no equal. She kept at least a dozen dogs of the best breed; bloodhounds, greyhounds, setters, and terriers. She would secure more foxes in one year than the other hunters combined would get in ten.

"In boating she was quite at home and the queen of the lakes. She played finely on the violin, and was well acquainted with the Welsh melodies of her day. She was also a musical composer, and some of her pieces are highly spoken of. She made two harps on which she skillfully played. She was a good carpenter, shoemaker, tailor, and blacksmith. She made her horse's shoes and shod them with her own hands. She built her own boats, in which, in harmony with an agreement, she conveyed the copper down the lakes from the foot of the Snowden. She composed poetry, and was a superior musical vocalist. She had more strength than any two men of her acquaintance. When 60 years of age she was more than a match for the best two wrestlers of the region, and she was never defeated. She received offers of marriage by the score, but for a long time she threw them all aside. At last, however, she smilingly accepted an offer from the feeblest of the lot."

In a Welsh volume in my possession—"Cymru Fu" (Wales of the past)—I find the following, which, abbreviated, I insert as an addition to Mr. Pennant's account: "One day her little dog Lanto stole the dinner of one of the miners. This so enraged the man that he instantly killed the dog. When Margaret heard of this she went to the miners' lodging place and found him standing with others outside of the house. She told him that she was willing to pay for the stolen dinner four times over, and that he in return was to pay for the dog. The man, who was one of the largest and strongest in the neighborhood, laughed at her scornfully. In a threatening manner he approached her and commanded her to depart or she might share the fate of 'Lanto.' No sooner had he finished the sentence than a tremendous blow from Margaret's fist laid him senseless on the ground, where she left him and departed toward her home."

She died at the ripe age of 102, and it is said that she never, even for a day, was confined to her bed by sickness.

Love in a Dry Goods Box.

A small family, consisting of a man, wife, and baby, is living in a big dry goods box in an open field near Westchester, Mass. The woman is twenty-one years of age and her babe seven weeks. She says that about a year and a half ago she married a farm laborer at Greendale. The baby was born in a boarding house, and she and her husband have been living together with the infant in the dry goods box for two or three weeks. He hires the land, and the woman says he intends to put up a better shelter. She has a brick fireplace outside the box where she does cooking. The husband is a cripple, and walks with two canes. The woman is reported as saying that she is perfectly satisfied with her lot.

The Frenchwoman at Home.

"Society life in France," writes Lady Violet Poverille, "is a day. Friends drop in unconventionally and agreeably after dinner; music—now a very popular art in Paris—is practised among the guests; one sings, another plays the piano or violin; the mistress of the house flits about with a gracious word for all; tea, sandwiches and cakes supply the simple wants of the company; and a couple of servants provide what is necessary. A large party scarcely occasions more trouble. Champagne, pastry, sandwiches and ices are considered sufficient refreshment. This seems certainly a more reasonable mode of enjoying the society of one's friends."

The Late Hannibal Hamlin.

Hannibal Hamlin was the only living ex-Vice President of the United States, and his career was almost unparalleled in length of public service. From 1843 to 1881 he almost continually held public office. Among his colleagues when he first entered the senate were Webster, Calhoun, Douglas, Crittenden, Reverdy Johnson, Cass, Benton, Jefferson Davis, John P. Hale, William Allen and Tom Corwin, Simon Cameron, Daniel S. Dickinson, John S. Dix and Sam Houston. In a later generation, almost all of whom he outlived also, were Seward, Chase, Fessenden, Sumner, Wilson, Slidell, Hamilton Fish, Toombs, Wade and Andrew Johnson.

The Kaiser and the Corn Duties.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—A Berlin dispatch says that the kaiser has never been greeted with such enthusiasm as on his return to Berlin on Saturday. The people who lined the street sent up cheer after cheer and the kaiser showed himself deeply gratified at the evidence of loyalty.

An impression prevails in Berlin that the kaiser will take the side of Miquel in the dispute regarding the corn duties and that relief will shortly follow the sovereign's return. Hundreds of petitions from public bodies and private individuals awaited the kaiser, nearly all bearing on the repeal of the corn duties, and shortly after his arrival he proceeded to give these his personal attention. The situation as to bread is becoming more serious, and in the mining districts of Westphalia the suffering is said to be very great.

Pauper Emigration Traffic.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Owing to the increasing number of emigrants returned from foreign ports as paupers at the expense of the various steamship companies which take them out, concerted action by the various steamship lines is being mooted to devise a remedy for the evil of pauper emigrant traffic. Delegates from all the German lines will meet at Bremen on October 1st with this object in view. Consular inspection is one of the things desired by the companies.

Swept to Death on Mont Blanc.

BERNE, 24.—Particulars have been received of a terrible catastrophe on Mont Blanc. A party ascending the peak was compelled by bad weather to return before arriving at the summit. When the party reached the Petit Plateau fierce gusts of wind released an avalanche, which hurled a Brunswicker named Roth and his guide, Michael, into a crevasse.

The two men were dashed to pieces. Rescuers from Chamounix found the bodies on the following day. The other guide and another party consisting of Count Paversay and guides had a narrow escape.

Italians Not Wanted.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Premier Rudini some time ago sounded Lord Salisbury on the question whether Australia would be a suitable field for the settlement of Italian emigrants. The British Government sent inquiries to the Australian authorities and has received responses. The Australian agents generally state that Italian immigration is not favored by the people of that country, and that whatever inducements are to be offered to intending settlers will, by preference, be extended to British and German immigrants.

Postmaster General Raikes, who has just been recovering from an indisposition, went out walking yesterday, when he received a severe electric shock during a thunderstorm. His condition is now critical.

Prince George of Wales, until now lieutenant-commander of the gunboat Thrush of the North American station, has been paid off for his services on the Thrush, and has been promoted to the rank of commander.

"Despise not the day of small things," as the tiny pill (taken from a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets) said to the 300-pound man, suffering from indigestion. As agents, thorough laxative, these Pellets resemble Nature more closely in their action than anything before discovered. Business and professional men, whose habits are sedentary, need something of this kind to ward off sick headache biliousness and dyspepsia, but which will not strain and rack the digestive organs as did the old-fashioned Pills. 25 cents per vial, at all druggists. c

Everybody Admires Soft, White Hands, and every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6339

MORE cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses,

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Herith in Herbs.

Health giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. R. Greatrix, druggist. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

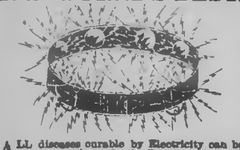
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

Mrs. John Finlay, of Norwood, on Friday evening last accidently fell down stairs in her own home, and sustained a fracture of her wrist and severe injuries to her head and side, from the effects of which she is lying in a precarious condition. A disappointed tea vendor was belaboring his slow but patient horse in a street in Lindsay the other day, and calling out his wares at intervals, as "Tea, tea, fresh tea." Wonderful Realism.

Every atom of scenery used in the production of "Casey's Troubles," is specially built for the play. There are over three tons of it: it is worth going miles to see. One of the most notable scenes in the play is a picture of the Cornish coast, with practical revolving light house and moonlight on the ocean; also the view of Carboy's Abbey, with crumbling walls and clinging ivy, a scene as beautiful as to baffle description. In the last act of the play is shown an exact representation of Dingley Tunnel, one of the most stupendous and natural railroad scenes ever produced.

Every one of these novel effects are guaranteed by Manager Hasselmorder, and will be seen here in the production of "Casey's Troubles." d48

Still on the Move.

The columns of this paper are constantly reminding the public that every week Mr. J. Sheehy makes an announcement which should command the attention of every house keeper in the county. This week Mr. Sheehy would like to say that during the remaining days of August he will offer a reduction of 25 per cent on all lines of prints, lace curtains and carpets. During a visit to the market recently he purchased for cash, 300 yards of Hemp, Union, Wool and Tapestry Carpets, and any person requiring such goods will do well to take note of this and call and inspect his values. A beautiful lot of Irish grass linen linens have just arrived, the prices will be such that seeing them means buying them. 100 pairs of Lace Curtains at the ridiculously low figure of 45 cents a pair. A full line of Gilbert linings always kept in stock. No trouble to show goods at the Cash Dry Goods Store, 385 George street. dw

Presented With a Patriarchal Staff.

A Gala Night at Mount Hebron—The Grand Patriarch Honored.

A correspondent kindly supplies the following:—

The chevaliers of Canton Peterborough turned out in undress uniform to attend the regular meeting of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56, held on Tuesday evening, 25th inst., the occasion being the first official visit of Grand Patriarch D. H. Moore. There was a large attendance of the members of the Encampment, and Patriarch J. R. Reid, P.G.M., and W. F. Green, P.C.P., of Hiawatha Encampment, No. 65, were also present. The Grand Patriarch was received with grand honours and invited to a seat on the dais. After routine business, Representative Workman presented a very satisfactory report of the proceedings of the Grand Encampment at the recent session held at Galt, and received a vote of thanks.

The Grand Patriarch was then called upon, when Representative Workman advanced to the Grand Patriarch and read the following address, which was handsomely engrossed and illuminated and neatly framed in gold, and at the proper time Chief Patriarch Moffat presented to the Grand Patriarch an elegant gold-headed cane suitably engraved. The address was as follows:—

D. H. Moore, Grand Patriarch, Grand Encampment of Ontario, I.O.O.F.:

DEAR SIR AND PATRIARCH,—The Patriarchs of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56, I.O.O.F., Peterborough, take very great pleasure in availing themselves of the occasion of your elevation to the highest office in the Grand Encampment of Ontario to tender to you an expression of our high regard and esteem, and to congratulate you to your elevation to the high and honorable position of Grand Patriarch, to which you have been unanimously elected by the Representative Patriarchs of Ontario. While we recognize with grateful thanks the high honor done our Encampment and the town of Peterborough—in your person—by the Grand Encampment, we feel that in promoting you to the Chief Executive the Grand Encampment has selected one well qualified to uphold the honor and dignity of the Patriarchal Order in this province.

As a slight token of our appreciation of your many excellent qualities of head and heart we ask your acceptance of this gold-headed cane, and hope that in the journey of life it may support your weary limbs and remind you of the good wishes of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56.

Signed on behalf of the Encampment,
T. WORKMAN, P.C.P., Rep.
C. MOFFAT, C. P.
JOS. KIDD, Scribe.

The Grand Patriarch, who was completely taken by surprise, replied expressing his sincere thanks for the magnificent gift and for the kind sentiments contained in the address, and after alluding to the uniform courtesy which he had received from the Oddfellows of Peterborough and the Patriarchs of Mount Hebron Encampment in particular, he concluded by expressing the hope that when the time arrived when he would physically require use of the beautiful gift, he would still retain the moral support and the confidence and esteem of the Patriarchs not only of Peterborough but of the whole of Ontario.

Patriarch Reid, P.G.M., being called on spoke at considerable length in his usual eloquent and flowing style, expressing his pleasure at being present on this auspicious occasion, and warmly endorsing the sentiments expressed in the address to the Grand Patriarch. He also spoke of the work of the Order in general and the Encampment branch in particular, eulogising the Patriarchs of Mount Hebron for the very tangible evidence of their regard for an estimable Oddfellow, and complimenting the Grand Patriarch upon the very exalted station to which he had been elected by acclamation in the highest branch of the Order.

P. C. P. Workman remarked that in our own locality we see so comparatively little of the great workings of Odd Fellowship that we are apt to forget that we constitute an integral part of the greatest organization for the relief of human suffering that the centuries, or the need of our times, has produced; and required only a glance at the statistics of the order to convince us of the fact. But one thing at least is quite patent to us, and that is, that as there was only one David, King of Israel, so there is only one David, Grand Patriarch of Ontario, though there are many Jonathans.

Remarks followed by P. C. P. McFarlane and others, when refreshments were announced. The Encampment was then closed with the usual formalities, and the fun feed began, consisting of various etceteras of the confectioner's art, that were thoroughly washed down with genuine No. 1 hot coffee, Hooped up by the worthy Patriarch, who entered the realms of comforts at this memorable meeting, and which kindled a kindly glow in the bosoms of the bachelors, who ne'er yet have met with a daughter of Rebecca at the well, I can't tell you any more about it, for the meeting broke up with a song and a chorus, while I gathered up the fragments of this tale quite lost in confusion.

A Big Cheese Shipment.

Mr. Wm. Clinton, the veteran cheese buyer, yesterday shipped from Montreal to London per Allan steamer "Rosarian" over thirty thousand dollars worth of cheese, July and August make, which he purchased from factories between Peterborough and Kingston. Shipments like this serve to impress the reader with a sense of the magnitude and importance of the Canadian cheese industry.

A Moon Feast on the Water.

The second moonlight excursion under the auspices of the Sons of Canada took place last night, and was fully as successful as the preceding one. Over a hundred persons were on board the dancing scow, which was conveyed about the lake by the steamer Daisy. Butcher's orchestra supplied the music, and after the moon rose everything was present that would tend to make an evening enjoyable—cool, brisk air, a happy, sociable crowd, excellent music, bright moonlight and a fine floor for dancing. What more could be desired? All aboard were delighted with the affair, which will do much to popularize the Sons of Canada among the young people of the town.

Catholic Order of Foresters.

Arrangements have been perfected for the organization of a court—St. Peter's Court—Catholic Order of Foresters in Peterborough, and on Monday, August 31st, the ceremony will be conducted in Murray street school by H. Octave Roy, L. L. B., Quebec, High Court Organizer. The necessary supplies and charter have arrived, and a flourishing court with an active membership of thirty, will date its existence from August 31st, 1891. All accepted applicants for membership are urged to be present. The benefits that members ship in this order confer are an insurance policy of $1000 per member, weekly sick benefits of $5, and other incidental benefits. The order is open to suitable candidates between the ages of 18 and 45.

Lacrosse To-morrow.

To-morrow afternoon one of the greatest lacrosse games of the season will take place on the P.A.A.A. grounds between the Ontarios, of Port Hope, and the Peterboroughs. The Ontarios have not been defeated this season and play a fine game; but the Peterboroughs feel confident that they can check the triumphant career of the visitors, so a great game may be expected. The home team has been strengthened, and it will be their ambition to wipe out the stain of defeat inflicted upon them by the Ontarios in a previous game. There should be a large crowd in attendance. The Peterborough team will be selected from the following players:—F. Packenham, F. Larone, E. Hickey, J. Begley, J. McCabe, J. Phelan, W. Hendren, J. Daly, W. Phelan, —. Hemmit, T. Cronin, T. Maher, J. McDonagh, F. Adams, J. Mein, E. Wesson. The team will be captained by W. E. Loch.

Sunday Shaving.

In the police court this morning, before P. M. Dumble, Mr. Chas. Legros, barber, was charged by Chief Rossel with a violation of the Sabbath Observance Act. The evidence disclosed that a man entered Mr. Legros' shop Sunday morning last and was shaved by one of Legros' employees. Mr. Legros was not there at the beginning and was not working himself. It was not quite clear whether this work was being conducted with the authority and sanction of Mr. Legros, and the magistrate expressed the view that it was not necessary that Mr. Legros should work himself, but keeping his employees there and taking the proceeds of their labour was a violation of the law. In this case, however, he gave Mr. Legros the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the case, with a warning to Mr. Legros to abstain in future from all appearance of violation of the law.

A JOLLY PARTY ARRIVES.

Prominent Ontario People.

A Chat With an Ontario M.P.P.—The Crop Outlook—Seasonable Points.

Winnipeg Daily Tribune, Aug. 19, 1891.

Yesterday a jolly and substantial party of representative citizens of the live and thrifty town of Peterborough, Ontario, struck the city. The party consists of Mr. J. B. Stratton, M.P.P., the popular representative of West Peterborough in the Ontario Legislature; Mr. Peter Hamilton, of the Hamilton Agricultural Works; Mr. R. B. McKee, wholesale hardware merchant; and Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, who have a branch business at Vancouver, B.C.

The party, after spending a few days in Winnipeg, will proceed to the Pacific coast. A pleasant hour spent with these gentlemen indicates that if they are fair representatives of the politicians and business men of Peterborough and Ontario, the secret of the thrift and progress of both is explained.

In conversation with Mr. Stratton a good deal of interesting information concerning our Ontario cousins is gleaned. He reports that this year the crops in Ontario are simply splendid. Though the first part of the season was dry and discouraging, yet timely rains brought all arrearages not only up to the mark but exceeding the average. Every kind of crop promises most abundantly, and Mr. Stratton thinks that the harvest of 1891 in Ontario will be as good in proportion as the glorious harvest of Manitoba. This is not a matter of surprise to those who know the great agricultural possibilities of the premier province of the Dominion, as well as the high character of the farmers, whose advanced methods, enterprise and skill are well demonstrated in the thousands of solid agriculturists whom Manitoba is so proud to own as her best and most progressive farmers.

Mr. Stratton is full of faith in the future and loyal to the good name of Ontario. He speaks very enthusiastically of the great agricultural and mineral possibilities of the province and only a market adequate to the unlimited supplies in these lines is wanted to make her progress ten times more rapid than that which she now enjoys. Ontario is sound industrially, financially and morally. The provincial finances are in a healthy condition, the results of a score of years of wise, prudent, progressive government—a surplus of over five millions in her treasury and every public interest adequately provided for—splendid public institutions, buildings, etc.—the best and most liberally endowed high and public school system in the world. The practical interest take in the development of the mining resources of the province, in addition to that afforded by the legislation of last session, to prevent mining lands being locked up in the hands of speculators, is shown by the fact that at the present time Hon. A. S. Hardy, Commissioner of Crown Lands; Hon. J. M. Gibson, Provincial Secretary; Aubrey White, Assistant Commissioner of Crown Lands, and Archibald Blue, Director of the Bureau of Mines, are visiting the Rainy River district in order to become personally acquainted with the conditions and prospects of the mining and forest resources of that district. In political ethics the province has a high reputation. In the course of twenty years not a single charge of mal-administration or crooked dealing has been brought home to this government or any of its members. There may have been minor mistakes in administration, errors of judgment, but on the whole the past fifth of a century's administration has been, as the Mail (Independent Tory) once said, "free from scandal." "If," said Mr. Stratton, "one ten-thousandth part of the corruption, political knavery and robbery that have been unearthed at Ottawa in the past two months had been charged—not to say proven—against any of the departments of the Ontario government, there would have been a howl from the Tory press that would have shaken the north pole in its socket. In Ontario the public generally, irrespective of party, with the exception of a few pap-fed, pauper-dermatous Tories, is disgusted and dismayed at the shocking revelations of political rottenness at Ottawa."

Mr. Stratton is evidently proud of the town of Peterborough, and enthusiasm seems to be the only word that can describe his state of mind when speaking of that town. A place of about twelve thousand inhabitants, with unsurpassed railway facilities, practically on the main lines of the two great transcontinental systems, with local roads radiating in half a dozen other different directions, surrounded by a magnificent agricultural country, and with practically unlimited water power, these are what may be called its natural advantages. Peterborough is the centre of great manufacturing industries. Few towns in Canada equal its present manufacturing status, and none equal its prospective industrial position. Of those that have more than a local constituency, there are the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, whose mill machinery is known from Gaspe to Vancouver; the Peterborough Lock Works, the Central Iron Bridge Works, and the Carbon Works, not to mention numerous flour, lumber and woollen mills and other industries. These also is situated the Canadian headquarters of the Edison General Electric Company, a gigantic manufacturing concern which now employs about 400 hands, and these will be increased to three times that number in a short time.

Two companies are applying for a franchise for an electric street railway, and in every direction signs of progress are apparent. Mr. Stratton mentions with pride the excellent financial position of Peterborough, which is practically out of debt—at least the most hard-headed financier can only make the town responsible for a net debt of $50,000, spread over a period of about 20 years. The rate of taxation is low and likely to remain low, although the city fathers have a habit of paying as they go, that is, paying for the major part of permanent improvements out of current taxation.

The town has two hospitals, one with a $100,000 endowment and a parks fund of $60,000; half a score splendid churches, five schools, public and high, an excellent system of waterworks and electric light, and is in all respects a live, go-ahead and at the same time cautiously progressive borough, with strong civic common sense and a solid and substantial, if not brilliant future.

Chemong Park Notes

Mr. E. C. Ryott, the popular and genial manager of the hotel has been made the recipient of a very handsome and choice bred spaniel which promises to be a good one, and is very greatly admired.

The Lindsay Citizens' Band excursion to Chemong Park, which was to have been held last Friday, the 21st, was, owing to the very heavy rain in Lindsay on that day postponed until to-day (Wednesday, Aug. 26th). They have a beautiful programme of some very fine selections, and Peterborough people going out to the park will be delighted with the strains of music that the Lindsay band provides on that day. It is to be hoped a good crowd will turn out to hear them.

Few children can be induced to take physic without a struggle, and no wonder—most drugs are extremely nauseating. Ayer's Pills, on the contrary, being sugar-coated, are easily swallowed by the little ones, and are, therefore, the favourite family medicine.

Bicycles on the Streets.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Just a word of inquiry to "those who know" as to whether pedestrians have any right to walk on the sidewalk or not without being in danger of being run down by a young man on a bicycle who doesn't seem to know enough to "take the road for it." If we have not yet a bylaw to stop this kind of thing it is high time some of our enterprising councillors should take up the matter. The particular young man I refer to is generally on Her Majesty's service, but I do not hold it as a sufficient excuse for such conduct.

Yours truly,

Otonabee River Navigation.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The Steamer Golden Eye arrived home on Thursday, the 20th, and brought her palace scows with her. She would continue her trips to Rice Lake, but she is not able to go in or out of the mouth of the river Otonabee on account of the sawdust having accumulated there after the high water this spring. If something is not done to remove it, the lumbermen will not be able to run logs out of the river. The Golden Eye only draws 3 feet 9 inches, and she is compelled to plough through two feet of sawdust when entering the river. The only way the sawdust can be removed is with a dredge, which our Government Engineer has been asked for every year for the last fifteen years.

You were wrongfully informed when you stated in Saturday's issue there were two holes in the boat. The hull of the boat is as good as ever. The reason of her filling with water at the Hastings wharf was the thoughtlessness of the engineer in leaving open a tap when going to bed. The machinery was in perfect order, as she was able to come home unaided and bring her scows.

Yours truly,
H. CALCUTT,
Prop. C. L. Steamers.

Parental Affection in Animals.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—During the last few months I have noticed in some of our papers references made to the sagacity and, as it were, foresight of dogs. I never question the sincerity or truthfulness of such; in reading them it brought to my recollection an occurrence to which I can certify, and should any reading this happen to be from Keene or vicinity, they can fully corroborate my statement. In the year 1843, while working at the Friars Castle, the seat of his grace the Duke of Roxbury, the shepherd of Mr. Duggan, of Spyglass, about one mile from Keene (one of the wealthiest, largest and most prosperous farmers in the south of Scotland), went to Falkirk trist, some distance from Edinburgh. I believe it is the largest lamb fair in Scotland. He was accompanied by help and a fine collie bitch, his intention being to drive home nearly 40 miles, the sheep and lambs Mr. Duggan should purchase. The following was related to me while taking our evening stroll along the banks of the Tweed, as was our wont mostly every night, by a young man, a type setter in the Chronicle office, who said they had received that day from the shepherd himself, and it was now ready for publication, one of the most striking instances of parental affection that ever came to their notice: The morning after the fair they were proceeding home with the large purchase Mr. Duggan had made. After passing a farm steading, and while over 30 miles from home, both the shepherd and his help noticed the absence of the dog. Arriving at Spylaw after dark without any appearance of their lost companion, both felt sorry and anxious about their loss, as a good Scotch collie is gold. But in the morning when going into the barnyard they were surprised to see the bitch in the shed, and a fine pup with her. After being well fed in the afternoon she again started from home. On the second morning she was there again, and another fine pup beside her. She did the same thing regularly each day and night, carrying home seven fine young collies in her six trips. She travelled 60 miles each trip, and the first coming home 30 miles, making in all 390 miles carrying her offspring.

Make the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting factitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BIGGLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

The John Robinson Show.

Presenting a New Feature in Tented Amusements.

Solomon, the sagest and grandest of the Hebrew Patriarchs, when he uttered the phrase, since become an axiom, that "there is nothing new under the sun," could he "revisit the glimpses of the moon," would find that while his contention finds verification, yet that old things have become new in the reproduction and rehabilitation of the scenes, episodes and incidents characterizing his long and memorable reign. In placing before the people by the John Robinson show the grand biblical spectacle of "Solomon, his Temple and the Queen of Sheba," a realistic, living illustration of the most sacred and most impressive scenes and events of biblical history is presented in vivid and entrancing form, and offers the most enjoyable and mind-nourishing afternoon and evening's entertainment ever projected or conceived. The glories, the grandeur and the greatness of Israel's wisest king are lavishly portrayed and the most salient features and incidents of his noted royal administration find apt and accurate illustration. This gorgeous and resplendent spectacle is from the master mind of Mr. John Rettig, whose former biblical spectacular productions have made him famous, and who prides himself on this, the chef-d'œuvre of his art. It certainly is a master-piece of policy in the management of the John Robinson show to thus so materially and acceptably augment their already stupendous exhibitional enterprise, which, as almost every body is aware, is characterized as exhibiting the biggest and best circus, the most interesting menagerie and the largest hippodrome on the continent. The combined exhibitions, of which it may be said that they are given without additional entrance fee, are to display here on September 8th.

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved, and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now a clear skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

BROTHERS IN DEATH.

TWO MEN OF THE SAME NAME DIE AT THE SAME HOTEL.

A Remarkable Case from Detroit Two Sudden Deaths and the Strange Circumstances in Connection Therewith—One of the Victims a Canadian.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 27.—One of the most extraordinary coincidents on record has happened at the Russell House within the last 24 hours. A. H. Whitney of Toronto, a victim of consumption arrived in the city by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway at 9.45 last night, accompanied by his wife and C. K. Thomas, a distant relative who resides in Boston. They were on their way to Mexico for the benefit of the invalid's health. They drove direct for the Russell House. Here they at once proceeded to a room. Arriving at the room, growing seemingly feeble as he proceeded, he was laid upon the bed and died in the act of laying down. He had been an invalid for about 3 years, but the strangest part is to come. This forenoon at 10.30 o'clock another Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Whitney arrived at the Russell House, but this couple was apparently in good health, and Mr. Whitney doing his own registering. It was 10.30 o'clock when they arrived, and after registering they went to their room. Here in ten minutes after entering Mr. Whitney was seized with heart disease, and was a dead man. In the one case death came with almost the suddenness of a thunder clap, in the other by slow approaches over a few years. These brothers in death were neither relatives nor known to each other. Mrs. Thomas, the gentleman accompanying the Toronto party, was appalled by the very singularity of the second death, and the strange coincidence of the name. A H. Whitney of Toronto has been one of the best known accountants in that city. He is 52 years of age and has been ailing for the past three years with consumption. He family consists of a wife and one child. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Latimer and were prepared for shipment over the Grand trunk to Toronto.

The gentleman from Quinsey, Ill., had been actively engaged in the manufacture of organs and was in Detroit partly on business and partly on a visit. He had been subject to heart disease. He was about 50 years of age.

Both were men of comfortable means, the gentleman from Toronto, although not having been actively engaged for some years, having a comfortable income from property and business investments.

CROQUET DID IT.

The Ancient Game Responsible for a Sensational Law Suit.

LOWELL, Mass., Aug. 26. An attachment for $15,000 has been placed on the property of Mrs. Ida M. Clark, wife of Oliver Clark of Cumberland Road, in an action of tort brought by Mrs. Fannie Lahne, wife of Moses M. Lahne, a well known inventor, who charges Mrs. Clark with alienating her husband's affections.

The parties to the suit are neighbors. Mrs. Clark is the young and fascinating wife of a somewhat elderly gentleman. The intimacy began, as Mrs. Lahne alleges, about four years ago in a game of croquet. In the winter there were games of euchre and entertainments. Mr. Lahne and Mrs. Clark have asserted that there was nothing wrong. Mr. Clark once called in a policeman, and the latter undertook to interfere, but came to the conclusion, when he found nothing worse than the two sitting together in the twilight, that he had better keep out of it.

Mrs. Lahne, however, says she has reason to suppose there has been something more than this, and that her husband neglects to provide for herself and children some time ago. He has done better lately, and remained at home with her. Mrs. Clark is absent from town.

Parted at the Altar.

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 27. About three years ago Mr. James Keefer of Flesherton was married in a Toronto church to his cousin, Miss Nettie Bennett of Tara, who was for several months previous a resident of Owen Sound and was well known here, especially in Division street church, of which she was a member. Immediately after the ceremony Miss Bennett refused to consider the contract binding, protesting that marriage with Mr. Keefer was entirely against her wishes and that she could not imagine what had made her consent to enter the church for that purpose. They parted at the church door.

Mr. Keefer afterwards attempted to come to a better understanding with his bride, but she refused to consider him as her husband and by her wish her friends have continued to call her Miss Bennett. Both the young people are estimable and intelligent, and the strange situation has been a source of much grief to their friends. Mr. Keefer applied for a divorce at the present session of Parliament, and he has now after much trouble and expense succeeded in legally undoing the unfortunate compact. Both will likely profit by the experience and make haste slowly in making a second selection.

Supposed to Have Drowned.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 27. On Monday Harry Dickson and wife left the harbor in a large punt. Nothing more was heard of them until yesterday afternoon, when a punt was seen floating down the bay, being over-turned, and later in the evening it was reported to have drifted ashore near Massassaga Park. Dickson was subject to fits and by many it is surmised that he was seized with one and fell overboard, and that his wife in attempting to rescue him was drowned. A party this morning drove up the bay and another party went after the boat, which was found at the Point.

Convention of Englishmen.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Aug. 27. The annual convention of the North American St. George's Society is in session here. Delegates are present from many American cities and Kingston, Toronto and London, Canada. The address of welcome was made by Mayor John D. Nehoe and was responded to by President John Lucas of Philadelphia on behalf of the society. The evening was spent in speech-making, interspersed with music.

DRANK POISONED WINE.

AN ITALIAN PRIEST MURDERED AT THE ALTAR.

Partook of the Sacramental Cup and Fell Dead Before the Congregation—Pulled a Bishop's Beard Out by the Roots—General Cable News.

ROME, Aug. 27.—The deliberate murder of a priest while in the performance of his holy offices at the altar has created a sensation at Palermo. The tragic event occurred on Sunday. The priest was named Don Guiseppe La Rosa, and he was the private chaplain to the Contessa Di Mazzarino. At the accustomed hour yesterday the priest began his mass service in the private chapel of the Mazzarino villa, in his usual health and in the presence of the family of the Contessa.

The solemn moments following the elevation of the host were particularly quiet, when, in a voice that appeared faltering and feeble, the priest began to recite the balance of the mass, but suddenly stopped abruptly, cast his eyes upward, and as his congregation, attracted by the unusual action, raised their heads to look at him, he fell to the floor groaning and writhing in the most frightful convulsions, and despite the assistance of those present he died before he could be removed from the chapel and in the most horrible agony.

The evidence of poison was so apparent that an investigation was ordered immediately, and the fact was revealed that corrosive sublimate had been put into the wine used by the priest for the sacrament, and the priest was actually murdered at the altar while in the discharge of his most sacred duty.

A SHIP OF DEATH.

Carrying the Terrible Cholera Plague—Sixty Deaths on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27. Advices from Singapore state that the steamer Nanchow started for that port with 860 Chinese coolies for the Penang market. The officers were Chinese with the exception of half a dozen Europeans. While at sea cholera broke out among the Chinese, and no fewer than sixty bodies were thrown into the sea. The captain, upon arrival at Singapore, reported only six deaths to the harbor-master, three from influenza and three from want of opium and general debility. Many passengers were landed, and, no quarantine being declared, the vessel proceeded to Penang with the remainder of the afflicted cargo and crew. In four days nine cases of cholera developed in Singapore all traced to the steamer Nanchow. On the steamer's voyage back from Penang after landing 280 coolies there, the first European victim, the third engineer, an Englishman, succumbed to the disease. When the Nanchow arrived at Singapore the health officer was on the look out, and sent the vessel into quarantine. When the vessel is released the captain and supercargo will be arrested.

POISONED THEIR HUSBANDS.

Serious Charges Against Five Women.

VIENNA, Aug. 27. Four women have been arrested at Nonttmass, Hungary, on the charge of poisoning their husbands and selling poison to other women for a similar purpose. Orders have been issued to exhume the bodies of many supposed victims.

PARIS, Aug. 27. A woman named Lombard has been arrested for attempting to murder her husband by pouring molten lead into his ear while he was asleep.

DONE BY STORM.

Four Seamen Drowned Norwegian Bark Wrecked.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—During the height of the gale last night a steam pinnace belonging to H. M. S. Pallas was swamped and four seamen were drowned. At Newcastle a flower show had been in progress last night, the immense tents containing the flowers and plants were blown away, causing an immense amount of damage. At South Port the Norwegian bark Gefion was wrecked. The crew were saved.

Telegrams from all parts of England contain the same tale of damaged crops. The havoc on fruit plantations is dreadful. The Lancashire & Yorkshire Railway is blocked by a landslip due to incessant rain. In the mining districts work has been stopped in many mines owing to fears that the pits might be flooded. The storm raged with great violence in North Wales. Two fourists were drowned while trying to cross rivers. The wind wrecked the military camp at Dublin, carrying away all the tents.

Redeemed Himself.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Berry has redeemed his reputation as a hangman. The execution of Watts, the wife-murderer, to-day, was performed with neatness and promptitude. It is said that the High Sheriff of Hants gave the hangman notice that there must be no drinking previous to the execution. The condemned only was allowed a stimulant. The result was no repetition of the Liverpool horror.

Attacked Their Bishop.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 27.—The inhabitants of Pirvoli, incensed at the Bishop of Grebena, for trying to prevent a service in Roumania, made a savage attack on the Bishop yesterday. They pulled out all his beard, and, after beating him until he became senseless, they tied a rope around his ankles and dragged him on his back through the streets, intending to hang him, but, as he did not recover consciousness, they finally left him for dead. The ringleaders in the outrage have been arrested by the troops.

Gales in the British Isles

LONDON, Aug. 27. In the northern parts of the British Isles a furious gale is raging. At Sheffield the large marquee erected for the fair were wrecked and their contents seriously damaged. A church near the Sheffield grounds was blown down, and throughout the district an immense amount of damage was done to trees, crops and buildings.

CANADA'S POPULATION.

INCREASED LESS THAN TWELVE PER CENT. IN 10 YEARS.

The Census Returns Not so Satisfactory as Had Been Anticipated—The Total Population Still Less Than Five Million—The Increase in Ontario.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—Mr. Haggart in the Commons last night presented the census returns, which will be found below:

Prince Edward Island	108,891	109,078	.17	187
Totals	870,696	880,707	1.15	10,011	.08
Totals for group	4,152,951	4,483,563	7.96	330,612	2.70
Increase in decade	330,612	349,676
Decrease in decade				19,064
Net increase	330,612	330,612
Per cent age	7.96	7.96

Mr. Carling admits to-day that the results are very disappointing. The percentages of increase for the past decade are lower than during the preceding decade. This, he says, is discouraging in a young and sparsely settled country.

Taking the average annual natural increase at two per cent. on the population of 1881, the population in 1891 ought to have been 5,283,044. According to the report of the Minister of Agriculture for last year, 886,177 immigrants were reported to the department by the agents during the decade, as having stated their intention of settling in Canada. Adding the natural increase and the immigrant settlers and the population in 1891 ought to have been 6,169,221 instead of 4,823,344 as returned. The difference, 1,340,000, must represent the people who have left the country in the past 10 years.

In Ontario the increase has been 186,067. The population of Toronto in 1881 was 86,415; it has increased about 100,000, leaving about 86,000 for the increase for the rest of the province. This increase would be more than swallowed up by the other cities. The rural population must therefore have retrograded.

This is the first census which will not increase the number of representation in Parliament. By the British North America Act Quebec was given 65 members and the other provinces representative in the proportion to population that Quebec representation bore to her population. This arrangement was made to apply to further censuses. Dividing her present population by 65 gives 27,700 as the average population for representation.

Ontario at present has 92 members. Dividing her population by the common division gives 23. Her representation will therefore remain the same.

Dividing the population of Nova Scotia by this division gives a little over 19½. As Nova Scotia now has 21 members she will lose one.

Dividing the population of New Brunswick by this division gives less than 11½. She at present has 16 members. She will therefore lose one and perhaps two members.

By the terms of the union the representation of Prince Edward Island remains at 5.

Dividing the population of Manitoba by this division gives a little over 6½. Her present representation is 5. Her representation will therefore be increased 1, and perhaps 2.

In the same way British Columbia will lose 1, perhaps 2 members.

The population furnished by the Department of Agriculture in 1889 to the Customs Department as a basis of calculating the duties, etc., per head, was 5,220,000. These calculations will therefore have to be revised. This shows how much disappointed the department was, when two years ago they thought the population to be nearly half a million more than it is today.

THE CHARGES IN FULL.

The Specific Allegations Alleged Against Mr. Cochrane.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27. In the House yesterday Mr. Flint made specific the general charges preferred by Mr. Cameron (Huron) last week against Mr. Cochrane, member for East Northumberland. His statement was:

1. That Edward Cochrane was during the last Parliament and now is the member for the electoral district of the East Riding of Northumberland.

2. That while he was such member it was corruptly agreed between the said Edward Cochrane and John D. Coulson, William Brown, William Johnson and Robert May respectively that if each of them would pay to him or to certain other persons for him, or for political purposes, the sum of $200 he would procure for each of them the position of attendant or keeper of the swing bridges over or across the Murray Canal.

3. That in pursuance of such corrupt agreement the said several sums of money were paid and the said persons were so appointed to the said positions.

4. That while he, the said Edward Cochrane, was such member as aforesaid, it was corruptly agreed by and between the said Edward Cochrane and the aforesaid Henry May that if the said Henry May would pay to the said Edward Cochrane, or to other persons for him or for political purposes, the sum of $200, he would procure for the said Henery May the office or position under the Government of foreman or overseer of employes.

5. That in pursuance of the said corrupt agreement the said sum of $200 was paid and the said position duly received by the said Henry May.

He therefore moved that the foregoing statement be referred to the special committee already appointed to consider charges preferred against the said Edward Cochrane.

At Sir John Thompson's suggestion the motion was allowed to stand until to-day.

PLEA FOR McGREEVY

Is Made by Fitzpatrick Before Committee on Privileges and Elections.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—The privileges and elections committee met yesterday, Mr. Girouard in the chair. Mr. Fitzpatrick resumed his argument on behalf of Mr. McGreevy. He first referred to the dredging contract given in 1887, under which the contractors were given thirty-five cents a yard. He admitted that McGreevy had acted wrongly in the case of the Admiral, but hoped that the committee would deal with him fairly, as he had already suffered his penalty. In his peroration he remarked that a good deal of public indignation was aroused in the revelations brought out by the committee, but at the same time there was a certain amount of the Pharisee abroad. At the conclusion of his address the committee adjourned till 10.30 Friday morning.

CONSERVATIVE CAUCUS.

Declaration all Offenders be Punished Without Distinction.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—The Conservative caucus yesterday was largely attended. Senator Botsford presided. Addresses were delivered by Premier Abbott, Sir John Thompson, Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. J. A. Chapleau and Senator Flint (Belleville.) Sir Hector was present.

All the speakers counselled a firm attitude on the part of the government. The cabinet ministers, including Mr. Abbott, declared that the government in their present scandal investigation was possessed with a full sense of its duty to the people and proposed to punish the offenders, no matter who they were.

FOR KILLING HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Carrothers Formally Committed for Trial at Rat Portage.

RAT PORTAGE, Aug. 27.—The examination of Mrs. Nettie Carrothers, charged with the murder of her husband, John Blake Carrothers, in the Rainy River District was concluded yesterday, the prisoner being fully committed for trial. Detective Murray succeeded in presenting very damaging evidence against the accused. It was shown that the letter purporting to have been written by the dead man intimating that he had committed suicide was in Mrs. Carrother's handwriting. Dr. McDonnell, who made a thorough examination of deceased's skull, which had been dug up for the purpose, testified that he did not think the wounds could have been self-inflicted. The wound at the back of the head was the one first inflicted. The effect of the shot at the back of the head would in his opinion produce complete paralysis of the whole system. He therefore thought that the wound on the back of the head was received first. It was a fatal wound. In his opinion it would have been impossible for Carrothers to have made the wound at the back of his head and then have made the one at the front. He thought it would be impossible for Carrothers to have inflicted those two wounds upon himself.

The production of the skull and the doctor's evidence have had a great effect here with regard to Mrs. Carrothers. They created a profound sensation in the court room when these portions of the remains were laid on the table. The prisoner laid her head on her arms and did not raise it again for a considerable length of time.

To be Brought Back.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Aug. 27.—Government Detective Murray, who has been engaged at Rat Portage in the Rainy River murder case, arrived here to-day and will leave for Godarich with James Chambers of Guelph, alias Gilkinson, who is wanted for the attempted murder of Listowel's chief of police Clinton some months ago. Chambers and his companion committed a number of robberies in Perth and Huron and when Chief Palmer attempted to arrest him at Clinton he fired a couple of bullets into the officer and escaped. He next turned up at Portage la Prairie, where he was arrested for working the flim flam game and sentenced to a short term, which expired today.

August Werner's Death.

PICKERING, Aug. 27.—The jury in the case of the River Rouge floater returned this verdict.

That the deceased is one August Werner late of the city of Toronto, and came to his death on or about the 24th July, 1891, at the township of Pickering, from a wound made by a bullet fired from a pistol held in the hands of some person to the jurors unknown. No evidence was elicited further than was brought out more than fortnight since, and all the circumstances point to a deliberate suicide.

A Tory Elected.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The election in the Lewisham division yesterday to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the election of Viscount Lewisham to the peerage, resulted in favor of John Penn, Conservative, a member of the well-known firm of John Penn & Sons, marine engineers of Greenwich. The Gladstonian candidate was George N. Warmington 2982. In the previous election the Conservative candidate received 3839 votes and the Home Rule candidate 1688.

The Sea Serpent Once More.

SHELBURNE, N.S., Aug. 27.—Two pilots and three other men on a mackeral fishing expedition report that on Sunday last when eight miles off Richibucto shore they saw a sea serpent. It was 200 feet long, about the size of a man's body and had a flat-shaped head, with eyes on the top like a toad. It resembled a snake, and sometimes raised its head six feet out of the water and its body curved like an immense hawser. They were near enough to see scales on its body and were within view for an hour or more. The parties are all reliable.

A tearful cloudburst broke over Pattsville Pa., Sunday afternoon. Fully four hundred families were driven to the upper stories of their homes, and the cellars and kitchens are filled with water and mud. The business portion of the town suffered greatly. The damage is estimated at over $100,000.

King Humbert unveiled a monument of Victoria Emmanuel, at Moudovi, Italy, yesterday. The ceremonies were the occasion of a loyal demonstration on the part of the populace. The King signed a decree granting amnesty to all evaders of military services from the year 1848 to 1872. This affects 4000 men.

On car 24 of the Union-avenue line, Brooklyn, last night Mamie Roach, aged 18 jumped from her seat and without a word of warning emptied the contents of a vial of vitriol into the face of Conductor Charles Gerhardt. The woman, said she did it for revenge. Gerhardt having on Friday night drugged and ruined her.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Discussion in the House of Commons on Wednesday.

Mr. Barron Exposes the Government's Course of Hypocrisy in Connection With the T.V.C.—His Charges and how they were Met—A Long Debate on the Subject.

MR. BURNHAM. I am glad that the hon. member for North Victoria has taken this particular project under his wing, and is giving it his assistance. I am not certain, from the tenor of his remarks, whether he is taking this interest in the subject, on account of political advantage that may accrue to him and his party, or on other grounds. At all events this particular work is one of considerable interest to the constituency which I represent, and to which the hon. member for North Victoria has referred on several occasions. The hon. gentleman has referred to the attitude of myself, and the hon. member for West Peterboro (Mr. Stevenson) in this matter. Now, I do not propose to because they propose to expend between $4 000,000 and $5,000 000 for a canal on the north side of the St. Lawrence river, because I consider that the work is necessary if we are going to have the Trent Valley Canal. The commerce that would come down the Trent Valley Canal must necessarily use the St. Lawrence canals; and if the whole system is to be carried out, we who are interested in the Trent Valley Canal are perfectly satisfied with that expenditure. I understood the hon. member for North Victoria to state that he gave me notice that he would bring this matter up, and it appears that now he has had all the discussion he proposes to have on the question. Speaking of the cost of the canal, he refers to Mr. Kubidge's estimate of about $8,000,000, and I think the hon. gentleman is right in saying that the work can be constructed for a very much less sum, because the works now constructed are stated by the commissioners in their reports to be unnecessarily expensive. There could probably be saved $2,000,000. That I understand is what the hon. member or North Victoria refers to when he speaks of the saving that could be effected on the estimate made by the engineer. Now, I do not propose to go into a discussion of the merits of the canal. I understand that we shall have an opportunity on a future occasion to discuss the question in the House; but I must say that we feel the

FIND ANY FAULT WITH THE GOVERNMENT

GOVERNMENT HAVE PLEDGED THEMSELVES

to the construction of this work. Its merits may not be generally known to the members of this House, and I hope that we shall have an opportunity again to bring the matter more fully before the House. At all events, the telegram that was read by the hon. member for Victoria, I think, stated the position in which the Government stands with regard to this work. The Government appointed a commission to examine into the question, and the hon. member for North Victoria says they shielded themselves behind the commission. Now, that is not a correct statement of the facts, because what the Government did was this: There were some doubts as to whether there was sufficient water supply to carry on this work, and the Government referred that matter, as well as all other matters in regard to the canal, to three gentlemen, two of whom, at all events, they considered altogether disinterested. These were Mr. Kennedy, the harbor engineer of Montreal, and Mr. Turner, the engineer, of Toronto. Mr. Kennedy, so far as I know, went there rather prejudiced against the work, having known nothing about it beforehand; but after he had gone over the route and inspected the whole matter, he came to the conclusion that it was a work deserving consideration, not only as a local but as a national work. He considered that it was binding, not only on the locality, but on the Dominion as well, and his report is on these lines. He recognized the necessity of constructing

THE WORK AS A NATIONAL WORK.

Now I think that if the work can be constructed for even the amount of money estimated, $8 000,000, it will not be asking too much that the Dominion should undertake that enterprise, especially when we consider that half a million people are along the route of that canal and that about 1,200 miles of the best lands in the country are situated in that section and that the natural waterway requires only 50 miles of canal, to make it a complete navigable waterway through the centre of Ontario. If the work can be done at that cost, the Government will be remiss in their duty if they do not undertake it, and the report of the commission certainly would justify them in carrying it out. With regard to the bridge at Fenelon Falls, which the hon. member for North Victoria (Mr. Barron) has complained of, the Government have built two expensive locks immediately above this obstruction; and I do think the Government should take steps to remove that obstruction and enable the people to get the benefit of the works which have been constructed there. As the hon. member for North Victoria is going to bring the matter up again, we will have an opportunity of discussing it more fully then.

MR. STEVENSON. I do not wish at this hour to say anything that may prolong the debate, but as the hon. member for East Peterborough has spoken on the matter, and I think, fairly and justly, I may be permitted to give my opinion. I am very much disappointed in not seeing a large sum in the Estimates, in view of the telegram we received from the First Minister that there would be

this year in accordance with the report of the commission appointed by the government. The excuse for years back has been simply that as soon as the commission reported, if that report was favourable, a grant would be made. We did not expect the canal to be built at once, as it will take years to build it, but we did expect that a sum would be placed in the Estimates which would satisfy the people to some extent that the Government meant to go on with it. I know that, in consequence of the decrease in the sugar duties and other things, the Government are averse to incurring expenditure, but surely they might guarantee that next year they will place sums in the Estimates for this work. No matter what Government is in power, that section of the country will force them to do this work eventually. The people there are determined to have it; and if they do not get it, the Government may expect a solid opposition from Trent Valley. No matter what government may be in power, there is no doubt that sooner or later they will be forced to construct that canal. It may be well to say that it is necessary and that we are expending a vast amount of money on the St. Lawrence, but there is a country growing up behind us that a few years ago was not in existence. That country is represented by sixteen or eighteen members and will soon be represented by more than twenty members, who will probably have something to say in the matter. The people are determined they shall not be kept in the background for ever, and shall have facilities for transportation. Large manufactories are building along the route of that canal. According to the report of the commission, the than the engineers reported. The locks can be built much cheaper, and need not cost anything like what has been mentioned by the engineers. The gentlemen who composed that commission took a great deal of pains, went over every part of the proposed route, and made a very fair report, and a unanimous report; and I think their report should not be overlooked, especially as the Government have at different times distinctly told us that as soon as their report was in, if it was favourable, they would certainly push on the construction of that canal. With regard to the bridge at Fenelon Falls, we know that no vessels can go up there in consequence of it, and the Grand Trunk Railway refuse to build a bridge with a swing in it. I went with the engineer, Mr. Page, several times to the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and they proposed to deflect their line below the locks, if the Government would contribute a liberal share towards the expense. The Government agreed to contribute $12,000, but the company would not take less than $25,000 or $30,000, and nothing came of it. I did trust the Government would see the necessity of doing something, for I am sure something must be done if they wish to retain the confidence of that section of the country.

MR. SPOHN. I am glad to see the hon. member for West Peterborough and others so outspoken with reference to this matter. They really seem to mean business, and if they would act up to what they say they would soon have the canal.

HAVE THE GOVERNMENT ANY INTENTION

of making any survey of the western portion of the canal? I am aware a sort of survey was made some years ago, but it was generally considered that the estimate was greatly exaggerated. I understand that the route of the western section as well as that of the eastern has been fully surveyed and that the route that is most feasible is laid down on the map. I am not aware that any other survey is required except it be to locate the canal in case the whole work being put under contract for construction. I understood there was no regular survey of the western portion because it was not known where the canal would terminate. If a survey were made you could make some estimate of the cost.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G.W. Wonker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hern, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

How are your Boys fixed for Clothing?

Pretty well racked up during the Holidays. Torn so that patching is not a success. Ripped from top to bottom. That is the usual state of a boy's clothes after the Holidays. Generally not enough left to hold an inquest on—that is the clothes, not the boy: The boy is all there.

EUROPE GETTING READY.

He is said to Believe that France is In a Mood for War.

BERLIN, Aug. 26. The arrival of the Kaiser has been followed with unusual activity in the War Office and by orders to strengthen the garrisons in Alsace Lorraine and all along the eastern frontier. The Kaiser is said, on semi-official authority, to be of the opinion that France is in a frame of mind that might lead at any moment to war; that the people of France have been so stirred up by the evidence of Russian sympathy and friendship that they are likely at any moment to insult Germany in a way that would of necessity be followed by war.

The French sentinels on the Alsace frontier, have of late become very arrogant in their treatment of Germans who cross the line, and refuse sometimes even to look at passports, driving the Germans back at the point of the bayonet. A similar disposition has displayed itself recently among French customs officers, and all the conduct of the French points to a willingness to provoke a crisis by the maltreatment of German subjects. As for the Kaiser, it is said he would sooner fight while Lord Salisbury is in power in England, as he feels he has nothing to hope for from a Liberal Cabinet.

COMPLIMENTED BY THE QUEEN.

Exchanging Dispatches With President Carnot on the French Fleet.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Queen Victoria, shortly after reviewing the French fleet at Spithead on Friday, caused the following message to be telegraphed to President Carnot:

"I wish to express to you the great pleasure I have had in receiving Admiral Gervais and his officers at Osborne, and how much I admire the French squadron which I have just reviewed."

To this message President Carnot replied: "I beg you Majesty to accept my sincere thanks for the gracious reception you were good enough to accord to Admiral Gervais and his officers, and also for the sentiments expressed in regard to the French fleet."

Wales and the Jews.

LONDON, Aug. 26. The Pall Mall Gazette says the Prince of Wales is taking great interest in the matter of the persecution of the Jews in Russia, and in the condition of the immigrants of that nationality who are coming to England. The Prince has devoted considerable time to a thorough study of the question, although he has not taken any direct measure to assist the needy Jews, fearing such action would wound the feelings of the Russians. He has indirectly given much assistance to the Anglo-Jewish committees. The Princess of Wales, who is a sister-in-law of the Czar, is co-operating with the Prince and rendering much valuable aid in his efforts to ameliorate the condition of the poverty-stricken Hebrews.

Nun Accused of Manslaughter.

LISBON, Aug. 26. Sister Collecta, who belongs to the Sister College, had to administer a dose of magnesia to one of the pupils. By an unlucky accident, Sister Collecta took up a bottle which contained white arsenic, but unfortunately instead of magnesia the bottle held oxalic acid, and the result of the dose was the death of the pupil. Sister Collecta has been arrested and will be tried for manslaughter.

Advances in Flour.

LONDON Aug 26. The Leeds millers have advanced the price of flour 1s 6d per bag. Cold and stormy weather prevails throughout almost the whole country. In many places the crops in the fields are under water or beaten down by the wind and irreparably ruined. Farmers are in despair.

Sensational Suicide.

PARIS, Aug. 26. At seven o'clock yesterday morning the body of a young soldier was discovered hanging from the south pillar of the Eiffel Tower. In his pocket was found a letter in which he begged to be buried in the major of his regiment, his body to the Ecole de Medicine and the clothes he was wearing to M. Eiffel.

Burned to the Waters Edge

LONDON, Aug. 26. The Norwegian schooner Frey, bound from an English port for Drontheim, caught fire and was burned to the water's edge when near Bergen Saturday last. Eight of her crew were drowned. Seven were saved.

Foreign Personals.

It has been settled that Grand Duke George Alexandrovitch of Russia, whose health is by still very precarious, shall return to Algeria at the end of autumn.

The king of the Belgians has appointed Mr. Leonard Kebbe Wilson, who had acted as Mr. Stanley's amanuensis both at Cairo and London, attache to the Royal Library in Brussels.

Sir Morell Mackenzie is off to the Italian lakes this week to enjoy a well-earned holiday after a heavy season of work. Sir Morell has been for several weeks in constant attendance on the Prince of Wales, and among other recent interesting patients he has been Mr Henry Irving and Mr. George Lewis.

LONDON, Aug. 25. Edmund Yates cables Lord Rosebery intends to pass the autumn at Mentmore, and in November will probably go abroad again for a few months. All of Lord Rosebery's shootings in Midlothian have been let, and also those on the Linlithgowshire estate, except only the preserves in the neighborhood of Dalmeny.

During the last five years the new Lord Dartmouth has acted as special House of Commons reporter to the Queen, a duty which formerly was always undertaken by the leader of the House. His business is to dispatch two or three telegrams every evening to Her Majesty, giving a precis of the proceedings of Parliament and in addition to this the Queen usually receives a sort of news-letter either from Viscount Lewisham or Mr. Smith. The Parliamentary reports which were sent by Lord Beaconsfield to the Queen when he was leader of the House during Lord Derby's administrations, and which are all preserved among Her Majesty's political correspondence at Buckingham Palace, are full of bright, vivacious criticisms, both of the manner and matter of the principal speakers of those days.

STRANDED CIRCUS MEN.

Runaway Harper Caught, but His Employes Are Penniless and Unsheltered.

THOMASVILLE, Conn., Aug. 26. P. N. Harper, one of the proprietors of Harper Brothers' circus, who decamped with the entire receipts of the circus, was captured in Springfield and brought here for trial to-day charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Harper claims that he only leased it from O. A. Kelly of Worcester. Kelly is expected here to-day to claim the property.

The Sheriff is in possession of the remnants of the circus, having claims amounting to $2,000. The attaches of the circus are stranded, not having money enough to leave town. Harper owes each of the performers from one to eight weeks salaries.

PLOTTED A DASTARDLY WRECK.

Bold Attempt of Two Negroes to Throw a Passenger Train From a Bridge.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., August 26.—A daring attempt was made to wreck a train on the Illinois Central main line yesterday. Had the north bound accommodation train from Water Valley to Grand Junction been going ten miles an hour faster there would have been an awful disaster. About seven miles north of Holly Springs carpenters are repairing the bridge. As the north bound train came in sight of the bridge the engineer noticed that one rail seemed to be unduly elevated. He quickly applied the air brakes and reversed his engine. As the engine went on the bridge it was discovered that a piece of iron called a stirrup had been securely fastened to the rail and would have thrown any train from the track into the water below. Luckily only the front trucks of the engine left the rails.

Word was at once sent along the road, and soon after a posse of men, with M. L. Brewer, of Holly Springs, at their head, went in pursuit of the perpetrators of the deed. Suspicion was directed towards two negroes whom the engineer had observed sneaking away in the woods. The posse got a description of them and started in pursuit.

After a chase of several hours Mr. Brewer caught the two negroes. They gave their names as Will Frost and Will McDowell. They were separated by the posse, and each said enough to implicate the other. Being confronted and each told what the other had said they both confessed to having done the deed. Frost said McDowell had a large axe, which he intended to use for breaking open coaches in case of a wreck. The negroes were taken to Holly Springs and jailed. Both have the reputation of being hard characters, and it is thought they intended to wreck the train for the purpose of robbery.

Death of Eagle Star, the Sioux Chief.

SHEFFIELD, Eng., Aug. 26.—Eagle Star, the Sioux chief who has been performing in Buffalo Bill's exhibition, died here to-day of lockjaw. His horse during a recent performance fell upon him, crushing his ankle. Mortification set in, and though the leg was amputated, the man's life could not be saved.

News has been received of a hurricane in Senegal, during which an Italian steamer and two cutters were wrecked at Rufisque and 18 persons were drowned.

The Austrian Minister of Education has granted permission to Prof. Adam Kierwiz to experiment upon cancer patients in the Albrecht Hospital for the next six months. The professor claims to have discovered an infallible cure for the dread disease.

The returns to the Irish Registrar of General Statistics show a decrease as compared with 1890 of 11,000 acres of wheat, 7000 acres of oats, 4000 acres of barley, 28,000 acres of potatoes and 3000 acres of cabbages, and an increase of 5000 acres of turnips, 5000 acres of mangel, 7000 horses, 208,000 cattle, 400,000 sheep. Pigs have decreased in number 200,000.

"Look me in the face! My name is 'Might-have-been!' I am also called 'No-more,' 'Too-late,' 'Farewell!'"

The poet who wrote the above must have been in the last stages of consumption. Perhaps he had only learned for the first time that if he had taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in his earlier illness, he would never have reached his present hopeless condition! What can be more sad than a realization of what "might have been?"

Physicians now admit that consumption is simply scrofula of the blood attacking the lung tissues. It is never safe to allow the blood to remain impure, and it is especially reckless, when such a pleasant, harmless remedy as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will drive every taint of scrofula or impurity from the blood, causing a current of healthy rejuvenating blood to leap through the veins. a

Everybody Admires Soft, White Hands, and every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d39

MORE cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant dw

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Health in Herbs.

Health-giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

A certain cure for all rheumatic selections is found in the Royal Rheumatic Remedy, to be had from W. R. Greatrix, druggists. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments

HEAD OFFICE—193 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the D[orenwend] BELT is the very latest invention i[n] line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

I FEEL BUOYANT

"Am happy to say that results so far are as satisfactory as I could expect, indeed much more so than I did expect. I am enjoying excellent health, appetite good, sleep sweet and refreshing, gaining flesh; am less nervous than I have been for years; feel bright and bouyant * * * It is almost miraculous, making a young man out of one of seventy, for that is just what your treatment is doing for me. I wish the community to know in as modest a way as we can get at it."

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.98
Increase over previous year	3,431,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,688.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078.87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

J. R. STRATTON.

Married at St. John's.

At St. John's church this afternoon the marriage of Mr. Ed. Forsyth and Miss Etta Craig, both of Duluth, Minn., was celebrated in the vestry by Rev. E.B. Kenrick, in the presence of a very few witnesses. The bride is a sister of Mr. J. D. Craig, of Craig & Mooney. She formerly lived in Peterborough, and has many old friends and acquaintances, who will wish her every happiness. Mr. Forsyth is a rising young business man of Duluth. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of Miss M Donnelly, South Peterborough, where lunch was partaken of. The bride received a large number of handsome presents, many of which came from the friends of the young couple in Duluth. Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth leave on the 5.50 train this evening for their western home.

Another Attraction for the Central.

Secretary Collins, of the Central Exhibition, has closed negotiations with S J. Dixon, of Toronto, the celebrated Canadian tight-rope walker, for three performances on the second day of the fair. Mr. Dixon earned a world-wide reputation recently by crossing the whirlpool at Niagara Falls upon a cable strung from shore to shore at a height of several hundred feet. Mr. Dixon will use the same cable here. The rope will be strung from the top of the exhibition building to a pole which will be erected on the grounds for the purpose.

A letter received from Prof. Dean, who will exhibit his travelling dairy on the 22nd, states that in addition to the ordinary appliances for butter making, he will have with him also a Babcock Tester and Centrifugal Separator to be worked by hand. Farmers wishing to ascertain the quality of the milk given by their cows are requested to bring along samples for testing.

Fire at Mount Pleasant.

On Tuesday night, about 9 30, a fire broke out in the barns on the farm of Abram Webster, at Mount Pleasant, Cavan. They contained the season's crop ready for the thresher. The barn, 100 feet long, stables and outbuildings, sheds, etc., with their contents were destroyed. The crops contained in the buildings belonged to the Bloxom brothers, who had the lease of the farm. Without further particulars as to insurance, etc., an estimate of the loss cannot be made.

A Successful Mission Picnic.

A correspondent writes: On Tuesday afternoon the children and parents of the South Ward Baptist Sunday School, to the number of about one hundred and twenty, drove a few miles out of town and spent a very pleasant afternoon. The children enjoyed themselves playing ball and other games. Candies and nuts were given as prizes for all races by the children, for which a small sum of money was given. A sumptuous tea was partaken of on the green. All returned home safe and sound about eight o'clock.

Fraternal Mystic Circle.

R. W. R. Bro. J. A. McMurtry, Toronto, Supreme Deputy of the Fraternal Mystic Circle, of Columbus, Ohio, a first class secret beneficial order, has been in town the past few days in the interest of this popular order, and reports he is meeting with his usual success, and proposes next week instituting a Ruling (lodge) with at least fifty representative citizens of the town. Mr. E. H. Turner, of Turner's music store, is the special deputy, and Dr. Scott, Brock street, is the medical examiner, to whom those seeking information may apply for full particulars.

Another Advertising Scheme.

Mr. Retallack, of Belleville, is in town representing the Electric Advertising Company. Mr. Retallack is this week soliciting advertisements from merchants, and, if he succeeds in getting sufficient advertising, will, every night during next week, give free open-air stereoptican entertainments in some public place, throwing views upon a large sheet of canvas and introducing the advertisements at regular intervals. It is probable he will choose Central Park for his show ground. Mr. Retallack has operated at Belleville, Trenton and Cobourg within the past few weeks.

Come to my Arms, Bobby Darlin'.

At the Police Court this morning an amusing trial took place. Mrs. Staunton, of Wolfe st., charged Robt. Lockhart with using abusive and insulting language towards her. Lockhart boards with Mrs. Cunningham, a next door neighbor of Mrs. Staunton's. Mrs. Staunton stated that Lockhart had called her a vile name when he came to the door of her house and she ordered him away. They were strangers, and Mrs. Staunton said she would put up with his annoyance no longer. Lockhart on the contrary denied that he had ever spoken harshly to Mrs. Staunton, but the latter had herself called him a liar and a bull-dog. He further stated that Mrs. Staunton had frequently brought up his name in disagreeable ways, and on the day in question, while he was whistling "Come to my Arms Nora Darling," Mrs. Staunton from her own kitchen took the air and sang "Come to My Arms, Bobby Darling." Their houses were close together and there was no difficulty in hearing each other. Lockhart evidently thought the response an amicable overture, for he walked over to Mrs. Staunton's front door and then ensued the dispute during which it was alleged abusive language was used. Mrs. Cunningham, with whom Lockhart boarded, took the defendant's part and said she heard all that passed between him and Mrs. Staunton and that he never said such words as were imputed to him. From her evidence it appears that there is an enmity between the two women, which is probably the cause of the whole trouble. A mysterious "Mrs. McGinty" figured in the evidence in connection with Lockhart's name, and the insinuation contained in Mrs. Staunton's misquotation of the old song probably implied the insult which Lockhart seemed to feel had been offered him. The identity of "Mrs. McGinty" was not disclosed, though an easy inference may be drawn. Mrs. Cunningham's testimony supported the defendant and the plaintiff was fairly sworn "out of sight." The case was dismissed, the magistrate advising all parties to act more civilly and considerately towards each other in future.

AN IMPOSING SPECTACLE.

Solomon, His Temple and the Queen of Sheba.

Presented by John Robinson's Great World's Exposition.

To the skeptic or the agnostic as well as to the devout believer in the Sacred Scriptures, the era of the great King Solomon's reign is and can be naught but the most impressive, the most interesting and the grandest in all history. There are no parallels in all the records of the past; nothing approximating in grandeur, in wisdom and sublimity, in any chronicle of modern ages. It was, then, a felicitous conception of the management of John Robinson's Great World's Exposition to reproduce the scenes, personages, incidents and events of the reign of Solomon, the grand old patriarch, sage and king. That they have done this thoroughly, acceptably and successfully, the public and the press, everywhere the Robinson show has exhibited this season, unanimously attest. Their great biblical spectacle, in its powerful scenographic effects, in its accurate and realistic personations, and the sumptuous lavishness attending its representation is pronounced with universal accord to be not only a triumph in art, but a revelation in the history of the past that has never had a precedent. Our citizens will have the opportunity of seeing this grand spectacle in connection with the manifold other wonders of the John Robinson show on Tuesday, September 8th.

A Methodist Church

Laying of the Corner Stone Under Orange Auspices at Tweed.

Editor's Table.

Grip for August 29th is even richer than usual, and if anything were wanting to vindicate Grip's claim to be an independent journal this issue would do it. The principal cartoons deal trenchantly, and at the same time amusingly, with the scandals of the day, and the other pictorial and literary contents are sparkling with humor. Another Irish letter from "Teddy Tierney" is among the best of the good things. Get a copy at the Peterborough bookstore.

THE DOMINION ILLUSTRATED.

The Maritime Province penitentiary, at Dorchester, N.B., is described in the last issue of the Dominion Illustrated, with a series of fine illustrations reproduced from photographs. St. Anne's, the most charming summer resort in the vicinity of Montreal, affords two fine pages of illustrations, and there are fine views from Sault Ste. Marie and from the Rocky Mountain region. Type of Britain's Colonial troops is a fine page, and Milan Cathedral is another beautiful engraving. There are realistic sketches and laughable cartoons, besides brilliant features in this charming number.

A MAGAZINE WRITTEN BY WOMEN.

As was expected, the greatest interest has been exhibited in the new story by Amelie Rives which was begun in the August number of the Cosmopolitan. The second part appears in the September number, and the story will close in the following issue.

The September issue of the Cosmopolitan magazine is a "woman's number" so far as the authorship of its articles is concerned, but the general interest of the periodical is sustained by the variety and timeliness of the topics treated. The opening article, on Edouard Detaille, is by Lady Dilke, and is profusely and beautifully illustrated with reproductions of the famous artist's most noteworthy paintings. A Forgotten City, by Eleanor Lewis, is a romantic description of the ruins of Solunto, the Sicilian Pompeii, embellished with photographs. Maimaison in the Market, by Mary Bacon Ford, describes the waning fortunes of the house celebrated for the residence there of the ill-fated Empress Josephine. Julia Hayes Percy describes the Ladies' New York Club in an entertaining article to which Harry Fenn has contributed illustrations. Elizabeth Bisland writes of Tattersall's, the great London horse market, and the family who have given it name and fame. Molly Elliott Seawell contributes the "Romance of Count Konigsmark," the titled adventurer, for whom the wife of George I. of England spent thirty years in prison; and the Countess Ella Norranow writes of Woman's Share in Russian Nihilism, her article being illustrated with portraits of many fair conspirators. There are besides papers on the Evolution of the Society Journal, by Mrs. Roger A. Pryor; Society Women as Authors, by Anna Vernon Dorsey; a pretty story, Il Mandolinista, by Daisy O'Brien, and verses by Katharine Grosjean, Mrs. Charles B. Foote, and Susan Hartley Swett, all the important articles being liberally illustrated.

The Peterborough Cricket club is advertised to play at Campbellford next Monday, but as yet no steps are being taken to get up a team. If the match is not to be allowed to go by default, it is high time the cricketers were preparing for it.

Boating Accident at Stony Lake.

A Correspondent writes:—An accident that might have been with serious consequences happened on Stony Lake on Tuesday morning the 25th Aug. A couple of Montreal gentlemen had been enjoying a cruise in their canoe with two large sails during the morning, the lake was rough and quite a stiff breeze was blowing, and when opposite Ivanhoe Islands and near to Mr. Merritt's cottage, the canoe was seen to upset and its occupants clung to the upturned boat. Fortunately the steamer Golden City was lying at Mr. Merritt's wharf and seeing the accident, made for the swamped boat with all haste, and took them on board. With such a wind and sea but for the timely assistance of the "Golden City" the occupants of the canoe might have had difficulty in reaching land.

Few children can be induced to take physic without a struggle, and no wonder—most drugs are extremely nauseating. Ayer's Pills, on the contrary, being sugar-coated, are easily swallowed by the little ones, and are, therefore, the favourite family medicine.

MARRIED.

SHERLOCK—KNIGHT.—In Chicago, Illinois, at the residence of the bride's father, 464 West Congress street, on Saturday, August 22nd, 1891, Mr. Tom Sherlock (formerly of Peterborough, Ont.), to Miss Nellie Knight, eldest daughter of Mr. C. W. Knight (formerly of Port Hope, Ont.)

MR. BARRON. I am sure the Minister of Railways will be inclined to offer me some sort of an apology after hearing what the member for East Peterborough (Mr. Burnham) said just now, because whatever might be said in regard to my political motives could not be said in regard to either of the two hon. members for the County of Peterborough, who could have no such motives against the Government and especially against the Minister of Railways. I thank these hon. gentlemen for supporting what I said. I was very glad to hear the hon. member for West Peterborough (Mr. Stevenson) speak as he did. I know the exceedingly enviable reputation he bears in Peterborough for everything just and upright, but last session I found that two or three times he wore a different face towards the Government from that which he wore to his constituents at home, so I was agreeably surprised to-night to hear him take the Government to task for their unnecessary delays in this way. I hope the hon. member will be in regard to this canal as he apparently has promised to be to-night. I did notice that the member for West Peterborough showed a great amount of knowledge in regard to this canal. I think that, judging from the comparative knowledge on this subject of the hon. member for West Peterborough and that of the Minister of Railways in regard to this work, they should substitute places.

MR. WALLACE. Explain that, please, "substitute places."

MR. BARRON. I do not know where the hon. member for West York (Mr. Wallace) was educated, but if he will send for the dictionary he will find the word "substitute" and the word "places" and he can find that out for himself. I am glad that the hon. members for East and West Peterborough have assisted me in regard to the bridge, and in all earnestness I say to the Minister, who thought I was in error in stating that $4 000 was not sufficient, that it is and I say further that, when he put that amount in the Estimates, I am sure he had no idea of applying it for the removal of the obstruction caused by that bridge. If this discussion is going to finish, I would ask the Minister if he will be kind enough to tell me what is the salary of the lockmasters at Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon and Buckhorn?

MR. BOWELL. I cannot speak positively. I am informed that it is about $200 to $250 per annum, but that can be easily learned by looking at the Auditor General's Report. I desire to state to the hon. member for Simcoe (Mr. Spohn) that the surveys he refers to have been made by the engineer, and the figures I have given have been based upon the route which has been selected. If the hon. gentleman would like to know what they are, I have no objections to give the calculations. I suppose he would call the western section the portion from Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay or from Lake Couchiching to Matchedash Bay. From Lake Couchiching to Matchedash Bay, a distance of 13·21 miles, the estimate is $1,882,400. From Lake Simcoe to Couchiching is navigable. Still the eastern section below that will be from Balsam Bay to Lake Simcoe, 17·74 miles, which will cost $2,067 134. The works are completed from Peterborough to Balsam Lake, and that with the distance to Matchedash Bay, will make a total to the Georgian Bay of 58.67 miles.

* * * * * * *

MR. STEVENSON. I suppose I am to understand from the hon. member for North Wellington (Mr. McMullen) that if I want this undertaking completed, I must lose no time in pressing it upon the Government, because if he and his friends come into power, they would be sure to upset the whole thing. I presume he wants us to understand that he speaks as a probable Minister of Agriculture, and on this question. How does the hon. member for North Victoria (Mr. Barron) like that? And how do other hon. gentlemen opposite, who stand in the same position that I do, like that announcement from such a high authority as the hon. member for North Wellington? If he has expressed the opinion of his party on the subject, it is well for us to know their exact position on this matter. We know very well that when they were in power before, they did nothing towards it; they threw the whole thing into the hands of the Ontario Government, and the Ontario Government gave a charter to a company who built this very bridge which prevented navigation at this place. That is a point that should not be forgotten; they have no right to throw stones at us. We are acting in the best interest of that section of the country, and nobody should blame us for trying to get that canal built. We have received very little consideration from the hands of any Government in that section of the country, although we pay heavy taxes, our imports are very large, and we pay a very large amount to support the Government, and I see no reason why we should get such a knock-down as the member for North Wellington has given us to-night. If that is his opinion with regard to this scheme, it is well that our people should know it, and that we should know where the Opposition stand.

MR. MCMULLEN. From the standpoint of my hon. friend I do not think it matters very much which party may be in power, if they are going to take as much time to complete this route as they have taken already in doing what has been done. If I am rightly informed, it took the Government

FOUR YEARS TO COMPLETE THIS LOCK.

Now, I understand there are 71 lock yet to complete, and if it takes four years to complete each lock, it will be 284 years before they are all finished, and I am afraid that neither my hon. friend nor myself will live to see that work completed.

MR. MCLOCK. This is an ever annual recurring subject of discussion in this House, having received a considerable stimulus in 1884, when a large deputation of distinguished men from the territory in question—and I dare say the hon. member from Peterborough who has just spoken (Mr. Stevenson), was one of the deputation, or if not, he feels he ought to have been—at all events, such a deputation came down here to interview the then Minister of Railways (Sir Charles Tupper) and other members of the Government. I remember hearing them declare that no Government could be allowed to stand, no Government could have the confidence of that part of the country, unless they at once, if not sooner, completed this great canal. On that occasion Sir Charles Tupper declared that there were no engineering or financial difficulties in the way, and he pledged himself and to the immediate completion of that work. The Minister of Customs smiles; I have no doubt that his recollection will corroborate me in this statement.

MR. BOWELL. It does, with the exception of the word "immediate."

MR. MULOCK. I do not know what particular time was mentioned, but I do believe it was intimated that it would happen before another election, which must have been within five years. At all events, the deputation on that occasion, composed of persons very like my hon. friend—who is blowing, I suppose, hot and cold on this question—declared that no Government could have the support of that part of the country unless they actually proceeded with the construction of the work. Now, there has been a great deal of hedging for three or four years on the subject. I do not find any member from that section of the country, with the exception of the hon. member for North Victoria (Mr. Barron), who seems to be earnest in passing this measure through. They seem to be only too glad to let the matter sleep and be forgotten if possible. When a small item appears in the Estimates and a discussion arises, hon. gentlemen opposite pose before the public as being still actively concerned in the development of this great work. Where do they stand to day in regard to it? What has become of the great public opinion that existed in the Trent Valley in 1883 84? What has become of the commissioner's report? The commission took two or three years in which to prepare a report. Now that the Government have the report of the commission declaring the work a feasible one, what is the policy of the Administration on the work as a whole? Does the Administration as a through line, and simply use it for local purposes, or does it propose to carry out the work as originally contemplated as a through route by which the wealth of the Northwest would come down and find an outlet in Lake Ontario? That was the scheme to which the Government pledged itself, the one for which the people of that section of the country declared themselves, and the scheme which secured many a seat in that section for the Government. If the contract is not to be carried out, the people should know it, in order that the people may be able to express themselves at the polls. At present it is right that the Government should announce to the public what their policy is in regard to the general scheme. I ask the acting Minister of Railways to announce the policy of the Government as to this scheme.

PROPOSE TO ABANDON THE WORK

MR. BOWELL. All they ask, at present, is the money for these works of absolute necessity in connection with the scheme. When the supplementary estimates come down, we will be in a position to announce exactly what the policy is for the future.

MR. BARRON. Then, when the supplementary estimates come down the Government will announce their policy?

MR. BOWELL. I said we should be in a position to do so.

MR. BARRON. And you will do so?

MR. POWELL. I did not say so.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system. I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

On Fire with Eczeme

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning were intense; the eczema spread to his hands, bro ut, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torments agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has never as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

DEATH OF THE LAST OF THE OFFICERS OF WATERLOO.

The Storms in England Continue Guards at Copenhagen Have Been Redoubled

The Disaster on the Loch Lomond May Result in Good

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—The continued bad weather has caused great injury to the grain crop. In many parts of the country harvesting has been suspended and severe distress is looked for in some districts. The Roman Catholic clergy of Ireland have been instructed to pray for fair weather and to urge their congregations to follow their example in this respect.

KILLED IN THE CHURCH.

Three Women Struck Down by Lightning While at Worship.

VIENNA, Aug. 28.—A terrible thunder storm swept over the Tyrol district yesterday, causing several fatalities. Lightning struck a church at Tualis on the Italian frontier, while the building was crowded with women. A fearful scene followed; women and children shrieking and praying on their knees, or rushing wildly for the church doors. The priest who was celebrating mass at the time acted in a most praiseworthy and courageous manner, and vigorously exhausting the troubled women he succeeded in restoring order. Subsequently it was found that three women, who were supposed to have fainted from fright, had actually been killed by the lightning which struck the church.

At Pian a Durlin, county was struck by lightning, and one of the parties was killed and four others were paralyzed by the electric shock.

MURDEROUS PIRATES.

Five Hundred of Them Terrorizing the Coast of China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Advices from Shanghai state that a gang of 500 armed pirates are creating havoc in the Province of Wenchow. Their progress through the country has been marked by the most cruel and cool blooded crimes. Villages have been burned right and left by them when refused hospitality and the inhabitants men, women and children slaughtered. The object of the pirates seems to be the capture of influential people to hold them for ransom. Recently the gang has been marching southward, looting, burning and murdering as they proceed.

DRIVEN FROM MOSCOW.

Last of the Jewish Residents Forced to Leave.

LONDON, Aug. 28. A dispatch from Moscow says that even the Jewish merchants of the first guild are preparing to leave the city. The latest order makes it impossible for them to carry on business, as Jews are not allowed to employ Christians, and all other Jews being the merchants of the first guild being ordered to leave Moscow the merchants can no longer conduct their traffic. Besides, the freedom of the guild is liable to yearly revocation and would not probably be renewed.

The result will be that in the course of a few months Moscow will be entirely clear of Jews. Owing to the fact that Jews are being sent back in large numbers on account of destitution from Germany and Austria, the Russian Government has issued orders to the police to abstain from plundering Jews who are on their way out of Russia.

To Reform Criminals.

CONSTANTA, Aug. 28.—A large section of country now in course of being cleared of criminals and the best means to be taken to improve the criminal classes are passed a resolution in favor of the exclusion of the principle of fines. The Congress holds that instead of sentencing criminals to fines, or imprisonment that fines ought to be determined upon and inflicted in proportion to the position of the criminal, when such a course is deemed advisable. The resolution also says these fines should be payable in instalments and when a sentence of imprisonment is imposed the offenders ought to be granted the option of a fine as a means of reducing the term of imprisonment.

An Elephant as an Executioner.

LONDON, Aug. 28. A dispatch from Tangiers says that the elephant presented by Queen Victoria to the sultan of Morocco is to be utilized by that potentate at Fez to trample the bodies of unfortunates taken captive in the recent rebellion. The sultan is highly pleased with this new mode of crushing his enemies out of existence and has a new lot brought on every day. They are laid in a row and the elephant is made to step on them. The animal has struck great terror into the Moors, who never saw an elephant before, both on account of its great size and the interesting use to which it is being put by the sultan. One step is said to be quite enough if applied in the right place.

The Loch Lomond Disaster.

LONDON, Aug 28. The Agricultural Department is investigating and is expected to take action shortly in regard to the British steamship Loch Lomond, which arrived Aug. 23 at Dundee from Montreal, after having lost a large number of cattle during very heavy weather on the Atlantic, and for two days cattlemen were unable to approach them.

It appears from the investigation made that the Loch Lomond was originally intended for the trans Atlantic trade, and stalls improvised on her decks for the accommodation of cattle were hastily and flimsily built. When the steamship met with bad weather these stalls were soon demolished, and by the cattle tacking and pitching up against each other 120 head were killed.

Actress Leonora Dead.

LONDON, Aug. 28 Miss Leonora Mitchell, the American actress who was found shot under mysterious circumstances in a railroad carriage between Leicester and Bedford about two weeks ago, died yesterday. The police investigated the affair and came to the conclusion that the injuries from which Miss Mitchell was suffering were self-inflicted.

EIGHTY-FIVE PASSENGERS GO OVER A DECLIVITY.

A North Carolina Wreck Results Disastrously—One of the Most Shocking Railway Accidents on Record—An Appalling Death List.

STATESVILLE, N. C., Aug. 28. A western bound train on the West North Carolina Railroad jumped a trestle near here yesterday about 2 o'clock. The train plunged in the darkness into an abyss 200 feet in depth, dashing the car into splinters.

Eighty five passengers were on board the train. The killed already brought to Statesville are reported as follows, Perry Barnett and Charles Barnett of Hendersonville, Samuel Gorman of Asheville, William West of Salisbury, a fireman, a lady unknown, Julius Pfifer, a drummer, a porter unknown, Charles Webber of Carson, Conn., a colored man unknown, an old lady unknown, Mrs. Poole of Williamston, N. C., W. J. Fisher of Campbell, S. C., a white man unknown, W. T. Winslow of Asheville, William Houston of Greensboro, William Davis of Statesville, J. R. Austin of Hickory, Rev. J. M. Sykes of Clarksville, Tenn., Doc Wells, porter, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. McCormick of Alexander, Buncombe County.

State Auditor Sanderlin was badly hurt. But few of the people on the train were saved. The Asheville Fire Company, returning from a convention at Durham, was on board the train and it is supposed many of its members were killed.

The wreck occurred at Boston's bridge, two miles west of Statesville. Passenger train No. 9, known as the fast mail which is made up as Salisbury pulled out at 1 a. m. loaded with passengers. It was composed of a baggage and a mail car, second and first class coaches, Pullman sleeper and Superintendent Bridges' private car Daisy. The sleeper which was from Goldsboro contained a good number of passengers from northern points. The run to Statesville was made on time, a distance of 25 miles, but just after leaving Statesville there is a high stone bridge spanning Third Creek and down into this creek plunged the entire train, a distance of at least 65 feet, wrecking the whole train and carrying death and destruction with it. Twenty passengers were killed outright. 9 seriously injured and about 20 badly bruised and shook up. The scene at the wreck beggars description. The night was dismal and to add to the horror of the situation the water in the creek was up. It was only through the most heroic efforts of those who hurried to the scene that the injured were not drowned.

The accident was caused by the spreading of the rails. The bridge was not injured and the trains are running on schedule time. Twenty dead bodies are now lying in a warehouse at Statesville. The injured are having the best of care at private residences and hotels. Eighteen of the dead have been identified. Mrs. Pool was drowned before and could reach her. Three bodies have not been identified. One of these is an old lady, another is a lady with a ticket in her pocket, which reads, "Mrs. George McCormick and mother, Elmwood, N. C., to Alexander, N. C." The third is also a lady, apon her fingers is a ring engraved "T. H. W. to M. E. R." It is thought that all the bodies have not been taken out of the debris, which is piled up so high that it is impossible to make a thorough examination.

Crowds have flocked to the scene all day. The accident has cast a gloom over the entire community. Not a soul came out of the scene alive.

The Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28. The Railway Committee of the House was continued yesterday. There was a succession of scenes and discussions. Mr. Barwick made a masterly summing up. Senator Robitaille appealed to the committee to investigate. Francois Langelier's charge that the old Company had embezzled $115,000 and appointed Mr. Barwick to appear for him.

Senator Pelletier appeared on the scene and deposed that he had endorsed several of the notes made by Pecaud and endorsed first by Mercier. These notes had been drawn in blank, endorsed by Mercier and left with him before Mercier sailed for Europe. As the elections being over it was thought Mercier's friends would want help in the matter of election petitions, the proceeds of the notes were either deposited in Quebec courts or were at present in the provincial treasury. He knew the notes were overdue, but had not troubled whether they were paid or not, as he had depended on the party winning the election petitions. He did not know how many notes he endorsed or how they were paid.

Defeat of the Insurgents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28. Senior Lazcano, the Chilian Minister at Washington, to day received a cablegram dated Valparaiso, the 20th, from M. Aldunate, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, saying that on the 25th the insurgents army was completely defeated in Vina del Mar. A division of the Chilian Government army cut off their retreat to the ships and obliged them to surrender unconditionally. All the country, the despatch adds, applauds the valor and skill of the Government army.

Died in a Fit.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—John Timms, aged about 45, a painter in the employ of the street railway, was found dead in the blacksmiths' shed, at the foot of Princess street on the Esplanade. It is supposed he died in a fit. Deceased had no home. His wife is in the Asylum for Insane and his children are scattered in various sections.

A Nice Mother, This.

CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 26. The pitiful wailing of a baby in a closed-up house at Sixteenth and Walnut streets from early morning attracted the attention of Alderman Beal. In company with Officer Burton he broke into the place barely in time to save a tiny life. Martha Cooper, the infant's mother had her heart set on going to the camp meeting at Lamokin and she left the baby without food or water while she sang hymns with the brethren. She was promptly arrested for cruelty upon her return and spent to-day in the lock-up.

YESTERDAY AT OTTAWA.

THE PRINTING BUREAU SCANDAL INVESTIGATION.

A Remarkable Letter From Superintendent Senecal, Whose Resignation has Been Accepted—Mr. Barwick and the Alleged Quebec Boodling—The Cattle Men in Arms.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—The investigation into the Printing Bureau scandal was continued before the public accounts Committee yesterday.

Before Mr. Wallace swore Arthur W. Croil, the proprietor of the National Publishing and Electrotyping Company, this letter was read after messengers had been despatched to Mr. Senecal's office:

OTTAWA, Aug. 26, 1891.

To Clarke Wallace, Esq., M. P., Chairman Public Accounts Committee:

I have held myself at the disposal of your committee for several weeks, contrary to the formal prescription of my doctor in order to furnish my desirable information as to the purchases and as to the expenses of the Government printing office. I should have been able in one sitting to have given that information, and immediately thereafter to have taken the rest I needed. But I see that the committee is not anxious to secure that information. I can no longer delay complying with my doctor's orders. It would have been easy to convince the committee that all the contracts were honestly and scrupulously made, and that no commission or advantage for myself or for others was stipulated for or taken into consideration. In any event it would have been easy to prove that the purchases were made for the Government at lower prices than any private individual could have made them for himself, but that was not, it seems, what the committee wanted. According to my understanding of the law, the Civil Service Act, as also the oath taken by employes, forbid the receiving from the Government of any other remuneration than the regular salary. But it does not forbid, it cannot forbid, testimonials of esteem and of cordial relations from friend to friend. Under these circumstances the system of low spying and vile anonymous information now so freely resorted to is of no utility. But the contrary opinion seems to prevail in your committee and elsewhere, and I have tendered my resignation. I have worked often, late into the night to make the National printing office what it is, and my work will stand my answer to the calumniators and fanatics who have sought my ruin.

Your humble servant,

A. SENECAL.

Arthur W. Croil, the proprietor of the National Electrotyping Company of Toronto had known Mr. Senecal for two or three years. His business dealings with him had been unimportant. While acting as agent for W. J. Ostrander of Chicago, he had sold the Printing Bureau, through Senecal, about $4000 worth of stuff. He had given him at one time or another about $150. There was no understanding between them as to Senecal's repaying the loan. The money was paid over in Croil's office in Toronto. Senecal had come in at various times and had told Croil that he was hard up and wanted some money.

"Now, said Mr. Lister, "was this a clear gift?"

"Yes, I never expected to get it back."

Mr. Croil went on to tell of how McIlroy, the agent of the Potter Printing Press Company of New York, had told him that the Bureau had bought 16 presses from his firm. With this transaction Croil had nothing to do.

To Hon. Mr. Foster the witness stated that the prices of the goods sold to the Bureau were low. The money given to Senecal was a genuine commission; no discount was allowed.

Robert L. Patterson said the Bureau had bought $66,542 worth of goods up to the end of last year. The total amount was between $80,000 and $90,000. He heard that Senecal was negotiating with the Dominion Type Foundry and went to see him.

What did Alfred W. Smith and Samuel Beatty get out of the business? asked Mr. Lister.

Alfred Smith did not get anything, and Samuel Beatty got $200. The reason Beatty got the money was that he was supposed to have a pull, and we thought he could do us some good. Smith was never offered anything. Senecal came into my office in Toronto several times and usually got money. He did not have any other reason to come. He was always hard up and usually said he was buying property and needed money. He got sums varying from $100 to $10.

Then Mr. Patterson told how he cautioned Senecal that he was going in for risky business in taking money.

"I was told," said the witness, "that the usual custom in dealing with the Government was to give a few honorary sums."

The total amount of money paid the firm of Millar & Richard by the Government was between eighty and ninety thousand dollars. The amount given to Senecal by Patterson was between $4,000 and $6,000. He gave the money to Senecal because he had got him the contract for supplying the type, etc., and would give any man a commission for doing so himself in order. The Dominion Government was the largest type owner in the world now. As far as he could see they needed it.

"You're a nice fellow," said Wood of Brockville. "To my mind you're as bad as Senecal," at which there was feeble applause.

Mr. Patterson smiled blandly and said never a word.

Mr. Wood pursued Mr. Patterson. "He wanted to know whether Senecal got more money than was usually given to one bringing over an order.

Mr Patterson assured him he had not.

Mr. Chaplean then took a hand in, and showed that the Government had got the benefit of the commission. Mr. Patterson was the loser if anybody was. The Government got good type cheaper. The ordinary way could get them.

"Why," asked Mr. Murdock, "did Mr. Beatty get money and Smith nothing?"

"Well, we had an idea that Mr. Beatty had more influence with Sir John and Mr. Chapleau than Smith had."

Mr. Casgrain—Is it true that Beatty and Smith got a commission of $2500 each?

"No," said Mr. Patterson, with much emphasis.

Mr. Wood asked Mr. Patterson had ever been asked for receipts by Mr. Beatty and was told that he had not.

P. T. Pecaud, the vice president of the Barber & Ellis Co., was the next witness. He had sold Senecal book binders' leathers, cloth, cords and other material. The prices were about 15 per cent. or $20,000 in three years. Mr. Senecal had got presents to the amount of $2000, which, as Mr. Wood pointed out, was 10 per cent. of sales. That was about the usual commission paid on accounts. The money was given to Senecal when the latter was visiting Toronto. Six million envelopes had been purchased by the stationary department from the firm, but the orders in a few cases were changed in the usual manner. The prices were mentioned and Senecal claimed that he had caused the order to be given. The department has a price list, so they could find out what any goods would cost.

"Now," asked Mr. Lister, "did not Senecal once go to your house and tell you that the Government was going to buy envelope machines?"

"Yes," said the witness, "but they never did. Senecal never got any money from me by check."

The witness then stated that he had paid Bronskill, who was Superintendent of Stationery, $400 at various times. He sent Bronskill's wife $200 to go to the seaside with when she was very ill, and gave Bronskill $200 in two instalments. Bronskill gave a note for the amount, but he never expected to get paid. The firm was charged for the money. It was not a private gift. Bronskill was never asked to meet the note.

Mr. Wood (Brockville): You gave the money because it would help you in your business, not because his wife was ill.

"Well, a firm sometimes gives presents, but not usually money," was the reply.

The next to testify was J. Dixon Craig the member for East Durham. His brother has a big tannery in Port Hope and sells sheepskins wherewith to bind books to the department. Mr. Senecal suggested to Mr. Craig, the tanner, that he give him a contribution to the election fund. Mr. Craig is not that sort of man, and straightway went and told his brother, the M. P. Hearing the tanner's story, the M. P. became indignant and told Mr. Senecal he would not get a cent.

John F. Ellis, treasurer of the Barber & Ellis Company and managing director of the Manufacturer's Life Insurance Company, acknowledged to Mr. Lister that he had on behalf of the Barber & Ellis Company, gone to Riviere du Loup to get a contract from Sir John A. Macdonald, "but," he added mournfully, "I didn't get it." He had nothing to do with the contract part of the business. He knew nothing about Bronskill's tips.

THE CATTLE EXPORTERS

Interview the Government Respecting the Slaughtering of the U. S. Cattle.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Mr. Abbott's announcement in the Senate that it was probable that the Government would admit American cattle for slaughter in Canada has raised a storm of indignation among cattle dealers all over the country. A deputation consisting of G. F. Franklin, J. Dunn and T. Crawford, Toronto, accompanied by Messrs. Sproule, Wood (Westmoreland), Henderson, Burnham, Carpenter and other M. P.'s waited on Mr. Abbott and Mr. Carling yesterday to protest against it. They pointed out in the strongest way that this action would completely destroy the cattle trade with Great Britain, for that country would at once compel Canadian cattle to submit to quarantine. Even the privilege now granted to Americans to ship cattle through Canada, from Windsor to the Suspension Bridge, caused Canadian cattle to be suspected in the English market.

The Ministers were disposed to think that no danger was involved if proper precautions were observed, but, after listening to the arguments of the deputation, said they would again consider the matter.

In the House yesterday Mr. Haggart said in reply to a question that application had been made for permission to import American cattle for slaughter at Three Rivers. The proposition was that no part of the product should be used in this country, but that it should be exported. The proposition was still under the consideration of the Government. He assured the House that if the proposition involved any danger to the cattle trade with Great Britain it would not be entertained.

Mr. Marshall protested against any action being taken until the House was put in possession of all the proposed regulations.

Mr. Haggart said all the correspondence would be brought down before any action would be taken.

In this connection it may be remarked that the International Abbatoir Company, which proposes to slaughter American cattle at Three Rivers, Que., will give notice in the next Canada Gazette for letters of incorporation with a capital stock of $1,500,000.

REDUCED TO 15.

A Motion of Censure Proposed by Sir Richard Cartwright.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—In the House yesterday afternoon Mr. Wallace presented the report of the Public Accounts Committee, reporting that Andre Senecal, superintendent of the Printing Bureau, had been summoned to appear before the committee and had disobeyed the summons. Mr. Lister moved that Andre Senecal be ordered to attend the bar of the House on Tuesday next at 3 p. m.

On the motion to go into supply, Sir Richard Cartwright moved an amendment with reference to the use of Governor-General's warrants. He referred particularly to the warrant for $75,000 for the C. P. R. postal arrangements, issued April 28, 1891, one day before the opening of Parliament and to the warrant for $200,000 on account of the Interoceanic issued about a month after Parliament prorogued last year. These expenditures could not have been the unforseen and extraordinary ones contemplated in the act. He therefore moved an amendment declaring that the issuing of these warrants was a gross abuse of the power vested in the Governor in Council, and that the conduct of the Government in neglecting to apply to Parliament in due time for the money required, indicated great laxity in administration and deserves the censure of the House. The amendment was defeated by 82 yeas to 97 nays, giving the Government a majority of 15.

AFTER THIRTY-SIX YEARS.

Levi Hertzell Has That Status to Explain to His Family.

STILLWATER, Minn., Aug. 27. In the fall of 1842 Levi Hertzell located at Point Douglass, Minn., opening a general merchandise trade. In 1845 he married Miss Rhoda Fawn of Stillwater. Three children were born to them. In the spring of 1855 Hertzell left for New York, ostensibly to buy goods, taking with him $45,000. He was never seen again by his family or friends. The natural conclusion reached was that he had been robbed and murdered. Meantime the children grew up and married.

The widow married a Stillwater man named McLaughlin, but the couple soon separated and she went to live with her son Theodore in Washington. Theodore always believed his father was living. A few months ago he advertised in New York papers and recently received a postal that his father was living in an inner town of Connecticut. Telegrams passed and now the aged prodigal is en route to his family and they will be reunited after a separation of 36 years.

PINING FOR A BABY.

The Curious Mania of Christina Ward—Her Attack on a Lady.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.—Yesterday afternoon as a lady with a child was walking quietly up Adelaide street west, a tall, handsome and well-dressed young woman rushed up to her and attempted to take the child. She declared that the infant was hers and insisted on obtaining possession of it. Both mother and child began to weep and scream which attracted the attention of Policeman Wallace who promptly arrested the strange woman. On being brought to the station she gave her name as Christina Ward, age 22, and single. She said she came from Stouffville. Her whole desire appears to be to obtain possession of a baby.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

Probably the Immortal Bard had no direct reference to our business when he penned those words, but it applies, nevertheless, as our experience has proven that there is only profit in trade when customers are pleased. There is not a remarkable profit in Cottons just now, but we continue to sell 20 yds for $1. 15 yds heavy, yard wide cotton for $1. Good Black Cashmeres, 20c. would make a profitable dress. Grey unshrinkable Flannels, 12c. Heavy Melton Dress Goods, 10c, 12½c 15c.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1891.

THE apparently triumphal march of Mr. Howard Vincent through Canada is accounted for by the Monetary Times on the ground that "he did not specially run counter to any political party, and because his movements were not considered of sufficient importance to render necessary a counter movement to try their strength or demonstrate their weakness."

THE census figures issued at Ottawa Thursday will be a wet blanket upon the N. P. men for the next ten years, assuming that the N. P. lasts as long. The percentage of increase during the ten years was only 11.52. Here are the decennial rates of increase per cent. in the population of England and Wales:—

	Per cent.
1801 to 1811	14 30
1811 to 1821	18 06
1821 to 1831	15 80
1831 to 1841	14 52
1841 to 1851	12 65
1851 to 1861	11.93
1861 to 1871	13.19
1871 to 1881	12 11

The figures for the last decade are not at hand. Considering that England is a perfect rabbit-warren of inhabitants and that a couple hundred thousand of them emigrate to foreign lands every year, the comparison is a serious one for Canada. It shows that the exodus during the past decade of high protection and high debt has been greater than Liberals ever imagined it to be.

The Census.

It is probable that we shall all be more or less disappointed with the results of the census. The detailed figures are not of course completed yet, but the totals were made public Wednesday. The population of the Dominion is 4,823,344. It is added that whilst Ontario, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia shew increases, the population of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island has remained almost stationary since 1881.

Although pending the publication of the full figures it is impossible to deal with the subject closely, one can point out some general facts. Few countries in the world need population more than Canada, and few put forth more strenuous efforts to secure it. A large amount of money is spent every year upon the immigration service, and a great deal more upon the construction of railways and other public works designed to open new regions, attract settlers and stimulate production. The Federal debt, to say nothing of the debts of Quebec and other provinces, is there to witness that we have carried the policy of paternalism to an extraordinary length. In addition to these inducements, we offer the new comer free institutions, a healthful climate, and abundance of elbow room. There is room enough indeed for several nations. The gross area of the Dominion, excluding the great lakes and rivers, is 3,470,000 square miles. It is not all cultivable or even habitable, but if a very liberal reduction be made for waste and barren places, a truly vast empire still remains. According to the British census of 1881 England had a population of 487 to the square mile, Scotland 135, and Ireland 147. Laveleye, the Belgian economist, says somewhere that there are two persons to the acre, or nearly 1,300 to the square mile in parts of Flanders. In Canada at the census of 1881 the most thickly populated of the Provinces was Prince Edward Island with 51 persons to the square mile; then at a long interval came Nova Scotia with 21, New Brunswick, Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia following in the order given. Besides freedom, space and trade plenty, we possess an enormous amount of natural wealth awaiting development, together with railways, waterways, roads telegraphs and all the equipment of an advanced civilization. Nevertheless population increases but slowly. The following table taken in part from the returns since 1871, when the first census of the Dominion was made, and in part from Mr. George Johnson's excellent book on Canada issued in 1886 for the Colonial Exhibition, shows the population of all the territory now comprised in the federation at the years named:—

1834	1,302,961
1844	1,862 893
1851	2,547,158
1861	3,323,292
1871	3,636 596
1881	4 324 810
1891	4,823 344

The total for 1871 includes the population of Manitoba, British Columbia and Prince Edward Island, although the two last named were not admitted into the Dominion until later. In the States population doubles itself and a little more every thirty years, as will be seen by the American census totals:

1800	5 308,000
1810	7,230 881
1820	9 633 822
1830	12 866 020
1840	17 069 453
1850	23 191 876
1860	31,443,321
1870	38 558 371
1880	50 155 783
1890	62 622 250

The total in this column for 1890 is the revised count issued from Washington last fall, but it has to be augmented by the number of white persons in Indian territory. However, the point at issue is clearly established, namely, that population has doubled itself every thirty years. In Canada, on the other hand, the population has not doubled itself in the forty years from 1851 to 1891. To put the matter in a somewhat less forcible way, by percentages, the percentage of increase in the population of Canada during the last ten years has been less than twelve—some overcrowded European countries have often done better—whilst the percentage in the States from 1880 to 1890 was 24.85. In the States the gain by natural increase was 14.49 per cent., and the gain by immigration 10.45, so that our neighbours gained more by natural expansion alone than we have by natural expansion and immigration both put together. This brings us to the disheartening part of the subject. The increase of population in the Dominion during the last ten years has been under 500,000. Yet if the Government returns are to be believed we received during the decade about 850,000 settlers through immigration from Europe. In two years alone, 1883 to 1884, no fewer than 238,000 are said to have come in. What has become of them all, and of the natural growth of population in Canada itself, seeing that the apparent gain is only 500,000? If the reader cares, as he probably will, to the consistent that the exodus has done it, let him ask himself why there should be such a whacking some flight of population from a land like this. Does the phenomenon sustain the theory that we are living under the best of all trade policies?

In all likelihood the detailed figures will show, as those of Britain, Australia and the United States have shown, that the towns and cities are gaining population at the expense of the rural districts. It was otherwise forty years ago. In the first volume of the census of Upper and Lower Canada for 1851, attention was called to the rush into newer farming regions. The Gore and Wellington districts, the Western districts, and the London district are named as localities where an extraordinary increase of population had taken place, and special mention is made of the counties of Norfolk, Niagara and Oxford. "In eight years, says the official compiler, "the county of Oxford has doubled its population." The wheat crop of the two Provinces in 1851 was given as 16,202,000 bushels. The towns and cities grew in those days too. The population of Toronto had increased between 1841 and 1851 from 14,249 to 30,775, that of Kingston from 6 292 to 11,585, that of Hamilton from 2,846 in the year 1836 to 14,112 in 1851, and so on. But the most notable feature of that census and of the census of 1861 was the large development in the purely rural districts. Several explanations are hazarded of the universal movement citywards, such as the depression in agriculture, which has reduced the profits of farming, and the introduction of labour-saving machinery, which has in some degree displaced the agricultural labourer; but it is doubtful if the puzzle has been solved. The subject is an important one to us as well as to other communities, and we shall be thankful if Mr. Johnson's detailed returns of the present census throw light upon it. But by odds the gravest question for Canadians to consider is how to keep population from going out of the Dominion, after we have reared it and educated it and provided it with all that borrowed money can buy or build.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Keep it in the house. You will not [illegible] have a cough, a cold, or [illegible] need be afraid of [illegible] as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use.

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefit I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1883 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Tooker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which, by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Halston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. June 27th, 1891.

HEALTHFUL HOMES.

Some Points to Be Remembered If You Would Have Them.

A cemented floor under the whole area of a house is a sanitary necessity, because the "air in soils" is more or less impure at best There is no excuse for building under ground apartments in the country. They are never wholesome any where, and if families are compelled by stringent reasons to live in the city, where basement dining rooms and underground kitchens are the rule, they should endeavor to have an upper sitting-room and live in it as much as possible.

The very placing of a house on any ground and living in it, under ordinary circumstances, causes suction into its interior of impure soil air, because the air of the house is warmer than the air beneath it, and this induces a rush of the cold air to the warmer house atmosphere. The concreted floor will, in a great measure, do away with this difficulty, but not altogether Ventilation of cellars must, therefore, be attended to, no matter how clean and perfectly built they may be, in town or country. Annual lime whitewashing, an old custom, is decidedly a wholesome precaution, and every cellar should thus be treated especially in the autumn as the cellar will be kept closed more than in spring and summer.

Very important are the floors, woodwork, walls, and ceilings of a house. Their condition influences in a greater degree than might be imagined the health of the family. There cannot be any doubt that papered walls are not wholesome, that is, if the paper is of the ordinary kind in use, which is highly absorbent. There is a paper made, I think, in England, called "sanitary paper," which has a finely glazed surface, which may be scrubbed without injury to its texture or colors. This paper is probably as free from the objection named as any texture could be. This paper is much wider than the ordinary wall paper, and, as it is very strong and durable, does not cost more in the long run than ordinary wall paper, even if the first outlay is more than that expended for the less expensive grades of ordinary wall paper. Painted walls are the best for all living rooms, that is sitting-rooms and bedchambers. They are also best for dining-rooms, where there are always so many odors of food to absorb. Stained and varnished woodwork, or else painted woodwork, should rule, as neither is absorbent. The floors, especially, should never be left in the natural state, and I should advise all builders of houses to have their floors painted before living over them, where they are to be carpeted or otherwise covered, and stained and varnished where the intention is to show a portion or all the surface.

These measures, renewed as wear necessitates will prevent your house attaining that peculiar smell which is associated with old hands almost invariably, no matter how often or how vigorously they have been scrubbed by the neatest housewife. Part of the smell, indeed all, is due to the decay of absorbed matters, which in some cases includes disease germs. Paper may be varnished, however, and thus rendered non-absorbent.

As it is not the privilege of everyone to move into a perfectly new house and to-just as they please, one must say a word to those who, unhappily, are obliged to live in houses of other peoples building and ownership. To insure healthy conditions in an old house, go to work and do all possible cleaning with soap and soda and water. Strip down all old papers from the walls. Sometimes there will be found as many as six different layers of dilapidated paper of different colors and designs. To remove old paper, wet it all over with a damp cloth from time to time, so that the water will soak through, and in an hour or two it will be so loosened that one may peel off the layer with comparative ease. The wall should also be washed down with soda and water and it will be well to add a little carbolic acid to insure the better purification of the apartment. The ceilings, too, are very important, and should, if possible, be painted, or at any rate thoroughly cleaned and given a fine coat of tinted limewash. Loosely laid floors become a source of evil smells, and a hiding-place for vermin and disease germs. Hence it is well worth the expense of having new floors tongued and grooved and blind-nailed, and old floors taken up, planed, and relaid, blind-nailed, then painted with two coats of paint. Old floors, having finished their shrinking, will not again give any trouble by reason of open seams to collect dirt and noxious substances.—American Analyst.

The "Douglas Mixture" for Poultry.

Modern writers upon poultry diseases are greatly in favor of iron in some form as a tonic. The old method of putting rusty nails in the drinking water had good sense at the bottom of it, but a more active form of iron is desirable. The English poultry-men are much in favor of "Douglas' Mixture." This is made by putting eight ounces of sulphate of iron (also called copperas or green vitriol) into a jug, never use a metallic vessel, with two gallons of water, and adding one ounce of sulphuric acid, oil of vitriol. This is to be put into the drinking water in the proportion of a teaspoonful to a pint and is found to be a most useful tonic whenever such is needed. Be sure as a disease breaks out among the poultry, this should be given to the well to enable them to resist it, together with more nutritious and easily digestible food.

Value in Rainy Days.

It is so often necessary to work over hours in pleasant weather that when a rainy day comes in summer the farmer may profitably devote it partly to intellectual improvement. He can at least then take time to estimate carefully what needs to be done, and plan as to the best way of doing it. This will require study, and prove the best possible intellectual exercise. It at least requires as much executive ability to keep everything on a large farm in order and working smoothly as it does to manage a manufacturing or commercial business.

A Secret in Barley Growing.

One of the secrets of barley growing is to cut it before the straw turns white. A little white at the upper part is enough. All the sap that will ever come to the berry is then in the plant, and separating it from the root appears to concentrate it there where most needed. Early cut barley is also less likely to stain than that allowed to become dead ripe, as well as being generally heavier. An even stand of barley is therefore very important. Parts of the field manured more heavily ripen earlier and unevenness in ripening makes it hard to get a uniform sample of grain.

Horticultural Notes.

The apple is the stand-by, but other fruit should be grown.

Mix the radish seed, using an early, medium, and late variety, in order to keep up a succession.

The richest spot in the garden is not the best place to plant grape vines. Rich soil produces a rampant growth of wood but the fruit is apt to lack flavor. Gravelly or even quite rocky soil is preferable.

WAITING AND MANOEUVERING

The Situation of the Two Armies at Valparaiso.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A special from Valparaiso, Chili, to the Herald says: Neither of the armies now confronting each other along the eastern shore of Valparaiso bay seems disposed to renew hostilities just at present, and outside of some desultory and unimportant skirmishing there was no fighting yesterday.

As near as can be learned, the commanding generals of the two armies are watching each other closely and manoeuvering for position.

Gen. Canto, it is generally believed among the people, has realized the fact that it is well nigh impossible to capture Valparaiso by a direct attack along the lines he had in view when he commenced the attack on Sunday, and was unsuccessful. It is altogether probable, therefore, that he will change his plans of attack by making a detour back into the country, in order to gain a position from which he would have a better chance to make an attack without exposing his troops any more than was necessary to the fire of the heavy artillery of the forts.

Canto is generally conceded to be a wary general as well as a determined fighter, and if this is his plan of operations it may be several days before the armies again join battle. President Balmaceda and his officers are not novices in the art of wars and do not propose to allow the insurgents to take a block unless they earn it. He is strengthening his army as much as possible, and there is an impression that his idea is, if possible, to cut off the enemy a line of retreat to his ships before he gives battle, and then he hopes to give him a crushing blow and wipe him out of existence.

This appears to be about the situation, and until one or the other of the commanders has got into the position for which he is striving it is probable that there will be no hard fighting.

The city was quiet today. All business and traffic is suspended and the people here find little to talk about but the probabilities of the coming battle.

At Shelbyville, Ind., City Marshal Bruce while attempting to arrest Charley Hawkins, a desperate character, was fatally shot by the latter. Hawkins was arrested and lodged in jail. Later in the night a mob of 500 men collected around the jail, gained an entrance and brought Hawkins out and hanged him.

Prince Bismarck has left Kissingen. He has been greatly benefitted by the waters. His hair has become snow white, but he has all his old fire and determination. It is reported from Count von Waldersee is trying to effect a reconciliation between the Emperor and Bismarck.

A Munich paper publishes an article inspired by Prince Bismarck calling upon Count von Munster, German ambassador to Paris to repudiate certain statements imputed to the Count in an interview published in the London Times. The statements are held to be insulting to Bismarck.

that would guide, unerringly, into the haven of health, all that are on the troubled sea of impaired womanhood? It is nothing less, nor could be nothing more, than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—frail female's faithless friend—time tried and thoroughly tested. Internal inflammations, irregularities, displacements, and all ill conditions peculiar to woman, controlled, corrected and cured, without publicity, by this safe sterling specific. Purely vegetable. Only good can come from its use. The only remedy of the kind WARRANTED to give satisfaction or money refunded. b

More cases, of sick headache, biliousness, constipation can be cured in less time, and less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Mothers and Nurses.

All who have the care of children should know that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry may be confidently depended on to cure all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, canker, etc., in children or adults. dw

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adult or infant. dw

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Herbs in Herbs.

Health-giving herbs, barks, roots and berries are carefully combined in Burdock Blood Bitters, which regulate the secretions, purify the blood and renovate and strengthen the entire system. Price, $1.00 a bottle, 6 for $5. Less than one cent a dose. dw

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable. dw

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion and give tone and vigor to the system. dw

Self Application of Electricity

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete Body Battery. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and mets with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,248,688.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078.87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fall thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

She sing a ballad or comic song, dances a graceful skirt dance or break down, and all she does is imbued with the spirit of an innate artiste, a thorough musician; endowed with youth and uncommon beauty, she seems destined at no distant day to reach the very pinnacle of dramatic eminence. d49

CONFLAGRATION AT OMEMEE

Eighty Thousand Dollars Gone Up in Smoke.

The Business Part of Omemee in Ashes—More than a Dozen Buildings Totally Destroyed—The Flames Kept Uncontrolled and Exhaust their Violence Against Brick Walls—The Fire Brigade Powerless to Prevent the Work of Destruction.

A lurid glow in the western sky about eleven o'clock last night was an indication to the residents of Peterborough that a large fire was in progress not far away. This morning it was learned that the village of Omemee had been devastated by the devouring element. The business part of the village was almost swept away; fourteen buildings, including stores, hotels, dwellings and barns were burned. The loss is estimated at $80,000, on which there is very little insurance. The calamity is a severe one for Omemee. This is the second, and probably worst, big fire which has occurred in the village within the past two years.

The fire broke out about 10 30 o'clock last night in the stables of Brown's hotel, which were quickly destroyed. A high wind carried the flames into the hotel, and from thence the fire spread along both sides of the street. The fire engines were brought into requisition and hundreds of willing hands lent their aid in fighting the fierce flames, but without success. The fire continued unchecked until it burned itself out.

The places of business burned were:

Two hotels—The Windsor House and Brown's hotel.

Ivory & Sons' fine double store, containing a $12,000 stock of general merchandise, was totally destroyed; insured for $9,000.

Currie & Co.'s dry goods store.

McRae's furniture store, dwelling and stables.

The Herald office and dwelling of Mr. Calder, the proprietor.

Tisdale's grocery and dwelling.

Johnston's barber shop.

R. Mulligan's drug store and dwelling.

Timm's harness shop, loss $1,500.

McNeily's hardware store badly damaged, and the residence and buildings saved with great difficulty.

The stocks and contents of the above premises were in every case either burned or rendered a total loss. Very little property was saved. Other buildings in the vicinity were badly scorched.

The buildings burned were of both brick and wood.

At this moment the actual losses and insurances cannot be given in detail. Further particulars will be given to-morrow.

Amongst the places burned out was the G. N. W. Telegraph Co.'s office, in Mulligan's drug store.

The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

No accidents are reported, but Miss Nina English had a narrow escape. She was coming down a ladder from the third story of the Windsor House, when the ladder began slipping and she jumped from the second story into the arms of several men who were waiting below.

The burned portion covers both sides of the main street, extending from Adams' grocery to Norris' on one side, and from McNeilly's to Morrison's on the other side.

Mr. Ed. Adams' grocery store and Mr. Ed. Grandy's house were badly damaged.

Another Coal Oil Well.

A small sensation was created to-day by a rumour that an oil well had been discovered on Dr. Pigeon's premises, Charlotte street. It seems that a pit for a cess pool was being dug, and at the depth of about six feet water strongly impregnated with petroleum was struck in such quantities as to prevent further digging. A strong smell of coal oil permeated the air and half a barrel of the liquid was scooped up. A stick thrust into the sandy sub-soil will take fire readily from a lighted match. There is no coal oil stored in the vicinity, but some years ago a large tank stood in an adjacent yard, and it is believed the oil discovered to-day is a leakage from it. Dr. Pigeon has not faith enough in his oil well to form a joint stock company and begin drilling operations, so the discovery will probably not amount to anything. If the enthusiastic citizens of Belleville who are boring hundreds of feet into the earth in search of natural gas, had made such a find, they would go wild with enthusiasm—for a time.

Last Night's Organ Recital.

Increasing interest seems to be taken in Dr. Davies' series of high-class organ recitals; the attendance and the attention given to the merits of the programme and its presentation both indicate that the æsthetic and musical educative influence they exercise is of a pronounced character. Last recital Mr. Arthur Fisher, Mus. Bac. of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, broke the route of his journey to be present, and last night Professor Lloyd and wife, of Trinity College School, Port Hope, came to town on a like purpose to hear the recital and he, with the large number of our citizens present was greatly delighted with the programe, which was as follows:—

1 Allegro Pomposo ..... Smart
2 Aria ..... Bach
3 Grand Choeur in D ..... Guilmant
4 Andantino ..... Spohr
5 Chorus, "When His loud voice" ... Hamel
6 a Blumenlied } ..... Mendelssohn
b Volkslied }
7 Overture—Cosi fan tutte ..... Mozart
8 Andante—The Calm ..... World
(From the Grand Concerto)
9 Turkish March ..... Michaelis

Special mention may be made of the third number—Guilmant's magnificent conception Grand Choeur in D, which if it is an ambitious, is not altogether unsuccessful imitation of Handel's lofty style, the majestic effects of the pedal passages being very imposing. The fifth number was a double one, comprising two of Mendelssohn's 'Lieder Ohne Worte,' of very opposite character, the stormy delicacy of the 'Stringa ing' contrasting charmingly with the hearty rest of the 'Folk song' which contrast is accentuated by the latter being in the minor mode of the same key. Mozart's overture 'Cosi fan tutte' received a treatment worthy of the stirring brilliancy of its character—its stormy melody being in the next number gracefully merged into the 'Calm' of Wesley's Andante. The climax of mimetic effort was reached in the closing number, 'The Turkish March' of Michaelis, the effect of an approaching and receding military band being imitated so faithfully that at the opening the partner several of the audience rose to see the end of the distant music and the indistinct tread of feet, asked, "What band is that playing so nigh?" and it was some time before it was perceived that Dr. Davies, seated at the organ, was the solution of the musical conundrum.

A Defeat at Lacrosse.

The Peterboroughs Lose to the Port Port Hope Team by Four Straight Goals—But it was a Hard-Earned Victory.

A large crowd witnessed the lacrosse match yesterday between a picked team known as the Ontarios, of Port Hope, and the Peterboroughs, the visitors winning by four straight goals. The game, however, was not won on its merits. At least three outsiders were imported by Port Hope for the occasion—Oliver, the Indian from Cornwall, who played almost the whole defence game for the Ontarios; Breen of Cobourg and formerly of St. Catherines, and Doherty of the Toronto Athletics, both among the best men on the team. It is said there were more than three outsiders on the team, but the above three are "ringers" beyond a doubt. A bet of $5 was offered the captain of the Ontarios that there were not more than five bona fide Port Hope players on the team, but the bet was not taken. Of course there can be no legal objection made to the Ontario's course in this matter. Peterborough had the same privilege of strengthening its team if it chose to do so; but its officers preferred to play a thorough Peterborough team and either win or lose on their merits. It is certainly contrary to the spirit of amateur sport to pay men to play in games like these.

The Ontarios are a strong team as they appeared here yesterday, but the game was not so one sided as the score would intimate. In spite of the almost invincible defence of the Ontarios, the Peterboroughs came within an ace of scoring a number of times, and the ball was as much around the Ontarios' goal as around the Peterboroughs'. The Peterborough home made frequent rushes but to no avail. Both teams were strongest on the defence, Packenham and Oliver did great work for their respective teams. With Natress in goal and the Indian next to him, and Patterson, another good man, also there, the Peterboroughs found it impossible to force the ball through.

The play was lively and exciting throughout, though pretty rough. Few of the players but carry cuts and bruises as a memento of the battle.

When the teams lined up for play it was seen that the visitors were much larger and heavier than their opponents, though it was soon noticeable that in point of agility and clever stick work the Peterboroughs did not take a back seat. The teams were as follows:

ONTARIOS.		PETERBOROUGHS.
F. Natress	goal	F. Larone
L. Oliver	point	F. Pakenham
W. Patterson	cover point	J. McCabe
F. Doherty	1st defence	E. Hickey
H. Phillip	2nd defence	T. Cronin
R. Misson	3rd defence	T. Meagher
C. Hambly	centre	W. Hendren
A. Hambly	3rd home	J. McDonough
J. Tobin	2nd home	J. Begley
R. Weir	1st home	W. Phelan
M. Breen	outside home	J. Daly
Geo. Tutton	inside home	J. Phelan
J. Dillon	field capt.	W. E. Loch
J. Bart	umpire	G. Stephenson

Dr. Brennan was referee.

OPENING THE BALL.

The ball was faced at 3:20, almost an hour later than the advertised time. Hendren got the ball at the face, but one of the green-jersied boys secured it and made a throw on Peterborough goal. The ball sailed away over the fence, and had to be faced off again close to the home flags. But Packenham got the rubber and it flew up the field and over another fence. After the third face, the ball travelled towards Peterborough goal, but Hendren stopped it and Daly had a shot at the Ontario's goal. Within a minute afterwards Joe Phelan had two more shots at the flags, and there was some close, hard play around the Ontario's goal. Excitement ran high and there was loud cheering. But the ball went down the field again, and "Brig" Larone sent it back. Meagher took it on his stick but was too slow and lost it again. Joe Begley had a fine throw at goal but Doherty intercepted the ball and in throwing down the field sent it over the fence. At the face the ball was taken possession of by the Ontario's, and Packenham had a fine chance to relieve the siege but he fumbled the ball and it was scooped through by Tutton after 7½ minutes play. So far there had not been much lacrosse playing worthy the name; there was too much shinny and no clean passing on either side.

GAME NUMBER TWO.

The next game was a great struggle and, it ended unsatisfactorily. Hendren, as he usually does, got the ball at the face and threw down to home. Joe Phelan got it and tossed it in front of goal, when, if there had been any one around, a goal could have easily been scored. But the rubber was asked in the other direction. Hickey checked his man and McCabe made a fine catch and returned the ball. Packenham did the same a moment later, but the ball when it went near the Ontario's goal was nearly always taken in by the Indian, who made throw after throw up field and outplayed his checks every time. Hendren was now doing great work at centre. A scrimmage took place behind Peterborough goal after one of the Indian's long throws, and Packenham getting the ball sent it away down field almost into the Ontario's flags, missing it by only a few feet. Another scrimmage and the ball flew back again and lodged under the bleaching boards. At the face Begley did some clever work and tossed the ball to McCabe. The rubber worked down towards the Ontario's goal, and Hickey getting it in centre field sent it the rest of the way flying. But it was quickly returned, and so it flew back and forth several times. McDonough and Hendren did some good catching and throwing, and Walter Phelan, Joe Phelan and Daly worked hard to score. But the Indian, assisted by Patterson, usually got the ball and sent it up field, whence it would be regularly returned. In this way the home field was continually fed, but they could not break the Ontario's defence. Now the Ontarios appeared to be making a determined attack on the Peterborough goal, but the siege was raised, and on the second attack the ball flew over the fence. The face took place just behind the goal. A scrimmage took place in front of the sticks, but Cronin and Hickey relieved the danger and the ball was sent up field. McDonough made a fine catch and threw on goal. Then Begley got it and threw again, but there were too many between him and his flags. The Ontarios did some clever passing here and one Peterborough goal was in danger, but Packenham was to hand and the ball was sent down field. Walter Phelan worked well in goal and came near scoring, but the Indian could not be beaten and he sent the sphere back to the Peterborough goal. Begley and Hendren here did some pretty dodging and clever stick work, as well as others of the team. Finally a scrimmage took place in front of the Peterborough goal, and Weir, of the Ontarios, took a shot at Bloomfield's distance, which the umpire declared was game. The Peterboroughs protested, though the game was allowed, but was removed and "Joe" Jury substituted. Time, 20 minutes.

GAME NUMBER THREE.

The third game was also a long continued struggle. After about three minutes play Begley was hurt, but proceeded with play after a few minutes wait. The ball went over the fence twice. The second time the face was within a few feet of the Ontarios goal, but nothing resulted, although some severe scrimmages took place. The home field worked like Trojans, but to no use. Hendren was loudly cheered for taking the ball from two Ontarios, and Pakenham, Begley and McCabe also received applause, as well as "Brig" Larone, who seemed to strain every nerve. At last the ball was dropped at the Ontario goal-keeper's feet, and a cheer went up, but no goal was scored, Natress keeping it out by a neat pick-up. McDonough jumped in the air and made a fine catch of a throw on Peterborough goal, and Cronin made a quick check close in goal when a moment's delay might have proved disastrous. The ball passed up and down the field, the goals being alternately in danger; the play was fast, checking close and team work good. The spectators were in a great state of excitement. The game appeared to be evenly contested as were the others, but somehow the Peterborough home failed to score. Finally the ball was faced after it had been brought from over the fence, close to the Peterborough goal, and after a sharp scrimmage Tobin scraped it through. Time, 24 minutes.

FOURTH AND LAST.

The last game was short. After a minute's play Breen scored the fourth consecutive goal for Port Hope, and the game was over.

Spectators were well pleased with the game. Both teams worked hard, and at times some clever lacrosse playing was shown. It was a good game, though the result was not satisfactory to Peterborough. The boys, however, have nothing to be ashamed of. They put up a strong, fast game, and made the Ontarios work hard for their victory. "Four straight games" looks bad as a record but it was only attained after a hard struggle.

The Races a Fizzle.

Only One Event Takes Place—The Second Day's Programme off the Slate.

The summer meet of horsemen did not pan out well. Only one race took place yesterday and the events billed for to day have been declared off. Those who who profess to know say the races were not properly advertised nor managed. Certain it is that very few people in town knew there were to be any races until a day or two ago when the newspapers mentioned the fact. "F.O.P." was the only horse of any note in town. Horsemen will not take their fliers to races and pay in an entrance fee unless the names of some well known and responsible parties are signed to the posters. The only name printed on the bills announcing the Peterborough races was that of M.C. Chadbourne, Secretary, who, however honest and capable he may be, is scarcely known outside of the town. As a consequence horsemen fought shy of the meet here. For the credit of Peterborough and for the sake of sport there ought to be better arrangements made for such events.

There was a very slim crowd yesterday afternoon at the driving park. The free-for-all did not take place, there being only one entry. The three minute trot resulted as follows:—

Chadbourne's Peterborough Girl	1	1	1
Lancaster's (Hastings) Louise	2	2	3
Watson's (Harwood) Ontario Chief	3	3	2
M. Connor's (Peterborough) Ciara C.	4	5	ir
McMurty (Peterborough)	5	4	dr

Time—2.50, 2.43, 2.45.

The judges were Messrs. Wm. Croft, A. B. Appleby and J. S. Fanning.

An interesting feature of the afternoon's sport was a race between greyhounds owned by Messrs. Frank Schafer and F. J. Daly. Three heats of a quarter-mile each were run, Schafer's dog winning them all.

As an outcome of yesterday's gathering a matched running race has been arranged to take place next Monday between Tierney's chestnut mare and Mat. Dean's bay colt, for 25 a side.

The Car Works Buildings.

The Manufacturers Committee are having plans prepared for the new buildings for the Patterson-Corbin Co. by Mr. Belcher, Town Engineer. It is probable a meeting of the council will be held Monday night to pass a resolution asking for tenders for contracts for these buildings.

New Orange Lodge.

A correspondent sends the following:—Thursday night was a great one for the local Orangemen—the new lodge to be known as "Edison L.O.L., No. 321," was duly declared open. The chair was ably occupied by Mr. Samuel Stinson, of Smith, District Master, and he in conjunction with Messrs. C. W. Sawers and W. J. Green, district officers, performed the interesting ceremonies. A large number of the brethren was present and received their new brethren most fraternally. After the opening of the lodge seven new members were initiated and a very large number of propositions for membership was read. At midnight the lodge adjourned. Then it was that the officers of "Edison lodge" gave their Brethern present a most agreeable surprise in the serving of a sumptuous supper by Confectioners Hooper and Watt. A very pleasant hour was spent in making acquaintance and enjoying the toothsome edibles. The members before parting gave three hearty "Orange" cheers for the "Edison Lodge" and lustily sang "God Save the Queen."

The officers for the present term are:—

Bro. Wm. J. Morrison	W.M
" Wm. H. Lyons	D.M
" J. W. Bravis	Chap
" H. Stevenson	Rec. Sec'y
" John Roper	Fin. Sec'y
" Joseph Saunders	Treasurer
" Thos. Dawson	Lecturer
" W. Jones	Dir. of Cer.
" A. Gillespie	1st Com. Man
" R. E Lydiold	2nd " "
" H. Willis	3rd " "
" Fred K. Bottel	4th " "
" M. Moore	5th " "

The lodge will meet again next Tuesday night when between 20 and 30 members will be initiated. It is intended to hold weekly meetings until all the proposed members are initiated and the lodge in proper working order.

There will be a "sick benefit" in connection with it and as there is an insurance society in the order in which members can insure their lives to the extent of $3,000, the privileges will be as good as in any of the other fraternal societies.

We wish the "Edison lodge" every success and hope it will be as strong as the famous "Nassau lodge."

In Connection with John Robinson's Ten Big Shows Combined.

This wonderful spectacle has a breadth of effect which surprises and delights. Its gorgeous processions and splendid ballets are incomparable, and nothing so vast or imposing has ever been seen in this country before. We gaze upon the ancient city of Jerusalem and the Temple of Solomon animated with life and glowing with color. It is no mere artificial show, but a vivid and vast realization of life in the time of Solomon. The senses are beguiled by its reality as well as its surprising beauty and the perfection of its details.

Few children can be induced to take physic without a struggle, and no wonder—most drugs are extremely nauseating. Ayer's Pills, on the contrary, being sugar-coated, are easily swallowed by the little ones, and are, therefore, the favourite family medicine.

DIED.

CHATTEN.—At 580 Bethune Street, on the 27th August, 1891, William Albert, only child of Mr. J. H. Chatten, aged 1 year and 11 months. Funeral on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Intense Suffering

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

On Fire with Eczema

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 6 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning were intense; the eczema spread in his limbs, face, back, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torments at nights were terrible to behold; he had no peace, and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was nearly discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

VALPARAISO TAKEN.

PRESIDENT BALMACEDA OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED.

The Chilian Insurgents Put His Forces To Rout and Compel the Surrender of the Capital. The Losses on Both Sides Heavy.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. The following despatch has been received at the headquarters here of the Chilian congressional party from Mr. Viel, the confidential agent of the insurgent party at Lima: "Triumph complete; Valparaiso surrenders!"

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. John L. Sprecke's & Bro. of this city received the following cablegram direct from Valparaiso this afternoon:

"VALPARAISO, Aug. 28. Opposition defeated. Valparaiso in control of Congressionalists. The cablegram comes from a source which houses here interested in the Chili trade states is disinterested and authentic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. Acting Secretary of State W. Harton received the following cablegram to night:

"VALPARAISO, Aug. 28.

Battle fought near this city this morning. Government forces badly beaten. Heavy loss on both sides. The city surrendered to the opposition, but is in the hand of the admirals of the American, German, French and English fleets by good order. Accommunication with Santiago. Opposition forces now entering the city.

SUNK IN COLLISION.

A Scene of Terrible Excitement. Twenty-Six People Go Down.

LONDON, Aug. 29. A despatch from Melbourne states that a collision occurred at one o'clock this morning inside Port Phillips Head between the steamers Gambier and Easby. The former was bound from Sydney for Melbourne and was just clearing the heads when she sighted the Easby bound out. Every assistance possible for the vessels to render each other and the Easby struck the Gambier amidships crushing in her side to such an extent that when she backed away the water ran into the hold of the Gambier in torrents. A scene of terrible confusion and excitement followed the shock of the collision. Most of the passengers were in their berths asleep when the accident happened. The Easby remained along side the Gambier and rescued many of the latter's passengers and crew. Notwithstanding their efforts, the Gambier filled so rapidly that it was decided human power to save every life. Seven minutes after the collision she sank, carrying with her five saloon passengers, fifteen steerage passengers and six of the crew. The Easby sustained considerable damage.

His Beard Must Show.

BERLIN, Aug. 29. The Emperor has ordered dealers in photographs not to sell portraits representing him as he appeared without a beard. All the lithographers, copper plate and steel engravers are busy issuing new plates to show the Emperor as he now appears, with a beard, and the paintings on glass and porcelain and the workers in leather and wood imagery are overrun with orders for representations of the Kaiser in the new style.

Lady Scrutineers.

LONDON, Aug. 29. At the Lewisham poor a novel feature was introduced in the campaign. The law allows each candidate in an election to have an agent present at the counting of the votes to scrutinize the votes. Mr. Warman, who applied for permission for his wife to act as such agent. After debating the question for some time the election officers decided that there was nothing contrary to the spirit of the law in the employment of a woman as watcher and the desired permission was granted. Three upon Mr. Pennington a similar application on behalf of his mother which, of course, had to be granted also. This is the first time women have been admitted in this capacity.

Lorne Writes a Letter.

LONDON, Aug. 29. Mr. Labouchere publishes an article in The Deutsche Review in which he declares that the German colonies comprise the hottest and most worthless territories in the world. He excepts the Kilimandjaro district in Africa, and concludes by arguing that the Argentine Republic ought to become a German colony, because that country is bound, sooner or later, to become European by means of a protectorate.

The Freeman's Journal.

DUBLIN, Aug. 28. An extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders of The Freeman's Journal company, limited, took place yesterday. The call for the meeting was signed by 39 shareholders, and the meeting was held for the purpose of considering the position which the directors have taken in respect to the division now existing between the national parties, and to decide whether there should not be a change made in the constitution of the Board of Directors. The meeting was stormy and hot words were exchanged between the supporters of E. Dwyer Gray, son of the founder of the paper, who was desirous that The Freeman's Journal should no longer support Parnell, and the present directors, who recently overruled Mr. Gray when he took his stand against his former friend. Finally a vote of censure against the directors was passed by a large majority. The directors were blamed for the policy which they had adopted in regard to Parnell and it is expected they will tender their resignation.

The office of The Freeman's Journal is guarded by police. The paper will appear to-morrow as a Parnellite organ, but on and after Saturday it will be published in the interests of the Nationalists.

Cheap Bread.

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—The Moscow town council is debating a proposal to compel all employers to supply their workmen with rye bread at the normal price, or about one-half of the present price. Men experienced in the grain trade believe the measure will only serve to enrich a few dealers, who are holding grain in order to sell it at famine prices.

TERRIBLE CLOUDBURST.

AN OHIO RAINSTORM'S AWFUL HAVOC.

Many People Killed and Thousands of Dollars Worth of Damge Occasioned—Drowned in Sight of her Husband—Other Sad Incidents Reported.

BERLIN, Aug. 29. A terrible cloudburst occurred here yesterday. The wife of Thomas Taylor was drowned in her home in sight of her husband, who was outside and could not get through the window to save her. His two children were saved. James Smith was found dead standing in the mud up to his neck, horribly mangled, about half a mile from a barn in which he was last seen alive. The Lebanon Springs Railroad between here and Petersburg, a distance of about five miles, is washed away into the meadows for many rods half a dozen places. A large railway bridge is also gone besides a score or more highway bridges. The residences and outbuildings of E. M. Coe, near here, narrowly escaped total destruction. The mountain stream, running into the Little Hoosick River, became a cataract and changing its course plowed deep gorges on both sides of the dwellings. Stones weighing a ton are frequently seen washed todo from their former resting places.

Meadows are ruined and crops in the line of the flood are destroyed. Part of the village of Petersburg lying near the Little Hoosick is completely wrecked. A score of residences and workshops are washed from their foundations and much personal property has been destroyed. The loss to property in that village will reach not less than $25,000. No lives were lost in Petersburg.

A Royal Sendoff.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29. A mass meeting of Orangemen was held last evening in Victoria Armory Hotel, Cathcart street, to give a grand farewell to Rev. Wm. William Johnston, M. P., of Ballykilbeg, Ireland, who took the steamer Parisian on his return trip to night. Over 1,000 people were present, and the meeting was the most enthusiastic Orange meeting ever held in Montreal. Bro. William Simpson, C. M., presided.

The Rev. Dr. Smyth presented Bro. Johnston with an illuminated address on behalf of the Orangemen of Montreal.

At the close of the meeting three hearty cheers were given for Brother Johnston and three for the Queen. Over 200 of the brethren marched in regalia to the wharf to see Brother Johnston off and he was escorted to the steamer by C. M. Simpson, G. S. M. Langdon, G. D. C. Floody, of Toronto, and P. M. Porteous, amid the deafening cheers of the crowd.

To be Extradited.

TORONTO, Aug. 29. Thomas Williamson of Almira whom a few months ago was discovered to have been guilty of several forgeries, and who managed to evade the hands of justice is now within the toil. He was at Leste Labour a month ago in Nevada where he was keeping a restaurant. Government Detective Rutgers has gone thither to effect his extradition and is expected back with the prisoner in about a week.

Government Detective Greer has left for the north to investigate in reference to the body of the man who was found on an island in the neighborhood of Tobermory.

The C.P.R.'s Western Extension.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. Gen. Samuel H. Thomas is now in Montreal where he has been for some days in consultation with President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific perfecting the necessary details preparatory to the commencement of construction of the C. P. R.'s western extension between Toledo and Chicago. The road when built will enter Chicago over the tracks of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago from Monon, and the new line will also tap the Lake Erie and Western, thus giving the Canadian Pacific a friendly connection into the interior of Indiana, and opening up a competitive line from that section with the Vanderbilt system, which has already, through the influence of the Lake Shore, inaugurated a strong opposition to the proposed roads.

The new line will parallel the Lake Shore from Detroit to Chicago, the right of way in many places lying adjacent thereto. It will also form a competing line with the Michigan Central, thus attacking the Vanderbilt systems at various important commercial centres in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. The Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, while giving the new line terminal facilities in Chicago, will also be utilized as a friendly alliance for traffic to and from the south, while the Lake Erie and Western with its western extension of Peoria, will furnish an outlet in that direction, again attacking the Vanderbilt interest in the Big Four in that section as well as at Indianapolis.

The State of Trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. Special telegrams to Bradstreets report a moderate expansion in the demand for seasonable staples among manufactured products.

Latest advices from abroad do not favor the United States having more wheat available for export than will be demanded.

The Ontario and Quebec grain trade report damage from frost to Manitoba wheat. General trade is more satisfactory throughout Ontario and Quebec and prices are firm. Fears are expressed as to the effect of the frost on the Manitoba wheat crop. A good fall trade is expected. The Dominion reports 21 business failures this week against 18 last week and 36 this week last year. The total number Jan. 1 to date is 1204 against 1050 last year.

Destructive Floods.

PERTH, Aug. 29. Many bridges and houses have been destroyed and other damage caused by floods. At Tarris the River Drave rose nine feet and flooded Arnoldstein. In northern Italy the holiday reports are suffering from the excessive rains. Railway traffic near Udita has been stopped by an overflow of Lake Lesina.

A Large Sale of Bottled Whisky.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 29.—The largest sale of bottled whisky ever made in the world took place here to day, the distilling firm of James E. Pepper & Co., selling to Krauss, Hart & Felbit of New York, 36,000 cases of ten-year-old whisky. The sale amounted to $500,000.

MACKENZIE BOWELL ILL.

STRICKEN DOWN AT THE BREAKFAST TABLE.

Overwork the Cause of the Prostration—The Charges Against Mr. Cochrane—McGreevy Will be Expelled From the House—The Senate Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—In the Esic des Chaleurs investigation yesterday George A. Taylor, of Brockville, was examined in support of F. Langelier's assertion that Senator Robitaille had embezzled $118,000 of the railway subsidies. This fact he utterly disproved and stated that all transactions were honest and above board, that Chrysostom Langelier made the affidavit on which Francois preferred the charge, and that he, Taylor, would never have sworn to it had he known how it was to be used. Mr. Burland gave similar testimony.

In the privileges and elections committee meeting to-day, it only sat fifteen minutes, as the members of the committee said they wished to read the evidence before proceeding to deliberate. It was decided to adjourn till Tuesday.

McGreevy Will be Expelled.

The Privileges and Elections sub-Committee met this afternoon to consider the legality of Hon. Thomas McGreevy's resignation. It was decided to report to the House, after inquiring into the facts, that the Speaker will be asked to withdraw his warrant to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, ordering a new election. This course was decided upon in view of the fact that McGreevy's election in Quebec has been protested. The result will therefore be that McGreevy in due course will be expelled.

The committee appointed to investigate the charges against Mr. Cochrane, M. P. for East Northumberland, organized yesterday. Col. Tisdale was chosen chairman. The committee arranged that on Wednesday they will meet and try to have the case ready for presentation to the House next Friday.

Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, was taken ill at the breakfast table at the Russell yesterday and had to be assisted from the room and carried up stairs. Dr. Rogers was summoned. He found that Mr. Bowell was suffering from overwork and indigestion, the faintness at the breakfast table being directly attributed to the latter cause. The rumors on the street that Mr. Bowell lost consciousness and was threatened with a stroke of appoplexy, Dr. Rogers declares to be untounded. The Minister has always been one of the hardest workers in the Cabinet, and in addition he has had charge lately of the Railways and Canals, which, owing to Sir John Mcdonald's illness and death has been in some confusion. He is pretty well up in years, being 68, and the late hours and extra work have gradually worn him out. Last night, contrary to his physician's order, he persisted in remaining in the Commons until after midnight. When he returned to the Russell he took some refreshments, which apparently were not properly digested, and hence the weakness this morning. Dr. Rogers said this afternoon that Mr. Bowell was resting quietly and after a few days rest would be perfectly well again, that he was naturally a healthy man and that there was no cause for the alarming reports regarding his condition.

Trade With Spain.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29. In the House yesterday Mr. Foster said with reference to the effect of the recent treaty between Spain and the United States he had been informed by the Governor-General that Canada would have equal privilege with the United States in similar products in the markets of the Spanish Antilles until June 30, 1892.

MERCIER ON THE SCANDAL

Says He Advised Pacaud to Tell What He Knew.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—Mr. Mercier, the Quebec Premier, who is now in Montreal, was waited upon yesterday by a large number of his political supporters, who were anxious to learn what course he intends to pursue in regard to the Baie des Chaleurs scandal, which is causing a great deal of excitement in the party. Mr. Mercier has hitherto steadily refused to say one word about the matter, but to-day he consented to make a short statement. Speaking of the probable action of the Quebec Government in the matter he said: "As I was absent when the whole thing took place, and as I have now only been in three or my colleagues since my return from Europe I did not and do not feel justified in doing or saying anything on that matter, but the council will meet on Wednesday next, Sept. 2, and after that I will be able to propose to give all necessary and possible information. The only thing I may say to-day is that I am not sorry that Mr. Pacaud has left. He came to me at Toulouse and asked what he had to do under the circumstances, if he received an order to appear before the Committee of the Senate. I advised him to obey, and after having protested against the jurisdiction of the Senate to make a clean breast of the whole thing. He promised to follow my advice and the first news I had was that he had for Europe."

"What about the session?" "My intention is to advise a very early fall session."

Forced Out.

BERLIN, Aug. 29. The Berlin Telegraph announces the resignation of D. Macdougall, county registrar, who was appointed to the office by the late Hon. Sandfield Macdonald over 25 years ago. The Telegraph says that the announcement of the resignation which has been forced on account of the persistent opposition of the local members, Messrs. Snider and Moore, to the registrar's retention of office, will be received with regret and indignation by men on all parties.

Mr. Macdougall is advanced in years, in impaired health and has crippled himself financially in order to pay back to the county the moneys which were found to be due it during the late county.

Died to Save Her Sister.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 29.—Twenty school girls, under the chaperonage of Major and Mrs. S. M. Tutwiler, went on a picnic to Blossburg today. After dinner the girls decided to swim in a big creek near by. One pretty, 15 year old girl, Claudia Morson, daughter of a prominent mine operator of the city, plunged in. When she reaches the deep water she was seized with a cramp. Sallie, her 16-year-old sister, sprang in to her rescue. They clasped each other and sank together. They never rose again.

Another Bigamy Case.

PEMBROKE, Ont., Aug. 29. Hector Basile Thibeault of Point Alexander was married a few weeks since to Miss Eliza Beth, daughter of John Nadeau of Point Alexander. A week after the ceremony had been performed a letter arrived from the parish priest at Three Rivers stating that Thibeault was married before and enclosing the marriage certificate of Thibeault's previous marriage. Thibeault then admitted that he had been previously married, but said that he had not lived with his wife a year, and their long separation caused him to disregard the matter. Thibeault was arrested and committed for trial.

A. O. F. Officers.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 29. The High Court A.O.F. elected these officers: H.C.R., D. F. McWatt, Barrie; H.S.C.R., E. T. Perry, Montreal; Treasurer, H. E. Griffiths, Toronto; exclamation; H.C.S.W., A. O. Jeffrey, London; H.C.J.W., J. Young, Hamilton; P.H.C.R., N. Allan, St. Thomas; J.R., E. W. Symes, Chatham; Auditors, F. Abbott, Meaford; J. Anderson, London. Trustees, Mayor Clark, Toronto; Mayor Heyd, Brantford; Mayor Douglas, Woodstock.

Next year's convention will be held in Belleville, which was selected over Barrie, Ingersoll, Galt, Cobourg and Brantford.

Whisky or Blood.

TOLEDO, Ont., Aug. 29.—Last evening a drunken rowdy named Bradley entered Huyck's Hotel and asked for liquor, which being refused by Mr. E. R. Huyck, the proprietor, Bradley then attacked him with a large knife inflicting several severe, and what may prove, fatal wounds. Bradley was at once arrested and locked up.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

RIOTING IN RUSSIA.

Peasantry Shot Down by Soldiers—Many Killed and Wounded.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—Details of the rioting at Vitebsk, capital of the Government of that name, occasioned by the people's protest against the exportation of rye, show that the disturbance was serious. The governor reports that there was evidence that a general revolt of the peasantry had been planned. The peasants attacked the railroad officials, demanding no more rye should leave Vitebsk, and severely beat the Jewish grain dealers, who are blamed for the whole trouble. The peasantry also plundered the residences of these grain dealers, and finally attacked the railroad station. The military was then summoned. The rioters resisted stubbornly and their supporters outside the railroad station made a fierce attack upon the soldiery, severely injuring many of them. Finally the officer in command after repeatedly threatening the crowd gave the order to fire upon the rioters. The soldiers then fired a volley, killing two peasants and wounding a number of others. The rioters soon afterward dispersed.

Similar disturbances are reported from Dunaberg, Vint and other places, but no details have been made public.

Russia and Corea.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—A letter from Shanghai says that the Chinese Government is very much excited over the report that Corea has agreed to a Russian protectorate. Corea has always been claimed by China as a dependency and tribute is required and more or less regularly paid. The Coreans, however, dislike the Chinese yoke and have always been restive under it. Surprise is expressed among foreign residents at Shanghai that Russia should take a step, if it has been taken, so likely to provoke a conflict with China. This Russia has endeavored heretofore to avoid and has surrendered considerable territory in order to keep at peace with her Asiatic neighbor. It is said that Russia wants Corea as a depot for naval operations, as it is better situated than the barren northeastern shores of Russia in Asia.

She Wants Money for War.

VIENNA, Aug. 29. An inspired pamphlet which has appeared here advocates an increase of the Imperial military credit from 16,000,000 florins to 18,000,000 florins. The pamphlet dwells upon the contingency of an unexpected war in which only a few weeks would elapse between the mobilization of the troops and the first engagement. The Fremdenblatt supports the proposal.

Omemee's Great Fire.

OMEMEE, Aug. 29.—This beautiful village on Pigeon River has again been devastated by fire. About two years ago serious damage was done by the same element, but the destruction of last night seems to have doomed the place. At 10.30 o'clock the fire started in Clark's Hotel stables on the south side of King-street. There was nothing with which to fight the flames but a hook and ladder concern and a small hand engine. The villagers worked hard, but not all their efforts could stay the terrible progress of the flames. The fine brick block in King-street, consisting of Clark's Hotel, Ivory's general store and the Windsor House was swept away by the fire. On the opposite side of the street there went down in the fire Tisdale's grocery. The Herald office and private residences. McNeill's big brick stores on the southeast corner of King and Mary streets were saved and the fire arrested in that direction. By this piece of good fortune the postoffice escaped. The flames crossed the street on the opposite corner, though, and took down Mulligan's store and the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company's offices. It burned west as far as Sturgeon street, on the north side of King street and also on the south side of King. Twelve of the finest business houses in Omemee are to-day in ashes. Two of the large stores, Ivory's and Tisdale's, had just received a lot of new goods and their losses are consequently the more serious. The amount of the damage done and the losses to residents can not yet be estimated, but must be very large.

Father and Daughter Die Mysteriously.

RED OAK, Mich., Aug. 29. A mysterious case of death and suicide came to light here yesterday afternoon in a small farm house about ten miles north of here. The house was occupied by James Burns and a woman whom he called his daughter. Herman Grostick was bound for here with a load of produce yesterday morning and on passing the Burns' house noticed that it and the stable near by were closed. He forced an entrance and on the bed in one of the rooms he found the decomposing body of Burns. Across it lay the body of his supposed daughter, with a piece of twine tied tightly about her neck, showing that she had strangled to death. No marks of violence were found on Burns' body, and Grostick at once conjectured that he died of natural causes, and that the woman had, through sheer grief, committed suicide.

The death of the two people deepens the mystery which has surrounded them since they moved into this locality. Four years ago Burns came here and built a pretty cottage and fitted it up handsomely. In this lonely home these two have since resided in complete retirement, going out only when it was necessary to come here to purchase provisions and clothing. The two always displayed considerable affection for each other, and people here believe that instead of being father and daughter they were parties to a mysterious love affair.

Killed in Chicago.

PICKERING, Ont., Aug. 29.—Francis Matthews of this village has received word that his son William had been killed at Chicago. He was a conductor and his train, being ditched, he was crushed to death, while the engineer and two brakesmen are fatally injured. Matthews was 37 years of age and leaves a wife and four small children.

Killed by a Bear.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29. A tame bear belonging in the village of Vitne, having been trained by the servants of its wealthy owner to drink whisky, entered a tavern Tuesday and stayed in a keg of whisky. The owner tried to prevent the bear from getting at the whisky and the bear set upon him and killed him and three children.

News Notes.

Fire broke out on the steamer Iron Prince (Br.) at Huelva from Marseilles and she was scuttled and sunk. No lives were lost.

The steamer City of Atlanta passed Long Branch, N. J., yesterday, having in tow the disabled steamer Old Dominion.

A train frightened a yoke of oxen near Canton, Dakota, to-day and they ran away. They were attached to a binder and were led by a woman, the man who operated the machine being perched on the seat. The woman was cut to pieces by the binder, her legs being cut off, also her arms and head. The man escaped.

Major J. B. Campbell of the 2nd Artillery, United States Army and a distinguished officer of the American army, died very suddenly at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, yesterday. Major Campbell had only recently been promoted and was about to join his command at Fort Trumble, Conn.

Another Record Beaten.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—The ocean record on the St. Lawrence route has been beaten by the new Dominion line s.s. Labrador, which is expected to arrive here to-morrow. The Labrador left Liverpool Thursday week and passed Heath Point yesterday two hours and a half ahead of all previous records.

A Toronto Divorce.

YANKTON, Dak., Aug. 29. Lucretia Balcom of Toronto, Ont., secured a separation from Adelbert R. Balcom last week. These people stand high in Canadian society, and it is a wonder that they came here to air their troubles, for the case was nauseous.

Drowned While Fishing.

STIRLING, Aug. 29.—A man named Rodgers went out fishing, accompanied by a little boy, and after a time the boy came back saying that Rodgers had disappeared. Parties who went in search found the empty boat, and next morning Rodgers' body was found.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

The Frost in the Northwest.

Although the despatches from North Dakota and Northern Minnesota have made light of the injury to the wheat from the frosts of Saturday last, it is now asserted that a good deal of damage was done. The Chicago Tribune reports Mr. Clausen, the chief grain inspector for Minnesota, as saying:—"I have hotloed in preceding years that the actual damage by frost has always been much larger than first reports would indicate. We all know that to-day there are thousands of acres of wheat in Northern Minnesota and North Dakota that are still in the dough, and I believe that the damage by the frosts will be ten times as great as has been reported." Mr. Clausen's view may be somewhat over-coloured, but it is now certain that last week's frosts proved more destructive than was at first supposed. So far as can be ascertained, the grain in Manitoba and the Territories fared better on that occasion than the grain a little to the south. The St. Paul papers assert this as a fact. But there can be no doubt that the standing crops on the Canadian side of the line have suffered, in some places severely, by the frosts which occurred on the nights of Tuesday and Wednesday. As yet it is impossible to speak positively on the subject, but it is feared that the frost on those nights was general throughout Manitoba, and that it did considerable mischief at northern points in that Province as well as in the Territories.

The St. Clair Tunnel.

The St. Clair tunnel has been constructed under the river of that name, at the foot of Lake Huron, for the purpose of superseding the ferry boats which have hitherto conveyed the trains of the Grand Trunk route across that river. It will afford immense advantages to passengers, and for freight traffic, in avoiding the inconveniences of a ferry, in saving two hours of time, and in shortening the distance by about six miles.

The actual tunnel itself is 6,026 feet long. It is lined under the river is solid cast-iron plates, bolted together in segments, each segment being five feet long, eighteen inches wide and two inches thick, with flanges five inches deep; the whole lining weighing 28 000 tons. The bolts and nuts for connecting the segments together weigh 2,000,000 pounds. The permanent way through the tunnel is laid with steel rails, weighing one hundred pounds to the lineal yard. The interior diameter of the tunnel is twenty feet, and ample means have been provided for thorough ventilation, and for lighting it throughout when required by the electric light. The road is practically level under the river, with approaches at each end on gradients of 1 in 50. The total length of the tunnel and approaches is 11,353 feet. At the ends of the approaches are junctions with the Grand Trunk Railway on the Canadian side, and the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railroad on the American side of the river. In connection with these junctions ample ground has been levelled and prepared, and shunting sidings to the extent of ten miles have already been laid on each side of the river.

The tunnel was constructed by means of heavy wrought iron shields, with sharp edges, fifteen feet three inches long, and twenty-one feet six inches in diameter. Each shield was pushed forward by 24 hydraulic rams, the barrels of each ram being eight inches in diameter, with a stroke of little more than eighteen inches. Each ram exercised a force of 125 tons.

It is believed that the route as thus improved will offer facilities for through communication between Chicago and all points in the east, will be appreciated by passengers and freighters. There will be no more trouble from ice-blocks, or other obstructions in the river, and the best time will be made for traffic of all descriptions.

From the date when the shields were first lowered in position at the portals, to the meeting of the shields in the tunnel, the time occupied in constructing the tunnel was twelve months. The cost of the tunnel proper was $1,460,000.

The Lacrosse Game.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I was a witness of yesterday's match and I wish to make a few remarks. In the first place, the crowd which stood out upon the field interfered with the play, and the Peterboroughs got the worst of it there. It may be said that it was as fair for one team as for the other; but we know our boys always had the first chance of getting it and they lost several good chances to score because, when they got the ball, they could not get out of the crowd with it before their checks were on them; and a number of old lacrosse players and lovers of the game were chief offenders in this respect. They should have known better. The grand stand and bleaching boards were there for them to sit on and not block the field. Then, I know a number of men who sneaked in without paying, and these were among the fellows who stood out upon the field and got in the way of the players, instead of taking a seat on the stand where they could have seen the game just as well without being in any one's way.

When Port Hope comes here to play a friendly match with Peterborough they ought to do so on their own merits, and with their own team, as the Peterboroughs always do. The Port Hopers had a number of players from outside teams, which they do not attempt to deny. But even with all these "ringers" a scratch team of the old Peterboroughs can beat up to-day that will beat the same team that played here yesterday. As far as Port Hope is concerned we can pick up a junior club of boys, ranging from 12 to 15 years of age, born and bred in the town, that will beat any similar team they can get together down there.

In the winning of laurels in the past the Peterboroughs never had to import players—and some of the trophies the old club won remain here still, although they often had to play at big odds against just such picked teams as Port Hope sent out here yesterday. I like to see the game played on its merits. The Ontarios would not have amounted to much yesterday without the assistance of the "ringers." I remain,

Yours truly,

AN OLD ADMIRER OF LACROSSE.

Few children can be induced to take physic without a struggle, and no wonder—most drugs are extremely nauseating. Ayer's Pills, on the contrary, being sugar-coated, are easily swallowed by the little ones, and are, therefore, the favourite family medicine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Some people are constantly troubled with boils—no sooner does one heal than another makes its appearance. A thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the best of blood purifiers, effectually puts an end to this annoyance. We recommend a trial.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which, by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

A Handsome Prize,

And Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

MANGLED BY A DOG.

Fatal Struggle with a Vicious Brute at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—The little son of Omer Frechette of No 108 St. Hubert-street, this city, was bitten to death by a ferocious dog last night. Mr. Frechette, who is an amateur farmer, recently purchased three dogs, one of which was a cross between a hound and a bulldog. The latter was considered peaceable and gave no sign of being dangerous. Shortly after 7 o'clock last evening while Mrs. Frechette was entertaining a visitor she heard her 4-year-old son, who was playing in the yard, scream. Rushing to a window she was horrified to see the dog attacking the child and tearing great pieces of flesh from its body. With all the heroism of a mother's daring, the woman flew to the rescue. The sight she met was a horrible one. The yard was covered with blood, while pieces of flesh were scattered around. Though fainting she attacked the infuriated brute and a terrific struggle ensued. A. J. Masse, who resided near by, came to her assistance. At this moment the woman fainted and the brute turned his attention to ward the new intruder. Another desperate battle followed, but Masse was armed with a knife, which he wielded to good purpose, but the dog having secured a grip on the man never let go until it's head was nearly severed from its body and almost cut to pieces.

Medical assistance was summoned, but the child was beyond all human aid and soon expired. The face was almost unrecognizable, while over a dozen pieces of flesh had been torn from the body. The injuries sustained by Mrs. Frechette and Masse, while serious, are not dangerous.

KISSED HER CHILD AND DIED.

Roused From Apparent Death by a Baby's Cries to Take a Fatal Journey.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 28. The officials of the Lake Erie road and of the Homeopathic Hospital witnessed a sad scene yesterday. Last Thursday Mrs. Madge Turney, wife of J. W. Turney, a well known fruit dealer of Greensburg, went to Lakewood. Mrs Turney has been in ill health for some time, and it was thought that the change would do her good. While on her way she was taken evidently ill, and had to be carried from the station at Lakewood to the home of Captain Vandergrift, where she was to visit, on a stretcher.

On Monday she insisted on being brought home, and yesterday morning she was brought to Pittsburg. When she arrived here she was so much worse that it was decided to send her to the Homeopathic Hospital. While there it was thought that she had died, but the crying of a small child revived her, and she insisted on being sent home to her children.

The hospital authorities at first refused, but when she begged so hard it was decided to send her home on the Greensburg accommodation. On the way home she stated that her sole desire was to live to see her children, and that she was certain that she should not die before. When the train reached Greensburg her children and husband were at the station. She embraced each, and was just kissing the last child when she died.

HANGED TO AN OAK TREE.

Murray's Companion in Crime Lynched by Infuriated Citizens.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Aug. 28. Andy Ford colored, the alleged accomplice of the notorious negro murderer, Harmon Murray, was captured near here Saturday placed in jail Monday and last night at about 11 o'clock was taken from the jail and hanged to a big oak tree by an excited crowd of country people. Ford was taken before a Justice on Sunday and it was proved that he had aided Murray. Sunday night and Monday morning. Rumors grew that Murray was coming to Gainesville to rescue him. Excited country people who had been terror-stricken for weeks from Murray's murderous threat gathered en masse and lynched Ford.

At noon a large and well armed posse of fifty prominent citizens started out to hunt for Murray, who is reported to be near here. The entire county is wild over this noted desperado and no one will feel safe till he is killed. The negroes are wrathy over the lynching and several encounters between them and whites have been prevented only with great difficulty. They claim that Ford was unjustly hung and threaten more bloody lynchings are attempted. This is the third lynching here in six months.

NINE MEN INJURED.

Explosion of Gas in a Chicago Tunnel—One Man Will Die.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. By an explosion of gas in the new Lake tunnel at one o'clock this morning one man was fatally injured and several others seriously burned. The names of the injured are: Maurice Caull, fatally burned about the breast; C. J. Denning, foreman, burned about the head and face; Joseph Mallory, burned about face and hands; Hugh Mallory, burned very badly about the head; Owen Caull, burned about the head and face; Peter Gallagher, burned on hands; Michael O'Neil, burned about the head and breast; James Dow, burned on the hands; Michael Leonard, injured on the hands.

The accident occurred two and one-half miles from the shore end of the tunnel. This morning at one o'clock the electric lights got out of order and Maurice Caull was sent in to repair them and to clean the space where the masons had been working. He was given a torch by Foreman Denning, who lighted it. Caull had gone but a few feet when the explosion occurred and he and the foreman were blown a dozen feet back into the midst of other members of the gang. The explosion was directly due to the air pressure and the act that the electric lights had been replaced by Caull's torch.

An Advance in Nickel.

SUDBURY, Aug. 28. The price of nickel has advanced 40 per cent. and is now 50 cents per pound. All the matter containing nickel has been bought up and contracts have been made for all the products of several of the mines for months ahead. The mines now in operation can not supply the increased demand for nickel and a large amount of new machinery is being put in. Those who know will see quite a big boom. So far most of the capital has been supplied by Americans, but Englishmen are beginning to take hold.

Prince Albert's Birthday.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Yesterday was the seventy-second anniversary of Prince Albert's birthday, which the Queen makes it a rule to pass at Balmoral; and in accordance with her annual practice the gentlemen of the household and several of the upper and estate servants assembled at the Prince's Memorial Cairn and there drank in silence a bumper of old Lochnagar to his memory. The cairn is a pyramid of stone which is the most prominent object on the hill above the castle, and all persons who pass along the north Deeside road see it plainly. Many of the stones are marked with initials which represent all the members of the Royal family who were alive with Prince Albert.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A Copenhagen despatch says that the Czar is surrounded with more restrictions than on previous visits to Denmark. The reason for this is not made public, but rumors are rife of fear of Nihilistic plottings. It is known to the Russian police that many of the exiled Jews swore vengeance against the Czar after they had got safely beyond the frontier.

Self Application of Electricity FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078.87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.03
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)		$64,824 07
" " " "	1886, "	89,452 97
" " " "	1890, (four years)	232,175 69

Alone on the Prairie.

The day was in that transitory state when twilight lingers in the lap of day and darkness struggles in the ascendancy. The sun hung in a great red ball of lurid flame between heaven and earth; there was a feeling of profound quiet which seemed to settle on all things animate and inanimate. The birds, the insects, the very trees and sprouting plants were for the moment hushed as if in expectancy of some unforseen some inexplicable something which seemed to pervade the very atmosphere. A bullfrog gurgled softly as he fell back into the limpid water. Suddenly over the brow of a distant hill, there appeared a solitary man, seated astride a great bay horse, he cast one long sweeping glance around him and then went over the brow of the hill again. And that same night over seven hundred people were turned away unable to obtain admission to the Opera house, where "Casey's Troubles," was being played to the most delighted audience of the season. d50

Incandescent Items

Of Information and Iniquity from the "Bobcaygeon Independent."

Bobcaygeon sends greeting to the world in general. Telephone connection was made this (Friday) morning.

Peterborough has voted its bonus to the Patterson & Corbin Car Works. Peterborough's faithful love for blacksmith shops deserves to be rewarded.

Mr. Martin Parker, of Ballisbero, arrived per steamer Maple Leaf on Wednesday, with a large consignment of plums from his own orchard. Mr. Parker is making quite a widely extended reputation as a fruit grower. He puts up fruit in baskets containing thirteen quarts, and a basket with his name is a guarantee of full weight, and that the fruit is sound and hand packed.

Many of the camps on the lake shore have broken up and departed. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, and Miss Rankin, of St. Catharines, and Mr. Geo. P. Decker, of Rochester, returned home after a holiday at the Commercial House. Mr. Decker accomplished the feat of putting on five and a half pounds in weight in six days, and he didn't half exert himself either.

Early in the spring a number of trees were cut in the cemetery to thin out the growth of bush at the south end. New shoots sprung out from the stumps, and from a white ash, a sprout was cut on the seventeenth, measuring seven feet one inch. The only growth recorded to compare with this is a briar, said to have grown from Lord Lovell's breast, and grew to the church steeple spire.

It a cyclone had dropped onto the office of this journal yesterday, we would have bet dollars to buttons that the cyclone would have shrunk off, broken, dejected, and feeling meaner than a tailless rooster. When the first member of the staff arrived, he entered the office with a smile—and immediately rolled out again without the smile. He suddenly felt as if he had been patted on the tum-tum with the giddy end of a much exasperated mule, and he returned to the sidewalk to draw a little fresh air. The next one who came in hesitated for a moment, then giving the first one a contemptuous look, passed on, and after six steps, dropped, and crawled out again. By the time Smiff came along, the office was fairly ventilated, for Smiff objects on principle to going out till the morning is well aired, but when his crimson beak struck the interior of the office it paled at least fifty per scent, and he exclaimed Great Cæsar! has one of those Ottawa statesmen been here? Waving his way to the editorial bench, there the cause was found—a dish of pealed onions, with a gilt edged card on which was inscribed, "A sample from W. Ventress' acre of onions, per favor of a lady friend." They are a magnificent sample, but for the future we must request that similar samples be canned and hermetically sealed. We shall be prepared to take the word of the contributor for their size, flavor and pungency.

Coming Convention.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The canvassers of the billeting committee will call on our people in a short time, to find out how much accommodation can be given to the Christian Endeavour delegates who will be with us Oct. 21-23.

We think this will be the largest convention the Peterborough people have ever been called upon to entertain. We expect there will be over 500 delegates present and, of course, the entertaining of such a number of strangers will tax the hospitality of our town to the utmost, but we trust, for the good name of our town, and for the advancement of this great inter-denominational movement that a ready and hearty response will be given from every home called upon.

Toronto had the first convention, Hamilton had the second, we will have the third and largest of all, and hope to show the Province that we are more than equal to entertain such a large number.

A disappointed tea vendor was belaboring his slow but patient horse in a street in Lindsay the other day, and calling out his wares at intervals, as "Tea, tea, fresh tea." A tender hearted lady, seeing the act of cruelty to the horse, called out sternly from an upper window: "Have you no mercy?" "No, mum, was the reply, "nothin but Hawley Bros. tea."

Schools Opening.

The Collegiate Institute and the Public Schools of the town open on Monday. It is very desirable that there should be a full attendance on the opening day, especially in the Collegiate Institute, so that classes may be organized and work proceed from the beginning without the interruption to study which must result from pupils dropping in ad libitum during the first week or ten days of the term. Our Institute is doing good work, but the pupils must co-operate with the teaching staff, in order to secure a continuance of successful results.

Hay fever takes a prominent place among the maladies that to make life uncomfortable during this month. Through the use of Naval Balm the sufferer will experience immediate relief and rapid cure. Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

Considered in Respect of the Status of Competing Schools — Bowmanville Bowled Out of First Place—Corrected Comparative Statement of Examination Results—The Institute the Best Educational Institution.

Our attention has been called to a comparative statement in the Canadian Statesman, of Bowmanville, respecting the results of the recent departmental examinations in a number of the schools in this district. Bowmanville is placed at the head of the list, being credited with having passed thirty-two candidates at the various examinations. One of the pupils who wrote on the Primary at Bowmanville, the Statesman tells us, was not prepared at the Bowmanville High School, but in the comparative statement this candidate is included among the number. Peterborough, according to the statement referred to, comes second, credited with having passed thirty-one candidates. This number does not include Mr. A. Wood, a pupil of our school, who wrote at Lindsay, and obtained first class honours in mathematics at Matriculation. Taking these two candidates into consideration, Peterborough and Bowmanville change places, and our collegiate institute comes to the front.

Below we give the Statesman's comparative statement in a corrected form:

	1st C.	Primary.	Junior Leaving.	Matriculation.	Total.
Peterborough. .	20	9	3	32
Bowmanville . .	13	16	2	31
Port Hope	8	14		22
Port Perry	11	7	2	20
Cobourg	13	1	5	19
Oshawa	7	12		19
Whitby	8	4	2	15
Newcastle	3	4		7

Numerically the record of the Collegiate Institute is 100 per cent. ahead of last year in these examinations, the number of successful candidates being 16 last year as against 32 this year.

This is very gratifying and encouraging. Now that the school is doing such good work it should receive the loyal support of the citizens, and the Board should maintain its policy of keeping the staff up to the creditable efficiency which has marked it recently, and also of strengthening it when experience would indicate a necessity. When the new buildings are completed and equipped, the staff will be able to show, without being handicapped what its capacity for effective work is, providing the public will supply the material in the form of pupils. Parents who wish their children to obtain the best and most practical scholastic education possible in Canada outside the university colleges can get it through the medium of the Institute at a minimum of cost, and of infinitely better quality, than the average "finishing" school can supply. Boys and girls who are destined to push their own way in this work-a-day world, receive fitting training at the Collegiate Institute, for there they have to work and to learn to make the most of their time and opportunities. But boys and girls destined to spend lives of idleness and ornament can meet the high educational ideals these characters demand at the average "finishing" or boarding school. For a good, sound, honest, practical and thorough education adapted to the wear and tear of practical life, the institute affords a splendid opportunity equally available for the rich and the poor.

Obituary.

The Late W. C. Nicholls.

Elsewhere in this issue is recorded the death of Mr. W. C. Nicholls, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Peterborough town and county. The deceased gentleman had reached the age of 83 years, and he died from simple old age. The wheels of life were worn out and stood still. He was a native of Bristol, Eng., where he was born in August, 1808, and was educated at a private school in a suburb of that city. He studied for the law but did not enter into the practise of his profession. He was married to Miss Anne Davy in 1833. The young couple came to Peterborough county in the following year. For some time after his arrival Mr. Nichols, in conformity with the custom of the early settlers "roughed it," in Harvey, for some years. His education being above the average, he was selected as the first common school superintendent of the township of Smith. The death of a relative in England in England placed considerable means at his disposal, and he invested in a farm of 260 acres at Lakefield, part of which was set apart for village purposes, and now constitutes a chief part of the village. He followed farming till his retirement in 1874, when he came to live in Ashburnham — after four years, purchasing the property on McDonel street where he passed his last days. Mr. Nicholls was a member of the Baptist church, and during his active life he was an energetic and faithful worker in all moral and religious movements. He was a staunch Liberal in politics, and for thirty years was justice of the peace. In all the relations in life he enjoyed the high respect and esteem of the community. He has been deprived of his wife for 32 years. He leaves behind him two sons, W. D, and J. B. Nicholls, of Beatrice, Nebraska, and two daughters, who remain at home, one being a teacher in the public school. The funeral takes place on Sunday at 3 o'clock p.m., from the family residence, 216 McDonel street, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The Late Mrs. Wm. Kells, Millbrook

The EXAMINER records with regret the death of Mrs. Wm. Kells, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Millbrook, who died on Friday morning at the ripe age of 84 years. The deceased lady, who was the mother of Mr. T. G. Kells, of the firm of Wood & Kells, Bankers, and paternal aunt of Mrs. James Stratton, Gilmour street, town, was a native of Ireland, from which place she came to Canada at an early age, and filled the important duties, which her position in society demanded, in a manner to win for her universal respect. The funeral takes place on Monday.

A Beautiful Group of Bloom.

A year ago last spring Mr. Charles L. Trotter, the town agent of T. W. Bowman's Nurseries, Rochester, presented to the Nicholls Hospital and planted in the grounds, a large group of that most striking of flowering shrubs, the hardy hydrangea (hydrangea paniculata.) This group of eighteen shrubs is planted in a plot about twelve feet in diameter, and now being in full bloom, presents a strikingly beautiful appearance. The bloom is borne on panicles which average a diameter of nine or ten inches, and each shrub besides bearing liberally the first season of planting will the second year bear about fifty of those beautiful bunches of bloom. The flower first appears a white, tinted pale green, it then develops into a snowy white and matures into a delicate pink. A hydrangea in full bloom is a fine sight. The plant is perfectly hardy, standing such winters as last winter without protection and should be widely cultivated—indeed the only cultivation necessary being a good soil and suitable site.

A SUMPTUOUS EXPOSITION

The Grand Biblical Spectacle,

Solomon, His Temple, and the Queen of Sheba.

The Inquirer, The Commercial Gazette and other leading papers, both German and English, of Cincinnati, are prolific in their praises of this new and most impressive of all spectacles, which, at an expense that would seem fabulous, the enterprising management of John Robinson's Great World's Exposition produce this year in connection with their myriad other attractions. There is no sense so vivid, so lasting and so conclusive as the sense of seeing, and however studiously we may search the Scriptures or other sacred history, the ideas that we may form and the impressions we may receive concerning the patriarchs and sages, and the scenes, incidents and events consequent to their time, can be but fractionary and imperfect. To have reproduced those personages and events and placed with scenographic effect before you; to hear Solomon re-utter his wise and prophetic words; to see in person Sheba's illustrious Queen, and the pomp and circumstance of her surroundings; to view the great temple of Solomon, not by description, but by actual inspection; to witness personally the sumptuous and resplendent festivals of the great Solomon's court—these are the inestimable privileges which the John Robinson Great World's Exposition accords its patrons in connection with the great circus, the menagerie, and the royal Roman hippodrome. The spectacle of Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba will be displayed here on Tuesday, Sept. 8th.

On Fire with Eczeme

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 3 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torture & agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

A JOKER GUILLOTINED.

HE KEEPS UP THE GHASTLY FUN TILL HIS HEAD FALLS.

A Callous Young Villain Who Committed Several Atrocious Murders Demonstrates His Absolute Contempt for the King of Terrors.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—A youth named Ballet, who had been convicted of committing several atrocious murders, was beheaded at Douai, near Lille, in the Department du Nord, yesterday. He exhibited the most callous demeanor and seemed to have no fear of death. At two my minutes past five, when he was awakened, he joked and laughed with the executioners, priest and prison attendants. During the toilet, pinioning, etc., previous to the beheading, Ballet showed no change in his demeanor, continuing his jokes and laughing and positively refusing to listen to the priest.

When in front of the basculle of the guillotine and upon the point of being thrown upon the sliding plank Ballet shouted, "Vive la Republique!" The words were hardly out of his mouth when the executioners seized him and threw him under the knife, and a second later his head rolled into the basket of sawdust waiting to receive it.

FORTUNES IN THE COAT.

How the Pilgrims Help the Merchants of Treves.

TREVES, Aug. 30.—The concourse of pilgrims at Treves is still very great. Only 45,000 can be admitted daily into the cathedral. This always leaves a large number who are obliged to wait over night, and it is during the night that an immense business in rosaries, crosses, beads and other religious objects is carried on.

One Cologne firm with a special branch here has already sold 20,000,000 marks' worth of such articles, while the sales of the local agency of a Paris firm amount to 180,000 francs. It is estimated by the authorities that the citizens of Treves will have then total annual income this year in receipt 2,000,000 marks on account of the vast pilgrimage to the Holy Coat.

A Horrible Electrical Death.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—A horrible accident occurred at the electric works in Arnstadt on Saturday. The conductors on the roof of the works were being repaired by a number of employes, when by some mishap the full current was turned into the wires, and three of the men received the shock. Two of them were killed instantly, but their bodies remained in contact with the wires and were terribly roasted, the smoke issuing from the places where the wire touched the flesh and the forms of the victims being frightfully distorted. The third man was only stunned by the shock, but lost his footing and rolled from the roof and his neck was broken by the fall to the ground.

An Unbalanced Engineer.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—An English lunatic named Henry Scowsun has been arrested for stealing packages on the train. He was not an ordinary thief. The police noticed that he was eccentric in his habits and speech and called in the doctors who, on examining the accused, announced him to be a raving maniac. He had been in the employ of the company 20 years. It is supposed that his sudden arrest upset his mind, although the physicians insist that the strain of insanity could exist for a long time and that he was liable at any moment to have run his train into destruction.

11 Camel-loads of Severed Hands.

ADEN, Aug. 31.—An Arab, whose word is worthy of belief, has arrived here and tells a startling tale of Turkish triumph. According to him Ahmed Bey Feizi, the Turkish commander in Yemen, the principal division of Arabia, has just crushed a revolt which broke out some days in that province, and has struck terror into the hearts of the insurgents. The Arab adds that the Pasha subsequently entered Sana, the capital city of Yemen, in triumphal procession, having in his train 11 camels laden with hands cut from the rebel chieftains of Yemen.

Signor Crispi Interviewed.

GENEVA, Aug. 31.—Signor Crispi, ex-premier of Italy, was interviewed here. He referred to the Franco-Russian entente as "Much ado about nothing and an alliance of carp and rabbit; that alliance, he said, would cause no bloodshed; it would only strengthen the Dreibund. England's interests were on the side of the Dreibund. "Emperor William," said Crispi, "made a mistake in dismissing Bismarck. It was now too late to repair the error." Crispi thought the next Pope must be an Italian unless the church was to be split into a dozen schisms.

The Insane Empress of Austria

PARIS, Aug. 31.—A despatch to The Estafette from Vienna says: "The Empress of Austria shows symptoms of insanity. She is very eccentric, desiring bizarre costumes in which to appear in public, and indulging in other oddities. The Emperor has called in medical experts, who have pronounced the case a grave one, being associated with an hereditary malady. The Duchess Dalencon, a sister of the Empress, is in an insane asylum at Gratz, and the mad King of Bavaria is a cousin of the Empress.

Servia's Treatment of Bulgaria.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The Servian Government has communicated with M. Ribot, the French Foreign Minister, in regard to the Porte's diplomatic intervention between Bulgaria and Servia, the Porte having protested against Servia's massing troops, ostensibly for manœuvres, on the Bulgarian frontier. It is reported that M. Ribot advised Servia to adopt a pacific attitude and to refrain from offensive demonstrations against Bulgaria.

Belgium's Ambition.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The Journal of the Chambers of Commerce states that the Belgian Government proposes to declare Antwerp and other Belgian ports free ports, aiming to make Belgium the warehouse of Europe. Many French and other European firms would not hesitate to transfer their business to Belgium, in order to escape some burdens of prospective tariffs.

FELL DEAD.

The Sad Termination of a Game of Lacrosse at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—The Capital Ottawa lacrosse match Saturday had a very sad termination. After two games had been played Mr. Egan, father of Capt. M. Egan of the Capital team, dropped dead in the grand stand of heart disease and the match was stopped. Mr. Egan was 58 years of age and had been ill for about three years suffering from Bright's disease. It is supposed the excitement and the heat caused an acute attack of heart weakness and produced his death. The body was removed in the ambulance and the crowd dispersed. At the time the play was stopped the Capitals had won two in 6½ and 23 minutes. It was decided to continue the match on a future date, allowing the Capitals the two games already won. The Capitals had the best of the play through out, being in better condition than the Ottawas. Play throughout was fast and exceedingly hard. The body checking closely approaching roughness. Dr. Conseen was referee. The Ottawas played their regular team but the Capitals who had been scouring the country for men for the match played Tark and Ritchie of the Clements and Fallis of Brampton.

A Hamilton Man's Ill-Luck.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—W. A. Freeman's fertilizing works east of Wentworth street, a short distance north of the Grand Trunk Railway, were again destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. All that remains of the works are the blackened walls. The destruction was complete. Mr. Freeman has been particularly unfortunate. Last January the building was burned and the valuable machinery was destroyed. Several times before then the place was on fire and the losses were heavy. Mr. Freeman went away a week ago on a trip to Mackinaw, and it is impossible to get at the exact loss, but it will be fully $10,000. How the fire started is a mystery.

Between Boiler and Wall.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—Robert Reardon, a young man employed at the Hamilton Vinegar Works, was seriously injured on Saturday afternoon. A new boiler is being put into the factory, and Reardon and several other men were working at it. The boiler went down and Reardon was caught between it and the wall.

Killed By C.P.R. Freight.

EAU PORTAGE, Aug. 31.—An unknown man killed by a C.P.R. freight train near Westersund station yesterday. He is supposed to be Patrick Walsh, who was lately in Port Arthur jail, but was liberated a few days ago. It is thought he was temporarily insane.

Niagara's Latest Victim.

LOCKPORT, Aug. 31.—Thomas Stevenson of Chippewa, Ont., is believed to have gone over Niagara Falls Saturday night. He was seen in a boat above the falls and his brother found pieces of the boat below the falls yesterday.

Digging for Treasure Buried.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 31.—A party of 15 men from Colchester county have leased the late Anthony Groves's property on Oak Island, Chester, and have commenced to dig for the great load of gold which tradition says was buried there by Capt. Kidd.

The Weather in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31.—The weather during the past few days has been exceedingly warm. Crops throughout the entire province are ripening fast and threshers are at work in every district.

A Shark's Victim.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31.—The fishing schooner Socouete at North Sydney from St. Pierre reports that John Boutier, aged 21, was attacked by a shark. He was in a dory and was carried overboard by a sea. He was never seen after.

Arrival of a Sealing Schooner.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 31.—The sealing schooner Mary Taylor arrived yesterday from Behring sea with 264 skins and 500 pounds of whalebone.

$1000 Reward Offered.

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 31.—John G. Udall, father of the late Frederick Udall, whose body was some time ago found in the whirlpool, is still strong in the belief that his son was the victim of foul play, and has offered a reward of $1000 for information that will lead to the conviction of any person of his murder. The circumstances of the finding of the body with the pockets of the clothing wrong side out and several bruises about the head were suspicious, and there are many who share the father's belief.

The Latest Fad in Newspapers.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A decided innovation in the printing world was introduced Saturday evening into the office of The News and Post, of which J. H. Copleston, formerly well known in New York as a journalist, is the manager. The paper is printed with scented ink, which gives a delightful fragrance. And desired odor may be produced and the experiment has proved not only a great success, but a big advertisement for the journal.

Collision on the Rail.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—A railroad collision between two freight trains on the Frisco road occurred near Phillisburg, Mo., at 5 o'clock yesterday. The cars were piled up in every conceivable manner and the track will not be cleared till late this evening. Engineer Hudson of Springfield and his fireman were instantly killed. Two other trainmen are reported killed and several injured.

A Diabolical Revenge.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—At Rubentsch, Bohemia, a passenger and a freight train collided and 12 persons were killed and many injured in the wreck. It was soon discovered that the smashup was caused by a Czech switchman, who had recently had a quarrel with the engineer of the passenger train, and took this method of revenge.

Victims of the Alps

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—The Alpine traveler Maurice Petitgar, has been killed by falling into a crevasse. Judge Habt of Berlin started on the 15th inst. to ascend Mount Ferglon in the Carnical Pass. He was unaccompanied by a guide and has not been seen since and has undoubtedly perished.

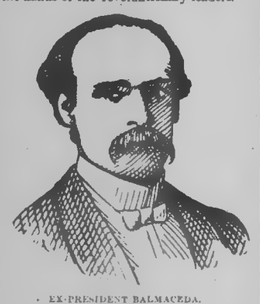
AN INSURGENT VICTORY.

BALMACEDA'S ARMY IN CHILI BADLY WHIPPED.

A Desperate Charge—The Victorious Army in Valparaiso—The Stubborn Leader At Last Overthrown and Forced to Flee After Losing Two of His Ablest Generals.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Herald's Valparaiso special says: Balmaceda's power in Chili is broken. His army has been crushed after five hours hard fighting, and is scattered beyond all hope of reorganization. The revolutionists have taken possession of Valparaiso. The future of Chili for the time has been settled and settled conclusively on the hills to the east of this city by the grim arbitrament of war.

With Balmaceda practically a fugitive without resources in men or money; with the principal seaports of the country in the hands of the congressionalists, and a consequent shutting off of all income from custom receipts; with President Elect Vicuna a refugee on board a German warship and the country flocking en masse to the standard of the invaders. It is a matter of only a few days when the capital will fall into the hands of the revoluntionary leaders.



EX-PRESIDENT BALMACEDA.

A new government with possibly Judge Belisario Pratz head of the last parliamentary cabinet of Balmaceda, or Manuel Jose Irarrazavel, head of the congress cabinet, at its head, will be founded and things will go along in about the same way in Chili as they did before January 7, when hostilities were begun.

Gen. Canto and his army won Friday's battle by superior generalship, good hard fighting, assisted by good fortune in the killing of Balmaceda's generals, and the demoralization of the army and the desertion of entire regiments. Up to that morning Balmaceda was not in a position to make an offensive movement and devoted his time and energies to making his defences as strong as possible.

Then all was not harmony in the military councils of the president. Both Generals Barbosa and Alzerrecca wanted to have supreme command of the forces in the field. The friction and jealousy resulted in almost an open rupture, and the two officers worked at cross purposes.

CANTO'S SUPERIOR TACTICS.

General Canto was in no hurry to move on the enemy, because he was receiving constant accessions to his ranks from the people in the surrounding country, which is populated largely by those bound by ties of blood or interest to the leaders of the revolution, many of whom are natives of the province. There he had a strongly intrenched position and could well afford to wait. Early in the morning the boom of cannon announced to the people of Valparaiso that a movement beyond the ordinary skirmishes had begun. The occasional loud reports of the heavy guns soon swell into one continuous roar, and then it was known that the final decisive struggle had commenced which, at the cost of thousands of lives, was to decide whether Balmaceda or the Junta was to be the ruling power in Chili.

SCENES IN VALPARAISO.

Excitement was intense in Valparaiso. The streets were crowded with people, women predominating, anxiously waiting for news and talking of the momentous issues which was in full progress only a few miles away. Gen. Canto's position was on the hills above the race track at Vina del Mar outside of the city. His raiders had been getting bolder and bolder as time passed and had been making excursions further into the country. He had absolute control of the railroad to Santiago and communication by ordinary roads. Hence Santiago was practically in a state of seige.

BALMACEDA FORCED TO MOVE.

What had come to such a pass that it was necessary for Balmaceda to make some move and a battle after daylight Friday morning the word was given to attack the position held by the revolutionists and led by Generals Barbosa and Alzerreca; the government troops left their breastworks and advanced on the enemy under cover of a heavy fire from their batteries. The insurgents were generally armed with Mannlicher rifles and used smokeless powder. The government troops were not so well armed.

SHOT, SHELL, GRAPE AND CANISTER.

As soon as the approaching column got within range of the Mannlicher a destructive fire from the intrenched revolutionists was poured into it. The Chilians advanced with much steadiness to the attack. They were soon near enough to do effective work with their pieces, and the engagement became general. Shot and shell, grape and canister, and rifle bullets tore through the ranks of the advancing troops until it became too hot, and despite the efforts of the officers they broke and retired almost in panic. Officers worked like beavers to re-form their columns as soon as they got without the range of the deadly Mannlicher and "last ditch" was tried.

A DESPERATE CHARGE.

Then came another attack. In steady ranks the government troops started on a double quick up into the storm of fire and lead which blazed from the ranks of the insurgent army.

TWO GENERALS KILLED.

Early in the second charge Gen. Barbosa was shot down and killed. The line wavered but only for a few moments. Then Gen. Alzerreca fell from his horse, wounded unto death. He was removed from the field and died within an hour.

A DEADLY CHARGE.

Another break, and then Gen Canto gave the order to charge. With a wild yell the Congressionalist army left their defences and charged on the retreating army. Their artillery poured a deadly fire into the ranks of Balmaceda's army. The loss of their generals left them without a head. All the efforts of the subordinate officers to rally them to meet the onset of Canto's regiments and squadrons were of no avail. The retreat became a rout, the rout a panic and then came utter demoralization.

The government cavalry made a stand, but it was short. They were literally cut to pieces. Volley after volley was poured into the demoralized mob of Balmaceda ists

FOUGHT AGAINST THEMSELVES.

Whole regiments which had not lost their regimental formation went over to the victorious troops of Canto and joined in the attack on their late comrades. These deserters were generally the volunteers who had been impressed into service by Balmaceda. Their sympathies have all along been with the insurgents and they took the first opportunity to go over to them.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The fighting lasted a little less than five hours, and fully five thousand men were killed and wounded. The country for miles around is filled with men, many of them wounded, who were Friday morning the friends of President Balmaceda. The defeat of the government is absolute and complete. There is no possibility of a reorganization and if Balmaceda does not succeed in making his escape through the mountain passes which are yet open, the chances are he will be captured and shot.

THE MORNING REPORTS.

Early stragglers from the battlefield began to come in. As the day wore on they came in greater and constantly growing numbers, and it became apparent that the government troops were getting the worst of it. The reports they brought in became most alarming. President elect Vicuna took the alarm early and went aboard the German flagship and asked protection of the admiral, which was granted. Then communication was sent to Admiral Brown and the commanding officers of the other foreign fleets in the harbor requesting them to send men ashore and protect their citizens, as the probability was they might be troubled.

THE AMERICAN CONSULATE PROTECTED.

A landing party of blue jackets and marines from the San Francisco were ordered ashore by Admiral Brown and took up a position about the American consulate. The other naval officers followed suit and soon there were enough foreign men-of-wars-men ashore to protect the city against any possible outbreak.

The streets of the city by 11 o'clock were filled with a disorganized mob of Balmacedan soldiers. The execution among the officers had been terrific.

In addition to the two generals Barbosa Alzerrecca, nearly all the staff officers had been killed or wounded, and the fatalities among the line officers had also been great.

It was evident the government had met with an overwhelming defeat, and an attack on the city was momentarily expected. To avoid the bloodshed, which would probably have resulted from the victorious army entering the city heated with the fire of battle, Admiral Viel, the intendante, sent a flag of truce to Gen. Canto with the proposition to surrender the city.

MARTINEZ AT THE HEAD.

It was accepted, and Don Carlos Walker Martinez, a congressional leader, who had refused a safe conduct from Balmaceda and remained in Santiago directing the conduct of affairs for the rebels in the south, was requested by Gen. Canto to take possession of the city and act as intendante until such time as permanent arrangements could be made. This he did.

In the meantime there had been a general flight of such of the government officials here as had reason to believe they had brought down on themselves the vengeance of the revolutionists.

CANTO ENTERS THE CITY.

Shortly after noon the victorious army began to enter the captured city from the hills to the southeast. Gen. Canto with his Chiefs of Staff Cols. Halley and Korner and Walker Martinez were at the head of the troops. The inhabitants of Valparaiso were apparently all revolutionists in their sympathies, for as the insurgent troops, flushed with victory, marched through the streets, they were greeted with the wildest enthusiasm. The people were simply wild with excitement and the streets resounded with their shouts of "Viva Chili!" "Viva Canto!"

GREETED WITH FLOWERS.

From the windows of the houses showers of flowers were flung by the enthusiastic women on the heads of the leaders. Shortly after the entry of the army of Gen. Canto Capt. Alberto Fuentez of the torpedo boat Almirante Lynch, which was lying at the Fiscal Mole, was summoned to surrender. He attempted to steam out and opened fire with his machine guns on the insurgent troops. There was a sharp engagement, lasting fifteen minutes, and then Capt. Fuentez hauled down his flag and there was not an enemy to the revolution from Fort Valdvia to Vina del Mar.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS PAROLED.

During the afternoon such of the government troops as were in the city or who came in gave up their arms and most of them were paroled. Guards were stationed in the streets to see that the crowds of disbanded soldiers and the dangerous classes did not make trouble. The city is as quiet as could be expected under the circumstances and no trouble is expected.

WHERE IS BALMACEDA?

Nobody here has any knowledge of the whereabouts of Balmaceda. The insurgent leaders are exceedingly anxious to find out where he is, and if they succeed in finding him the changes are it would go hard with him. The general belief is he is making his way out of the country, perhaps overland to Buenos Ayres.

THE LATEST NEWS.

1,500 Balmacedists Killed and an Equal Number Taken Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Last night the Chilian Congressional envoys here received the following despatch from Iquique:

"According to an official despatch from Commander Montt of the Congressional navy, the battle of Concon the enemy lost 1500 men and an equal number of prisoners were captured. Two thousand rifles were taken and a number of field pieces. Our loss was 500 and among the killed were five officers. In the battle of Placilla the defeat of Balmaceda was complete. His two generals, Barbosa and Alcerrica were killed and many other officers. Vicuna, the President-elect, has escaped on board a foreign war vessel. The whereabouts of Balmaceda are unknown.

The battle of Concon, the envoy say, was fought on the first day the insurgent army landed in the vicinity of Valparaiso. The battle of Placilla was fought Saturday. Numerous congratulatory telegrams from many places have been received by the Congressional envoys.

Neither the State nor the Navy Department received any official news yesterday from Chili. The Chilian Minister denied himself to all reporters. It is not believed, however, that he received any telegrams from Chili bearing on the war.

BALMACEDA'S FLIGHT CONFIRMED.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The agents of the Chilian Congressional party have received an official despatch from Santiago saying that the Congressional party is in control of the capital, that Balmaceda fled on Friday night and that the country is tranquil.

Buenos Ayres despatches say that Balmaceda resigned in favor of General Baquedeno.

KATIE DID.

At Least her Second Husband Claims she Committed Bigamy.

RIDGETOWN, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Catherine Robertson, nee Rose, was married at Ridgetown in 1888 to John Marshall. The union was not found congenial and the parties shortly after separated. Mr. Marshall has been living latterly in Blenheim. He is disposed to ignore his marriage with Mrs. Robertson on the grounds that Robertson is yet alive. Mrs. Robertson, though apparently not desirous of living with Marshall had interfered in his matrimonial intentions towards a lady in Blenheim. Marshall had Mrs. Robertson before Mr. Watson here charged with bigamy. The case came upon remand Tuesday. It came out in evidence that the first husband came here from Townsend, Norfolk County, settled as a tenant on Colonel Patterson's farm and married Miss Rose. He afterwards left the country, and has been in various States of the Union photographing and teaching writing classes. His brother, a farmer from Townsend, swore that he had been back three times only in fourteen years and that only for short visits. It did not appear that he had during that period visited, lived with or supported defendant. It was contended by her counsel, Mr. O'Neil of Chatham, that under the circumstances defendant was innocent of the crime charged in marrying Marshall. The magistrate reserved his decision till Saturday.

CABLE CHAT.

The evicted tenants on Lord Lansdowne's estate of Luggunerran in the county of Kildare held a meeting yesterday. By a majority vote it was decided to enter into negotiations for the restoration of their holdings. Three of the largest tenants have applied for reinstatement.

The strike of the stevedores has become general. The supply of laborers, however, is plentiful and work goes on. The strikers are exasperated and threaten to attack the substitutes. Precautions are being taken by the police to prevent an outbreak.

The fires in the pine forests near Bordeaux were more disastrous than at first supposed. Immense tracts of forest land were laid waste and at least 10 persons, woodcutters, hunters and charcoal burners, lost their lives.

BUY YOURSELF

A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to the BEST TOWN IN CANADA.

This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

MONDAY, AUGUST 31, 1891.

A General Election.

The agents and heelers of the Conservative party says the Globe, are flocking to the capital, there to plan for a redistribution of the constituencies and to perfect preparations for an early appeal to the people. This is no false alarm. We speak with knowledge of the plans and movements of the Conservative forces. A redistribution measure will be introduced during the present Parliamentary session, and the Abbott Government will go to the country just as soon as the voters lists are completed and their plans are ripe for the appeal. It is probable that the election will come on during the latter part of December or early in January.

Why this new election? The Government boast that they have a safe and solid majority of 30. The Parliament now sitting is fresh from the people. The census hardly warrants a redistribution.

There are two reasons assigned for the decision that has been reached. One is that the Government dare not face the election courts, that many of their followers fear very scandalous revelations, and that there is hardly a doubt that four or five of the Ministers and some of their prominent supporters would be disqualified. These developments, added to the ghastly exposures of corruption made since Parliament entered upon this memorable session, would mean the absolute destruction of the Conservative organization, the utter overthrow of its leaders and bosses, the end of a black chapter in our history.

The other reason assigned for the approaching dissolution is that Lord Stanley has made strong remonstrances against the retention in office of a Government which it is proved was elected by bold and flagrant corruption, which has tolerated wholesale thieving in the public departments and made the name of Canada a scandal and a byeword on earth; and that the Government see no way out of the embarrassing position save through a dissolution. Parliament was dissolved a few months ago to avoid the exposure of corruption before its committees. Parliament will be dissolved a few months hence to avoid the exposure of corruption before the courts. Whether or not it is true that Lord Stanley has demanded a clean Administration, we do not pretend to know, we but give the rumor, but that a dissolution is contemplated we know of positive knowledge.

It is expected, too, that some means will be found for shirking the proposed reciprocity conference at Washington in October, as the Ministers know that their policy will not be seriously considered by the Washington Administration, and that the Tory Ministers will try to humbug the people on that vital issue through another campaign.

The duty of the people is plain. They need not to be told their business. It is proved that there has been jobbery and plundering all over this big country. The public departments reek with fraud and rottenness. Out of every new public building an assessment for political purposes has been stolen. Out of every railway subsidy something has been taken for the reptile fund. Out of the contracts from the Public Works department hundreds of thousands of dollars have been taken for the purposes of the Tory party. The Printing Bureau is a nest of scandals. The Intercolonial Railway and its branches is a political machine, run in the interest of political favorites and of a corrupt and prodigal Administration. The public service in the Northwest is honeycomed with fraud. There is thieving everywhere. The system has become part of the very life of the official Tory element, and the people dare not accept a lesser remedy than the complete cleaning out of the whole thieving brood. No one doubts that the Conservative party is in the main sound at heart and inspired by an honest patriotism, but the policy of their leaders has been fatal to the best and highest interests of Canada, they have developed a system of rule that is rotten at every joint, and we repeat that the people dare not halt short of an absolute cleaning out of those men and their methods. There is no time to lose. The fight should begin now. The revision of the voters' lists should be watched with unceasing vigilance in every constituency, and at once the machinery of the Liberal party must be put in order for the great campaign ahead. Laurier and Cartwright are honest men. Mackenzie gave us honest government before he was turned out to make way for the unfortunate policy whose ripe fruit has just been exhibited in the census returns, and under Laurier honest Government will be restored. We ask patriotic Canadians, business men, men with investments, men with a stake in the land, and young men who hope for a future for their country, of which they shall not be ashamed, to remember that regard for Canada's honor and concern for Canada's credit, demand that Tory rule shall end now.

Census Considerations.

The publication of the results of the recent census has given the politicians and the press an opportunity for the making of many calculations and comparisons, and will undoubtedly and not unnaturally lead to much pessimistic deduction. As the Mail has already pointed out comparisons made with former census statistics will not be altogether trustworthy, inasmuch as a more accurate system of enumeration than had formerly been in use was adopted last April. Even, however, when due allowance is made for this fact, the results of this year's count are disappointing, the Ministerial press itself admitting that they are not what had been anticipated. In 1889 the Government's official estimate of our population placed it at 5,075,853. The census shows that two years later it is actually 250,000 less than that figure.

The new enumeration enables us to compute accurately the amount of our Federal indebtedness per head of population. In April last the population of the Dominion was 4,823,344; on March 31 the gross debt of the country was $238,717,383, and the net debt $234,692,554. The gross debt per head was the afore, $66.07, and the net debt per head $48.65. The following table shows the increase in per capita indebtedness since Confederation.

	Gross debt.	Net debt.
1868 (est.)	28 74	22 47
1871	32 82	22 08
1881	45 19	35 76
1891	66.07	48 65

The figures for 1868 are based upon an estimate of the population, and not like those for the other years upon census returns. The estimated population at the close of the first fiscal year of Confederation was 3,371,594. In the twenty three years this figure has been increased by only 1,452,750, or less than 50 per cent.—an average annual increase of 63 163. During this time our net per capita indebtedness has been more than doubled. In Quebec this burden is enormously increased by the provincial debt. It is computed that the indebtedness of the neighbouring province is $33,000 000; the population is 1 488 586. The debt per head, therefore, is $22 18, and if we add this to the net Federal debt per head we find that each inhabitant of Quebec, man, woman and child, is carrying, as his share of public indebtedness, no less than $67.90. Each of the 660 families of twelve children which have so far received the Government grant of one hundred acres of land has on its shoulders a debt of $940, the aggregate burden for the whole number being about $640,000.

The census returns will give little encouragement to the enthusiastic Ministerial journal, which declared not long ago that the child was already born that would see the population of this Dominion far exceed that of the Mother Country. A nineteenth century Methuselah, if only in swaddling clothes at the present time, would scarcely see our population swelled to 40,000,000 before his death if the rate of increase were to remain at its present figure; and it is in their youth that nations grow most rapidly in population. Another Ministerial paper which recently undertook to prove that there had been no exodus from Canada to the United States will find the statistics of this year's census somewhat difficult of digestion. At the lowest rate of natural increase our population should have been swelled by at least 640,000 in the past ten years, whereas the increase has been only 498,534. If we are fruitful, and if we multiply as other peoples do, what has become of the missing 140 000? And where in the world are the 886,171 immigrants who, the Government tells us, settled in this country during the same decade? Where are they all? If there has been no exodus to the United States, about one million good Canadians are mysteriously missing, and steps should at once be taken to find them.

Working for the Presidential Nomination.

What man can tell who will be nominated for President by the Republicans or Democrats. Each one works his "boom" for all it is worth. First we read Blaine's mind is tottering, that he's a physical wreck; again that he suffers only from indigestion; and then we're told that Harrison don't want the nomination unless——; Hill says nothing; and Cleveland is in the hands of his friends. There are so many rumors that we know nothing definite except that Manager Bradburn has secured the great comedy drama "Casey's Troubles," and it is undeniably the greatest show that ever visited us. d51

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1883 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G.W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

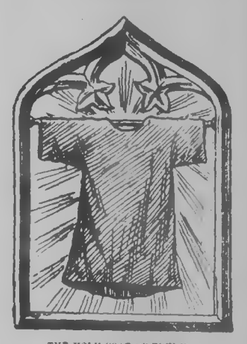
HOLY COAT OF TREVES.

APPEARANCE OF THE RELIC BEFORE WHICH THOUSANDS KNEEL.

Millions Have Worshipped at Its Shrine and Miraculous Cures Are Ascribed to It—Argenteuil's Holy Coat and Its Claims to Genuineness—Other Relics of the Life of Christ.

The holy coat of Treves consists of three layers of cloth. The outer one is a kind of silken damask with gold and purple pattern in streaks and large squares. Two birds facing each other are faintly discernible on this layer. The middle layer is the coat itself. It is a shirt like garment, with short loose sleeves. Last year a committee of experts who examined the relic, made a report which described the garment as "pieces of cloth material hanging together, spread out between the upper and lower layers. A gauze covering is the third layer. There are also jointed pieces of silken material, without any pattern, between the front and back.

"It is a texture of brownish dye," said the committee of experts, referring to the coat, "without pattern, to all appearance of linen or cotton wool. A microscopic examination showed a difference of the coat from the outside and inside layers. The coat being without any pattern, it was impossible to form an opinion as to the date of its manufacture. The experts said the coverings, the inside and outside layers, must have been made in the East before the ninth century, perhaps as early as the fifth or sixth.



THE HOLY COAT OF TREVES.

The tradition of the Catholic Church is that the Empress Helena miraculously discovered many of the relics of Christ's passion in Palestine. These included the cross, the nails, the crown of thorns, the lance, the winding sheet which enveloped his body, and the coat without seams. On her return to Treves, or Augusta Treverorum, as it was called, the western capital of the Roman empire, the Empress presented to the cathedral the coat, one of the nails, and a portion of the crown of thorns. In 324 these relics were committed to the care of Agricius, Bishop of Treves, and every one of his successors has carefully guarded them. When the relics arrived at the cathedral they were placed in the choir, and for many centuries were the objects of the devotion of millions of pilgrims from all parts of the Christian world. In 1196 the relics were transferred to the high altar, where they were built in after having been examined and attended in the presence of a large number of Bishops and clergy, the magistrates, and notables of the city, and eminent men from all parts of the world. They were enclosed in three iron chests, one within the other, and each securely fastened and sealed with the official seals of the principal men present. More than three centuries after this they were again exposed for public veneration. After an exposition that lasted forty days they were once more sealed and walled up within the high altar. During the sixteenth century the relics were exposed several times for public veneration, and on every occasion thousands of pilgrims flocked from all parts, and numerous miracles were reported to have been wrought. During the wars of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the relics were sent for safety to the Castle of Ehrenbreitstein, on the Rhine, and later to Augsburg. In 1810, Napoleon I. gave permission to the Bishop of Treves to transfer them to Treves; 200,000 pilgrims attended the exposition on that occasion.

In 1844 the most impressive of the expositions took place. Eleven Bishops, several thousand priests, and over a million of the laity visited Treves from Aug. 18 to Oct. 6. One of the many miraculous cures was that of a nun of the Archbishop of Cologne, who had been a cripple for four years. After touching the shrine containing the relics three times her health is said to have been completely restored. The pilgrimage of 1844 was made on foot by immense crowds from every part of Germany, Belgium, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, and Italy. Men, women, and children walked great distances led by their parish priests and bearing banners with emblems of the passion, the virgin, and the pilgrims' patron saints, reciting the rosary and singing hymns. Two thousand pilgrims from Coblentz, with the Mayor at their head, marched almost seventy miles to Treves. On Sunday, Sept. 18, 40,000 pilgrims were in the place. Besides the ordinary accommodations of the inns and hotels, 500 citizens gave up their houses to lodge the pilgrims, and outside of the city walls several temporary barracks, each capable of accommodating 2,000 persons, were erected.

The relic is exhibited in its full length and breadth, hanging in an oaken shrine, lined with white silk, open in front, and draped with costly silk, adorned with braid and tassels of gold. On the main spire of the cathedral has been erected a large flagstaff, from which, during the exposition of the relic, will float a flag with a red cross on a white ground. A thousand citizens of Treves will watch beside the relic during the exposition.

Argenteuil, a small town to the northwest of Paris, claims to possess the seamless garment of Christ for which the Roman soldiers cast lots, and which was worn next to the body. Those who claim Argenteuil has the seamless garment say that the Treves relic was one of the outer garments worn by Christ. The Argenteuil garment is about five feet long by three and a half feet wide. The left sleeve is missing, and a large piece has been taken from the left side. The garment is hand woven, and is of camel's hair. It lies in a casket, and has a reddish tone like that of a dried rose.

Aix-la-Chapelle also has relics. They are deposited in the Karl Chapelle, the Cathedral which Charlemagne built, and are said to be a robe of the virgin, the swaddling clothes of Christ, the cloth in which the body of John the Baptist was wrapped, and the linen cloth with which Christ was girded on the cross. John, the Patriarch of Jerusalem, is said to have presented them to Charlemagne in 799.

A NEW SWINDLE.

This Time it is a Patent Harrow Clip—The Seller Arrested.

WINGHAM, Aug. 29.—A man giving his name as V. Taylor of Toronto was before Mayor Clegg charged by Mr. S. Jackson of Brussels with fraud. From the evidence it appeared that Taylor had been selling a patent harrow clip and the right to make and sell them to different parties and agreeing to furnish them five dozen of the clips within ten day after sale. He sold the right to Mr. Jackson for Grey and Morris and also sold the right of Morris to Mr. V. Vannorman of Belgrave. The purchasers of the patent right becoming suspicious that things were not right, had inquiries made in Toronto where Taylor said his establishment was located, but no such manufacturing concern could be found, and the purchasers became convinced that they had been bitten, and had Taylor arrested at Teeswater. The notes procured by Taylor in payment of the right sold in this section were disposed of in Brussels and Wingham. Under a late act passed all notes given for a patent right must have printed or written across the face of them, before they are offered for sale, the words: "For patent right." Those disposed of by Taylor had not this on the face of them, hence he was committed to Goderich jail by Mayor Clegg. Failing to secure bail, he was taken down.

A HORRIBLE STORY.

Montreal Mothers and Their Infants Left to Starve.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—This evening Dr. O'Connor was called into a house at 31 Genevieve street kept by a Mrs. Galloway to attend a dying baby. When the doctor arrived at the house he found three women in a destitute condition. On the bed were six infants. One of the infants was dead, while four others were dying. The unfortunate women told a harrowing tale. They are all unemployed servants who had been betrayed and went to the house in question for refuge. The woman of the house who was supposed to look after them skipped out, and the inmates were left in a destitute condition. When the doctor was called in the women were on the point of starvation. The infants, who are all between three and four months old, will die with the exception of one. The coroner and police were notified and an investigation will be held.

Killed Himself and Family.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Tenants in the four-story tenement house No. 321 East 106th Street last night heard pistol shots in the apartments occupied by a family named Baxter, on the third floor. This morning Policeman Lawlor forced in the door and there found John Baxter, a painter, 35 years old, his wife Mary, aged 28 years, and their children, Katie, 6 years old, and John, 4 years old, all lying dead with bullet holes in their head.

Lecture on Fools. Admit One.

A gentleman who lectured on fools printed his tickets as above. Suggestive, certainly, and even sarcastic. What fools are they who suffer the inroads of disease when they might be cured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if sold under a positive guarantee of its benefiting or curing in every case of Liver, Blood and Lung disease, if money paid for it will be cheerfully refunded. In all blood taints and impurities of whatever name and nature, it is most positive in its curative effects. Pimples, Blotches, Eruptions, and all Skin and Scalp diseases, are radically cured by this wonderful medicine. Scrofulous diseases may affect the glands, cause swellings or tumors; the bones, causing "Fever-sores," "White Swellings," "Hip-joint disease"; or the tissues of the lungs, causing Pulmonary Consumption. Whatever its manifestations may be, "Golden Medical Discovery" cures it. a

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—193 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you want to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.93
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078.87

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec.,	1881, (five years)	$84,824 07
" " " "	1886, "	89,452 97

Warm Hearted Manitoba Friends.

The Selkirk, Man., Record of August 21st says:—Miss Montgomery, who has been visiting her brothers here for over a year, left yesterday for her home at Peterborough, Ont. She proposes going through the States and will remain in Chicago a couple of weeks.....A farewell party was given to Miss Montgomery at the residence of Capt. and Mrs West on Tuesday evening. A number of friends were present and a most enjoyable time was spent..... Miss Montgomery was the recipient of a superb lady's dressing case at the residence of Capt Wm. Robinson on Wednesday evening, 19th inst. After some brief remarks, in which Rev. Mr. Sutherland drew attention to Miss Montgomery's valuable assistance to the choir and her readiness to aid in any enterprise for the benefit of the church, Mr. Wm. Gibbs presented the handsomely furnished case as a token of esteem and regard from some friend in the choir and congregation of Knox church. Miss Montgomery, who was entirely unaware of any souvenir being in contemplation, expressed her hearty thanks to her friends and said what had now been received would make all the brighter the remembrance of her happy stay in Selkirk.

Salvation Army Notes.

Funeral Services on Saturday and Sunday —A Grand Two Days Big Collect Saturday and Sunday.

The Salvation Army made a large and creditable turn out on Saturday afternoon to conduct the funeral of the infant child of Mr. J. H. Chatten. The services were in charge of Ensign Steele. A pathetic service was held at the house, the army formed a circle about the coffin which had been placed upon the lawn outside the house. After the reading of a lesson by Ensign Steele, several of the soldiers gave their testimony and the procession was formed and proceeded at slow pace down George street to the music of the band. At the grave the usual army burial service was celebrated and the procession reformed and marched back to to the barracks where it was dismissed.

Sunday evening a memorial service was conducted also by Ensign Steele, assisted by Mrs. Steele and the lieutenant. The bereaved parents occupied the front seat, and the testimonies given contained expressions of sympathy with them in their bereavement.

On Sunday afternoon the army conducted another funeral, that of the three years old son of Mr. P. Thompson, Reid street, which died rather suddenly on Sunday morning. The ceremony was private, only three or four soldiers besides Ensign Steele, who had charge of the funeral, being present.

Next Saturday and Sunday will be red letter days with the army. No. 1 company of the "Musical Musketeers," from headquarters, under command of Staff-Capt. Griffiths, will be present. The Musical Musketeers are specialists in music—playing brass instruments on the streets, and inside the barracks all kinds of orchestral instruments. They will be accompanied by the well known coloured lady soloist, Sergeant Lee, who will sing sacred solos in a captivating manner. Adjutant Tom Howell, formerly a captain stationed here, will also form one of the company and assist in the services. The proceeds of the collections made at the services — after deducting the dues to the local corps—will be applied to the funds of the Homes of Rest for sick and wounded officers.

The army is very aggressive these days, and recruits are being added nightly.

Central Exhibition Notes.

A meeting of the Directors of the Central Exhibition was held at the Morgan House Saturday afternoon, where arrangements were about completed for the annual fall show. Judges in the various classes were appointed, and Mr. J. J. Bennett, of Monaghan, was appointed superintendent. The Secretary, Wm. Collins, was authorized to dispose of booth privileges and spaces in the pavilion.

An Incipient Blaze.

Last Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, a fire was discovered in the roof of the moulding shop of the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works. The fire had made very slight progress, and the brigade which turned out promptly, very soon subdued it. The damage done was very little, and there will be no interruption of work. It is supposed that the fire resulted in a spark from the molten iron smouldering in a crevice, and this breaking out started the blaze.

The Principal is a Yachtsman.

The Napanee Express last week contains a letter from Camp Le Nid, on the Bay of Quinte, and among the notes is the following regarding the Principal of our Collegiate Institute:—"Mr. Fessenden has won the reputation of being the champion fisherman of our party. While trawling on Tuesday afternoon he thought he had caught the bottom of the the bay, but when he began to be towed away at an alarming speed his doubts were dispelled, and after a long struggle he succeeded in landing a 32-pound maskinonge."

Order of the Commonwealth.

Mr. S. B. Fletcher, of Boston, representing the order of the "Commonwealth," a beneficiary society paying $500 in five years, and also a sick benefit, has completed arrangements for the organization of a lodge in Peterborough. The lodge will be instituted in the hall of the Prentice Boys', George street, to-morrow evening. Mr. Fletcher is vice president of the order, and will conduct the organization ceremonies. He says that he has good prospects for the establishment of a strong branch of the order here.

The Opening Day.

The streets were this morning full of chatter and book-burdened students of all stages of juvenility hastening to the several local seats of learing. And there was, generally speaking, "a full school." The ward schools opened up well, some of them being crowded beyond their seating capacity. The attendance at the Institute numbered 175, as compared as an attendance of 120, at the opening of the school a year ago, and it is pretty certain that before the month is out the attendance will swell to 200. This is very gratifying.

Printers as Baseball Players

The Morning Times to-day had the temerity to issue a challenge to any other printing office in town to play a baseball game or fun, money, or marbles. The EXAMINER staff has been aching for a chance to get at some of their contemporaries on the diamond, and the Times offer has been quickly snapped up. Our boys have the conceit to think they can knock any nine from the Times office into a cocked hat as they did the Review staff three years ago, and they are ready to-day to start to Riverside Park in an Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. They will bring their "sticks" with them and give "proof" of their ability to make "pi" of the pitcher. Come up to the plate, Times and be "districted."

Police Court.

The attention of the court, (Police Magistrate Dumble and Mr. A. V. R Young, Associate Justice of the Peace) was claimed by a case of insanity and an assault case. The latter consisted of a lad named George McAlpine being accused of assault with intent to do grievous bodily injury. To this he pleaded guilty and sentence was suspended until next Monday morning, when the case will come up again. It appears from the evidence taken that one Saturday evening the accused and a lad name 1 Duncan, driver of a butcher's express, were bandying hard names, when the lad McAlpine, who is the son of a widow, threw a stone at the lad Duncan with such violence as to make a cut in the head that bled freely. Hence the charge of assault.

A New Dry Goods Store.

It is with great pleasure the EXAMINER makes the announcement that Mr. Jos. Armstrong, a pushing and capable Peterborough young man, is about to embark in business in the store lately occupied by H. L. Brun & Co. Mr. Armstrong is having the premises fitted up in fine style and expects to open out on Saturday, Sept. 12 h, with a large, new and first-class stock of general dry goods, which he has purchased in the best markets. Mr. Armstrong learned the business in Peterborough and has lived here almost his whole life. For the past two years he has travelled for Glover & Beals, of Montreal, in which position he gained additional experience that will be of great value in buying and selecting goods. Mr. Armstrong's customers will, therefore, get the benefit of his intimate knowledge of the dry goods trade, both wholesale and retail, and the public may depend upon getting the best possible value for their money at the new store. Mr. Armstrong is well and favourably known here, and he justly expects that he will receive a good patronage. Watch for the opening on September 12th.

Mr. E. Mundy, publisher of the Oshawa Reformer, was in town over Sunday visiting his daughter, Mrs. O. Gumpricht.

Painfully Sudden Death.

Mr. J. L. Gower Stricken Down With Paralysis at Stony Lake—He Dies This Morning—Sad Ending of a Promising Career.

The sad intelligence that Mr. J. L. Gower, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, had been stricken down with paralysis at Stony Lake on Sunday morning was a painful surprise to both the community and the young gentleman's numerous friends and a shock was felt when the news reached town this morning that he had died at about half past eight o'clock.

Mr. Gower, had, with a party of friends whose names were published in the EXAMINER last Monday week, been for the past fortnight, spending his holidays at Mr. Grubbe's lodge, "Hazelwood," Eel's Creek, Stony Lake, and, as far as can be learned, was enjoying himself and was in his ordinary health. A friend who saw him on Saturday evening says that he was at that time feeling well and was in good spirits, though he was not in the enjoyment of robust health, being afflicted with Bright's disease. On Sunday morning Mr. Gower left the cottage in the company of a friend for a paddle up Eel's creek. Suddenly, without the least premonition or other indication of such a terrible event, he was stricken down insensible. As quickly as possible the occupants of the cottage were apprized, and Mr. Gower was removed to the lodge. Dr. Bell, of Lakefield, who was staying at the lakes, was sent for, and subsequently Dr. Boucher was sent from town, but he was unable to render any assistance; the blow was too serious, and Mr. Gower died, as has been stated, this morning at 8 30 o'clock.

The deceased gentleman had been a resident of Peterborough a little over two years, from the time when he came here to take charge of the branch of the Toronto Bank. During that time, he has managed the affairs of the bank with energy and prudence, winning a high position in the esteem of the patrons of the bank. He came here from the head office, having been engaged in inspectoral duty for some time previous to his appointment here. The deceased young gentleman was a native of Bayfield, Huron county, but early in life removed to London, where his family now reside. He was only about thirty years of age and during his short residence here, he gained great popularity amongst his young associates and was moreover, very highly esteemed in the social circles in which he moved, for his many manly and amiable qualities. His death, aside from its appalling suddenness will be very deeply mourned by his numerous friends. He was a member of the congregation of St. John's church, and at one time a member of the choir. He was also, up to the present season, an active member of the cricket club, and here, as in other associations, he was a general favourite. In all the relations of life, he was honored and esteemed, and his untimely death has cast a gloom over all to whom he was known.

Saturday's Baseball.

The Edison Team Scooped—Indian River scores a Victory—The Park Nine Juniors Make Another Win.

There were three baseball games on Saturday afternoon.

On the P.A.A.A. grounds the Peterboroughs and the Edison team met once more. The game was a remarkable one. At the end of the fifth innings the Edison team led by 8 to 6. Hunter had been throwing good ball and the field were supporting him well. Hunter and Pomfret were a strong battery. Then the fatal sixth arrived. The Edisons were blanked, and the Peterboroughs followed on. From the first a large-sized rabbit seemed to take possession of the Edison team. Hunter visibly weakened in his delivery, and the ball was pounded hard for doubles and singles. The field became demoralized; no one could catch a ball or make a straight throw. Twenty-two men chased each other round the bags before the side was retired.

The Peterboroughs have not much to boast of in their victory. Their fielding was rank at times, and all their opponents' runs were scored on errors Heap pitched two innings, the third and fourth, for practise. He throws a speedy ball, with several good curves, and will be a valuable addition to the team. He was a little wild, but with practice this will disappear. O'Brien caught the game well.

The Edison team were pretty well discouraged at the result of the sixth innings, but went to bat again, and the ball being lost by fouling over the fence, the game was called.

Twenty two runs in one inning is a record. The like has never been heard of around here before.

ON RIVERSIDE PARK.

The Indian River team defeated the West End club on Riverside Park. The rather agricultural score will give a general idea of the character of the play, but the teams were about evenly matched, and there was plenty of fun and excitement for the spectators. Main and Sharp were the battery for the West Enders, and Welsh and Miles for the Indian River men. Tighe on second base and Simson in left field did good work, the latter making a couple of fine catches. For Indian River Whibbs on first base put up a good game. Herb. Robinson was umpire.

A return game will be played at Indian River in the near future.

THE PARK NINE'S VICTORY.

The Park Nine Juniors got away with the Edison Junior team in fine style. Following was the score:—

Batteries, Elliott and Green; Varnes and Parks.

At the end of the seventh innings the score stood 18 to 8 in favor of the South Enders. Then the leaders became rattled and the Park Nine made 12 runs in their eighth. The Edisons were shut out in the ninth, the Park nine winning by 2 runs with an innings to spare.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting Saturday night was a delightful service for all present. We rejoice that these services are growing in interest, numbers and profit weekly.

The Bible study and Consecration service yesterday morning was a time of refreshing to every one.

Mr. Isaac Richardson addressed the open air service in the Central Park which was both practical and timely and was listened to by a large number with attention and also profit. The Y. M. C. A. band were present and added much to the interest of the meeting.

Mr. A. G. Ridgeway, Montreal, gave an impressive address at the Gospel and Song service last evening. The holy spirit owned the word spoken to the salvation of precious souls. It was good to be there.

Bible study for young men on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. Important business and all are urged to attend.

Mrs. B. Matthews has our thanks for cut flowers for the parlor.

The Burgee Thrown to the Breeze

The Edison Company Blazons Its Title to the World.

This morning at 11.40, a very interesting ceremony took place at the Edison Company's works—the formal hoisting of a beautiful burgee over the main building. The burgee now soars aloft on the top of the flag staff fifty feet above the main building at the north end. There was quite an interesting ceremony in connection with the event. The act of raising the burgee was performed by Mrs. E. B. Joslyn of Brooklyn N. Y., sister of Canadian Auditor H. M. Francis, the latter being also present. Among the guests of the company present were Manager John Langton, Sales agent B. D. Francis, Mr. Theodore Ludgate, wife and mother, and many others. Mrs. Joslyn handled the halyards with nautical dexterity, and as the folds of blue bunting rose in the air they were caught by the Canadian breeze and spread afloat, showing the blazon—"Edison General Electric Co." The burgee is twenty five feet long and made of the best English bunting by Turner, the best tent maker in the Dominion. The ground of the burgee is navy blue, and the letters, thirty inches in depth, are in white. The burgee is surrounded by a scarlet border, eighteen inches wide, thus combining the colours, red, white and blue.

Montreal Electrical Exposition.

The Edison General Electric Company today shipped from Peterborough two car loads of apparatus to the Electrical Exposition which opens in Montreal to-morrow. The great Edison himself will be there, and the local company will be represented by Mr. M. D Barr and Mr. Frank Barr.

Census Figures.

In the Census returns are some interesting statistics. Peterborough's population increased from 6,812 in 1881 to 9,717 in 1891, a percentage of 42.6. Ashburnham in the same period grew from 1,266 to 1,674, a percentage of 32.2. The united population of Peterborough and Ashburnham is, therefore, about 11,500—a very respectable city population. Cobourg and Port Hope have both decreased, the former from 5,581 to 5,042, and the latter from 4,957 to 4,829. Lindsay has advanced from 5,080 to 6,081, an increase of 19.7 per cent. The county of Peterborough as a whole has advanced. In the West Riding the increase has been from 13,310 to 15,806, or 18.7 per cent.; in the East Riding from 20,402 to 21,920 or 7.4 per cent. The totals for the Dominion have been previously published. It will be seen that Peterborough has been amongst the most progressive of the towns and cities. Belleville has only grown from 9,518 in 1881 to 9,915 in 1891, or 4.2 per cent.

On Fire with Eczeme

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torture at nights were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his suffering were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

TWO MEN AND NINE CARS

PLUNGED INTO BURLINGTON CANAL TO DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

An Open Drawbridge and the Awful Consequences—The Bridge Tender Not to Blame One Body Recovered; the Other Yet Beneath the Debris—An Inquest to be Held.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1. Shortly before midnight yesterday a serious railway accident occurred at the canal at Burlington beach, involving the loss of two lives and much damage to rolling stock.

On Sunday afternoon a train of 23 coal cars left Fort Erie for Toronto, drawn by engine 259. Conductor Campbell was in charge, and Engineer William Hall was on the engine with Fireman W. J. Crouch. The train took the short cut across the Beach from Stoney Creek, instead of coming around the end of the bay. The night was stormy and a gale was blowing from the east. Engineer Hall had been along there before, but he seems to have got mixed with the lights and the noise and darkness. There is a heavy grade northward towards the bridge, and he ran up at a high rate of speed.

There is a very stringent rule that every train must come to a stop before reaching the bridge, but Hall says he did not think he was so near the canal until it was too late to do anything. Then he shouted to his fireman and jumped.

Engineer Armstrong, who operates the bridge, had heard the train approaching and was just preparing to close the bridge, when, to his horror, he heard the train come thundering on towards the open chasm. It was all over in an instant, said Armstrong. With a tremendous plunge the great engine shot over the bank and disappeared beneath the black water. Nine cars went tumbling after it, crash after crash, the lights were extinguished, and a terrible silence followed. For a few moments the few men who rushed to the scene were paralyzed by the occurrence, not knowing in the storm and darkness what to do. Then the cries of a drowning man were heard in the canal, and a swimmer was being swept along by the current towards the bay.

When the train crew got together it was found that the fireman and a brakeman named Robert Shaw was missing. The fireman probably jumped into the canal, for it was his cries that were heard, and this morning his body was found about 50 feet from the ferry, where he had sunk. The brakeman was on the cars, and it is thought his body is under the wreckage. Both men come from Point Edward, as do all the rest of the crew. Shaw is a married man and his friends live near Dorchester, though was single.

On the news of the disaster being telephoned to the city a wrecking train with a gang of men was sent. A coal car hung suspended over the brink of the canal, and in the water beneath a few months of coal and wreckage were visible above the surface. The engine went down completely out of sight, and then the cars popped over on top of it, one after the other, until the wreck was piled as high as the surface of the water, which is about 20 feet deep at that point. The train must have been running at a high rate of speed, for its momentum carried the cars nearly across the canal. Luckily, however, there remains an open space between the wreck and the south pier wide enough for the steamers to pass if they feel their way carefully.

A DEPARTMENTAL INVESTIGATION.

By 2 a. m. a large gang of workmen with flaring torches were hard at work clearing the approach to the bridge.

After pulling the overhanging car on the rock, it was found that the rails were all right and the bridge was swung into position, making the road open for traffic again by 5 o'clock. The most of the wreckage is still in the canal and it will be a big task clearing it out. Superintendent Stiff is going to send to Kingston for a marine working outfit and a steam derrick. The coal will have to be dredged up and light coal, and the heavy engine lifted on to a flat boat with the derrick. The cars that went down are smashed to pieces and some of the car boxes floated away.

There will be an inquest on the bodies of the killed, in order to find who is responsible. The bridge tender is exonerated from any blame in the matter, as every train is ordered to stop before reaching the bridge and wait until signalled to come on.

The cause of the accident is ascribed to the fact that the men were not familiar with the road, having only been over it once before.

The Grand Trunk Railway people borrowed a couple swing spans from the Water works Department yesterday to be used by Mr. A Cogbill in connection with the accident at Burlington Canal.

INVENTOR MCCOWELL SHOT.

The Clever Machinist Lying at the Point of Death.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1. With a bullet in his brain Inventor John T. McCowell lies at the point of death at his residence 30 Dundurn street. The chances of his recovery are slim, and it is doubtful if he will live to enjoy the fruits of his many years of toil and anxiety. Mr McCowell is the inventor of a clever piece of mechanism, (The Little World), consisting of over 100 automatic figures which was on exhibition here recently. He used to work at Greening's wire works, and for seventeen years he labored at his invention, spending all the time he could. He completed it a couple of months ago and resigned his position to go on the road with it.

Monday night rumors were flying around that McCowell became despondent because his invention was not the financial success he anticipated and that he had shot himself. It was said that he expected to exhibit it at the Toronto exposition, but the directors wanted $1,500 for the space and McCowell determined to rent a store. The reports of the attempted suicide were denied and it was claimed that the shooting was purely accidental. The doctors say that shortly before eight o'clock Monday morning, McCowell was making preparations to go to Toronto. He was sitting on the bed cleaning a 32-calibre revolver when it suddenly discharged, and the bullet penetrated the centre of the forehead, entering the brain. Mrs. McCowell was at church, and the only ones in the house were the children, Mamie, the eldest, being ten years old. She was in the adjoining room and heard the report, but thought it was caused by the shutting of a gate. When Mrs. McCowell returned from church she was horrified to see her husband lying on the bed. He was unconscious. There was an ugly wound in his head, and the bedclothes were saturated with blood. The revolver was on the floor. The frightened woman immediately summoned medical aid, and Dr. McCabe arrived shortly afterwards. He did what he could for the sufferer. Doctors Ridley and Malloch were summoned. After a consultation they decided to probe for the bullet, but they were unsuccessful. They have very little hope of McCowell's recovery.

Mrs. McCowell denied that her husband shot himself. "The invention has been very successful," said she, "and my husband was not despondent. He had completed arrangements to go to St. Catharines and then to Toronto. I was not in the house when the the accident occurred.

It is to be hoped McCowell will recover. He is a young man, and it is to be hoped that he should meet with such an accident when fortune is coming his way.

THE CAPITAL BUDGET

A Dull Day—The Labor Commissions Report—Mr. Bowell Convalescent.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—In the House yesterday Sir John Thompson said, in reply to Mr. Trow, that at this and at the last session legislation was introduced based on the report of the Labor Commission. The Government intends to complete and carry out the legislation at a further session when it may seem fit.

THE RAILWAY SCANDAL.

The investigation into the Baie des Chaleurs Railway scandal was resumed by the Senate Railway Committee last night. George A. Taylor, contractor for the first 20 miles, said that his affidavit was correct, which stated that $370,000 had been paid Senator Robitaille's company, and that he had received only $242,000. It was on the affidavit that Evans on Langelier bases the charge of enabling $118,000 against the old company. Taylor said to-night that his firm did not complete the work, that the construction of the engine house, round table, water tanks, telegraph lines, rolling stock, etc., had to be done by the company, and that the cost of these items would come out of the $118,000 obliged to be embezzled.

A. M. Thom, secretary-treasurer of the new company, said he conducted all the negotiations to secure the road both with the Government and the old company. His interviews with the Government were purely of a business character. Nothing was said about the payment of any money to Mr. Pacaud or to any one else. During all the negotiations he only saw Mr. Pacaud twice and then nothing was said about the contract. He first heard of the payment of $100,000 to Mr Pacaud in the committee here.

MORE CENSUS RETURNS.

Further census returns have been received at the Department of Agriculture from the district of Alberta, which give that district a total population of 26,123, instead of 20,056, as contained in the partially estimated statement furnished to Parliament last week. The increase of population, therefore, for the provisional district in the North-west territories from the returns so far received, is 12,039, instead of 35,972. The percentage of increase is 164.76, instead of 140.98, and the total numerical increase for the whole Dominion is 508,601, instead of 498,534; the percentage of total increase being 11.66, instead of 11.52.

A DEPARTMENTAL INVESTIGATION.

An investigation ordered by the Hon. Frank Smith, Acting Minister of Railways, into certain alleged irregularities in the department has led to the suspension of a clerk named H. Talbot. The matter will be further enquired into before the Public Accounts Committee at its next meeting.

AFTER THE SECRETARYSHIP.

It is said that with the view of preventing the steamer "Lion" from being taken out of the country pending a full investigation of the Amoldi scandal, the Government has ordered the lock masters of the Rideau and Grenville canals not to pass the steamer through these canals.

PROROGATION.

It seems to be the general impression that prorogation will take place in about two weeks time. Four-fifths of the main estimates have been passed, and the outlook for a speedy termination of the sessional work is bright.

BRAND NEW RUMOR.

It was rumored yesterday, says The Free Press, that Mr. Z. G. Wilson, collector of customs here, is to be superannuated to make room for Mr. Haggart, now Postmaster-General.

MR. BOWELL CONVALESCENT.

Hon. McKenzie Bowell is greatly improved in health.

A Lion Mangles a Clown.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. While a circus procession was patrolling the streets yesterday two lions in one of the cages commenced fighting, and the clown, James Lowlen, in attempting to quiet them got too close to the cage, and was caught by one of the lions. The enraged animal pulled pulling him against bars with one paw, hit him some terrible blows with the other, laying bare the scalp, cutting the neck in a tearful manner and wounding him severely about the face. Fortunately the other employes rushed in and rescued him, or he would doubtless have received fatal wounds. A doctor was called in and expressed the opinion that the wounded man would recover if erysipelas does not set in.

A Parachute Jumper Killed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Professor Hart, a parachute jumper, was fatally hurt yesterday afternoon at Spring Grove Park, near this city, while attempting to make an ascension The balloon had risen about 30 feet when the rope became entangled in the branches of a tree. Hart was on a trapeze, and when the balloon began swaying lost his hold and fell to the ground. His right leg was broken, and he sustained other injuries which will cause his death.

Dominion Rifle Association.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association opened here yesterday, the weather being favorable for shooting; although there was a slight breeze during the forenoon.

THE WHOLE TRUTH TOLD

BARONESS DE VETZERA LIFTS THE VEIL OF A ROYAL SUICIDE.

The Story of the Tragic End of the Crown Prince of Austria and the Young Baroness Marie de Vetzera Now Told Fully by the Latter's Mother.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A double suicide, or a murder and suicide, occurred at Mayerling, Austria, on Jan. 30, 1889, that shocked the world and raised a great sensation. At that time the young Baroness Marie de Vetzera was found dead along with her lover, the Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria.

So many rumors were circulated at the time concerning the young girl that her mother, Baroness de Vetzera, resolved that the whole truth should be known, and to this end edited a story, which was put into the form of a volume, to vindicate her daughter, and 50 copies were printed. The Emperor learned of the intended publication, and orders were issued which caused the seizure of the volumes. The manuscript was saved, and from it the story is told.

It gives a consecutive narrative of the affair in so detailed a way that its accuracy apparently cannot be called into question. An important feature, according to the mother's story, is the infamous part played in the tragedy by no less a personage than the niece of the Empress of Austria. This distinguished lady's actions are given with the fullest of detail, and the pamphlet accuses her of being not only the intermediary but a blackmailer as well. Baroness Marie's last letters to her family are likewise made public, and the story is told how a fortune-teller was made to play a mysterious part in the tragedy.

Briefly summarized, and as told in the young girl's letters, the story is that Baroness Marie Vetzera, then 17 years old, fell in love at first sight with the Crown Prince, and that she frequently met him in the ordinary social way. Finally she intrusted her secret to Countess Larisch, the Empress of Austria's niece, and this lady at once undertook to act as a go-between, while taking advantage of her knowledge of the state of affairs to levy blackmail from the Prince.

At one time the mother of the girl suspected that something was amiss, but Countess Larisch was ready with some plausible tale. The facts of all this are given in great detail in the mother's pamphlet. At last the girl fled to Mayerling, by pre-arrangement with the Prince, and a few hours later her death was known by the Emperor, but not by the mother, who in vain implored the chief of police and Count Taafe, the Austrian Premier, to cause a search to be instituted for her daughter. The truth of the double suicide or murder and suicide is at last definitely established by this publication. The news of the death was broken to the mother by the Empress of Austria herself.

The pamphlet shows that the Prince's mind had long before been given to thoughts of suicide, but that Marie did her best to dissuade him from this fatal step. It was not until hope for both of them had fled that she resolved to share his death.

For the first time it revealed the indignities offered to her dead body. How she was carried away in a sitting posture between her two uncles, even a coffin being denied her when moving her; how her mother was persecuted and vilified, how everything was done to lay the blame on the girl, forms a harrowing story as told by the mother. The alleged falsehoods circulated about her are exposed and the daughter's dying messages given.

International Grain Market.

VIENNA, Sept. 1. The international grain market for 1891 opened here yesterday, with a large attendance. Herr Haaniz, from the Department of Chief of the Ministry of Commerce, in a speech dwelt upon the special importance of the present market, from the fact that its object was to devise a means of supplying the shortage of grain existing in the large centres.

The dealings to day were limited. There was no spot business done in wheat futures were firm. The best barleys sold on the spot at full rates. Inferior grades were neglected. Autumn wheat was quoted at 10.67 to 10.70 florins, spring wheat at 10.27 florins, autumn rye at 10.38 florins, spring rye at 10.08 florins, autumn oats at 6.27 florins, new maize at 6.28 florins. Thirty trucks of old maize fetched 6.35 florins.

An Extensive Bank Robbery.

LONDON, Sept. 1. A despatch from Genoa says: An Englishman, name unknown, called at the office of a money changer, Sig. Grisoli, and asked him to change £10 Bank of England note. Sig. Grisoli, fearing the note might have formed a part of a recent Bank of England robbery to the extent of $250,000, took down a list of the numbers of the stolen notes in order to compare them with that of the note offered. When he did this the Englishman walked out and disappeared, leaving the £10 note behind. The European police are looking for him. This is the first public information here that such a robbery had occurred, and the Scotland Yard officials, so far as can be discovered, profess ignorance of such a robbery or decline to commit themselves.

Death of Sally, the Chimpanzee.

LONDON, Sept. 1. Sally, the famous chimpanzee of the London Zoological Gardens, is dead. She had been the most popular figure in the Gardens since Barnum took Jumbo to America. Sally could actually count up to the figure seven and would take the arm of a person with whom she was acquainted and walk up and down in public. Scores of scientific men have studied her. The late Charles Darwin was well acquainted with her. She was never married.

I saw her principal keeper to-day. He cried like a baby over her death. For eight years Sally has never been alone; keepers have guarded her every moment in watches of eight hours each. She is to be stuffed.

A French Expedition Massacred.

PARIS, Sept. 1. The Government has received a despatch announcing the Fourneau expedition to explore the Valley of Sanga Basin, Central Soudan and the French Congo, was attacked by natives, with the result that 16 were killed and 31, including Fourneau himself were wounded. All the merchandise and many rifles belonging to the expedition were lost. The expedition was obliged to slowly retreat, being harrassed by the natives.

The New Fast Cunarders.

LONDON, Sept. 1. In asking bids for the new Cunard steamships shafting for the ships is specified to be straight stemmed, similar in many respects to the latest boats built by the Fairfield Company for the Hamburg-American and Norddeutscher Lloyd Lines. They will have a guaranteed speed of 21 knots an hour in the open sea, and are expected to complete a voyage in five days.

To Be Postmaster-General.

LONDON, Sept. 1. Henniker Heaton has telegraphed from Brindisi advising the selection of Sir John Gorst for Postmaster-General.

CUT TO PIECES.

A Toronto Market Gardener and His Team of Horses.

TORONTO, Sept. 1. About 10 o'clock last evening a market gardener named Willis was killed on the Grand Trunk Railway track near the Humber. Willis who is alleged to have been intoxicated, allowed his horses to wander along the track. A passing train smashed the wagon and killed the horses and driver. The body of Willis was taken to Duck's hotel.

The Crops in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Agricultural societies in the province and territories are manifesting great interest in the inter-provincial exhibit of grain for the special prize offered by the C.P.R. authorities.

Harvesting is progressing very rapidly, and it is becoming more apparent every day that there is little or no damage from frost. Not more than three districts have been touched, and even in these the crops have been but slightly injured. The weather is magnificent for harvesting, and the yield in all parts is proving greater than even the most sanguine had anticipated. Fully 50 per cent. of the crop is already out. Barley is yielding 50 bushels to the acre.

THE LAST ACT IN CHILI.

SANTIAGO SURRENDERS TO THE REVOLUTIONARY FORCES.

The Civil War of the Past Seven Months Practically Closed—Balmaceda so Low That There Be None to do Him Honor—His House Burned.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Herald's cable from Valparaiso, Chili, says: "The Chanaral Regiment of the Congressional army took formal possession of Santiago last night and practically the last act in the drama of revolution which has torn Chili to pieces for the past seven months is closed. The capital city was in the hands of a blood-thirsty mob last night, and while it was unable to satisfy its murderous instincts it did destroy a vast amount of property. As soon as the news reached Santiago yesterday of the overwhelming defeat of the Government troops on the height of Placilla and the far-off Valparaiso, and the people knew that Balmaceda's power was gone and they had nothing to fear from his wrath, their enmity to his government broke forth. The cry was raised that the President should be killed and a mob started for his house. It grew in numbers and fury as it went through the streets, and by the time it reached the executive mansion was ripe for any bloody deed. Short shrift would have been allowed to the President had he been caught. He knew that he would have little chance for his life if he remained in Santiago, and at the first receipt of the news of his defeat he hid himself, and the blood-thirsty desire of the mob was baulked. The mob's desire for revenge found vent in the application of the torch. Soon Balmaceda's house was a mass of flames. Before it had been destroyed the mob marched off to the house of Senor Gotlar, the ex-Minister of the Interior, and an ardent Balmacedist, and set his house on fire. Then the residences of Balmaceda's mother, General Barbosa, who was killed at the battle of Placilla. Senors McKenna and Eastman, the Government newspaper offices and the houses of several prominent officials were burned to the ground.

The city was panic-stricken. Business was suspended, and people outside of the mob kept close to their houses. The sky was lurid with light from the burning buildings. The police, the fire department and the army were demoralized and made not the semblance of an attempt to maintain order. Balmaceda, when he heard of the fall of Valparaiso, sent for General Bacuedano, commander of the Government troops in Santiago. A council of war was held, at which President Balmaceda, the generals, and other leading Balmacedists were present. The situation was thoroughly canvassed and it was decided that a further continuation of the struggle was hopeless and that the surrender of the capital was the only proper course. There are all sorts of rumors about the movements of President Balmaceda. It is stated on good authority that he went by a special train yesterday to Talcahuano on Conception Bay and that there he will make connection with the Condell and Imperial, and in one of these vessels, probably the former, make for Buenos Ayres or Monte Video. If this is so he will in all probability escape.

SYNDICATES FOR SMUGGLING.

How the Heathen Chinee is Said to be Smuggled Into the U. S.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1.—Assistant secretary of the Treasury Spaulding is in St. Paul en route to Washington. Spaulding has just come out of the wilds of British Columbia and the northwestern border of the United States. One object which has in particular engaged his attention is the illegal entry of Chinamen into the United States from British Columbia and Canada, and the smuggling of merchandise across the border.

"There is no doubt that the Chinamen are coming into the United States in considerable numbers," said Secretary Spaulding. "Of course every one knows that the entry of Chinese laborers into this country is prohibited by act of Congress.

"There are organized syndicates in British Columbia and Canada that make a business of carrying these fellows across at so much per head, and they are finding it a profitable business. One syndicate receives a consignment of Chinamen, carries them a certain distance and turns them over to another firm until the fellows are safely landed on this side. I have no doubt that many contracts are made direct at Hong Kong by the agents of these syndicates.

"A treaty with Canada soliciting her aid in our efforts to stop the smuggling might be productive of good results in the interior."

THE IRISH PRISONERS.

Pardon For Them Sued For by a Phoenix Park Meeting.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—An immense amnesty meeting was held yesterday in Phœnix Park, Dublin, with the object of obtaining the pardon of Irish prisoners under sentence for alleged dynamiting and other crimes of a partly political character. The weather was fine and the sun shone from a cloudless sky. Multitudes attended from Dublin and other cities, bands of music preceding the arrival of each deputation.

The meeting resolved that the time had arrived for the release of all political prisoners now under penal sentences, that whatever crime they had committed in seeking to achieve the right by wrongful methods had been sufficiently atoned for by their sufferings, and that the Government ought without further delay to order their release. It was voted that copies of the resolutions should be sent to Lord Salisbury, Chief Secretary Balfour, Lord Zetland and House Secretary Matthews.

Another Mining Disaster.

LONDON, Sept. 1. An explosion of fire damp took place yesterday in the Malage colliery near Badminster, Somersetshire. The explosion occurred at 3 o'clock; when only a small force of men was in the mine. The concussion shattered all the windows in the houses near the shaft and wrecked all the shaft working. The bodies of seven dead miners have been recovered and two others are missing. About a dozen men are seriously injured.

Russia Successfully Coerces Turkey.

LONDON, Sept. 1. The Standard's Constantinople correspondent says: "The Sultan has yielded to all Russia's demands respecting the Dardanelles, which henceforth will be opened to Russian vessels when closed to others. The Sultan has abjectly apologized for the recent detention of a Russian vessel, has dismissed the officers responsible therefore and was promised an indemnity for this."

Later Union Federation.

LEEDS, Sept. 1.—At a conference here yesterday of the delegates from the various labor union organizations of Great Britain representing 50,000 workmen, a motion to form a federation of unions of skilled and unskilled workmen was approved. Subsequently a committee was appointed to organize the federation. Unions comprising membership of 116,000 men have already announced their adherence to the new movement.

Baron Stumm, one of the largest employers of labor in Germany, has decided to pay higher wages to all his employes while the dearness of food continues and to increase the pensions allowed the widows of employes and others.

At 4 o'clock the workmen employed removing debris at Park-place found two bodies in a vault. J. A. Lyman took a lantern and made a thorough exploration of all the vaults under the sidewalk and could find no other bodies.

The Great Benefit

which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

BUY YOURSELF

A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA.

This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low price, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

Census Echoes.

Nearly three millions of dollars spent upon immigration in the past ten years, with the result that we have added nothing to the country's population by immigration, and failed to retain the natural increase.

Quebec West, Mr. McGreevy's stumping ground, declined in population from 12,698 to 9,241 between 1881 and 1891, while Quebec East represented by Mr. Laurier, increased in population from 31,900 to 36,200. It is the Liberals who stay in the country and help build it up.

Among the Ontario towns and villages which have declined in population during the past ten years are St. Catharines, Port Hope, Picton, Cobourg, Ingersoll, Dundas, Napanee, Bowmanville, Strathroy, Paris, Whitby, Kincardine, Listowel, Thorold, Mitchell, Goderich, Dunnville, Port Perry, Harriston and Fergus. The people of these towns were promised great prosperity, immense factories and vast progress as a result of the trade restriction policy. The census returns show how those promises have been fulfilled.

If Mr. Foster is ever called upon to deliver another budget speech he can make the census returns of 1891 his theme. His own province, New Brunswick, has fallen so far behind in the race that it will lose two of its representatives in the House of Commons. The principal city in New Brunswick has declined in population from 26,189 to 24,184. In Mr. Foster's constituency the population has declined from 25,617 to 23,094. The finance minister can talk for hours upon what trade restriction has done for New Brunswick. It is fitting that the policy introduced by Sir Leonard Tilley and continued by Mr. Foster should show its blighting effects clearly upon the province which sent those men to parliament.

It is a remarkable fact that nearly every constituency represented by a member of the Dominion cabinet has decreased in population during the past ten years. Antigonish county, represented by Sir John Thompson, has decreased in population from 18,060 to 16,117; Pictou, represented by Mr. Tupper, has declined from 35,535 to 34,560; King's, New Brunswick, Mr. Foster's constituency, has declined from 25,617 to 23,094; Three Rivers, represented by Sir Hector Langevin, shows a decrease from 9,296 to 8,334; Quebec county, which was until very recently Sir Adolphe Caron's constituency, decreased in population from 20,278 to 19,504. Terrebonne, Mr. Chapleau's county, shows an increase of less than 200.—Ottawa Free Press.

Like Our American Cousins!

Let us Take Warning.

It would be well for our Canadian people, if they were thoroughly impressed by the fact that they require more bodily rest and more sleep than they now obtain. Canadians are too much like their American cousins; they go ahead too fast; they are too excitable; they want wealth, position and honor too early in life, and expend too much physical power to acquire these conditions. Our grandfathers were more thoughtful of bodily health, and worked on slowly but surely to attain worldly honors and renown.

This system does not suit the present generation of men; they demand all before reaching the age of forty.

This course of action demands severe condemnation, and should be frowned down, if we desire to see a healthy and long-lived people in Canada.

The turmoil, worry and excitement after riches and fame, invariably beget disease and suffering, and few live to enjoy the fruits of such hard labor.

Nature demands more sleep and rest, and he who attempts to fight against nature's laws must suffer the penalties.

There is no fact more clearly established in the physiology of man than this, that the brain expends its energies and itself during the hours of wakefulness, and that these are recuperated during sleep. If the recuperation does not equal the expenditure, the brain withers; this is insanity.

Let us ever remember "That those who think most, who do the most brain work, require the most sleep and rest; and that time 'saved' from necessary sleep is infallibly destructive to mind and body."

There are thousands of professional men, bankers, merchants, manufacturers, bookkeepers, clerks and students, who have become victims of nervousness, insomnia and irritability, brought on by overwork of body and brain and too little indulgence in nature's sweet restorer, sleep. The nervous system is broken and shattered, and the body becomes weak and frail.

They are now suffering the penalties of broken laws. Nature, ever kind and indulgent, was ill-treated, badly used, and its warnings were unheeded.

To-day many of such sufferers have had the true remedy for strength, vitality and recuperation put into their hands. They have heard of the wonders achieved by Paine's Celery Compound, and have gone at once to the fountain of health, which alone can bring to them new life.

Others are still wandering in gross darkness—they try remedy after remedy without finding relief from their sufferings. It is to this class that we would utter a word of warning. Your condition is serious and desperate, and it is well for you to know that procrastination is fatal. There is hope for you if you take hold of that preparation furnished by science; there is new life for you by using Paine's Celery Compound.

You may consult the best physicians in the Dominion, but they in their wisdom will not hesitate for a moment (if they be honest) in recommending Paine's Celery Compound. Its wonders in speedy cures are spoken of everywhere, and all who try it are astonished at its power and success.

A Disputed Question.

Scientists and electricians cannot agree upon the number of electric volts which are necessary to cause a cessation of life in the human body; some claim that an excessive shock is likely to cause incineration rather than instantaneous death, but if they would turn their attention to prolonging and increasing the pleasures of life, the public would hail the result with more satisfaction. For instance, the electricity generated in a wave of laughter is after all the most pleasant check, and to see a large assemblage moved by a current of uncontrolable mirth while witnessing the play of "Casey's Troubles," places beyond dispute the fact that large volts of laughter are better than volts of electricity any day. d52

When the blood is out of condition, disease is the inevitable result. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the constituents necessary to enrich the blood and build up the nerves. They cure suppressions, irregularities, debility, etc. Good for men and women, young and old. Sold by all dealers or sent on receipt of price (50c. a box). Dr. Williams Med. Co., Brockville, Ont. dw

Francis Joseph and Eugenie.

At this moment two historical and royal personages who are crossing the stage of the world seem to be stamped by the fatality of the ancients. They are like two evocations of Æschylus or Euripides. They suggest Œdipus and Jocasta. One is the Emperor Francis Joseph; the other, the Empress Eugenie. On both a crushing fatality seems to rest.

One, mounted on the throne, saw herself precipitated from it in the midst of its greatest lustre. Struck to the heart by these mortal blows, Reichshofen, Spicheren, Sedan, she saw her husband led away a prisoner after having surrendered his army to the victor; she saw her palace invaded by the threatening mob; and deserted by the flood of courtiers, she was accompanied to her exile only by that American citizen, by that Thomas W. Evans, who alone was faithful in misfortune. She saw her husband, prostrated by pain and adversity, dictating orisons in that exile; and finally her son, her only son on whose head centred all her pride, all her hope, perished in a barbarous and lonesome land, far from Europe, far from all that could cast a last ray on his premature grave. And yet she lives, she goes about, she talks, she revisits Paris, she goes to see its monuments, she even enters that Palace of Industry which she inaugurated, and which seven years ago was looked upon as a Babylonian dream, and she passes, an incarnation of fatality, under the astonished eyes of the people who gaze upon her. The other is Francis Joseph. He ascended the throne amid the noise and trepidation of a fearful storm. He successively received at the heart those triple poniard thrusts Magenta, Solferino, Sadowa. He signed, howling with rage, that Treaty of Prague which snatched from his brow the German imperial crown; then, amid the gloomy solitude which made his domestic hearth a desert, he learned the mysterious catastrophe which deprived him of his only son, the heir of his crown, the only future and the supreme hope of the empire.—Mr. de Blowitz, in Harper's Magazine.

Beautifying the Home.

An exceedingly good thing is shown in wall paper frieze. The design gives a shelf effect with a little colonial railing about it, relieved here and there by a realistic figure or plate pattern on the shelf. This comes in an eighteen-inch wide frieze and in a variety of colorings, so that it can be applied to almost any wall paper. It is pretty and inexpensive.

For years and years we have been hanging curtains over poles, fixed at the top of a window on brackets. A clever scheme now is to put the pole about a foot below the top of the window and fill in the corners above with brass work.

Nothing is more unsightly than the gaping recesses beneath a bed. In some houses they drape the bed-clothes down to the floor, but this is not always practical. A clever arrangement can be accomplished by looping along upon a curtain rod, beneath the bed, any light fabric like a cotton pongee.—Upholsterer.

The Best in the World.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough drug stores. dw

A Common Origin.

All skin diseases of whatever name or nature are caused by impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a natural foe to impure Blood, removing all foul humors from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

The Voice of the People.

In every part of Canada the voice of the people rules, and the voice of the people endorses Burdock Blood Bitters as the best and surest blood purified known. Nothing drives out boils, blotches, humors, sores and impurity so quickly as B.B.B., and perfect health with bright clear skin always follows its use. dw

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

NINETY MILES AN HOUR.

A READING TRAIN SPEEDS THE FASTEST MILE EVER MADE.

A Mile Traveled With an Engine and Three Cars in 39 4-5 Seconds. The World's Record Broken by President McLeod of the Round Brook Railway.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31. A mile in 39 4-5 seconds, or at the rate of over 90 miles per hour, is the fastest run ever made by a railroad train. This remarkable feat was accomplished on Friday on the Round Brook Railroad, between Neshaminy Falls and Langhorne, by engine No. 296, drawing two ordinary coaches and President McLeod's private car Reading, which is equal to two coaches in weight. Other miles were reeled off with speed as astonishing as the crack mile, and at the end of the "run" the world's record was broken. From this out all records must date from the memorable Round Brook flight. The fastest mile was scored in 39 4-5 seconds. The fastest five miles 3 minutes 26 4-5 seconds. The fast 10 miles in 7 minutes 12 seconds, averaging 43 seconds per mile.

At 4 p. m. a train consisting of an engine and three cars rolled out of the station at Ninth and Green streets. The engine was No. 296 of the Wootten pattern, burning anthracite coal. It belongs to class D. 22. It has 5 feet 8 inch driving wheels, and is one of the ordinary patterns of fast engines in use on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad and the Round Brook Railroad to New York.

The train drawn by this engine comprised two ordinary day coaches, Nos. 655 and 306, and the handsome car Reading, which is used by President McLeod as his private car, on which were the invited guests. Its weight is almost about that of the two ordinary coaches, so that the train in reality comprised four cars.

The most minute details of preparation had been taken. Ahead ran the quick gaited New York express, patrolling the line of the road; on each side were section hands ready to pick even a hair pin off the rails; at the signal towers were the clever operators intently eating progress upon the click of the wire, and as the train passed each crossroad where a flagman was stationed, a big red flag was raised across the track as a warning to any train that might attempt to follow. Thus poised the race against time began. As a precautionary measure new brake shoes had been placed on the wheels of the cars so that the train might be readily stopped.

"Mind your eye," was the quiet remark dropped after passing Jenkintown, and Engineer Hogan let her out just a little. The run to Bethayres showed the possibilities, and the wheels passed the mile post beyond Jenkintown at a speed of 50 seconds. Then the race began. The first mile post at Rydal was passed in 45 seconds, but when 12½ was announced to the second mile there was a loud whistle of surprise. The following mile showed 41 seconds. The next three miles from Bethayres to Somerton were of a cheering sort.

There was a rush past Somerton, and for the next four miles the ties looked like a continuous layer of planks, the telegraph poles were beginning to resemble a fine tooth comb, and the rails from the rear resembled a greased streak. A flash of gilt showed on the station, and it took a quick eye to read the word Somerton. The mile headlong up to this point showed a 42.3 second gait.

It need not be wondered at that men at the stations held their hats to their heads and women bent low to keep their skirts down when this wheeled cyclone passed.

The next mile was one that will ever be remembered, and the run is now a part of railroad history. There was but a glimpse of the Park and the fairy like lake. The rush was a grand one, and No. 296 passed under the wire in 39 4-5 seconds for the mile.

When the rush of five miles had been accomplished Engineer Hogan eased up a trifle so that his steed could take fresh breath. It reeled off the next mile in 47.5 seconds, and steamed into Langhorne at a gait showing 42 seconds to the mile.

The remaining miles fell like chips from a log handled by an expert woodsman, but as they were up in the 48 and 50 seconds class they were considered somewhat ridiculous to folks whose whiskers had been whistled at 30 to 40 seconds.

FELL 1000 FEET.

An Aeronaut's Terrible End at the City of the Straits.

DETROIT, Aug. 31. The balloon ascension at the exposition grounds Saturday ended in a frightful tragedy. George Hogan, the Ann Arbor, Mich., aeronaut, made the ascension, performing the while on the trapeze. When 1000 feet from earth he lost his grip on the trapeze bar. The crowd did not seem to comprehend the accident until the doomed man had almost reached the ground. The body shot through the air with frightful velocity, head downward. Hogan struck the earth in River street, coming in contact with the sidewalk. So great was the impact that two inch planks were broken and splintered. Blood spurted 100 feet from the corpse. Not a bone in his body escaped breakage and the head was mashed beyond recognition. Hogan leaves a wife and one child. The victim of the tragedy was a brother of the Professor Hogan who made an ascension in Campbell's air-ship in Brooklyn a couple of years ago and who never returned.

The Apostle of Virginia—John Leland.
The King of Verse—Fra Pacifico, a Franciscan poet of the thirteenth century.—American Notes and Queries.

While Buffalo Bill's show was performing at Nottingham Saturday the grand stand collapsed, throwing 1000 people to the ground. There was quite a panic, the audience stampeding for the exits, but after a half an hour's confusion the entertainment was enabled to proceed, no one having been seriously injured.

Love's Young Dream.

Love's young dream was a very bright one, and its fulfilment will be bright, too, if the bride will remember that she is a woman, and liable to all the ills peculiar to her sex. We remind those that are suffering from any of these, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will renew the hue of youth in pale and sallow cheeks, correct irritating uterine diseases, arrest and cure ulceration and inflammation and infuse new vitality into a wasting body. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years. b

Soft White Hands.

These desirable adjuncts to the beauty of the ladies can be attained by using Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6651

Nothing More Pleasant,

Than to feel a soft white hand. Any lady using Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will always have soft white hands. Try it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6351

A Narrow Escape.

"I would probably have been in my grave to-day had it not been for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. For two years I suffered from bowel complaint and became very weak and thin, but after using half a bottle of the Extract I was completely cured and have since had not return of the complaint."—Miss Hilton, 34 Huntley street, Toronto. dw

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cures both. dw

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating: it will relieve dyspepsia, aid indigestion, give tone and vigor to the system. dw

Several Serbons.

"For several seasons I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and find that it makes a perfect cure even of the severest attacks of summer complaint and diarrhœa. It is as precious as gold."—Mrs. F. C. Winger, Fonthill, Ont. dw

Purity of ingredients and accuracy of compounding, make Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine the criterion of excellence. dw

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Don't You Forget It.

"I will never forget that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved my life. Five years ago I had a terrible attack of summer complaint and was given up by my doctor and my parents. A friend advised Fowler's Strawberry and at the second dose I was relieved and soon was as well as ever."—Maggie McGillivray, Falkenburg, Ont. dw

A single scratch may cause a festering sore. Victoria Carbolic Salve rapidly heals cuts, wounds, burns and all sores. dw

Have you pains in your joints?—the forerunner of that dread disease rheumatism. If so, stop it by taking Royal Rheumatic Remedy, an internal medicine to be had from W. R. Greatrex, druggist. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	589,078 97
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

A Trip to Manitoba.

Mr. R. Mulholland and daughter, says the Cobourg Sentinel-Star, have returned from a four weeks' trip to the North-west. The trip would have proven more enjoyable but for an unfortunate accident near the Canadian S. On July 14th the steamer Athabasca, conveying the party, ran into the steamer Pontiac, and some pieces of the flying debris struck Miss Mulholland and seriously lamed her. She was confined to her room at Winnipeg for three weeks. Mr. Mulholland states that the North-west is looking "simply immense," to use his own words, and the prospects for Manitoba were never brighter.

Get Ready for School.

Get your old books together ready for Monday, and if you have passed, you will want some new books. Then make straight for the Peterborough Bookstore, where you will find a splendid stock of the required books at the lowest possible prices. You will want, anyway, some scribbling books, pens, pencils, drawing pencils, etc., and other articles. Be sure that you come to the Peterborough Bookstore, where the largest and completest stock of school stationery is kept at the lowest prices in Ontario. Come at once and be ready for school, which opens on Monday. Be there the first day. Have all your books and helps to study ready. This will look as if you meant business.

A Ludicrous Mistake.

The story of a ludicrous mistake, and a joke on the street inspector, is told. A town teamster was delivering blocks for a cedar block crossing, and he found it necessary to dump his load at the street side in front of a residence convenient to the crossing. The lady of the house, seeing the operation, exclaimed:—"That's just like John, sending a load of wood without telling me of it, and just look where the stupid man is putting it." And going out she gave the stupid man a piece of her mind. "Don't you know anybetter than to put the wood there? Why don't you put it in the back yard where it should go?" The teamster, confident, of course, in the correctness of his instructions, and evidently being a married man who knew when to keep silence, said never a word, but went on with his work, and when it was done drove away. The prudent lady, alive to her own interests, summoned her boy, and had him wheel the blocks into her back yard, and split them up, and when the inspector came a day or so after, to set his gang at work on the crossing, he found that his blocks had disappeared—in smoke—part of them, at least. A woman doesn't have to put on much of a spurt to get the start of a whole corporation, let alone a street inspector.

No Race.

The matched running race which was to have taken place at the Driving Park yesterday afternoon between Tierney's chestnut mare and Mat. Dean's colt, for $25 a side, was declared off for the present, it being claimed the colt had a sore leg. These horses may come together in the near future.

Flower Stealing.

For the past two weeks flower thieves have been despoiling the gardens of North Ward residents. In some instances the beds have been left with scarcely a bud. This most despicable form of theft should be put a stop to. The perpetrators, if caught, may depend upon getting a heavy punishment.

Good Marksmanship.

Mr. J. B. Pentland has been doing some good shooting at the Dominion Rifle Association matches at Ottawa this week. In the Nursery match he won $10 with a score of 22 points, the highest being 25; in the Manufacturers another $10 with a score of 33, the highest being 36; and in the Standing match $5, his score being 27 points, the highest 30.

Laurance spectacles ease and comfort, and an abiding improvement to their sight. d52 61 w36 37

Peterborough Gets the Go-by.

Sir Henry Tyler and party, who are now doing the Grand Trunk, evidently think that Grand Trunk matters are well managed in Peterborough and that (in which he is perfectly right) the town can take care of itself. They were in Lindsay, and from that place they went south by way of the old line and Millbrook. They will be in Harwood to-day if they carry out their programme. Or, perhaps Sir Henry was afraid that our town authorities, who are taking such an active, aggressive and burning interest in the matter of securing railway gates for the railway crossing, may pitch into him on the subject, as the railway trains have a habit of pitching into and chopping up some citizens on level railway crossings. Our town authorities are certainly very indulgent towards the two great railway corporations.

"Five years ago I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and had been given up by my physicians. I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after using two bottles of this medicine, was completely cured."—Asgo A. Lewis, Richard N.Y.

The Late Mr. Gower.

The Remains Sent to His Home—His Brothers Come to See to the Sad Details—Tokens of Respect.

There is little to add respecting the death of Mr. J. L. Gower, late manager of the Bank of Toronto, which will not appear insignificant besides the fact of the singularly sad happening itself. His brothers, Charles and Edward of London, Ont., arrived in town last evening and were met at the station by the employees of the bank and by a few of the personal friends of the late Mr. Gower. About ten o'clock Undertaker Bellegham arrived in town from Yeango Point with the remains, which were taken to the late residence of deceased, 548 Aylmer street where the late gentleman, Mr. L. M. Hayes and Mr. W. D. Packer, maintained a bachelor establishment. There were splendid contributions of flowers by the members of the staff of the local bank and the lady members of the party at Hazelwood, Mr. Grubbe's lodge. The accountant of the bank here, Mr. A. St. A. Smith, remained at the house during the night, and at four o'clock this morning he and the bereaved brothers, and the officials of the bank in town, as well as a number of personal friends in carriages, accompanied the remains to the C. P. R. station and they were taken on the 4.45 a.m. express to London, where the funeral takes place to-morrow at 3.30 o'clock.

As yet there is nothing known of Mr. Gower's successor as manager of the branch here. Mr. A. St. A. Smith, who has been in charge of the bank affairs during Mr Gower's holiday absence, is still in charge, and as far as business is concerned the patrons of the bank are well served and well satisfied.

Toronto's Great Fair.

An Immense Exhibit, and Large Number of Special Features.

The wheel of Time has again revolved and in a few days Toronto's Great Industrial Fair for 1891 will be open to the public and people will be again flocking to it from all parts of Canada and the adjoining States. The harvest has this year been good, and the attendance of visitors to the great Fair may therefore be expected to be very large. The entries in all departments are sufficient to completely fill every building on the grounds as well as the new ones that have been erected during the summer. The Dominion and Experimental farms are each sending very important exhibits, showing the result of practical tests in the various departments in which the farming community are specially interested. British Columbia and Manitoba are also sending much larger exhibits than heretofore. The official programme issued by the Association is a very long one and cannot fail to please the visitors, as there will be something of interest to see every minute of the day and every day of the Fair. The Fair will be opened by Major General Herbert on the 8th of September, and closes on the 19th. The usual low rates and special excursions will be given on all the railways.

Personal.

Rev. Father McCarthy, of Madoc, is in town to-day.

Mr. James Paterson is convalescent from a prolonged illness with malarial fever.

Miss Fowlie, of Niagara Falls, is at present on a visit to Mr. George Ward of Asburnham.

Rev. A. E. Swartout goes to University College, Toronto, and not to Victoria College, to continue his studies.

Mr. J. Gordon Smith, of Toronto, was in town yesterday, en route to his home after a two weeks' outing at Stony Lake.

Messrs. P. J. Murphy and R. Carey left on the 6:40 G.T.R. train this morning to attend Epiphany College, Highland Park, Baltimore, Maryland.

Rev. E. F. Torrance returned home yesterday from his transatlantic holiday tour in good health and with many pleasant memories of a delightful stay in the old land.

Mr. Wm. Birnie, of Ashburnham, has returned home after spending a most enjoyable holiday in some of the western cities. He thinks, however, there is no place like Peterborough after all.

Mr. J. H. Long, M. A., former principal of the Collegiate Institute, is in town for a few days. Mr. Long has just returned from London, Eng. He will reside at Camden, a suburb of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. J. J. Sheehy will celebrate the sixth anniversary of his entrance into business—next Saturday, Sept. 5th. He will, with the true spirit of philanthropy, celebrate the occasion by making that day a great bargain day.

Miss May Kelly and Miss Annie Simons left on the mid day train for Ottawa yesterday to attend classes in the Convent Congregation de Notre Dame, an excellent school, where valuable instruction under the most favorable conditions is imparted.

Mr. H. W. Kent seems to maintain the same interest in aquatics, whether he pulls on Little Lake or the Pacific Ocean. A late number of the Vancouver, British Columbia, News-Advertiser contains a report of the regatta of the Barrard Inlet Rowing club in which the crew, in which "Herb" pulled second oar, was the winner.

Mr. J. G. Campbell, son of Mr. John Campbell, M.A., formerly Classical Master in the Collegiate Institute, who has held a position in the Canadian Bank of Commerce here for the past year and a half, has been transferred to the agency of the same bank in Guelph, exchanging with Mr. F. Lount, of Guelph, who assumes Mr. Campbell's duties here.

The Port Hope Times says:—Miss Lizzie Hagerman, daughter of Mr. T. R. Hegerman, of this town, and niece of Mrs. E. Shepherd, organist of St. John's, has taken Port Hope by storm during the present season by her captivating singing. She has rendered much assistance to St. John's choir during the summer months, and has won wide popularity as one of Port Hope's most charming vocalists.

Mr. Stevenson, M.P., and Mr. John Burnham, M.P., go to Ottawa by the mid-day C. P.R. express to resume their parliamentary duties. They have no certain idea when the session will close, and they seriously contemplate the establishment of a permanent home in the Capital; and they will need to do so if they stay their till all the scandal and crookedness that honeycomb the various departments of the Government are threshed out and straightened.

The Brandon Sun of Aug. 27th says: Mr. J. R. Stratton, of the Peterborough DAILY EXAMINER, and a director of the Dominion Building and Loan Association, Toronto, Mr. R. B. McKee, hardware merchant, and Peter Hamilton, of the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Implement Works, Peterborough, spent Friday last in Brandon. Mr. Hamilton is looking over the West with the view of establishing a few branches and warerooms in this district, and it is said that he has about decided to open one here. Mr. Stratton is in the west in the interest of the Dominion Building and Loan Association, and Mr. R. B. McKee is looking after the large property interests that he holds, having invested largely some time ago.

The following is from the Vancouver, B.C. daily News-Advertiser of Aug. 23rd:—Mr. William Hamilton, President of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, of Peterborough, Ont., is staying a few days in the city on a business trip to the Coast. His company had proposed to establish branch works here, but the price they would require to pay for a site is considered unwarranted by the population of the Province. For one piece of land they had in view in Vancouver they were asked the modest sum of $120,000, but the interest on this sum, the company considered, would absorb too large a proportion of profits. Mr. Hamilton has no good word to say for those who hold land as a speculation. Mr. William Hamilton, Jr., of Vancouver, will return to Ontario with his father to settle up some business for the firm which he had under his charge before he came west.

More Than Snow Found in the Moon.

A special from San Jose, California, says: Prof. Holden of the Lick Observatory has procured through the big telescope most perfect photographs of the moon. Upon one of the mountains a telegraph pole is quite visible, having upon it what appears to be a large board with the following inscription: No 1 yelcuh sorb sad era ehi taeb, egroy teerts, orobretep. In order to be able to understand the above legend it must be read backward, commencing at No. 1.

It is education that makes all the difference between the man who digs in the ditch and the man who bosses the job. It is the superior qualities of Ayer's Sarsaparilla that give it its acknowledged pre-eminence over all other blood purifiers.

Catholic Order of Foresters.

A Promising New Court Established in Peterborough.

St. Peter's Court, No. 225, Catholic Order of Foresters, was organized and the officers installed last night by Brother H. O. Roy, of Quebec, ably assisted by Bro. John O'Meara, who is a member of Emerald Court, No. 213, Ottawa. Previous to installation Mr. Roy explained in French the many benefits in connection with the Order, and the rules to be observed by the members, after which Bro. O'Meara made a full explanation of every detail of the benefits to be secured by membership in this association.

In the inception of this court the promoters encountered many difficulties, but they overcame them all in a manly and honourable spirit, and extended to those in opposition abundant charity, which is one great characteristic of the Order. St. Peter's Court, No. 225 starts with a charter membership of thirty, and as there are numerous applications for admission this number will probably soon be doubled.

The admirable working of the system governing this order is enlisting for them the warm approval of Catholics in general and wins to them large and intelligent accessions from the number desiring to benefit by the splendid beneficiary system this order provides. St. Peter's court starts out with every prospect of a grand success and a flourishing membership in the near future. Any person wishing to ascertain the benefits and cost they represent, can do so by applying to any member who will be pleased to give them the necessary information. The regular meetings of this court will be held on the first and third Mondays of the month.

The following is the list of officers as they were installed last night:—

Great Time for a Green Colt.

The Kingston Whig says that "Belmont Prince," a foal of 1888, had made great time at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., winning the Nelson stakes in 2.15½ and 2.17¾. The purse was $1,000. "Waxford" is the sire of "Belmont Prince." Eilbeck's "Kingston" is from the same strain. Two years ago, in Chicago, a three-year-old made the record of 2.18¾, and it was heralded all over the country and was regarded as a marvelous performance. A prominent horseman states that it was simply a marvelous record for a three-year-old, and he was in very much doubt whether 2.15½ is not the best record ever made in that class in the United States.

News Nuggets.

—The Peterborough junior lacrosse club goes to Port Hope Saturday to play the juniors of that town.

—That tired feeling now so often heard of, is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives mental and bodily strength.

A Twelve Pounder

To-day Mr. Alex. Elliott is returing home from Chemong and this morning he went out for a farewell fish. He was lucky enough to capture a 12lb maskinonge which he sent into town and placed on exhibition at his grocery shop.

A Heavy Load

The Chemong bus yesterday made a record for itself. Driver Scott whirled a load of 21 passengers and a large quantity of baggage into town yesterday afternoon, and for curiosity's sake the bus was driven on the market scale and weighed. The wagon and its burden weighed exactly 4,535 pounds. The run from the Chemong hotel to the market square was made in 55 minutes.

Afternoon Sale of Property.

Reference to the posters will afford particulars of the sale of lots at the "Erin" block, west side of town, on Friday next, Sept. 4th, at 5 o'clock p.m. Twenty splendid lots will be offered at auction, and the terms are so reasonable that almost anyone can arrange to buy. This is a splendid chance for mechanics to secure a lot on which to build a house. Look up Mr. Fitzgerald and learn all particulars or apply to the auctioneer. d52 53

County Police Court.

County Police Magistrate Ellinison is engaged this afternoon at the Court House, hearing evidence on a case of assault near Lakefield, brought by John Adams against W. A. Boote and Wm. Shouldice, his hired man. It would seem that whilst Adams was driving a number of pigs which were trespassing on complainants land to the pound, he was interfered with by Boote and Shouldice and it is alleged by Adams that he was beaten with clubs by Boote and Shouldice causing much bodily injury.

A Splendid Piece of Furniture.

Mr. D. Bellegham, the furniture king, is always sought when any specially fine work is to be done, and Mr. T. Dunn, of the Palace Restaurant, knew what he was doing when he engaged Mr. Bellegham to make him a new bar, or rather background for the bar, which was placed in position yesterday. This elegant piece of furniture is of solid walnut, and consists, besides, largely of mirrors, it about twenty feet in length and twelve feet in height. It consists essentially of plate glass, the middle plate being horizontally eight feet by five feet in length. Alongside this are two other mirrors placed vertically, each three feet by seven and a half feet in area. These are separated by ornate pilasters in solid walnut, studded at suitable points with brackets for holding statuettes or cut glass, or crystal flasks, and other ornamental bar bric-a-brac. Above the mirrors this screen projects forward in a semi-canopy form, and in the central panel are set three plate glass mirrors below and three above, each about a foot square, the upper on a bevel. The wood work of this screen is of solid walnut and the design in Queen Ann style is worked out with great skill. The entire effect is superb, and the whole affair reflects great credit both upon the enterprising proprietor, Mr. Dunn and the builder Mr. Bellegham. The workmen so creditably concerned in the wood work are Mr. W. A. Crowe and Jas. Hanna.

Robinson's Show.

Tuesday, Sept. 8th, is the Day of the Great Show Here—Big Crowds are Coming.

On next Tuesday, Sept. 8th, as has been previously stated in the EXAMINER, the great show known as John Robinson's Great World's Exposition will exhibit in this city. It is the first visit of this show to Canada.

The John Robinson show has a world-wide reputation. It has a reputation for reliability that far excels any other show on earth. It now enjoys the merited reputation of being the very best show on earth.

For 67 years this mammoth and wonderful attraction has been under the direct management of father and son, whose motto it has ever been never to advertise any attraction that they could not positively give. Indeed, it is one of the rigid instructions to the advertising men and all persons connected with the show to never use any subject or untrue method for drawing a crowd. The show is given on its merits alone and never once has it failed to draw and delight the multitude.

The John Robinson show has increased in size steadily until it is now an indisputable fact that it is the most extensive in existence.

There is a vast army of men employed in the various departments, which travels on its own train, which embraces sixty-four cars.

The show embraces circuses, menagerie, museum, aquarium, hippodrome and pantomime, added to which, for this year is the wonderful spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Over one hundred artists are connected with the aremic department. Miss Emma Lake, the acknowledged queen of the menage, and Miss Josie DeMott, the world's most fearless and dashing equestrienne, who, it will be remembered, so electrified the people of England by their remarkable horsemanship feats, are connected with show and will astonish the thousands on Tuesday next. The wonderful races which take place on the vast hippodrome track is one of the special features of the shows. These races embrace two and four-horse chariot races, standing races, ludicrous sack, wheelbarrow and obstacle races, camel and elephant races, donkey race in sulkey, monkey races, children, hurdle, pony and donkey race and foot races. There are a large number of jockeys, male and female, also boy and girl riders, and in these races over 60 thoroughbred horses and miniature Shetland ponies.

Many thousands of visitors will be in the city to see the show and they will surely be well repaid.

Purify Your Blood

Importance of purifying the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditted and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing exclusively more than the proven positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

100 Doses One Dollar

On Fire with Eczeme

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby, Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 4 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was beyond the endurance of his little body, arms, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his tortured agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

A MAIDSTONE MAIDEN

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS FROM HER PARENTS' RESIDENCE.

And Although That Was On Saturday She Has Not Been Seen Since. The Maggie McVey Mystery Recalled. Her Personal Appearance.

WINDSOR, Sept. 2.—The residents of Maidstone township, in the vicinity of Elmstead station on the C. P. R. are very much excited over the mysterious disappearance of Susan Kerr, daughter of William Kerr, lot 13 on the 8th concession, who retired as usual on Friday night and when Saturday morning came had disappeared as mysterious and effectually as though swallowed up by the earth.

The young lady occupied a bed with her sister. The two retired together and Susan has not since been seen by any person. Searching parties have scoured the woods and the surrounding country for miles without finding any trace or information of her whereabouts. Her disappearance recalls that of Maggie McVey, who left the house of her father, John McVey, in Yarmouth, Elgin county, one evening in November, 1878, to drive home the cows from a neighboring field, and of whose whereabouts no trace has ever been discovered, although rewards, government, county and private, aggregating, $2500 were offered for her body, dead or alive.

Miss Kerr is 23 years of age, has light curly hair, rather short, had on light brown dress with black trimmings, man's coarse straw hat with red band and wide rim, light red woolen stockings without shoes, is about 5 feet 4 or 5 inches in height, of medium build, weighing about 115 pounds.

A Grain Steamer Wrecked.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 2. The steamer Dunmurray from New York for Antwerp, grain laden, was upset by a hurricane Saturday morning last at 10 o'clock. Eight of her crew were drowned and twenty saved by the life boat. The saved were picked up by the steamers Hans and Kurt from New York for Rotterdam on Monday evening and transferred to a fishing boat this evening off Halifax harbor and brought to the city.

Capt. McMartan looks badly battered after his great fight with fate. He tells a thrilling story of the battle for life when the ship went down. All the men had on life preservers, but there was only one boat left and she was filled. Those who had presence of mind swam to her, and she was baled out with an empty whisky case. The other eight—including the first mate and chief engineer, were never seen after the ship capsized, and were either killed in the wreckage or carried down by the suction. Capt. McMartan says the hurricane was of only a few hours' duration, but raged with great fury while it lasted. The Dunmurry was a new ship on her third voyage. The survivors were some naked and penniless.

From China to England in 21 Days.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2. The Canadian Pacific Railway's fast mail train which left Vancouver Saturday last at 1 p.m. on the arrival of the Canadian Pacific Railway's steamship Empress of Japan with the Emma and Japan mails reached Brockville at 9.03 last evening, having made the run in 76 hours, allowing for three hours lost by changes in time. A special left Morristown over the New York Central at 9.45 p.m., which will probably reach New York at 1.30 Wednesday morning, making the time from Vancouver to New York about 83 hours and from Yokohama to New York a trifle less than 13 days. If the mails catch the Inman Liner steamship City of New York, which sails at 5, they should reach London Wednesday, Sept. 9, making the time from Yokohama to London via the C. P. Railway and New York, just 21 days. The special train on the C. P. R. was delayed about three hours by hot boxes, otherwise the connection with the City of New York would have been made with ease; as it is it may be missed by an hour. In that event the mails will go by the Hamburg American steamship Columbia, sailing at 6 a.m. Thursday.

North Waterloo Election Petition.

TORONTO, Sept. 2. At Osgoode Hall yesterday, in the matter of the North Waterloo Dominion election Mr. Justice MacMahon delivered judgment on the motion to dismiss the petition which was argued some time before vacation. The motion it will be remembered was to set aside the petition on preliminary objections, the principal of which was that the petitioner, Conrad Knell, was an alien and not entitled to vote therefore not to file a petition. At the same time it was asked that if the petition was found bad, on this ground, that a new petitioner might be substituted. His Lordship holds that the petition, as it now stands, is bad and must be set aside. The order made was that the matter stand for three weeks, and if by that time no new petitioner asks to be substituted in the stead of the present one the petition be dismissed with costs, but if a petitioner comes forward and asks to be substituted he may be so substituted.

"Big Ben" Shot.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2. Ben Whitworth or "Big Ben," as he is popularly called, the steward of the Beaver Line steamship Lake Ontario, was accidentally shot on the voyage over. Dr. Holden was vaccinating the emigrants, and a Polish Jew took off his coat, laying it across his arm, and the doctor was just about to vaccinate him when there was a loud report, and with a cry of "My God, I'm shot," Big Ben fell to the deck. The Polish Jew, it appears, had a 42-calibre bull dog revolver in his coat pocket, and this was discharged accidentally, the bullet struck Big Ben in the right chest, ploughing its way right across the chest, and finally lodging in the left shoulder. Dr. Holden cut the bullet out and Whitworth will recover.

The Perils of the Sea.

HALIFAX, Sept. 2. A special from Bermuda says. The steamer Duart Castle, from Halifax, arrived yesterday. She encountered a hurricane Saturday morning, during which two seamen were washed overboard and drowned. Ten horses were killed and the cargo shifted.

The Brigantine Pitt parted her chains during the hurricane and went to sea. She has not yet returned and it is feared she is lost.

SUNK IN DETROIT RIVER.

THE PROPELLER JENKS WITH SEVERAL OF HER CREW.

She Collided With a Bigger Propellor Than Herself With the Above Unfortunate Result—The Wife of the Captain Missing.

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—At an early hour yesterday as the little propeller Edward H. Jenks was coming up the Detroit River from Kelley's Island with a load of block stone and was just off Ballard's Reef, a short distance below the head of Grosse Isle, she came into collision with the propeller George W. Morley, which was bound down loaded. The Jenks was immediately sunk and Mrs. Ekbert, the wife of the captain of the Jenks, Albert Jacobs of Port Clinton, O., the second engineer, and one fireman of the Jenks were carried down with the vessels, but whether they were killed by the collision or were unable to get on deck and were drowned is not yet known. The rest of the crew managed to escape and were picked up by the Morley. The name of the fireman is not yet known. The Jenks is 150 tons, owned by A. M. Carpenter, Port Huron, and was built at Port Dover in 1882. The Morley, which is 1045 tons register, struck the Jenks just forward of her cabin and crushed her like an egg shell. She went to the bottom immediately. A misunderstanding of signals is said to have been the cause of the collision.

JUMPED INTO THE RIVER.

A French Canadian's Sensational Suicide in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. Among the crowd of passengers who left Grand street on the ferryboat Warren shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning was a well dressed, middle aged man, whose appearance suggested that he was a Frenchman. The boat had reached the centre of the stream when the man jumped on to the rail and plunged headforemost into the river. The engines were reversed and ropes were thrown to the drowning man, who was finally picked up by two men in a row boat and taken on to the Warren, which returned to her New York pier. An ambulance from Convergent Hospital was summoned, but when it arrived the man was dead. Letters and papers found on the body showed that the suicide was George La Linde, a French Canadian who had come to this city from Montreal. He had been employed as a cook in various hotels at Rockaway, Beach and Ashbury Park. In one letter he said, "If you hear of my death you will know that I have committed suicide."

A Blackened Waste of 100 Square Miles.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 2. One thousand square miles of rich farming land in Faulk county, 200 miles northwest of here, are black with smouldering ashes, and hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain and tons of hay have gone up in smoke. The fire was the worst ever known in Dakota. A spark from a steam threshing machine near Faulkton ignited the dry stubble and in a short time the flames had spread over a stretch of 20 miles wide and were rushing over the prairie. Nothing could stop them and a brisk southeast wind was blowing and carried the sparks for a half mile. Dozens of farm houses standing on the open prairie were swept away with their outlying buildings. The burned districts cover an area 20 miles by 50, and in all that territory there is not a tree or a hay stack or a herd of cattle which escaped. So far no loss of life is reported, but at least 1000 persons are homeless and the loss of property is incalculable.

Successful Rainmaking.

CHEYENNE, N. Y., Sept. 2. Melborn's rain making has been crowned with success. At 2.30 this afternoon a storm suddenly broke forth contrary to all expectations, and two hours later there was heavy rain in accordance with Melborne's predictions. The rainfall extended over a radius 15 to 20 miles around the city and the official measurement was one-half inch.

ENGLAND MUST MOVE.

Russia and the Dardanelles—Germany Enjoys a Smile.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Standard suggests that the Sultan's action in regard to Russia and the Dardanelles may be due to pique and irritation at England's refusal to reopen the Egyptian question. It says:—"Since that refusal it is reported that the English ambassador has not been received at the Yildiz Kiosk. It is for the powers to consider what course to adopt to enforce the observance of existing treaties. Clearly the straits must be either closed to all nations or open to all nations. England cannot alone champion the rights of the powers."

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The National Gazette argues that the initiative in the Dardanelles matter falls upon England and says: It would be exceedingly bitter irony of fate if immediately after the Portsmouth reception England should be compelled by Russia, France's ally, to defend her interests.

LONDON, Sept. 2. The Austrian and German newspapers continue their excited discussion of the Dardanelles question, while they profess not to believe the report that Turkey has yielded to Russia. They declare that if the report is true it might induce the most terrible complications for all Europe.

No Will and a Lapsed Title.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Great curiosity prevails here as to the direction in which the immense estates of the late Duke of Cleveland have gone. As he has no heirs the title lapses, but it appears that the Duke made a will last year, which is one of the most singular on record.

The lawyers drew up the document, leaving blank the names of the legatees, as well as the amounts devised, and these were filled in privately by the old Duke, who then locked up the will. No one at present knows, not even the lawyers, to whom all his immense riches have gone.

THE PRINTING BUREAU.

HOW SUPERINTENDENT SENECAL SCREWED TORONTO FIRMS.

Forces the Boodle From Manufacturers and Dealers in 10 and 20 per Cent. Batches—Magnificent Forgubites of a Man of Magnificent Nerve.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The Public Accounts Committee had large audience again yesterday when it resumed the enquiry into the Printing Bureau scandal. Men from Toronto were there in force, but the proceedings were comparatively tame.

Geo. Blackhall, who has a machine shop in Toronto, told the committee how he sold $18,000 worth of machinery to the Government since opening of 1890. Of that amount $8,291 had been for his machinery, and $10,000 for the goods of Hickok & Co., Harrisburg, Pa., for whom he was agent. The negotiations were carried on through Senecal, who frequently got money, in all about $2,000. Senecal suggested that the commission be divided up. The first money he gave Senecal was a $1,400 cheque on the Standard Bank, Toronto; the last payment was three months ago, $40. Before dealing he understood that it was necessary to "grease" Mr. Senecal.

F. B. Polson, director of the Polson Iron Works Co., of Toronto, said that in the last four years the company had furnished to the Department four engines and three boilers; the total cost was about $6,000. Since 1888 he had also put in another engine for running the electric light, the cost of which was 1,800. The first order was obtained through Senecal and the second through Ahearn & Soper, of Ottawa. Senecal went to the works and spoke of the Polson's contract. Witness gave Senecal $520 by cheque on Ontario Bank, Toronto. Senecal went to the works, and a man who accompanied him told witness that if the contract was given, Senecal would have to get ten per cent.

Now who was Senecal's friend?

E. L. Patterson. Senecal got exactly ten per cent. on the amount of the contract. Senecal a year afterward borrowed $20 from witness in Toronto.

The Minister of Finance examined witness.

The price of machinery for the Printing Bureau was about five per cent. lower than the usual prices. Witness wanted the engines in the Printing Bureau as they would be a good advertisement. As a result of putting the engines in, Eddy, of Hull, shortly afterwards ordered an engine.

L. B. Montgomery, of Montgomery, Woods & Co., Toronto, leather belting manufacturers, told how his dealings with Senecal began in 1889. Montgomery raised a laugh when, in answer to Mr. Lister's question as to whether Senecal ever got any money from the firm, he told how Senecal, when passing through Toronto had asked those he was off for cash," and had borrowed $27, all the money witness had in his pocket.

A. T. Johnston, of the Toronto Type Foundry, told the committee that his total sales to the Bureau were about $15,000; ten per cent. of this amount Senecal got. He usually got money immediately after the receipt of the cheque, always going to Toronto for it. The Bureau got very cheap rates. Witness never thought Senecal would have to be paid until after a cheque from Government came to his office. Simultaneously with the cheque Senecal appeared and announced that he was hard up. Witness and Senecal went out to get a cigar and Senecal wanted money asking for $100. As the cheque just received was only $980 witness remonstrated. Senecal said others had to do it. After this on every sale Senecal got his "take-off."

"So you gradually became aware," said Mr. Lister, "that Senecal had to get a little dough?" Yes.

Mr. Johnston told how Senecal, himself and Patterson had met five weeks ago. The talk had been of the investigation at Ottawa. On the day of witness' last examination he drove to Senecal's house, picked up at Chapleau's house and interviewed Chapleau. The visit was at Senecal's suggestion. The investigation was talked of. Chapleau told witness that he would have to tell the whole truth before the committee.

W. T. Sickers, a College man, Toronto, sworn, was sworn. Mr. Lister looked at him portentously and said: "Do you know Mr. Senecal?" "No."

"Did you ever see him?" "No."

The Government members grouned.

Mr. Lister looked surprised; they had got the wrong Sykes. He stepped down.

W. G. Stark, President of the Dominion Foundry, told how his company had sold between £5,000 and £20,000 pounds of type to the Government at a cost of $41,800. Negotiations had been carried on through their travelling agent, Cosby.

Mr. Stark had inferred that money had been paid Senecal. He believed so because "he probably heard so." He had no idea of the amount paid Senecal. Bookkeeper C. A. Scott knew all about that. At the time witness was only vice president.

"Did you, asked Mr. Lister, "ever give Senecal any money yourself?" Yes, I gave him a cheque for $200 in my office about a year ago.

Mr. Lister examined S. Beatty. "Mr. Patterson was here the other day and said he had given you $200 for putting a contract through?" "Yes."

"Did a letter accompany it?" "I don't remember."

"It was made in several payments?" "Yes."

"What about your conversation with Mr. Patterson?" "Patterson asked my help in the matter and I promised to see the Premier for Toronto. Patterson said he has been misrepresented as a Reformer. I told Mr. Small, this was in 1886, and spoke a few words."

"Did you not see Sir John and Mr. Chapleau?" "Never promised to do so. Never met Mr. Chapleau."

"What did Patterson say?" "He said Mr. Small could do nothing, and he would have to go to Ottawa himself."

"That will do," said Mr. Lister.

Abl. J. B. Rollin of Montreal, who manages the New England Paper Co., was put on the stand and then arose a tempest.

Mr. Lister charged that the witnesses were prejudiced, which roused Mr. Chapleau, who made a denial of complicity in the trouble. Richard White, of the Gazette, admitted he had recommended Bronskill to his position in the Printing Bureau. He denied that he had any influence in the Canada Paper Co., except as a friend, but admitted that he had asked the Government to try and give the company orders.

Mr. M. Farlane, of the Canada Paper Company, denied that the company had any arrangement whereby profit on orders given them by the Government were to be used to reduce the hold of La Presse to the company. Though he admitted that since La Presse had begun to deal with the company. The latter had advanced them money to pay off their debt to the Canada Paper Co., they had received more orders from the Government than in past years.

The sitting wound up in a battle royal between Mr. Lister and Mr. Chapleau, Mr. Lister holding if he could snow that Chapleau had been in a position to inform himself of Senecal's percentages the Government could be held responsible for the corruption in the department. Mr. Chapleau denied that he had ever been in such a position.

THE PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS

Committee met with closed door yesterday. These gentlemen will form a sub-committee to inquire into the affair McGreevy: Sir John Thompson, Mills, (Bothwell) Girouard Adams, Davies.

THE SENATE RAILWAY COMMITTEE

met yesterday. Mr. McFarlane, the subcontractor on the Baie des Chaleurs Railway, said there was a little over $200,000 due him for his 60-mile contract. If Armstrong had paid him he (witness) would have paid his own claims.

Mr. Cooper, president of the new syndicate, said it was never suggested to him during the negotiations that Pacaud should be paid. The scandals connected with the line had injured his chances of financing the line in England. He refused to say what scandals, or if he referred to Pacaud. When asked to answer "yes" or "no" to the question whether Thom had his full authority to go to New York so meet the Quebec Ministry, he answered, "I will not be made to say what I don't want to." Thom had never told him, nor was he aware, that his company had entered into an agreement with the Crown not to ask any further subsidy from the Dominion Government. The old company had.

Mr. Langelier announced that this closed the case for the Quebec Government. As regards the charge of embezzling $118,000 of the old company's money he had specially abstained from mentioning Senator Robitaille's name. He had charged the old directors. Had all the members of the company been like Senator Robitaille, the charge would never have been made. C. N. Armstrong recalled, gave evidence to show that none of the $118,000 had been embezzled. It was decided to summon Robert McGreevy and Mr. M.P. Lonergan, solicitor for the new company.

The committee will meet to-day.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The Government Will Carry on the Work to Completion.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—In the House yesterday Mr. Girouard presented the report of the sub-committee appointed to look up precedents in connection with the resignation of Thomas McGreevy. The committee was unanimous in reporting that on April 5 last his election was lawfully contested, that the contestation was pending when the resignation was tendered, that the resignation be not acted upon and that the warrant of the Speaker for the issue of a writ for a new election be recalled. Mr. Girouard said he would make a motion for the adoption of the report to-day.

Andre Senecal, Superintendent of the Printing Bureau, having been ordered to appear at the bar of the House to-day, the Speaker asked if he was present. The deputy sergeant-at-arms said that he had ascertained that Andre Senecal left Ottawa on or about Aug. 24. He had made careful enquiry, but could not learn his present whereabouts. He therefore left the order of the House with Mr. Senecal's family at his Ottawa residence.

Mr. Lister moved that Andre Senecal not having attended pursuant to the order of the House dated Aug. 27, be taken into the custody of the sergeant-at-arms, and that the Speaker do issue his warrant accordingly.

The Speaker asked when the service was made.

The deputy sergeant-at-arms said that he had made the service on Friday last.

The motion was adopted without further discussion.

When considering the amendment made by the Senate to the bill respecting the shipping of live stock, Mr. Laurier asked for further information regarding the proposal to admit American cattle for slaughter.

Mr. Haggart repeated the statement of a few days ago. He said than an application had been made by a company for permission to slaughter American cattle at Three Rivers for export under regulations as stringent as might be necessary. The Government had not yet come to a conclusion on the subject and would not without the greatest consideration.

Mr. Laurier asked if this was the old dead meat company?

Mr. Haggart said it was not.

The resolutions to cancel the $970,000 bonds, held by the Government on the North Shore Railway from Montreal to Quebec, were reported after some discussion.

Mackenzie Bowell was in his office at the Customs Department for a short time yesterday and afterwards occupied his seat in the chamber for a couple of hours, during the discussion on the North Shore Railway bonds. Sir John Thompson, however, had charge of the question. Mr. Bowell being unable to resume active control of the Railway Department

On the motion to go into supply, Mr. Barron brought up the question of constructing the Trent Valley Canal and advocated its construction in a long speech. The canal was also advocated by Messrs. Stevenson, Burnham and Corby.

Mr. Haggart said that individually he was in favor of the canal, which he believed would be directly and indirectly of immense advantage to the country. The policy of the Government in assisting the work is what it has always been. The amount in the estimates this year is small, but this is because of the large reduction made in taxes levied on the country rendering economy necessary. But the Government was resolved to carry out the former policy. The policy of the Government with reference to assisting that work was unchanged.

TORONTO'S GOLD MINE GONE.

The Mayor Signs the Contract and Kiely-Everett Get the Road.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—The transfer of the street railway was made yesterday afternoon. Checks to the amount of $475,000, the first deposit by the syndicate, were given the Treasurer of the city shortly after twelve o'clock, and at 4 p.m. the contract was signed by both parties to the agreement.

The road has made a profit for the city during less than three and a half months of about $75,000.

The syndicate take the receipts from yesterday morning.

The new tickets have already been printed. The eight for a quarter class are red, school children's white, six for a quarter blue, and 25 for $1 yellow. They are all headed "The Toronto railway," are stamped "Good for one fare," and signed by "C. W. Kiely, Pres." The eight for a quarter bear the hours during which they can be used.

The cheap fares and transfer clause of the contract will go into force this morning.

In addition to the $475,000 on capital account the syndicate has given Mr. Coady a check for $4,211.25 for betterment in the plant since the city obtained possession. This settles the whole business and leaves nothing in dispute.

On account of the costs of the late arbitration $30,000 has been paid by the city, about $5,000 is in dispute and there are still some bills to come in.

70 Miles an Hour on the C. P. R.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1. The C. P. R. "flying special" arrived here yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and left again at 9. Run from Banff to Winnipeg, a distance of 920 miles, was made in 23 hours, including stops, making an average of 40 miles an hour. The run from Canmore to Gleichen, 123 miles, was made in 4 hours and 23 minutes, and from Gleichen to Medicine Hat, 123 miles, 2 hours and 25 minutes, including stops. At times a rate of 70 miles an hour was attained, and 50 and 60 miles an hour was quite frequent. The engine express, which arrives at 4.30 this evening, left Vancouver 24 hours ahead of flyer, so that it was beaten by 3½ hours.

To Be Pressed to the Bitter End.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—It is evident that charges made at Ottawa against Lieutenant-Governor Schultz in connection with supplies, etc., to the ill-fated yacht Keewatin are to be pressed to the bitter end, and a most rigid examination is about to be made by authorities at the capital. James Stewart of Selkirk was subpœnaed yesterday to appear at Ottawa to give evidence. It is believed that Mr. Stewart will be the chief witness against His Honor. Two other witnesses will also go to corroborate his testimony.

Seizure of a Steamer.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Sept. 1.—Captain Tozier of the U.S. revenue cutter Walcott yesterday seized the American steamer George E. Starr, belonging to the Union Pacific Company and plying between Port Townsend, Pt. Anglis and Victoria, on a charge of smuggling Chinese into the U.S. from British Columbia. Several Chinese were found on the vessel, and when arrested they said they had been taken aboard at Victoria by officers of the vessel. The officers of the steamer were arrested.

A Railway Death List of 12.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—A wreck occurred on the Carrolton branch of the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis Railway yesterday. Four lives were lost, 13 persons were badly and 18 slightly injured. The flange of a forward truck of the engine broke while the train was going 30 miles an hour. The train was on a trestle and plunged down the embankment. The fatally injured will swell the death list to 10 or 12.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have to say my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Unusual energy is characterizing the management of the Central Exhibition this year, and the indications are that the coming exhibition on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 21st, 22nd and 23rd, will, weather being favourable, be by all odds the best of the series. The attendance of the public should be greater, for the attractions are much greater than ever before offered. The prize list presents unusual attractions. It has been greatly strengthened financially in many important departments, the most notable of which is the ladies' department, in which it is arranged to have unlimited competition, there being no entrance fee in the ladies department proper. There are several new prizes in the stock department and several new special prizes.

The horse ring will be an unusually attractive feature of the exhibition this season. There will be half a dozen rattling tests of speed for prizes which are so large that they will attract a great many outside horses. Special means is being taken to make known the conditions of these races and the prizes offered. prominent horsemen in all parts of the province being personally notified. Another new feature is a test of horse flesh strength, a special prize being offered for the team of horses drawing the largest dead weight in three trials.

A feature of special practical interest to farmers, and of general interest to all who use butter, will be the exhibit of the Travelling Dairy, in charge of Prof. Dean, head of the Dairy Department of the Ontario Agricultural College. Prof. Dean will be provided with cream, and will give practical illustrations of the creamery system of making butter, churning, gathering, salting, working the butter and making it into prints, in full view of the public, exactly as these operation are carried on in the creamery. Farmers and farmers' wives will get most valuable information worth ten times the same knowledge learned from books or imparted by word of mouth. A centrifugal cream separator, and the latest and most approved milk tester, will be also on exhibition, and their use illustrated and described. The prize lists are now issued from the EXAMINER office and the Secretary will be pleased to supply them to all who may apply, either to himself, personally or by letter, or at the EXAMINER office. Everything goes to indicate that the Central Exhibition of 1891 will be a splendid success.

A Crisp Chapter on Chili.

A general feeling of satisfaction will be experienced among liberty-loving and constitutionally governed people as they read of the fall of the Chilian tyrant Balmaceda and the unmistakable and complete triumph of the Congressional party. The despatches from Chili last week were of a contradictory character, and though for some days those who controlled them endeavoured to make matters look favourable to the Dictator's Government, the force of events was too strong for them. Now we have the welcome news that Balmaceda has been routed beyond recovery, and that he has fled from the scene of his evil doings. It is not surprising that his house and some of the houses of his aiders and abettors have been razed to the ground. For the present he has escaped the penalty which is justly due to him, but it is not likely that he will return to trouble the country whose progress during the present year he has done so much to retard. The Congressional party is on top, it will probably be duly recognized by the powers, and it is to be hoped that the work of reconstruction and rehabilitation will go on as quickly and uninterrupted as possible.

President Balmaceda seems to have thought that he could play the game in Chili at which the Stuarts failed in England a couple of centuries ago. His endeavor was to obtain autocratic power, and to continue to rule after his five years' term of office had expired. The people complained, but Balmaceda scowled. Congress stormed and rebelled against his dictatorial assumptions, and as it was necessary for him to have money the President temporized long enough to get his grant. As soon as the financial appropriations were made, he closed Congress, discharged the Cabinet, and put his own creatures in office. It is part of the constitutional order in Chili that the outgoing President shall nominate his successor. Balmaceda nominated his most servile adherent, a man who might be depended upon to out-Herod Herod. His funds running short, the Dictator again parleyed with the Congressionalists and allowed them to select a Cabinet. In due course funds for governmental purposes were voted, and as soon as this was done the Cabinet was metaphorically kicked down stairs. All this time Balmaceda was manipulating the army and endeavoring to make it the tool of his ambition. He discharged all the officers he could not depend upon to obey him. As for the newspapers that criticised his methods, he adopted the short and easy method of spiking their guns. In other words he shut up their offices and where he thought it necessary broke or dispersed their plant and machinery. Imprisonment of disaffected patriots and the confiscation of their effects became a favourite way of stopping opposition. Grim stories of torture of those in prison have found their way from time to time to the public prints.

On Saturday 7th Chili was thrown into a fever of excitement by a manifesto from the Congressionalists, who announced that they had control of the navy and part of the army, and that they proposed to make Balmaceda govern the country in a constitutional manner. Thus the war began. The insurgents had the sympathies of the people, but Balmaceda had the army. The insurgents could sweep the undefended sea coast, but could not get at the interior. Of late they had been massing their forces, and under cover of their gun-boats advanced on Valparaiso, the chief seaport, and twenty miles away from the capital, Santiago. If they could capture Valparaiso, Balmaceda's cause was practically lost. This they have now done. Not only so, but Santiago is theirs also. The Dictator played a desperate game to the last, and resorted to every expedient to bolster up his cause both at home and abroad. But the end has come. With the dawn of peace Chili will recover from the unsettled condition of affairs brought about by the revolution. It is to be hoped that the tedious time of trouble will be followed by a reign of peace, prosperity, honour and patriotism.

New Dominion Line Steamer.

From the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, Aug. 17th, 1891.

A new steamer, named the Labrador, from the building yard of Messrs. Harland and Wolff, Limited, Belfast, has just been added to the Dominion Line, for that company's service from Liverpool to Montreal. The trial trip on the run across the channel was most successful, there being an entire absence of heating, the speed throughout being 15 knots, which was in excess of the expectations of the owners. The vessel is constructed of steel of extra strength necessary for the North Atlantic trade. She has 8 water tight bulk heads, and her dimensions are :—Length 400, breadth 47, and depth 32 feet ; tonnage, 4,700 gross, and 2,996 net register ; deadweight capacity, 5,700 tons. She has a double bottom throughout containing water ballast, and also fresh water supply for cattle. Her rig is four pole masts, square rigged on foremast only. The steering gear is Messrs. Wilson and Pirrie's patent, geared direct to the rudder head, dispensing altogether with chains. The engines are triple expansion, indicating 3,000-horse power, pressure 170 lbs. A special feature of the Labrador is that the saloon and staterooms for first-class passengers are contained in a house erected on the bridge deck, being thus entirely isolated from other departments of the ship, and securing perfect ventilation in all weathers. It is only necessary to say that the saloons, smoking room, ladies boudoir, and staterooms are finished in Messrs. Harland & Wolff's well-known style. The second cabin is on the main deck underneath. The comfort of this class of passengers has been catered for beyond what is customary. The steerage passenger decks are very lofty. Their beds of white canvas, in framework of wood, can be folded and put up under the beams, so as to be out of the way during the daytime. In the cattle decks every provision is made in accordance with the new regulations of the British Board of Agriculture and the Canadian Government for the safe carriage and comfort of the animals. Water is derived from the fresh water tanks by pipes carried overhead the entire length of the ship and on both sides, with taps and short lengths of hose attached at frequent intervals, thus reducing the labor of the attendants to a minimum, and securing proper watering of the animals. The ventilation of the 'tween decks is provided by cowls by Utley's automatic ventilating ports, which can be kept open in all weathers, as they exclude water while admitting air, by two trunks extending fore and aft, fixed overhead, with apertures at frequent intervals, through which air, drawn from the deck above, is forced by two large fans, each driven by a separate engine. Electric light is fitted throughout the vessel with two complete sets of generating plant, supplied by Allen, of London. Protection against fire is provided by steam pipes connecting with each separate compartment, by which steam can be turned into any part for extinguishing fire, the valves for same being placed together on deck, where they are easily accessible. The refrigerating machinery is Haslam's cold dry air system, with chambers capable of conveying a large quantity of dressed beef. The Labrador will be classed on the Admiralty List as a transport, being admirably adapted for troops and cavalry. The ship is finished throughout in the style for which Messrs. Harland and Wolff's building yard is so justly famed, and has been constructed under the supervision of Mr. William Glover, consulting engineer to the company.

The Voice of the People.

In every part of Canada the voice of the people rules, and the voice of the people endorses Burdock Blood Bitters as the best and surest blood purified known. Nothing drives out boils, blotches, humors, sores and impurity so quickly as B.B.B., and perfect health with bright clear skin always follows its use. dw

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes : "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading ; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston On.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

A GLIMPSE OF BRITTANY

A DESOLATE LAND, STRANGE AND WEIRD, WHICH ITS PEOPLE LOVE.

A Land of Memories and Legends—Beggary the One Industry Which Has Not Altered or Declined—The Wreckers of Brittany.

MADAME DE STAEL writes: There must be something in a name after all, or why should the French "cornouailles" sound so much more attractive and romantic than the plainer English Cornwall, although it is well known that the two counties once upon a time were one province, now torn asunder by a convulsion of nature. The Gallic portion, under the name of Brittany, has not since its disruption from the British half advanced very far into civilization or kept pace with its insular neighbor. It has retained a great number of its ancient customs beliefs, and superstitions, and on that account, as much as and more than for any intrinsic beauty of landscape or, coast scenery, it is beloved of the traveller who turns with contempt from the hackneyed beaten tracks of western England. Indeed, as soon as Rennes is passed, even the line of railway assumes a different aspect. Women emerge from the signal cabins wearing men's glazed hats, carrying across their stalwart chests brass horns, and waving with reliable and automatic precision staffs with the furled danger flags. At the little unpretending stations market women in the garb of the province priests with wide hats, reading their breviaries, respectfully saluted as they walk solemnly by, enter or leave the carriages, apparently still surprised at the modern tools of locomotion. On either side the fields, copses, and meadows stretch out divided into small lots, while the train actually seems to slacken speed in order to submit to the lazy examination of the white and yellow cows who await its coming. Almost everywhere the line skirts the road and allows a continuous picture of rustic life; sturdy peasant women trudging along, heavily laden with living fowls, wearing the national straight petticoats, inordinately full, the many colored kerchief on their massive shoulders, and on their heads the white, delicate, ethereal cap whose flying wings contrast so curiously with the stalwart limbs and thick-set figures.

Brittany is a land of memories and legends; the present is of no account; the past reigns supreme and self-asserting; modern ideas are at once engulfed and superseded by Old World reminiscences. The coinlines of governments of republican France become mythical, and what is actual and real is the old "Connectables," the presence of Du Guesclin, whose statue at St. Brieuc gazes placidly at the tree embossomed Palais de Justice opposite.

Brittany has dwindled down to a population of poor and frequently destitute inhabitants. In her ports her fine old ships lie rotting, gnawed to crumbs by legions of rats, the descendants of her warlike dukes and adventurous mariners have become petty husbandmen, living on the produce of their morsel of land or the sale of their modest fisheries. Only one thing has not altered or declined at St. Brieuc—beggary. From generation to generation abject poverty, malformations, crippled limbs, stunted figures and intellects, hideous sores, have been handed down in all their cruel integrity; it would seem almost as if the nameless rags that cover the repulsive human beings they do not clothe were the same that once belonged to the old "gueux," as also the whining supplications for alms, the rapid invocations to the saints, the wild gesticulation, and the fierce imprecations and curses when their efforts fail to extract a copper from the disgusted spectator. For the chance of securing the smallest coin the whole crowd of mendicants gathered round the station of St. Brieuc will become involved in an inextricable mass of bodies, crutches, knotty, greedy hands, and lockpicking fingers, clutching, scratching, rolling, writhing, howling, and shrieking till every vestige of humanity is lost.

How pleasant are impressions evoked by nature at St. Brieuc, such a sight is more than sufficient to efface them and to inspire the visitor with an ardent longing to leave it, never to return. Not so at Perlic; there—perhaps by accident—far different sights and sounds greet the eye and ear. A number of pretty, healthy children may be seen grouped on the stone steps of the Calvary," singing with charming rhythm and time a quaint old ditty in many verses, wherein love and religion were strangely blended, and also the deeper note of sadness and the allusions to death which are the characteristics of Breton popular songs, perhaps because the wives and daughters of sailors and fishermen are always more or less widows and orphans.

On the way from Perdic to Paimpol the sea is perpetually playing a game of hide and seek, disappearing, showing itself in the most unexpected quarters, and passing finally completely absent—at low tide—from the harbor of Binic, where it had every reason to be.

Plouha is the first absolutely Breton town one comes to, at least it is there that the inhabitants signarly acknowledge their nationality while at Legue, for instance, the boatmen disdainfully allude to "those of Plouha" under that name. At the entrance of the borough rises a huge cross bearing the bleeding—and freshly colored—body of the Saviour, with the equally repainted inscription:

HONNEURS A JESUS CHRIST
ET A SA CROIX.

A very little further on a chapel bearing the barbarous name of Kermaria-an-Isquit, famous in the country for its Danse Macabre, a series of naive frescoes in which the artist has represented every condition of living and dead actors engaged in sprightly exercise, the dead being apparently bent upon conquering the natural repugnance of the living to accept them as partners. These mural paintings had long been hidden under a thick coat of whitewash, and were accidently discovered some forty years ago, but they are now fast disappearing, this time with no hope of an ultimate resurrection. Sheep and pigs seem privileged to share the chapel with the congregation, and not exceptionally so at Kermaria. From St. Brieuc to Paimpol, variegated, shrines, crosses, crucifixes, lavishly decorated with the symbols of the Passion, are thickly scattered on the road; it is very rare to see one not frequented by a devout wayfarer, and there is no example of any being left without flowers, wreaths, or ex-votos.

Brittany is a strange, poor, quaint, original, and unique bit of Europe, one where probably none but a native would care to dwell, yet impressing the alien with a firm conviction that the inhabitants are strongly attached to it and, as it were, knitted to the soil, having some occult and inexplicable instinct for their love and fidelity. They are themselves a singular mixture of unreasoning virtues and vices, qualities and defects; they are pious and superstitious, loyal and suspicious, honest and fond of gain, hard working and supine, conservative to the point of preferring poverty and discomforts to the admission of new-fangled improvements or the renouncement of the habits and customs of their hardy forefathers. And this is why Brittany still harbors the last of the disappearing race of professional wreckers who once infested her shores. It is true that their infamous trade is no longer able to support them, or even find them in daily bread, but they still supplement their precarious existence by watching eagerly for the flotsam and jetsam of the sea when an auspicious storm whipping up the terrible currents of Ouessant and Fornal casts among their rocks and reefs the cargo of some ship shattered to pieces by waves and wind. They do not pretend to disguise their satisfaction at a disaster of which they are no longer the primary factors, but nevertheless they take advantage of the equable climate and mild temperature of their shattered cliffs and chines to cultivate camellias in the open air, the flowers of which they sell in the big cities. There the whole seaboard is thickly populated; hamlet touches hamlet, joined by a ringe of isolated cabins; the aspect is Arcadian, but the seemingly pacific cultivator of today has never ceased to regret the stirring times of the old wrecking days, and the stories of adventure and threadbare escapes still form the staple conversation during the winter evenings, mingled with invidious sighs. Another quiet time comes also after the sale of the flotsam, which takes place periodically and openly after a certain legal time has elapsed without the booty thrown up by the sea being claimed by the rightful owners from those who have not without risk appropriated it. Reckless and even dangerous when engaged in their incessant struggles with the deep, the sons of the old wreckers are gentle and pious in their ordinary life; they are often seen bareheaded, rolling between their strong, sunburnt fingers the beads of their rosaries, following the processions of the "Pardons" attending mass, benediction, or the open-air services at some Madonna's shrine and lifting their hoarse voices to join in the litany or one of the purely local hymns. Their headquarters are in the deep, green bays of Douarnenez and Audierne, bounded by steep, jagged rocks, inaccessible cliffs and straight, smooth walls of granite, however, these apparently impregnable fastnesses are as easy of access to their trained feet, cool heads, and strong arms as the level beaches to which fashionable visitors flock during the short bathing season of Brittany.

The Sea Gull's Eight Survivors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. The steamer Arizona which arrived yesterday brought with her eight members of the ship Sea Gull which was wrecked in a terrific gale of wind on the African coast. There were 26 all told in the Sea Gull's crew, and of these all were drowned saved the eight men picked up by the Arizona, which included the first mate, cook and six of the crew. When the Arizona found them they were floating on a small raft in the middle of the Atlantic and frantically waving signals of distress. All of them were terribly emaciated from hunger and exposure and some were hardly able to stand when lifted to the Arizona's

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355 92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1891	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2,268,588 60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514 19
Increase over 1889	687,091 47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,922 68
Increase over 1889	567,732 71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175 69
Increase over 1889	75,649 05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fall then to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

Baptist Church Mission Band.

The Annual Meeting—Reports—Election of Officers—Refreshments.

The annual meeting of the Baptist church Mission Band was held yesterday. There was a good attendance, over sixty persons being present. Miss Gilmour, president, occupied the chair.

After routine, the reports of the secretary, Miss Aldridge, and of the treasurer, Master John Macdonald, were read. They showed, generally, a good degree of progress. The monthly meetings had an average attendance of 30, and the total amount collected was $50 50.

The election of officers resulted as follows:
PRESIDENT.—(re elected) Miss Gilmour.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—Miss M. Matthews.
SECRETARY.—Miss Annie Etsebiseca.
TREASURER.—(re-elected) Master John Macdonald.

Miss Ada Aldrige is convenor of the General Committee and Miss Elle Stratton convener of the Musical Committee, Miss Aldridge retiring from the position of secretary after occupying it to the great satisfaction of all concerned, and to the profit of the interest sought to be promoted by the band, a most cordial resolution of thanks was adopted.

After the conclusion of the business of the meeting a very pleasant time was spent on the church lawn where tea was served to the officers and members and a very pleasant and successful annual meeting was brought to a close.

Brought Down $15.

With his trusty rifle Sergeant W. A. Mason brought down a $15 prize, with a score of 63, the highest being 66. This was in the Minister of Militia's Cup Competition at the Dominion Rifle Association Meeting at Ottawa on Tuesday.

Fire at a Brick Kiln.

About eleven o'clock last night the sheds surrounding Mr. Mark Curtis' brick kilns were destroyed by fire. The direct loss will be about $200, but there may be further loss sustained to the kiln by being exposed to the elements.

Important Auction Sale.

Mr. John Haggart, auctioneer, will on Thursday (to-morrow) afternoon offer for sale by public auction at the residence of Mr. John O'Meara, barrister, 92 London street, his fine house and lot, a very desirable residence, together with the entire household effects, consisting of the complete furnishings of a modern home. The furniture is in excellent condition and will be sold, as Mr. O'Meara is leaving town for Ottawa. Sale at 10 o'clock.

Ashburnham Matters.

Last night about eight o'clock there was a lively little ruction for a time. A party of young fellows got into an altercation in the yard of Lipsett's hotel. One of them being connected to Constable Craig, the latter undertook with some of his friends to remove him. The young man, however, resisted and a lively skirmish ensued. Finally a brother-in-law of the young man interceded and took the young man home.

Within one of it.

There was within one of a quorum at the School Board room last night. Chairman Wrighton and Trustees Dr. Burnham, W. G. Ferguson, Jno. McKee, H. Denne, J. J. McBain and D. W. Dumble were on hand at eight o'clock, but as it takes eight to make a quorum no business was transacted. Dr. Boucher came in before half past eight o'clock, but it was too late to hold a meeting legally. The trustees sat around and discussed school matters for a while before going away.

The Band in the Park.

The band played in the Park last night, but there was not as large a crowd present as usual for two reasons—the damp weather and the free stereopticon entertainment down street. Last night's concert was probably the last that will be held this season. The night air is becoming heavy with dew, and the grass is too wet for strolling around. Next Tuesday will be circus day, and there will consequently be no band concert next week. After that the weather is not to be depended upon.

The Best in the World.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the most palatable and wholesome preparation of Cod Liver Oil in the world, and is now being taken by invalids, particularly those afflicted with consumption, with the most astonishing success. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough drug stores. dw

The Late Edward Thompson.

Last night Mr. Edward Thompson, an old and highly respected resident of the town, passed to his reward. For some time he has been prostrated with malarial fever, and last night death put an end to his sufferings. The deceased gentlemen was aged 62 years, and has for many years been held in high respect and esteem by all who knew him. The funeral takes place from the family residence, 165 Smith street, on Thursday at 3 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery.

And it is Aggravating.

As a rule most people are intensely exasperated when, after wading through some exciting story in the newspaper which they have devoured with breathless interest, to find at the finish it is only a trap to advertise some wonderful soap or patent medicine. Of course its disappointing, but just consider how cleverly its done, and, by the way, what a wonderful industry has been developed in this mode of advertising. Some of the great medicine firms pay their advertising agent as high as ten thousand dollars a year, and a certain manufacturer of soap pays his advertiser twenty-five thousand. Just think of it, and while you are thinking just remember that "Casey's Troubles" is the best show on the road.

Signs of War in Time of Peace.

When citizens hear the deafening roar of cannon to-nigh they must not rush out in terror imagining an earthquake is upon them or that the hosts of Bobcaygeon are advancing to annex us by force to that great centre of civilization. It will be but the boom of the guns with which the battery boys will be drilling on Central Park this evening. The Peterborough wing of the Durham Field Battery leaves for camp at Belleville Tuesday morning next, and in the meantime drill is being held regularly. Drill will be held to-night, Friday and Monday evening. At to-nights drill a couple of rounds of blank cartridge will be fired. If the evening is clear the report may be heard a couple miles distant.

The "Golden" Lion Growing.

The business of Mr. R Fair of the "Golden Lion" is growing so rapidly that its demands are for more space and better facilities. The better facilities consist of the putting in of an hydraulic passenger elevator for the conveyance of customers from the ground floor to the fourth floor. The third and fourth floors have been thoroughly refitted and improved in every way. The carpet department is to be removed from the second to the third floor and the second flat will be exclusively devoted to the curtains and upholstering goods departments of the Golden Lion. These changes will be begun at once and completed within about three weeks—in time for the Central Exhibition. Mr. Fair is making preparations for an immense fall trade.

Lots! Lots!! Lots!!!

Your chance has come. The property now on the market and to be sold by auction on Friday afternoon next at 5 o'clock on the grounds, is just what you have been waiting for. Well situated, high, dry, easily improved. Good streets and sidewalks already ready, make the location especially desirable. The terms are easy—$25 down and balance as arranged for. Run out to the place, "the Erin block," west end of the town on Friday afternoon and see how the sale is going. Do you want to learn particulars see the owner, Mr. W. Fitzgerald, and learn all about it, or the auctioneer, Mr. C. Stapleton, will tell you. The growth of a prosperous town is invariably west, so if you buy you will be right in the track of improvement. Remember the day and hour of sale. d53-54

Mr. John Braden has returned to town after a five weeks' business tour in Western Ontario in the interests of the Brooks' Manufacturing Company.

Methodist District Meeting.

The Regular Meeting in the Mark Street Church Ashburnham.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough District of the Methodist church began on Tuesday in the Mark street Methodist church Ashburnham. There were present Rev. J. H. Locke, Chairman of the District, presiding, Rev. W. R. Young, of Millbrook, secretary, Rev. Messrs. Geo. Edwards, of the Charlotte street church, Jas. Thom, B.A., of the Mark street church, W. H. Cook, of Cavan, W. G. Clark, of South Cavan, Jos. Kilgour, of Fraserville, E. D. Lewis, of Warsaw, R. N. Adams, of Bethany, Geo. H. Baley, of Hall's Bridge, H. McQuade, of Pontypool, D. S. Houck, of Bridgenorth, S. T. Bartlett, of Lakefield, A. W. Mallett, of Chandos, and Messrs. R. Nell and J. L. Hughes, of the Charlotte street church, W. Wand, of the Mark street church, W. S. Gordon, of Millbrook, and S. Stiples, of Cavan.

The consideration of the missions on the District and the recommendation of grants to the missions was first taken up and attended to, and the apportionment of assessments for the superannuation fund to the various circuits was read and adopted.

The following arrangements for missionary meetings were made:

At the George street, Charlotte street and Mark street churches, Peterborough, Millbrook, Lakefield, Warsaw and Hiawatha, local arrangements.

South Monaghan, Jan. 10th, Rev. R. N. Adams.

Cavan, Oct. 4th, Rev. R. N. Adams, and Oct. 11th, Rev. J. Kilgour.

Cavan South, Oct. 25th, Rev. H. McQuade.

Bridgenorth, Jan. 10th, Rev. Jas. Thom, B.A.

Bethany, Jan. 17th, Rev. J. Kilgour, Pontypool, Oct. 11th, Rev. W. G. Clark, and Oct. 18th, Rev. E. D. Lewis.

Hall's Bridge, Jan. 17th, Rev. W. R. Young and Rev. D. S. Houck.

Chandos in Sept., Rev. J. H. Locke and Rev. Jas. Thom.

On motion the superintendents of circuits were held responsible for the educational anniversaries.

A resolution of sympathy with the movement to remove the debt of Albert College, Belleville, was unanimously adopted.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the afternoon session, after the devotional exercises had taken place, the state of the work in the district and the best means of promoting it, were discussed, and the utility of special revival services also formed an animated theme of discussion. Another subject dealt with was Class Meetings—how to conduct them, and their place in church work. This was considered at length. Considerable attention was also given to the consideration of Pastoral Work, as well as to the Young People's Epworth League Society. The relation of church finances to the spiritual life of the church also formed a topic of interesting discussion.

A resolution was passed expressing the opinion that circus exhibitions, and especially many of the flaming posters exhibited in the most prominent portions of the town, as is to be witnessed at present, have an immoral tendency, and should be condemned and discouraged, and in future should be prevented.

The meeting then adjourned with the usual devotional exercises.

Newnham, Haliburton.

A Correspondent's Impressions of this Charming Summer Resort.

During the season of 1891 Newnham has entertained many guests. Nearly all the Canadian towns and cities have been represented, including Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough, Port Hope and Lindsay, while American visitors from Rochester, Buffalo, New York and San Francisco have been quite numerous. All have succeeded in passing their vacation very pleasantly, and many will look forward to spending another summer's holiday under Mrs. Stewart's hospitable roof.

Newnham is splendidly situated, and few other such places in the Dominion can offer such varied amusements to its guests. Newnham has been well managed from the start, and has attained a lasting reputation as a grand place to spend a summer holiday. Everything which the circulars claim is more than fully realized. The picturesque lakes, the romantic scenery, the boating, bathing, berry-picking and above all the splendid pavilion—dancing hall and theatre combined—furnish immense opportunities for enjoyment.

The fancy of the guests seemed to run particularly in the direction of theatrical this season, and many excellent little comedies were presented by the Visitors' Dramatic Club. In these little dramas the leading parts were taken by Mr. Will F. Trayes, a talented young elocutionist; Miss Ethel Richardson, Millbrook, who was particularly graceful in the roles she assumed; Miss F.S. Paterson, of Port Hope, who was immensely successful in comic parts; Miss Monsell, of Port Hope; Mr. A. Matthew, Mr. Carl Read and Mr. Ed. J. Fields, who with his comic songs and banjo selections made himself a general favorite. The most successful production of the season was a capital little comedietta, "An Actor in a Fix," written by Mr. Will F. Trayes, of the Port Hope Times, for the Newnham Dramatic club. Mr. Stewart acted as stage manager and under his care all appointments were complete. The plot of the play is excellent and reflects much credit on the young author's literary ability, and the complete success which attended his efforts both as actor and author must have been extremely gratifying to him. Mrs. H. S. Paterson as Miss Cornelia, an eccentric old maid, made a decided hit and was irresistibly funny. Mr. Will F. Trayes in the leading roll of Mr. Clive Alden, an actor in a fix, proved as much at home in comedy as in tragedy and kept his audience convulsed with laughter. He was ably supported by Mr. Ed. J. Fields, who assumed the character of Mrs. Cornelia's nephew, Herbert, who endeavors to trap the actor into a marriage with his aunt. At the conclusion of the play the actors were summoned before the curtain by uproarous applause, and Mr. Trayes called upon for a speech. He responded, thanking his audience for their kind appreciation of his efforts as dramatist and actor, and returning thanks to his support.

Cricket and lawn tennis were pursued by those desirous of active exercise, and much enjoyment was derived from this source. Several excellent games of cricket were played, Mr. Ed. Fields of the Upper Canada College Cricket Team, generally making the "score." Lawn tennis, however, was the favorite pastime, and was enjoyed by both ladies and gentlemen, and the annual tournament excited more than usual interest and was a matter of keen enjoyment. The battle in the "singles" was between Mr. Ed. Fields and Mr. A. Mathieu, both accomplished players. Mr. Mathieu proved victor after a very hotly contested set. The double set proved even more exciting. Messrs. Fields and Mathieu were again rivals, the former seconded by Mr. Ed. Southby, and the latter by Mr. Trayes. It took twelve games to decide the victory, Messrs. Mathieu and Trayes winning, the score being 5 to 7 in their advantage.

The fancy dress ball was another very pleasurable event. The costumes were magnificent and all present were well entertained.

Picnics and moonlight excursions were numerous, and every new comer was taken for a walk up the mountain, from the summit of which the gorgeous spectacle of five beautiful lakes and their connecting streams may be viewed.

Several of the guests decided upon a happy plan by which they will all meet at Newnham in a few weeks and enjoy the hunting which the neighboring forests afford.

County Police Court.

County Police Magistrate Edmison Holds a Sitting Yesterday.

Yesterday at the Court House County Police Magistrate Edmison sat in court. There were two cases tried.

BRADLEY VS. DOBBIN.—This was a charge of assault preferred by a lad named Bradley against George Dobbin, both of the parties being of North Monaghan. It appears that Bradley was one of a party that was chasing a squirrel, and in the ardour of their pursuit ran on to and trespassed upon Dobbin's land. The squirrel hunt being a failure, the irrepressible boys found a bee's nest under the fence, and were disturbing the fence, at least Mr. Dobbin thought so, for he came upon the scene, and, as alleged, and as the Magistrate believed, assaulted Bradley by throwing him down and kicking him. The defendant was adjudged guilty of the assault and a fine of $5 and costs was imposed. Mr. R. R. Hall appeared for defendant.

The next case on the docket was a compound double case, two persons being charged with obstructing the taking of animals to pound and assault arising out of the obstruction. The parties live in Harvey. It appears that John Adams was driving some pigs belonging to a neighbour, W. A. Boate, to the pound. Boate and his farm servant, Shouldice, interfered to prevent the impounding of the pigs and succeeded. The dogs belonging to the parties also became interested in the squabble, and entered into brisk hostilities. Boate undertook to act the role of peace maker and separate the dogs. While thus engaged he (Boate) alleges that Adams bombarded him with stones, and in reprisal he assaulted Adams and gave the latter some severe blows one of which brought a bountiful flow of claret. Boate admitted the stick and its use but Adams denied that he assailed Boate with the stones. The charge of obstruction and assault also included Shouldice. The magistrate reserved his decision to consider an objection to the information made by Mr. A. P. P. Possesse Q.C. the counsel for defendants, Mr. E. B. Edwards appearing for the prosecution. Judgment will be given next Thursday.

On Monday afternoon, during the thunderstorm that prevailed in the neighboorhood of the Second concession, a brick house owned by Mr. Edward Mahood and standing opposite his residence across the concession, was struck by lightning. The main part of house was fired and destroyed before the fire could be put out by the willing hands of the neighbours who hurried to the scene, but the walls were left standing. By strenuous exertions the kitchen wing of the house was saved.

Make the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

Scratched 28 Years

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease With Sudden Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, a day my suffering was endless and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I thank God the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 5, page 67) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

SIR RICHARD CENSURES

THE GOVERNMENT FOR THE RESULTS SHOWN BY THE CENSUS.

And Moves a Long Resolution Expressive of His Belief That the Country Will Not Prosper Until There is a Change of Government and Policy.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—On the motion to go into supply yesterday, Sir Richard Cartwright rose to call attention to the census returns. Though they must be a source of disappointment to both sides of the House they were no surprise to himself or to the members of the Opposition who had for years past contended that the country was not prosperous and that the population was declining. He and his friends had endeavored to open the eyes of the Government to the true state of affairs but they had not been successful and the awakening had now come. Proceeding, he took up the immigration returns made in the reports of the Department of Agriculture for the last 10 years, which stated that during the decade 886,171 persons had settled in Canada. These statements had been often heretofore shown to be excessive, but the arguments of the Opposition had been ridiculed and laughed at by the Government, now however they were proved to be true. The customs department was another branch of the Government which had either indulged in gross misrepresentation or been marked by ignorance, it having estimated the population of Canada at 4,856,226 in 1887, 4,940,407 in 1888, 5,075,885 in 1889, 5,250,632 in 1890.

The census proved that these figures were false and consequently that the statement of the department of the per capita taxation of the people was misrepresented by at least 18 per cent. The arguments of the Opposition as to the exodus of our people had, he said, been laughed to scorn by the press which supported the Government, and thereupon he founded an attack upon every news paper in Canada which supports the policy of the Government.

He contended that the census returns proved the truth of his argument that the country was not prosperous. Canada had been doing nothing but marking time during the past decade. He contended that the censuses of both Canada and the United States proved that all his arguments as to the exodus of both our native and immigrant population had been absolutely correct. Our census showed that not only had we not retained our natural increase of 1,075,000, but that three out of four of every immigrants come to Canada were now in the United States.

If Canada could have kept her natural increase her growth would have been as rapid as the United States. The Government's policy was responsible for a direct loss of 1,567,000 in our population, for which the natural increase of our immigration we should have numbered 6,490,000 instead of 4,829,000 as at present. Turning to the Maritime Provinces he stated that although he had been accused of unfriendliness to these provinces he regretted the results of the census. In the case of Quebec and Ontario the figures were also unsatisfactory, the entire growth of the population having taken place in favored cities and towns. The increase in towns and cities above 5000 amounted to 298,000, and no less than 150,000 of this increase was in the cities of Montreal and Toronto, and he had reason to believe that even this increase was not as large as the actual increase out of an increase of 504,008 no less than 374,000 was in cities and towns and the rural communities of the Dominion had practically stood still. He claimed that the census turns proved the truth of his statements of last year, that the best farming counties of Ontario, such as the Hurons and the Wellington were fast losing their populations, he erred in anything he erred in under estimating the exodus. Coming to the Northwest he claimed that even there the increase was not as satisfactory as it should have been. In 1886 when the last census of our new country was taken the population of Manitoba and the territories was put at 40,000 now it was said to be 99,000 an increase of at least 2200 a year, or allowing for the natural increase a growth by immigration of only 2100 per annum. This was all the Government had to show for their expenditure of millions. Canada was, he claimed, losing the flower of her population. He touched on the McKinley bill, which was to play havoc with the farmers, and referred to the benefits which he claimed would arise from the adoption of free trade.

Sir Richard moved thus: That it appears from the official returns recently laid on the table of this House that the total population of the Dominion of Canada on or about April 1, 1891, was 4,829,344; that it further appears from the report of the Department of Agriculture for the year 1890 that the total number of immigrants stated by the said department to have settled in Canada from Jan. 1, 1881 to Dec. 31, 1890, was in all 886,171; that according to the last census the population of the Dominion on or about the 1st April, 1881, was 4,324,810; that the total increase of the population of Canada in the 10 years now past was 504,334; that at the rate of 2½ per cent. per annum the natural increase of the population of Canada during the last 10 years would amount to 1,077,531 without any immigration; that at the same rate of 2½ per cent per annum the natural increase of the said 886,171 immigrants officially reported to have settled in Canada between the years 1880 and 1890 would have amounted to 110,482; that had the said natural rate of increase been maintained and the said immigrants remained in Canada the total population of Canada would now amount to 6,404,944; that according to statements made by members of the Government in their places in this House and according to official documents at least 400,000 square miles of fertile territory heretofore unoccupied in the northwest portion of Canada have been made accessible and available for settlement within the last ten years; that the said new territory amounts to 256,000,000 acres, being an area equal to twelve times the entire area of occupied land in the province of Ontario at the present time, and being fully five times as large as the whole occupied area of the five provinces of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island in 1881; that it appears from the above recited facts that the difference between the actual increase of the population of Canada and the natural increase, together with the immigrants officially reported to have settled in Canada is 1,568,600; that during the last 10 years the actual taxation of the people of Canada has been enormously increased under the operation of the existing tariff; that the deplorable state of things disclosed by the above mentioned returns imperitively commands a radical change in the policy and methods of Government, followed by the administration.

MR. FOSTER'S REPLY.

Mr. Foster said: If there was ever an occasion for broad statesmanlike consideration of a great question and for the suggestion of remedies it was the present, last from the time the hon. gentleman commenced his speech until its close there had been only one big wail without a break except a note of jubilation that one of the half million prophecies he had made in this country had been true. The hon. gentleman charged that the Government had falsified the returns, which was not the case. It was disappointment that the rate of progress had not been greater, but this was a disappointment which had been experienced by the House and by Great Britain. The hon. gentleman took too large a rate of natural increase. During the past 10 years 5,000,000 immigrants had come into the United States, and taking this into account with the natural increase the total increase in that country in the decade should have been 18,500,000, but it was only 12,000,000. The honorable gentleman attempted to saddle on the N.P. the responsibility for driving the people from the rural districts to the cities. But the same attraction was seen in free trade England. The change in the general farming operations during the last 20 years and the revolution with regard to the use of the machinery was in part responsible for the movement from the rural districts to the cities.

Mr. Foster declared that the utterances of the honorable gentleman and of The Globe, the one in Parliament and the others in Toronto were responsible for the exodus of the young men. It was nonsense to say that the people go from this country to the United States because of the tariff. It was absurd to say they went from this country because of the 30 per cent. tariff and went to a country which had a 60 per cent. tariff. The honorable gentleman said this Government lived in the red parlor, but there had been only one Government which had used legislation to provide money for its political uses that had taken from the Bank notes to the amount of $100,000, which had been given to a railway and had used the money to protect elections with. The hon. gentleman had better look after the Langeliers, Pacaude and Merciers, which lined the skirts of his party, and who if he had got into power would not have been sitting on the skirts of the party but would have occupied high places and controlled the operations of the Government. In conclusion, he said that Canada has passed the hardest period. For the last 12 years we had been engaged in a gigantic task of opening up the Northwest, building immense railways, completing canals, adding to the different lines of progress, transportation and trade facilities. For this purpose we had been taxing every energy to bring Canada on a fair level with competing countries, and if during that period she has held her own so well the country has now arrived at a point where its future is before it, and having laid the foundations broad and deep and with the new life pulsing in its veins the future lies in more hopeful colors. What was wanted was that both parties stand together so far as the country is concerned, statesmanship would commend itself to history instead of partizanship.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Charlton, Sproule and Cameron (Huron), Mr. Macmosh moved the adjournment of the debate.

EXCITING NEWS FROM CHILI.

Two Government Regiments Revolt and Shoot All Their Officers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A special from Valparaiso says: "News comes from Talcahuano that the two regiments of Government troops which were taken to that port recently from Coquimbo from the transport Imperiale revolted when they heard of the defeat of the Balmacedist at Placilla last Friday. They shot to death all their officers and disbanded.

Nearly 4000 coal miners joined the soldiers and together they have practically taken possession of the town of Coronell, about 25 miles south of Concepcion. All sorts of excesses have been committed by them. Houses and stores have been sacked and burned, the slightest protest against their action is met by rifle shots. Women have been abducted and subjected to brutalities of the most revolting character. In fact mob rule in its worst form prevails. Some outrages have been committed also in Concepction and Lacaprino.

As soon as the news was received the German warship Sopple and the British gunboat Daphne were ordered to go at once to Coronell and protect the interests of foreign residents there. The Government officials here have also taken steps to beat the mob into subjection.

The records of Santiago contain the statement that on Aug. 18 President Balmaceda ordered 42 young men to be shot to death. They were charged with having engaged in a plot to blow up railroad bridges and thus prevent the movement of the Government troops. Many of them were mere boys of from 16 to 18 years of age.

Was He Murdered?

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Lobb, wife of Mr. T. S. Lobb, dry goods merchants, 812 Queen-street east, received a telegram from Colorado Springs, U. S., to the effect that her brother Robert Hooper, had been found dead on the road side under mysterious circumstances. Further information has since been obtained stating that a post mortem examination had revealed the fact that death resulted from poison. Hooper was about three years ago an assistant to J. V. Adams, grocer, on Queen street east.

Ten Guns for the Canada.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 3. Advices received here by the naval authorities are to the effect that the troopship Tyne has left England with ten guns, which are to be placed on H. M. S. Canada.

POLITICAL PATRONAGE.

IT'S ALLEGED ABUSE IN EAST NORTHUMBERLAND INVESTIGATED.

The Charges Against Mr. Cochrane Before the Special Committee — Witnesses Swear That Those Who Subscribed Most Heavily to the Election Fund Got the Offices.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—The committee to enquire into the charges of peddling patronage preferred against Edward Cochrane, member for East Northumberland, met in the Tower room yesterday. Those present were Messrs. Tisdale (chairman), White (Shelburn), Skinner, Cameron (Huron), Mulock, German and Sir Adolphe Caron. Mr. Barron was counsel for the persecution and Mr. B. B. Osler for Mr. Cochrane. The charge taken up was:

That in 1888 it was corruptly agreed to by and between the said Edward Cochrane and one Hedley H. Simpson that if the said Hedley H. Simpson would make and deliver to one James Stanley two promissory notes for $100 each, he the said Edward Cochrane would produce the appointment of the said Hedley H. Simpson to the office of light-house-keeper at Presque Isle Point: that Simpson paid the notes and in pursuance of the corrupt bargain got the appointment.

Mr. Johnston, one of the witnesses, having been called and not answering, Mr. Barron said that he was informed this witness had left for the States on Friday last. He therefore asked that witnesses Hazelton and Hodgins of Brighton should be summoned to give evidence in the case in which Johnston was concerned.

Hedley Simpson was appointed lighthouse-keeper at Presque Isle Point in April, 1888. His father previously had the position. After his father's death he got up a petition for the appointment and never sent it in, because some one said it was not necessary. He did not know whether Mr. Cochrane knew anything about the petition or not. He did not show the notes to anyone except Stanley. He paid the notes and destroyed them after his appointment. One of the notes for $100 (there being the two, making $200) was endorsed. He paid the money ($200) to Joseph Cochrane, postmaster. The witness went to Stanley because he was a member of the Conservative Committee of Brighton. He asked Stanley to see Mr. Cochrane about him getting the position of lighthousekeeper. This was before giving the notes. He went to Stanley to give him the notes. It was after he gave the notes that he got the appointment.

Mr. Barron: What did you give the notes for?

Witness said he gave them to pay the indebtedness of the party, and did not know if he got any value for them. Stanley told him that whatever he gave he would get full value for it.

"Had you any idea of getting the appointment when you gave the notes?"

"Certainly I had."

"Would you have given the notes if you did not get the appointment?"

"I would have had no way of paying them if I did not get the appointment."

Witness, continuing, said that he asked Stanley to see Mr. Cochrane, the member, about his getting the appointment. The notes were to run for three months. He paid the notes to Mr. Stanley out of his salary, which was $400 per year. He gave him $50 at a time and the rest in instalments, as his salary enabled him. This was the first time he subscribed to party funds. The petition was stopped because Mr. Cochrane said there was no need for a petition. It would do no good. Witness did not remember whether he was in Brighton Friday or Saturday. He thought he saw him one of those days.

A. Simpson, the next witness said he was a brother-in-law of last witness. In March before Hedley Simpson was appointed, he took a letter from Mr. Cochrane to Hedley Simpson. Mr. Cochrane said the letter was about the lighthouse, and he wanted to see Hedley Simpson. Mr. Cochrane said there was no necessity of sending around a petition as he would do the business himself. Cochrane said that Noah Snetzinger offered $400 or $800 for the appointment, and that they let Hedley Simpson down cheaper. He saw the notes Hedley gave.

James Stanley was next called. He had received money from different parties. A. Fitzgerald gave him $150, and he was afterwards appointed bridge-keeper. The bridge keepers were asked to subscribe to the party funds. He got $150 from VanAlstine, who was working on the canal. He knew Manson and he knew Dawson; none of these gave him any money and got no appointment. He got $200 from Hedley Simpson. VanAlstine got no appointment and his $150 was refunded. The others were not refunded because they got their appointments. The committee met in witness hotel and decided who would get the positions. There was one note endorsed by 20 persons for $1000; it was renewed and he did not know what became of it.

The committee adjourned until the afternoon.

The examination of James Stanley was continued in the afternoon. He said he received $150 from Thomas Fitzgerald and $200 from Hedley Simpson. This was all he got from persons who had received appointments. The members of the committee who were recommended for office were picked out in the Conservative convention about two years ago. There were six or seven on the committee. Hedley Simpson was the first recommendation of the committee. The committee did not refer to any amount expected from Simpson. The committee knew that a certain amount had to be raised to meet the trade, Ferris election protest, and asked him to raise it and he did the best he could. Duncan Vancelatine did not get the office for which he was recommended and was refunded his $150. These contributions followed the recommendation and preceded the appointments. He did not know whether Mr. Cochrane knew of the existence of the committee. The debt incurred by the Wade-Ferris protest amounted to about $1700 and had nothing to do with Mr. Cochrane's elections and prosecutions. Hedley Simpson's recommendation was not conditional on his subscription. Mr. Cochrane knew nothing about the matter until Simpson paid the $200 and it was in the bank. He told Mr. Cochrane that Simpson paid the $200, but told him nothing of the conditions. Mr. Cochrane was not a member of the committee, and was not present at any of its meetings. He did not know whether Mr. Cochrane was present at the convention which appointed the committee.

W. W. Webb, Brighton, said he cashed a note for $1000 brought to him in 1882, to raise money to meet the cost of Wade-Ferris protest. The note had 20 makers, including R. Cochrane, a son, and C. M. Cochrane, nephew of the member. He received $150 from William Brown, one of the bridge-men, on another note, which was substituted for part of the $1000 note. He also got $75 from John D. Clouston, another bridgeman, on the same note. Brown and Clouston paid him these amounts because they said they were instructed to do so.

Thomas Fitzgerald, bridge-keeper, said he paid Stanley $150 to help the party in Wade-Ferris protest. He saw Mr. Cochrane about his appointment, but Mr. Cochrane said he had left the matter entirely in the hands of the committee. When he paid the $150 he had not received the appointment. He got the money from his wife, who had some in a bank. He never gave a subscription to the party before this one.

Charles Lark, manager of the Standard Bank, Colborne, said there was in the bank in 1887 a note dated November 16, 1887, for $619 at 20 days, made by D. S. Willoughby and William Pickworth, and endorsed by W. L. Payne. E. Cochrane was Mr. Cochrane, the member. It was paid in February following. The note was a renewal of a previous one. He did not know who got the proceeds of the original note.

Noah D. Snetzinger said he made application to Sir John Macdonald personally for the position of lighthouse-keeper. He never went to Mr. Cochrane about it because he knew he could not get anything from him. He never suggested to anyone that he would be willing to pay something for the position, because he did not know until the appointment was made that the position was peddled around.

At the evening sitting Dr. Mallory, registrar of Northumberland, produced a lease of a farm between Eleanor Goodrich, Wesley Goodrich and Obadiah Simpson, the consideration being one peppercorn, and it being stipulated that the lease shall be good if Goodrich keeps the bridge, but shall be void if Goodrich is removed through no act of his own.

Arundel Simpson said he saw James Stanley about getting an appointment, and Stanley said he could get a bridge by paying him and booking his (witness') father. He subsequently saw Mr. Cochrane, who said Mr. Stanley could not pay off $800 with four bridges at $150 apiece. [Laughter.]

THE SENATE RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—At the Baie des Chaleurs investigation yesterday very little was done. C. N. Armstrong was recalled but proved nothing new. He disputed several papers.

Lonergan was also examined, but knew nothing of any boodling or impropriety. It was decided to report the non-attendant witnesses to the House.

A RUSSIAN PASSAGEWAY

Is What it is Feared the Dardanelles Has Become.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The question of the Dardanelles becoming a passageway for Russian warships to the Mediterranean just now exceeds in interest even the war in Chili. Well authenticated rumor says that the Foreign Office will not stand idly by and see the Mediterranean invaded by a Russian fleet under the guise of volunteer transports or otherwise. The main question seems to be whether England will have to protest alone or be sustained in such a course by the powers of the triple alliance. No doubt is entertained that Russia has been encouraged to her present aggressive attitude by the understanding with France, and feels safe with France as a friend against any unsupported action on the part of Great Britain. The situation is becoming very grave and is so regarded both in Berlin and London. Lord Salisbury, it is reported, will shorten his vacation in order to deal with the problem which is already complicated by the unprecedented coolness of the Sultan towards the British Government.

A Constantinople despatch says that the French and Russian ambassadors have been dinging into the Sultan's ears the fact that, with all England's charges against Russia of intended aggrandisement at the expense of Turkey, the only great power that has actually taken possession of any important part of the Sultan's dominions in England herself, and that England, before professing friendship for Turkey, ought to give up Egypt, if not also Cyprus. The Sultan, therefore, is for the time being prejudiced against England on account of Egypt, although also upholding Bulgaria, against Russian machinations. It is remembered that the Crimean war was preceded by England's rejection of a Russian proposal that England should take Egypt and allow Russia to have Constantinople, and there is an uneasy feeling that Russia will fight again rather than permit England to hold Egypt without compensation to Russia.

Care of Cattle on Shipboard.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—An official order of the Board of Agriculture has been issued, relating to the cattle trade, to go into operation next January. Cattle are not to be carried on more than three decks, nor on a hatch above a compartment containing other cattle, nor in any position interfering with the navigation and ventilation of the vessel or working of the boats. Every part used for cattle must be provided with substantial pens, strong enough to resist the weight of the cattle or the action of the weather. The pens must be water-proof and provided with battens secured to the deck to prevent cattle from slipping. Not more than four large or five small animals are to be placed in each pen. There must be a passageway of the minimum width of 18 inches between every two rows of cattle and in front of every single row. Pens must be adequately ventilated and lighted and sufficiently roomy for repose and feeding.

Food and water must be protected from the weather. There must be one competent foreman with an assistant to every 25 head of cattle. Any animal seriously injured must be forwith slaughtered.

German and Austrian Emperors.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Emperor William and Chancellor Von Caprivi have started for Horn to meet Emperor Francis Joseph.

VIENNA, Sept. 3.—The Deutsche Zeitung says: "The visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt the international situation has been greatly modified. The German Emperor no longer seeks to visit the Czar. Uneasiness pervades Europe. The meeting of Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph thus acquires a greater import than it would otherwise have had."

Taps From the Telegraph.

David Belanger was found murdered in his drygood store at Lowell, Mass., yesterday. It is supposed someone was concealed in the store last night, that Belanger went in and while reaching to light the gas got his death wound.

Richard Nash of Philadelphia, engineer on the fast Reading express, while on the lookout yesterday was struck by some obstruction near Oreville Station, Pa., and his head was severed from his body.

He Paid Her $500.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 3.—Count Howitz of Puckan, Germany, on a pleasure tour around the world, at Philadelphia became acquainted with a woman who agreed to accompany him on his travels. They came to Halifax. A few days ago the woman made a demand on him for a large sum. She frightened him by alleging she would have him arrested on she charge of abducting her, which was punishable by imprisonment for a long term. The German count evidently believed he for he gave her $500 and was to have paid her $100 to-day. Meantime the count informed the police. To the detective the woman admitted that she was "playing" the count for all she was worth. She in time became frightened and gave back the money she had received from the count and left for Philadelphia.

Hamilton's Street Railway Thief.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—John Callahan, who pleaded guilty to the theft of $12,000 from the Street Railway Company, was to-day sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Provincial Penetentary. The prisoner returned all the money he had stolen.

Why it is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

BUY YOURSELF A HOME!
Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yours-lves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only brieg a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.
NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 3, 1891.

Mr. Abbott as an Anti-Corruptionist.

Mr. Abbott is represented by the Tory papers as being fully determined to cleanse the Augean stables. He is described, in fact, as the pure-air shaft of Canadian politics. Thus far he has not distinguished himself in that capacity. The exposures made in the Public Works Department, Printing Bureau and Interior Department have been initiated and carried through by Oppositionists, frequently in the face of obstructions put in the way by colleagues. Nor is it safe, judging from his past career, for the people to count on his active participation in the work of reform in the future. His own testimony before the Pacific scandal commission in 1872 is sufficient to convince any intelligent person that reform is not his metier—is not in his line. It will be remembered that on July 30, 1872, Sir Hugh Allan and Mr. Abbott perfected an arrangement with Sir George Cartier under which Cartier himself, Sir John Macdonald and Langevin were able to flood the country with money. Cartier signed a letter about the railroad affair and another and a separate one about election money, both of which were drafted in the first instance by Sir Hugh and Mr. Abbott. The money letter read as follows:—

"MONTREAL, 30th July, 1872.

"Private and confidential.

"DEAR SIR HUGH: The friends of the Government will expect to be assisted with funds in the pending elections, and any amount which you or your company shall advance for that purpose shall be recouped to you. A memorandum of immediate requirements is below.

"GEO. E. CARTIER."

It may be observed parenthetically that recent revelations have thrown a flood of light upon the processes whereby our Tory rulers recoup contractors who keep the reptile fund replenished. Here is the memorandum of the sums required:

NOW WANTED.

Sir John A. Macdonald	$25,000
Mr. Langevin	15,000
Sir G. E. C.	20,000
Sir J. A. (additional)	10,000
Mr. Langevin	10,000
Sir G. E. C.	50,000

Sir Hugh in his evidence stated that when the fight was over he found that he had supplied the Tory leaders, who had been steadily drawing upon him and upon Mr. Abbott, with the following amounts:

To Sir G. E. Cartier's committee	$85,000
To Sir John Macdonald, towards election expenses in Ontario	45,000
To Mr. Langevin, towards election expenses in Quebec	32,600
	$102,000

Sir Hugh added: "I also paid for the assistance of other friends of my own, in connection with the elections, between $16,000 and $17,000. These sums with the preliminary expenses on the Pacific and various railroads in which I was engaged, more or less directly connected with the Pacific railroad, made up the amount of my advance to about $350,000."

Sir Hugh went to Newfoundland shortly after making the arrangement with Cartier, and Mr. Abbott paid out a good deal of the money. Mr. Abbott's account of what passed between him and Cartier on July 30 was very graphic:

"We then rose to leave, and were leaving the room when Sir George addressed Sir Hugh on the subject of money in the manner in which Sir Hugh has described. He said in an off hand kind of way, 'Are you not going to help us with our elections?' Sir Hugh said he would, or words to that effect, and said, 'How much do you want?' or 'How much do you require?' or something like that. I understood Sir George to say that there would be a considerable sum required, as there was so much opposition on various grounds. Sir Hugh said, as far as I can recollect, 'Well, write down what you want.' Sir George said very rapidly, 'You know you won't lose it all. Our party will make up the greater part of what you give, but we want it now, or something like that. My memory is very imperfect as to the exact phrases used, as I never endeavored to recollect them until lately, when the matter became the subject of conversation. Sir George then said, 'Very well, come back this afternoon. Let Mr. Abbott write a note requesting you to advance this money and telling you that I will see that you are repaid, and come back this afternoon at such an hour, and we will close the whole matter up. We left upon that."

It will be seen that the ardent reformer of the present hour was the person to whom was allotted the task of preparing documents which involved the purchase and sale of propably thousands of Canadian electors. He told the commission about his drafting the letters, at which Sir Hugh assisted. He seems to have regarded it as an everyday sort of job, not more important than drawing a deed for the purchase and sale of a house and lot. Prior to all this, however, he had discussed the subject of election money with that past master, Sir Hector. This is his account of their conversation:—

"I had a conversation early in the session with Mr. Langevin about the expenses incurred in the elections at Quebec. Mr. Langevin mentioned to me that at the previous general election he had been obliged to expend a very considerable sum of money, not very large in itself, but large comparatively, and he said he did not think it fair that the burden of these elections should rest entirely on him. He said he thought he ought to have a share of any funds subscribed in Montreal for election purposes to assist in Quebec, which he had not had in previous elections, and that they could not expect much of a subscription from Qbebec to help the Government. I agreed with him in thinking that it was unfair that he should bear the burden of the Quebec elections, and I told him that in so far as I could have any influence in the matter I would that he should have a portion of any fund which might be got up in Montreal for general election purposes."

Sir Hector apparently took Mr. Abbott for a person who was likely to know all about bribery funds and to have a hand in their distribution; and as events showed the conjecture was a sound one. Mr. Abbott described to the commissioners the part he had played as cashier for Sir Hugh:—

"Q.—You were acting as confidential agent to Sir Hugh Allan with respect to the money?

"A.—No, I don't think I was. Sir Hugh asked me to assist him in this affair. I think the preponderance of his motive was that my professional practice had led me in the direction of this kind of business—the organization of companies. I also took an interest as a public man in this particular railway, but I considered I was acting more as the solicitor of Sir Hugh than in any other capacity I can describe. I never was in any sense his agent.

"Q.—I think you were made the medium through which the moneys were paid for election purposes?

"A.—Only while Sir Hugh was in Newfoundland. I never had anything further to do with the moneys than this. I was present when these letters were. I have described were talked about and when Sir Hugh left for Newfoundland I was made the medium of communication with him with respect to three or four transactions."

He went on to describe his dealings with Langevin with respect to a $10,000 shipment of the boodle, Langevin, crafty fellow that he is, refusing to sign a receipt for it, which Sir Hugh had demanded; and also his dealings with Sir John, who, it will be recollected, sent Mr. Abbott agonizing telegrams, "I must have another ten thousand, last time of calling, do not fail me," and so on. He confessed that he "certainly thought that this was a very large sum" for Sir Hugh to give as an ordinary election subscription, but regarded Sir Hugh's motives as "perfectly clear," namely to secure the re-election of a Government favorable to his views and enterprises. Mr. Abbott gave his own opinion of Sir Hugh's conduct, and incidentally of that of the incriminated Ministers, in these emphatic words:

"To my own mind Sir Hugh Allan's motives as described by him are perfectly clear. He is interested in the carrying trade to an enormous extent. About $3,000,000 of his fortune is invested in the carrying trade alone. I mean in sea going steamers alone. He has also a large amount of money invested in the inland carrying trade. He was forced as he imagined, and not unwillingly perhaps, to enter into an organization for an extensive series of railways providing for a second communication between the sea board and the interior of the country. He had taken up with a vast deal of energy and enthusiasm this Pacific Railway scheme. He had been himself a member of the canal commission, if not the chairman of it, and had taken a great interest in that. On every one of these subjects the Government had a policy which was favorable to his views, and in my opinion three times the sum would have been well spent if it had been necessary to keep the government in power which had, according to his views, and my own too, the improvement of the country so deeply at heart as this Government appeared to have."

The sentiment contained in the last sentence, that a man is justified in supplying election money to a Government which is helping his private interests, is the sentiment upon which Larkin & Co. acted. It is the sentiment which prompts the protected manufacturer to contribute to the campaign fund of the party that licenses him to fleece the public. It is the sentiment which animates and is brought forward to justify every boodler and gives bribes with one hand and "recoups" himself with the other. Of course, if the rule laid down by Mr. Abbott be sound, its converse must be sound too, that is, it must be legitimate for a Minister to accept election money, by the hundreds of thousands if he can get it, from anyone who is that much interested in maintaining him in office; and this lands us in all the mire and shame of Langevinism. Anyone who dispassionately examines Mr. Abbott's connection with the case, and reflects upon his ethical creed regarding campaign subscriptions with its far-reaching consequences, can hardly fail to reach the conclusions that his political virtue is a very flabby article, and that if the country is to depend upon him at this crisis for the vindication of its honor, God help the country.

Nothing drives out boils, blotches, humors, sores and impurity so quickly as B.B.B., and perfect health with bright clear skin always follows its use. dw

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hore, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—*The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig. THE BRITISH ISLES

Swept by Violent Gales and Many Wrecks the Result.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Violent gales and rainstorms continue to sweep over Great Britain and Ireland. Despatches from Dublin state the crops throughout the province of Ulster are in a suitable condition, and that in many parts of Ulster and elsewhere they are almost entirely submerged. In other sections the crops are in several feet of water and will be completely destroyed.

Off Ilfracombe, Devonshire, yesterday, during a gale, a passenger steamer having a hundred passengers on board had a narrow escape from destruction. A succession of heavy seas struck her, sweeping the decks, smashing in the saloon skylights and pouring tons of water down the companionways. So severe was the pounding the steamer received by the waves that many passengers were severely injured, of which number six are in a precarious condition.

In the Mersey a fishing smack, making for shelter from the storm, foundered. All hands were lost.

On the south coast of England there have been several wrecks.

The gale continued in Ireland, Wales, the north of England and Scotland the whole of the day. All cross channel steamers were delayed. The Welsh rivers are flooded, and much damage has been done to property. A house was blown over in Dublin and three inmates were buried in the ruins. All were badly injured, one being in a dying condition.

German Army Probs.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Chancellor Von Caprivi and Herr Von Kalterhorn Stackhan, Minister of War, have had frequent prolonged audiences with the Emperor as a preliminary to an important announcement. The Reichsanzier says the various rumors current in regard to these audiences are unreliable.

The military Wochenblatt urges the importance and necessity of inventing new cannon to meet the requirements of modern warfare. The small calibre magazine guns having reduced to minimum advantage which artillery formerly possessed over infantry.

German papers, commenting upon Sedan Day, dilate upon a situation requiring Germany to be more alert than ever, but they are unanimous that Germany will never begin a war, however provoked.

Injured by a Runaway.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A 12-year-old lad named Stinchcombe, of London West, was riding on Dundas street with a man named Finnigan, a market gardener, when the horse ran away. Crossley and Hunter at Work Again.

NORWICH, Sept. 2.—The evangelists Crossley and Hunter, after vacation spent in Muskoka and Grimsby park, have commenced their fall campaign in this town. The service was one of great power. From Norwich the evangelists go to Paris, thence to Owen Sound, Brandon, Calgary and other places in the Northwest, and will once more visit the Pacific coast before returning to Ontario next summer.

An Immense Parade.

It is estimated that 15,000 took part in the procession that morning, which assembled in St. Sauveur and marched through the streets of lower town, upper town and the suburbs. It was over an hour passing a given point.

Leo's Birthday.

DANTSIC, Sept. 2.—At the conference here yesterday of 900 delegates from various German Catholic societies, it was decided to promote an International Catholic Congress, the object of which would be to discuss the restoration of the Pope's temporal power. It was also decided to take steps to commemorate the Pope's birthday, March 2, by the erection of a monument at Meppen, Hanover, to the memory of the late Dr. Ludwig Windthorst, formerly leader of the Centre party in the Reichstag, and the recognized head of the Roman Catholic party in Germany.

Lecture on Fools, Admit One.

A gentleman who lectured on fools printed his tickets as above. Suggestive, certainly, and even sarcastic. What fools are they who suffer the inroads of disease when they might be cured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery it sold under a positive guarantee of its benefiting or curing in every case of Liver, Blood and Lung disease, or money paid for it will be cheerfully refunded. In all blood taints and impurities of whatever name and nature, it is most positive in its curative effects. Pimples, Blotches, Eruptions, and all Skin and Scalp diseases, are radically cured by this wonderful medicine. Scrofulous disease may affect the glands, cause swellings or tumors; the bones, causing "Fever-sores," "White Swellings," "Hip-joint disease"; or the tissues of the lungs, causing Pulmonary Consumption. Whatever its manifestations may be, "Golden Medical Discovery" cures it. a

A Common Origin.

All skin diseases of whatever name or nature are caused by impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a natural foe to impure Blood, removing all foul humors from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid indigestion, give tone and vigor to the system. dw

Nothing More Pleasant.

A Narrow Escape.

"I would probably have been in my grave to day had it not been for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. For two years I suffered from bowel complaint and became very weak and thin, but after using half a bottle of the Extract I was completely cured and have since had not return of the complaint."—Miss Hilton, 34 Huntley street, Toronto. dw

Purity of ingredients and accuracy of compounding, make Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine the criterion of excellence. dw

More cases of sick headache, billousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Don't You Forget It.

"I will never forget that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved my life. Five years ago I had a terrible attack of summer complaint and was given up by my doctor and my parents. A friend advised Fowler's Strawberry and at the second dose I was relieved and soon was as well as ever."—Maggie McGillivray, Falkenburg, Ont. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

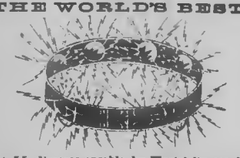
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and mets with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92
Increase over previous year	3,491,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	667,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	142,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fall thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,824 07
" " " 1886, "	39,462 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

Funeral of the Late Mrs. Wm. Kells.

Tuesday there was laid to rest in St. Paul's churchyard, Mrs. Frances Kells, widow of the late Thomas Kells, and one of the oldest landmarks of the township of Cavan. At the time of her death she was over eighty two years of age, and during the period of her life she saw the whole country grow from a wilderness into a prosperous and thickly populated district. The year after the battle of Waterloo, in 1816, her father came to Millbrook, which was then a primeval forest, and settled there. At that time flour had to be brought from Napanee and there was only one horse in the whole country side. In 1835 she was married in St. Paul's church, Cavan, to her late husband, this being the first wedding that took place in that church. She leaves surviving her, two daughters and three sons, the latter being Mr. T. G. Kells of the firm of Messrs. Wood & Kells, of Millbrook, and Messrs Edward and Joseph Kells, prosperous business men of Washington, Pennsylvania. She also leaves one brother, Mr. Archibald Armstrong, who is now almost 88 years of age, and still resides in Millbrook. She was much respected for her many amiable qualities of mind and heart, and leaves a wide circle of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

The Peculiarity of the Verb, Eat.

There is a peculiarity about this little word which perhaps some have noticed. In the first place it has reference to the consumption of food, and secondly has reference to most important drink. The verb eat, either in the present or past tense, contains the letters of the word tea—hawley bro.' fine tea is the particular beverage meant.

A Saturday Night Trip.

The steamer Mary Ellen will make a trip to Stony Lake Saturday night if there are enough passengers to cover expenses. Monday is Labor Day and probably a public holiday. The steamer will run down Monday afternoon, so that passengers can have two full days at the lake. Those desirous of going should club together and notify Capt. Scollard.

"Casey's Trials."

No company that we have ever heard of has come to our town with such favorable couriers as "Casey's Troubles." They have the unanimous endorsement of the New York Press; and this you may rest assured, will be your only chance to see this superior company, as they will make no stops going from San Francisco to New York City. We have no doubt of their success there. d-54

A Son of England's Death.

Mr. Edward Gibson, a young married man and a member of Lansdowne lodge, S. O. E., died at Burleigh last night. Deceased has been suffering from slow paralysis for several months, and not long ago removed from Auburn to Burleigh, where with the assistance of his wife, he conducted a small store. He has been quite helpless for some time past. Lansdowne lodge will hold a meeting to-night to arrange for the funeral.

An Elevating Enterprise.

Mr. Bradburn is apparently governed by the laudable motto, "excelsior." He has purchased from Messrs. Leitch & Co. Hamilton, three hydraulic elevators, which are to be devoted for the use of himself and the tenants of his property. One is for the Golden Lion dry goods store, another for China Hall, and the third for himself—to be used for elevating the heavy trunks and boxes of theatrical companies who use the opera house.

He is Coming.

Mr. Laurance, the eminent Oculist-Optician, will be at John McKee's drug store, 388 George street, on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 10th and 11th, for the purpose of adjusting the B. Laurance Pebble and other spectacles and eye glasses to all conditions of sight. His thorough knowledge of his profession and large experience enables him to select such lenses as are best suited to each requirement, however difficult, and always ensures to the wearers of the B. Laurance spectacles ease and comfort, and an abiding improvement to their sight. d52-61-w36 37

The Golden Eye.

The steamer Golden Eye is rapidly undergoing repairs to fit her again for active service. These repairs, it is expected, will be completed in about a week's time and the steamer will then be engaged in government dredging operations—raking the edgings and rubbish out of the mouth of the river and the channel of Rice Lake adjacent. Mr. Calcutt has a Golden Eye to business, which has an intimate interest to the public. It is a pity that so popular and pleasant a steamboating route should be so obstructed, and the public sympathy will be with any endeavour to improve the navigation of the river and Rice Lake.

Lots! Lots!! Lots!!!

Your chance has come. The property now on the market and to be sold by auction on Friday afternoon next at 5 o'clock on the grounds, is just what you have been waiting for. Well situated, high, dry, easily improved. Good streets and sidewalks already ready, make the location especially desirable. The terms are easy—$25 down and balance as arranged for. Run out to the place, "the Erin block," west end of the town on Friday afternoon and see how the sale is going. Do you want to learn particulars see the owner, Mr. W. Fitzgerald, and learn all about it, or the auctioneer, Mr. C. Stapleton, will tell you. The growth of a prosperous town is invariably west, so if you buy you will be right in the track of improvement. Remember the day and hour of sale. d53-54

Gorgeous Gladioli

Mr. Joseph H. Cobb, Aylmer street, a well known and most successful amateur florist, generally succeeds in anything he undertakes. A specimen from his gladiolus plot now displayed in China Hall is decidedly worth seeing. Two beautiful Japanese jars are filled with magnificent bouquets of gladiolus bloom. There are about one hundred individual stems, each bearing a different variety of the splendid petals that comprise the gladiolus flower; of every conceivable shade and combination of colour. This splendid collection—putting one spike of flowers each to a bulb—represents at regular prices $6.00 worth of bulbs. The gladiolus is our most stately and showy autumnal flower and to be seen in its perfection, Mr. Cobb's garden should be visited.

The West Ward Æsthetes.

Mr. Principal McCreary and his pupils deserve great credit for the very creditable results of their efforts at floriculture. In the spring two large circular plots were constructed on the grounds in front of the building and planted with flowers contributed by the principal and pupils. The flowers suffered greatly in the early part of the season, from lack of city water, but the principal, caretaker and pupils by dint of converting themselves into "drawers of water," kept the flowers in life and since the water service was put in the growth and bloom are a sight to behold. The water also comes in well for the lawn, bringing up the grass to a beautiful state of greenness and, assisted by the lawn mower, of trimness. The grounds now look neat and tidy and go to show that the pupils are made interested in the higher forms of culture as well as "book learning."

Progressive China Hall.

Mr. McFarlane Wilson, the enterprising proprietor of China Hall, is determined to maintain the big lead he has gained, and is continually, and successfully, competing for supremacy in beautiful shops, and increasing the attractiveness of a business premises which has been long regarded as one of the sights of the town. He has added two beautiful square plate glass show cases with walnut frame work and resting on elegant Queen Anne solid walnut tables. The plate glass is two feet in height, and the cases exhibit the glittering contents of silver ware to great advantage. Mr. Wilson is also expanding his borders. He has secured the flat over Matthews' Meat Market, and from the rear of the present shop an hydraulic passenger elevator will run to the second flat referred to. This flat will be devoted exclusively to dinner and tea sets and is admirably adopted to the purpose being 25 feet in width and 90 feet in depth and lighted with three lofty windows at each end. There will be a separate entrance from the hoist, by the hall way leading to the street but this will not be used except in case of emergency or rush of business. The basement floor now used for dinner and tea sets will hereafter be given over to staple stock. China Hall, when this new addition is completed, which will be in about three weeks, will occupy 9,000 square feet of floor space—four flats each 25x90 feet.

LAKEFIELD CIVIC HOLIDAY

A Fine Day's Celebration in Our Northern Suburb.

Splend'd Horse Races, Athletic Sports and Regatta—Lakefield's Annual Holiday Demonstration a Great Success.

Lakefield can give many a larger town pointers in the way of celebrating a civic holiday. Wednesday's demonstration was highly successful. The citizens unanimously observed the day as a holiday, and all classes joined heartily in the sports. A large committee had the celebration in hand, and smaller sub-committees looked after the different departments. The general committee was composed of Revs W. H. Casement, Chairman; W. Sherin, Secretary; T. J. Bird, Treasurer; Messrs. Wm. Leahy, R. C. Strickland, F. Lillicrap and Dr. Fraser.

Beautiful weather graced the occasion and everything passed off successfully.

FOOTBALL.

The first event on the programme was a football match between village teams. The chosen teams were so evenly matched that after an hour and a half's hard play neither side scored a goal and the match was declared a draw. Following were the teams:

SAWLOGS,		VILLAGE BOYS.
F. Morin, W. Sage	centre forward	W. Hendren, D. Hunter
J. Simpson, W. Cox	left wing	D. Edwards, B. Sherin
C. Carter, J. McIlmoyle	right wing	A. Dodge, S. Redpath
B. Barke, N. McIlmoyle	half backs	E. Irwin, W. Calder
T. Redpath, A. Nicholas	backs	E. Burgess, A. Dion.
J. Northcott	goal	H. Frize

THE HORSE RACES.

In the afternoon a crowd of about 800 people gathered in the Agricultural grounds, where horse races and athletic contests were the programme. The Lakefield band, reinforced by a couple of Peterborough players, rendered music here and elsewhere during the day.

The greatest interest naturally centred in the horse races. The track was very heavy, several inches of coarse sand having been freshly laid down through which the horses had to plow their way. The Agricultural Society could improve their grounds wonderfully by adding the plot of vacant land contiguous, which would allow of a much larger track and more room for every other purpose. Until this is done the present grounds will always be crowded.

The committee in charge of the horse races consisted of Messrs. Wm. Leahy, Dr. J. R. Fraser, R. J. Munro, T. Pettitt and R. Brader. Upon the Judges' stand were Messrs. Ed. Brown and Wm. Croft, of Peterborough, resplendent in shining silk ties and red badges. They managed the different events in good shape.

RUNNING RACE.

The first event was the running race, for which there were four entries. Dick Tierney had no trouble in winning the race. He led in every heat, but in the first heat he slowed up on the last lap, thinking he had completed the mile, and the others got too far ahead for him to make it up. The other heats were processions. Friends of "Lady Duncan" claim that had she been properly ridden the chestnut would not have had so easy a race. "Martin" says that he will make the chestnut hustle yet this fall with his "Lady Duncan." Following is the summary:

T. Hendren's b. h. Pony ..... 2 dr
R. Tierney's ch. m. Minnie T 3 1 1
W. Batten's Billie B 4 3 3
Connor's Lady Duncan 1 2 2
Purse, $20—1st $13, 2nd $7, 3rd $3.

THREE MINUTE TROT.

This race caused the greatest excitement of any. In the first heat "Dan" being pole horse, took the lead and maintained it easily all around. He got the lead in the second also, but in the first round was fouled by "Fred S," who was driven in front of "Dan," and cut him out of his course. "Dan" finished third, and "Fred S." first, but the Connors' mare was put back for the foul and the heat given to "Hayseed," who had finished second. In the third heat "Dan" again came to the front and led the procession, winning easily.

It now looked as if the furniture king's flier would get first money, but the dark horse went in to win the fourth heat, though but for an accident the result was doubtful. On the fourth lap of this heat "Dan" was leading, but "Fred S," began pushing him hard and almost succeeded in passing him. "Dan" hugged the inside track so close that he struck one of the several stakes he knocked over during the race, and the whip being applied he again forged ahead. On the last lap, with "Fred S's" nose on his wheel, "Dan" struck another stake, and the lines becoming wound round the wheels Mr. Belleghem was thrown off his sulky. He rolled over and over on the soft track, but was not hurt, the others turning out of his way, his own horse trotting quietly into the fence corner. Connor's colt won the heat easily.

Fred S." being now the pole horse, won the two following heats with ease, finishing about twenty yards ahead of "Dan," with Garbutt's horse about the same distance behind the latter.

The best time made was 3.04. "Fred S." is a fine little colt. He has trotted in four races and never lost yet. On a hard track he would do much better than he did on the heavy, sandy course at Lakefield.

"Dan" also has a capacity for getting there greater than one would suppose judging by his motion.

Following is the summary:—

D. Belleghem's "Dan" 1 2 1 3 2 2
Connor's "Fred S" 2 3 2 1 1 1
H. C. Garbutt's "Hayseed" 3 1 3 2 3 3
Purse $50, 1st $25, 2nd $15, 3rd $10.

NAMED RACE.

This race was a walk-over for Mr. Garbutt's horse, which during the afternoon trotted nine heats in quick succession. The only struggle was between Nicholls and McKee's horses, the latter's "Nellie" passing "Tom" in the last heat amidst cheers. Following is the summary:—

P. W. Strickland's Grey mare 4 4 4
H. C. Garbutt's Hayseed 1 1 1
T. Nichol's Tom 2 2 3
F. McKee's Nellie 3 3 2
Purse $20—1st $15, 2nd $10, 3rd $5.

FIELD SPORTS.

In the circular space enclosed by the racing ring some athletic games took place, for which prizes were given, the greater part of which were donated by public-spirited citizens. These sports were managed by a committee comprising R. C. Strickland, F. Barlee, J. H. McWilliams, Jno. Clarin and F. Burgess. Following is the list of events and prize winners:—

Boys race, 100 yds, 13 years and under—1st A. Stabler, 2nd J. Simpson.

Boys race, 100 yds, 16 years and under—1st J. Simpson, 2nd J. Hendren.

Men's Quarter mile race—1st A. Hill, 2nd W. Hendren.

Girls race, 100 yds, 13 years and under—1st Annie Scrimger, 2nd Kate Simpson.

Men's Running Long Jump—1st W. Hendren, 17 ft. 7 inches; 2nd E. Burgess.

Running Hop, Step and Jump—1st E. Burgess, 38 ft. 5 in.; 2nd W. Hendren.

Running High Jump—T. Redpath, 4 ft. 7 inches.

Three legged race—1st A. Moore and A. Hill, 2nd A. Patterson and J. B. Downer.

Girls Egg race—1st Ada Cox; 2nd A. Scrimger.

Animal race—W. Cox won with a Brahma cock; C. Tanner, chicken.

100 yard race—1st W. Hendren, 2nd A. Hill.

THE REGATTA.

At the conclusion of the field sports the crowd moved down to the wharf, where aquatic races were run off by the Regatta Committee—Messrs. F. Lillicrap, F. A. Moore, Geo. Baptie, P. W. Strickland and W. Cox, jr.

Following is the list:

Boys double canoe race, 15 years and under—1st A. Dion and T. Simpson; 2nd T. Nicholas and Jas. Hendren.

Men's double canoe race, non-prof.—1st Wm. McIlmoyle and J. Jarvis; 2nd—Knott and Walter McIlmoyle.

Men's single canoe race, non-prof—1st Walter McIlmoyle; 2nd David Miller.

Tub race—1st S. Redpath; 2nd Jas. Hendren.

Harry Scurry—1st G. Baladon; 2nd A. Dion.

Double scull (skiff)—1st P. W. Strickland and T. J. Bird; 2nd Walter McIlmoyle and Wm. McIlmoyle.

Men's Single (any canoe or any paddle)—1st P. Strickland, 2nd Geo. Baladon.

Men's double (any canoe or paddle)—J. Jarvis and Wm. McIlmoyle; 2nd P. W. and R. H. Strickland.

Seniority race—1st Chas. Carter; 2nd Harvey Frize.

Greasy pole.—Jas. Cox.

The canoe and skiff races were all well contested. The best race of all was the double canoe, any canoe or any paddle. The winners used the ordinary canoe and paddle, and the second prize men double paddles. These latter made a dead heat for second place, with Knott and McIlmoyle, and a copper was tossed for the prize, the Strickland's winning.

A tournament was the last event, and it created no end of amusement. There were several entries, and the contestants poked away at each other for half an hour without coming to a finish, and it was declared a draw.

EVENING ILLUMINATION.

As the shades of night fell on the village, the residences and streets became gay with electric lights, candles and chinese lanterns. An illuminated canoe parade was held for which prizes were given, as well as for the best illuminated private house. This part of the programme was in the hands of Dr. D. Fraser, Dr. Ball, W. H. Casement, W. M. Graham and T. J. Bird.

Though the weather in the evening was delightful both as regards the temperature and the necessary darkness to make the illuminated canoe parade effective, there were fewer illuminated canoes afloat than had been expected. There was a immense flotilla of canoes afloat in the harbor but there was a lack of illumination which was to be regretted. However, those who were patriotic enough to the village to light up their graceful crafts made a very pretty picture, which was greatly admired by the large number that had assembled to witness the display. The judges on illuminated canoes awarded first prize to Mr. W. Cox, and second to Capt. Sam. Reynolds.

At about 9 o'clock the crowd adjourned to the village streets to admire the illuminations there, which were a great success. The main street especially, was a blazing line of light of a thousand hues filtered through the varying colours of Chinese lanterns, transparencies etc. The scene was very beautiful and elicited frequent praise and exclamations of admiration. The decision of the judges as to the best illuminated building was given as follows. First Mr. Peter Baptie; second Mr. F. J. Lillicrap. The throng in the streets gradually dispersed and at an early hour the village streets resumed their wonted air of quiet, the day ending as it had passed with that degree of order for which the citizens of the beautiful village of Lakefield are noted. The Civic Holiday of '91 is unanimously voted a great success.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Robt. Hamilton, Sr.

In the usual place in this issue will be found the announcement of the death of Mrs. Robert Hamilton, sr., which sad event took place this afternoon. The deceased lady, on Friday last, returned home from a pleasant visit with friends at Chemong Park, in excellent health and spirits, having been apparently much benefitted by her stay at the Park. But on Saturday evening last she was attacked with a violent renewal of her old trouble—enlargement of the liver. Her sufferings, which were very severe, were borne with Christian fortitude and patience till this afternoon, when death put an end to her pain. Mrs. Hamilton was a native of Rotherham, Yorkshire, England, where she was married to her late husband at Sheffield parish church, in 1846. Ten years later they removed to Canada, living first at Port Hope till 1861, when they removed to Peterborough, where they have since resided. Mrs. Hamilton was a lady of many estimable qualities, a faithful and affectionate wife, a kind and obliging neighbour and a warm friend to all with whom she came in social contact. She was a devoted member of the congregation of St. John's, a most regular communicant and seldom was her seat among the worshipers vacant. Mrs. Hamilton was held in very high esteem by all classes of the community and her bereaved husband—their marriage being unblessed with children—will receive general sympathy in the loneliness in which his great bereavement has left him. Funeral on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock to St. Johns, thence to the Little Lake Cemetery.

A New Residence.

Yesterday Mr. W. H. McIlmoyle, contractor broke ground for a fine new residence which he is to construct on Vatican Park, corner Charlotte and Park streets for Mr. Collector Clementi, to plans prepared by Mr. W. Blackwell, architect. Mr. Clementi is in luck, a fine new residence and a fine new customs building in the same innings.

Sons of England, Lansdowne Lodge, No. 25.

A special meeting is called for to night (Thursday) at 8 o'clock p.m. to make arrangements for the funeral of the late Bro. E. Gibson. All members requested to be present. Funeral at 3 o'clock on Friday, Aug. 4. Members of Peterborough Lodge and visiting brethren invited. By order,

E. W ELCOMBE, Secretary. R. WARAM, W. P.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEER, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

THAT HEADLESS TRUNK.

DETECTIVES INVESTIGATING A TRAGEDY OF TEN YEARS AGO.

The Question at Issue in the Mystery Was the Corpse Mutilated by Wild Beasts or by Parties Interested in Preventing the Identity of Deceased.

TORONTO, Sept. 4.—Ontario Detective Greer left a few days ago for Horse Island, a large and heavily timbered island on the Georgian Bay on the north shore of Lake Huron, about 35 miles from Manitowaning, to investigate into the circumstances surrounding the discovery of a headless body on the shore about 100 feet from high water mark about six weeks ago. The remains were found by James Campbell of Tobermory, a member of a fishing party cruising about the vicinity. The remains which had evidently lain where they were found for a lengthened period, had been partially buried, an apology for a box, the sides of which consisted of a couple of boards, filled in with stones and brush. When discovered by Campbell the head was missing, together with one foot. The skeleton had bleached white, indicating that it had lain where found a lengthened period and the clothing was reduced to shreds. There were no papers found on the body and the only clue which might lead to the identity of the deceased was a couple of keys, which were found at the bottom of the box.

The find was reported to Magistrate Sharp of Tobermory, who in turn communicated with the Attorney General's department, and Detective Greer was despatched to investigate the facts.

The officer learned that instead of the corpse being that of a man who had been washed ashore a few weeks ago as reported to the Government, it was that of a boater who had come ashore prior to July, 1881 10 years ago. That in the year in which the corpse was found on the shore by Edward Scott of Port Elgin, who, concluding that it was the remains of a sailor from one of the fishing smacks in the vicinity had buried it in the improvised grave. When found by Scott the body was considerably decomposed, but was intact. He made a decent grave, such as the facilities of the Island afforded, and on returning to Tobermory reported the facts to Lighthouse keeper Currie of Cone Island Lighthouse and others in the vicinity, but the facts never reached the County Crown Attorney or the Government, and the affair passed from the recollection of the inhabitants until the discovery of six weeks ago. As has been pointed out, the head and one foot of the skeleton had disappeared during the time it was interred at its discovery by Campbell. Of course, owing to the slipshod manner in which the remains were interred, the head and leg may have been carried off by wild beasts, which intest the islands, which, by the way, is uninhabited, but the more reasonable supposition is that the head was removed by parties interested in keeping the identity of the dead man concealed for all time.

The Government is endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the dead man. There is no suspicion that he met his death by foul play, but it is believed that after the discovery of the body by Scott 10 years ago, interested parties removed the head in order that the identity of the accused might never be established. The victim was a man in comfortable circumstances, and the investigations of the detective may result in locating the parties who, by their course of silence, have for a decade enjoyed the profits resulting from the mysterious disappearance of the dead man.

FOR BIG DAMAGES.

Thomas Board and Wife, of Windsor, Sue for $10,000.

WINDSOR, Sept. 4.—Thomas Board, through Maxwell Sheppard, and his wife, through E. M. Morton, have each commenced suit against W. H. Gage & Co., of Toronto, and the assignee of the Board estate, J. Jennings, for $10,000. The claims of Mr. and Mrs. Board are to the following effect. Mr. Board was running a book store in Windsor and purchased a bankrupt stock in Chatham from Gage & Co. at 90 cents on the dollar. Owing to private matters Mr. Board was unable to take up the paper as it became due, and at the solicitation of Gage & Co. gave a mortgage on a $3,000 house in Windsor, and also one on a $1,500 farm near here. Payment on the bankrupt stock was not made and both the Chatham and the Windsor stores were closed by the creditors. Gage & Co. had enough security to run away over their claims, yet voted at a meeting of creditors to close down on Board's business and carried every thing before them, being the largest creditors of the estate. Later on Mrs. Board purchased the same business at a big figure and gave other mortgages. Gage & Co. promising to see her through, but the other day the store was closed on that firm's orders. Mr. and Mrs. Board claim that Gage & Co. had no right to vote at the creditors' meeting.

The Manitoba Crops.

TORONTO, Sept. 3. A despatch received from Winnipeg says it is estimated that fully 65 per cent. of the wheat crop has been harvested. The remainder is being rapidly cut. At the time of the frost it is claimed that not more than 30 per cent. was cut. This of course escaped frost all together. Of the balance it is now claimed that 50 per cent. was touched. The estimated yield is placed at 25,000,000 bushels.

An Intoxicated Man Killed.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 3. Oliver Allan, a resident of Sarawak, near Brooke, was returning from town with his horses and wagon. He was badly intoxicated and it is supposed that the horses took fright at something and ran away, throwing him out. He was found by the roadside and taken home. He spoke once or twice after being taken into the house, but died about an hour afterwards.

Lost in a Gale.

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Sept. 4.—The brigantine Lizzie Horten, bound from Sydney, C.B., for this port with coal, was wrecked in a gale on Aug 30. The crew took to the boats and were picked up after rowing 40 hours. Eight fishermen are reported lost in the same gale.

BALMACEDA'S BOODLE.

HIS PILE TAKEN FROM HIS CHIEF WHILE TRYING TO ESCAPE.

The Ex-President Tramping Over the Andes—More Fighting Expected—The Junta to Have a Big Reception—Burning the Bodies of Dead Soldiers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso says: Balmaceda will not have as much money when he reaches Europe as he thought he would by over a million dollars. One of the most ardent supporters and closest friends, Deputy Verduga, was captured to-day at Talca while he was making his way from the country with the purpose, it is supposed, of joining his fleeing chief either at Buenos Ayres or in Europe. He was taken to Santiago and turned over to the authorities. He carried with him $300,000,000 in Chilian bank notes and $800,000 in drafts on London. This, of course, was promptly confiscated by the representatives of the Junta. It was at first supposed that Senor Verduga had accompanied the late President in his flight, but a sharp lookout was kept for him and the funds nevertheless, and his capture followed.

There is little doubt that Balmaceda is making his way over the Andes through the south pass. It would be impossible to stop him now.

Minister Egan's friends are doing their best to dispel the impression that he has acted offensively as a partisan of the late Government. One of them, an American named Spencer, is authority for the statement that it was largely due to Mr. Egan's efforts that the President decided to turn over the Government to Gen. Basnedano and give up the struggle. This was done according to Mr. Spencer's story in the face of the opposition of Balmaceda's ministers, who insisted that the victory of the revolutionists at Placilla was not decisive and were desirous of keeping up the fight despite the fall of Valparaiso. Be this as it may, the latter feeling against Mr. Egan in particular and Americans in general shows no sign of abatement. The Congressional leaders profess to be puzzled at the continued refusal of the State Department at Washington to recognize their envoys at that capital, and are generally inclined to attribute the tardiness to ulterior motives, though just what these may be they do not say. There are vague rumors of fat contracts and nitrate beds in the air, but nothing definite is specified.

No further news has been received from the mob stricken town of Coronel. I am assured, however, that the Provincial Government has taken steps which will result in the restoration of order there in a short time. It is altogether probable that it may require some fighting to get the rebellious soldiery and miners under subjection, and it is perfectly safe to say that the Congressional leaders will be shot as soon as they are captured.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the reception of the members of the Junta, who will arrive here to-night or to-morrow on the steamer Arequipa from Iquique. Their arrival will be made the occasion of general rejoicing. Many of the bodies of the dead which have been lying on the battlefield near Placilla, were burned to-day and probably the balance of them will be cremated to-morrow.

About all the wounded in the various fights which followed the landing of General Canto's army at Quinte Bay have been brought in and are receiving proper attention at the hands of the volunteer ambulance corps. Temporary hospitals have been fitted up wherever possible, and room has been made for all the wounded.

Intendente Walker Martinez has got the civil government here in fair working order, and Valparaiso is gradually settling down. The same is true of Santiago, where the leaders of the Government are now awaiting the arrival of their colleagues before taking any action toward the formation of a Government. A proclamation has been issued to the effect that any person harboring men who were officials under Balmaceda, and who fail to give them up to the authorities, will be shot.

I have just received word from Santiago that Balmaceda in his flight left his family behind him. They are now being cared for by Senor Domingo Torres, brother in law of the fugitive President, but who is himself a strong supporter of the Congressionalists.

Supreme Court I. O. F.

DETROIT, Sept. 4.—The Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters met here yesterday under the presidency of Dr. Oronhyatekha, S. C. R. The constitutions were amended on several points. Those participating in the sick and funeral department will now receive $3 per week for the first two weeks and then $5 for 10 weeks following. The assessments in the sick and funeral benefits department were increased about 33⅓ per cent.

On the recommendation of the Finance Committee the court decided that the salary of the supreme chief ranger be $6000 per year and that of the supreme secretary $3000; the supreme treasurer's salary to be $1800 and the auditors to receive $300 each.

Election of officers: S.C.R., Dr. Oronhyatekha, Toronto; P.C.R., Edward Potterell, Ottawa; S.V.C.R., D. D. Athen, Flint, Mich.; S.S., John A. McGillivray, Toronto; S.T., F. G. Davey, London; S. P., Thomas Millman, Toronto, S. C., Judge Wedderburn, St. John, N.B.; medical board, Dr. Henderson, Kingston, Ont.; Dr. Morgan, Saginaw, Mich.; S.A., Thomas Lawless, Toronto, Benjamin Greer, London.

The city of Chicago was chosen as the next place of meeting, which takes place in September, 1893.

Train Robbery in Texas.

DEL RIO, Texas, Sept. 3.—A daring train robbery was committed here shortly after midnight yesterday, dynamite and Winchester rifles figuring prominently in the raid. All the money and valuables in the express safe were secured by the robbers, as well as several sacks, mail and registered packages.

The express messenger was J. E. Smith of the Wells Fargo service, who obtained national fame by killing two train robbers near El Paso a couple of years ago. This time he was outnumbered, though he stood off the marauders as long as he could.

THE TERRITORIES ACT.

A MOTION TO AMEND THE FRENCH CLAUSE VOTED DOWN.

The Premier Introduces a Bill to Protect the Government From Fraud—It Makes it a Misdemeanor for a Member to Accept Contractor's Presents.

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—The bill to amend the Northwest Territories Act came up in the Senate yesterday. One clause provides that the Assembly, after the next general election there, shall have power to regulate the use of French so far as its own proceedings are concerned. Senator Armand moved that this clause be struck out, thus leaving the French question then as formerly. A general debate followed. The amendment was defeated by 5 to 35.

Mr. Abbott introduced a bill to protect the Government from fraud. It makes it a misdemeanor for any official or any member of his family to receive a present of any sort from any person who has a contract with the Government. It provides that any contractor making such a present shall be liable to a fine of $100 to $1000, and up to the value of the present, if the present exceeds $1000. In default of payment of the fine the contractor shall be subject to six months imprisonment, such contractor shall receive no more patronage or influence.

THE COCHRANE COMMITTEE.

The Progress of the Enquiry Into the Case of the Accused Member.

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—At the Cochrane committee yesterday, Mr. J. D. Clonstan, a bridgekeeper on the Murray Canal was the first witness. He came directly to the point, and in answer to Mr. Barron said he paid $70 or $75 for the Government position he now held. He paid the money to Mr. W. W. Webb. He agreed originally to pay $150; the balance was still due.

Mr. Barron: How did you come to pay the money to Webb?

Witness: I wanted to do something for my party. I am one who has taken an interest in my party's cause.

Mr Barron: Had you any conversation with anyone with regard to paying this money to Webb?

Witness tried to evade the question. He said he might have talked about the Conservative party's affairs, and tried to dismiss the question by a wave of the hand and the exclamation, "It was about as big a toad in the puddle as there was among them that's all there is to it." Finally he admitted that he had a talk with Stanley about paying the $150. That was after the appointment was promised to him, but before he got the place. The promise of the bridge was given to him by Mr. Cochrane. He could not tell where Stanley had instructed him to go to Webb and pay the money.

Mr. Barron pressed the witness to tell the conversation with Cochrane, and then in his quaint, bucolic manner Clonstan said "Well, now, I hardly know how to come at that. You know I supported Cochrane years and years ago, and then I told him, you see, that if he was successful for the Parliament he should remember me and give something like a bridge on the canal, you know." Witness went on to say that Mr. Cochrane M. P., told him while on a drive to Colborne that other bridge tenders were given $150 each.

C. D. Vanalstine, laborer on the Murray Canal, swore that he also paid $100 to James Stanley. He was promised an appointment as bridge tender. The promise was never kept. Never paid any money before.

William Bullock, proprietor of the store in Brighton in which the Conservative Committee met, said Cochrane was aware of the committees and their business was to sell their bridges. Cochrane attended one evening.

Masson, another witness, asked Cochrane for a bridge, but Stanley told him they were sold to poor men who had $150 to pay for them.

The first witness in the afternoon was William Brown, a bridgekeeper on the canal. He went to Mr. Cochrane about the appointment. Mr. Cochrane said he would have to apply to the committee. When Mr. Cochrane told him to apply to the committee he did not know who the committee were. He did not inquire. He thought that Stanley was one of the men he would have to see. He paid $150 in cash to W. W. Webb before he got the appointment. The first he heard of the committee was from Mr. Cochrane.

To Mr. Mulock he said the only other subscription he ever gave was $2.

Robert May, another bridgekeeper, said he paid $250 to his brother, a member of the Conservative Committee, in order to get the appointment. He never gave a subscription to the party before.

Thomas Webb said C. D. Vanalstine gave him $120 to pay to James Stanley for his influence to secure one of the bridges. Stanley told him he could not do it because Vanalstine was circulating a report that Mr. Cochrane was getting money for position on the canal, and using it to pay the mortgage on his farm. Subsequently he saw Mr. Cochrane and asked him to give Vanalstine a bridge. Mr. Cochrane replied no, he had not a bridge for every one. He did not tell Mr. Cochrane anything about the money given by Vanalstine.

Daniel Hodgins said he occupied the farm formerly occupied by William Johnson, now a bridge keeper. He once saw Mr. Cochrane a son come to Johnson's farm and drive off a sow and a horse. There was no cow in the procession. [Laughter.]

Philip Lawson, foreman on the canal said he lent D. C. Bullock $100 to meet the cost of an election protest. He has not got the $100 back yet. He complained to Mr. Cochrane that he had not yet received back the $100.

William Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, produced a number of documents relating to the canal. Among them were two letters from Mr. Cochrane, strongly urging the appointment of Healey Simpson to the position of lighthouse keeper.

An order-in-council was passed May 22 1888, appointing Simpson.

The committee then adjourned until to day.

Scalded to Death.

GALT, Sept. 4. The 18-months-old son of Walter Oliver near Branchton, in playing around the verandah fell into a pail of scalding water, which was being used for washing purposes. The arm was scalded up to the shoulder, and down one side was also so badly scalded that pieces of flesh came off when the clothing was removed. He only lived a short time.

The Pacing Record Improved.

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 4.—The world's record for speed by pacing stallion on a half mile track was broken by Roy Wilkes yesterday at the fall meeting of the Decatur Trotting Association. The time by quarters was :32½, :32½, :34, :34½, and for the mile 2.14½.

1000 People Homeless.

THE DALLES, Ogn., Sept. 4. As a result of yesterday's fire about one-third of the city is in ashes and 1000 people are homeless. Eighteen blocks were consumed, including many business establishments and 600 residences and three churches. At 6 o'clock tonight the total loss is placed at $665,000. It is thought, however, these figures will be increased. Insurance is about $275,000.

Drowned off Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 4.—The schooner Pannonia, which left the Marshal Islands May 1st for San Francisco with twelve persons on board, was wrecked on the reefs to the northwest of the Hawaiian Islands and all on board were lost. The crew numbered seven men, nearly all Americans, and Capt. George D. Lovedal and his wife and three children on board. Capt. Lovedale was one of the oldest and best seamen on the coast, and was for years harbor master at San Diego.

AN EXTRADITION FAILURE.

Detective Joe Rogers' Unsuccessful Attempt to Secure a Forger.

TORONTO, Sept. 4.—Government Detective Joe Rogers will arrive home Sunday from Reno, Nevada, where he has been for the past six weeks endeavoring to secure the extradition of Thomas Williamson, charged with obtaining from the Western Canada Savings & Loan Society the sum of $3500 by forging the name of his brother, John Williamson, to a mortgage. In the fall of 1889 the accused called upon Assistant-Manager John Mamie of the Loan Company and succeeded in securing two sums of $1700 and $1800 by representing that he owned 100 acres in Markham township, County of York. As a matter of fact the property belonged to his brother, John Williamson. When the mortgage fell due it was discovered that the signature was a forgery, but meantime Thomas Williamson had fled. He was traced to Reno, Nevada, where it was ascertained he was employed with a wealthy ranchman named Dixie. The Ontario Government was notified and secured the arrest of the forger. He bribed the constables and escaped. In August last, however, Williamson was again taken into custody and locked up, and Detective Rogers was despatched to Nevada. The day before his arrival at Reno, however, the Judge discharged Williamson on a habeas corpus, and the accused lost no time in leaving the vicinity. Detective Rogers was naturally chagrined at the outcome of his visit and has endeavored ever since to bring about the re-apprehension of the accused, but without success, and he consequently left for home yesterday.

SMASH-UP AT BROCKVILLE.

The Express from Toronto Runs into the Rear of a Freight Train.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 4.—The express from Toronto to Montreal, due here at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, ran into the tail end of a freight train which was being shunted off the main line into what is called the Manitoba yard, a short distance west of the town. The express was going about 12 miles an hour at the time. The conductor's van on the freight was totally wrecked, and two carloads of cattle, which were next to it, were badly smashed up; two cattle were killed outright. The express engine was considerably damaged. The passengers did not suffer any inconvenience beyond a lively shaking up.

Accused of Forgery.

LISTOWEL, Sept. 4.—William C. Finney, physician of Tamworth, was arraigned before County Police Magistrate Deacon on a charge of forgery, and electing to be tried by a jury was sent to jail to await the Assizes in October. The prosecutor is Mr. T. B. Dean, manager of the Dominion Bank. It appears that the accused presented a check at the bank bearing the signature of Mr. Corbould, U. S. Consular agent at Orillia, and at the same time handed the manager a letter purporting to be written by a medical gentleman in town and recommending the accused to the confidence of the bank. On the strength of this the check was cashed, but on being presented at the Orillia bank, Mr. Corbould repudiated it on the ground of its being a forgery. A warrant was in consequence secured for the arrest of Finney and he was taken into custody.

The Skeletons of 1874 Soldiers.

DRUMMONDVILLE, Sept. 4.—Great excitement prevails here over a finding at Lundy's Lane. At 2 p.m. yesterday in a sand pit opposite the cemetery was found a large trench in which were found the skeletons of British soldiers. Some of the red coats were in perfect condition, and buttons without number were found, also tobacco pouches, jackknives and buckskin vests and officers braid. Up to the present time about 15 skeletons have been unearthed. The numbers of the regiments were on the buttons. The regiments were the 69th and 103rd. The Historical Society has taken the find in hand and is collecting the bones and will have them buried in the trenches in the cemetery.

Killed by a Train.

TORONTO, Sept. 4.—Martin Carey, a young man of 25, employed by the Western Cattle Market in attending shipments of stock to Liverpool, was killed by a train a little after 9 last night near the immigrant sheds in Strachan avenue. He was seen about 9, much intoxicated, walking down Strachan avenue smoking. Not long after he was found about 150 yards east of the crossing by Joe Spence, Strachan avenue and John Morrison, 151 Defoe street. He had been terribly mangled by a passing train. The body was removed to No. 7 Station on a stretcher. Coroner Johnston was notified but will not hold an inquest unless further facts come to light.

His Horses Killed Him.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—William Carter of McGillivray Township, one of the most respected residents of the neighborhood of Clandeboye, was so terribly injured by his horses running away that he lived but a few hours, and died without having regained consciousness. He had hitched up a span of young horses with which he had been plowing during the day, to a wagon, and was driving to a neighbor's, when they got beyond his control, and as they went into the ditch he lost his balance and fell between the wheels and wagon box. One leg was broken in many places, and his scull fractured.

The Maidstone Maiden Mystery.

WINDSOR, Sept. 4.—The body of a woman found in the river at Wyandotte, Mich., this morning was undoubtedly that of Susan Kerr who disappeared from her home in Maidstone, Essex County, on Aug. 29. The description tallies exactly with that furnished by Miss Kerr's parents. She had been troubled in recent years with fits of insanity and left home during one of these spells. Her parents have been nearly crazed with grief since the disappearance. Organized body of searchers have been on the go night and day since Aug. 29.

The Burlington Canal Accident.

HAMILTON, Sept. 4. Six cars were taken out of the canal yesterday and two more to-day, so that there remains but the locomotive and a large quantity of coal to be removed. Naturally the rising of the locomotive is the most difficult part of the work. Two divers are assisting in the operation and are continually on the lookout for the body of Fireman Crouch, which is believed to be underneath the coal.

He Found His Mother Dead.

CORNWALL, Ont., Sept. 4.—Mrs. MacIntosh, a widowed lady about 60 years of age, committed suicide here this morning. She had been complaining of feeling unwell for some days. Her son arose at his usual hour yesterday and missing his mother instituted a search, which resulted, to his horror, in the finding of her dead body in the woodshed and a razor lying in a tub of water near by.

Dropped Dead.

QUEBEC, Sept. 4.—It is reported that a laborer named Mercier dropped dead last night while drinking a glass of liquor in a St. Sauveur tavern.

A Stricken Railway Manager.

HAMILTON, Sept. 3.—Yesterday afternoon William Myles, manager of the Hamilton and Dundas Railway, was suddenly stricken with paralysis in Thomas Myles & Son's coal office. He was at once taken to the city hospital. His right side is completely paralyzed and is in a state of semi-consciousness. His condition is considered by the attending physicians to be very serious. Mr. Myles came from Chicago to take the management of the road, but had lived in Chicago only a year, and had gone there from Toronto.

A Japanese Typhoon.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 1.—The steamer Empress of India brings news of a great typhoon in Japan that caused the loss of 200 lives. The typhoon began on the evening of Aug. 19, and lasted until the following night. The German vessel Helena Rickmers was driven ashore from her anchorage and wrecked. Twenty or thirty of her crew are believed to have been drowned.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!
Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA.

This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have taxed my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

The Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. Barron Again Brings the Matter up in the House—Mr. Haggart Repeats the "Old, Old Story"—The Government to Build the Canal (Within a Century or Two.)

On Tuesday in the House of Commons, on the motion to go into supply, Mr. Barron brought up the subject of the Trent Valley Canal. He began by expressing the hope that there would be some pronouncement from the Government on this subject, and before the house adjourned to-night there would be a sufficiently full discussion to enable the people in the midland districts of Ontario, who took a great interest in this subject, to know what the views of many hon. gentlemen upon it were. He commented upon the fact that there had been a change in the Government, that the Premier of to-day was not the Premier of a few months ago, and remarked that so far as the Government of to-day was concerned they had not yet announced the policy upon the subject. But the force of any answer of that kind was lessened by the fact that since the death of the late Premier the then Minister of Public Works, who has since resigned his portfolio, had stated that the policy pursued by the present administration was to be exactly the same in all particulars as had been pursued in times past by the Conservative party. To show the position assumed by the late Sir John Macdonald upon this question, Mr. Barron read the telegram from the late Premier to Mr. D. R. Murphy, of Trenton on the 3rd March last, in which he said:—

"The Trent Valley Commission have reported favorably on the completion of the scheme. Parliament will be asked in the estimates for a grant next session."

There could not have been a more straight or more determined promise than that. Mr. Barron, taking up the question historically, quoted the report of the engineer-in-chief, dated 21st May, 1881, in favor of the establishment of water communication between the Bay of Quinte and Georgian Bay, and a report of Sir Charles Tupper, dated April, 1882, to the Executive Council recommending the establishment of water communication between Lake Ontario through the mouth of the River Trent and Lake Huron, utilizing the existing waters. After recess, Mr. Barron concluded his speech. Speaking of the work already done on the canal, he said the commission had reported that the four locks at Burleigh might have been made one foot narrower at a saving of $20,000 each. This saving on the 71 locks on the route would amount to a total of almost $1,500,000. Although the first estimate was $10,000,000 as the cost of the canal, he believed it could now be completed at a cost of $5,000,000. This was not too large an amount for Ontario to ask for when the expenditures for railways in other provinces were considered. While $8,000,000 had been expended in Quebec, $4,250,000 in New Brunswick, $9,000,000 in Nova Scotia, only $1,970,000 had been expended in Ontario for railways. He showed the saving of time and distance the Trent Valley Canal route would make from Sault Ste. Marie to Kingston. There would be plenty of trade for the canal by the carriage of grain, lumber and minerals. By statistics he showed that the trade done on the canals of the continent had increased and the usefulness of canals was not passing away. He concluded with a vigorous appeal to the Government to keep their promises, desist from election humbugging and keep faith with the people.

Mr. Barron was followed by three Government supporters and Mr. Haggart advocating the construction of the canal.

Mr. Stevenson of West Peterborough expressed himself as having still some hope that the canal would be completed.

Mr. Burnham of East Peterborough dwelt upon the importance of the canal, especially as a means of shortening the water communication between Chicago and other ports upon the western lakes on the one hand, and Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence on the other.

Mr. Corby advocated the canal and urged that a large sum be placed in the estimates this year.

Mr. Haggart who has had the Bay Canal built to bring grist to his mill, said the Government's policy was unchanged. It would carry on the work. The amount in the estimates this year might be small, but it showed that the Government had not changed their policy, and the report of the commissioners gave them greater encouragement.

On the strength of the above promises made by Mr. Haggart it is not probable that any person will at once begin building boats to run, on the Trent Valley Canal, from Peterborough to Lakefield next summer.

The Northumberland Boodling Charges.

A Local Case of Boodling Ventilated Before a Special Committe of Parliament.

While the boodling business is confined to Ottawa the distance tends to enable us to regard it with none or less equanimity but when it touches a neighbouring riding our interest is more keenly aroused. At Ottawa on Wednesday the trial of Mr. Edward Cochrane, member for East Northumberland, was commenced by the Special Committee. The charge is that he sold for $200 his influence to procure the position of lighthouse-keeper at Presque Isle for Hedley B Simpson, that Arundel R. Simpson was offered for $200 the position of bridge-keeper on the Murray canal, and that Wesley Goodrich subsequently purchased from Mr. Cochrane this position for $200; that John D. Cluston, Wm. Johnson, Wm. Brown, and Robert May each paid for a political purpose $200 to secure positions as attendants on the Murray canal.

The evidence, as elicited at the three sittings of the committee, shows that the spirit of Senecalism has got into the back townships. It was a man high in the counsels of the East Northumberland Tories and a fast friend of Mr. Edward Cochrane, M.P., James Stanley, who gave away the whole plan of campaign. A committee of leading Tories were in the habit of sitting in judgment on the claims of would-be light house keepers and bridge tenders on the Murray Canal, and recommending certain persons for the appointment. After the recommendations were made, but before the appointments, the persons indicated were called upon and asked to "volunteer" subscriptions to the Tory campaign fund. The Tory members of the committee were much hurt when the word "exacted" was used by Mr. Barron. But the word is rather too mild to express a system which closely resembles the business methods of Mr. Senecal. Some of the witnesses had argued themselves into a curious frame of mind in which they imagined that the appointment had no connection with the blood money, but the facts asserted by themselves were conclusive on this point. Take the case of Hedley Simpson, keeper of the Presque Isle lighthouse. He had been a sailor before his appointment and had never in his life contributed a dollar to campaign funds. The moment he got the promise of the appointment he was called upon and induced to give notes for $200, exactly one-half of the purchase he was to get for attending the light. He got the appointment. C. D. Van Alstine got the recommendation of the committee for the position of bridge tender. He was loaned $150, but as he failed to get the appointment his money was returned. What more is required to show that the office was given for the money and the money for the office? An attempt was made to break the force of the evidence by showing that the money was used to pay the costs of an old protest, growing out of a Provincial election, but it matters little to what particular purpose the money was applied. It was asked for and given with the general object of strengthening the Tory party in East Northumberland, which has long been a battle ground for bye elections both Provincial and Federal. If the debts of the party were paid off it was in so much better condition to fight these battles. Besides, the offices which were peddled in this fashion were Dominion offices given upon the recommendation of Mr. Edward Cochrane, the Federal member for the county. Mr. Cochrane may follow the Ministerial example of pleading that he did not know anything about the operations of his committee. He will have to meet the evidence of Arundel Simpson, who said that Mr. Cochrane told him the year after the appointment of Hedley Simpson that he had done a good deal for the Simpson family and that Hedley Simpson had got for $200 a lighthouse for which one Snetsinger had offered $600 or $900.

Wait for the Big show.

A manager who expends thousands of dollars in order that nothing will be neglected that might add to the enjoyment of his patrons certainly deserves success, and, as a rule, he certainly gets it, if the public would endeavor to discriminate between responsible companies and those who possess no stability. There are plenty of good shows, but, unfortunately, there are hundreds which are utterly devoid of merit. Now, any one can tell at a glance if they see a magnificent new store with massive plate glass windows, that it necessarily calls for a great outlay of money to erect it, and the stock in such a store is generally of the finest. The same line of reasoning to theatrical enterprises, for instance: when you see a show billed in the lavish and expensive manner that characterizes "Casey's Troubles" company you can rest assured that there is money and push back of it. The beautiful, artistic pictorial lithographic work, is the finest and the costliest on the road. No lithographing firm would attempt that kind of work without having ten thousand dollars down to insure them from loss. This is only one of the many items of a great show, and the same good taste which provides this beautiful printing will neglect no other department of the show. So there is not a doubt that the production of "Casey's Troubles" is the biggest show of the season.

It is education that makes all the difference between the men who dig in the ditch and the man who bosses the job. It is the superior qualities of Ayer's Sarsaparilla that give it its acknowledged pre-eminence over all other blood purifiers.

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The Voice of the People.

In every part of Canada the voice of the people rules, and the voice of the people endorses Burdock Blood Bitters as the best and surest blood purified known. Nothing drives out boils, blotches, humors, sores and impurity so quickly as B.B.B., and perfect health with bright clear skin always follows its use. dw

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

Norman L. Munro Says He Will Build a Yacht to Cross in Four Days—Inventor Mosher Says It Can Be Done In Eighty Hours—The New Ship on the Model of the Norwood.

There are two men in this city who confidently believe that the four-day ship will be a creation of the immediate future. One of these enthusiasts is Norman L. Munro, owner of the marvellous little steam launch Norwood, and the other is C. D. Mosher, inventor of the powerful tubular boiler which generates the steam that makes the Norwood the fastest craft of her kind in the world. Both Mr. Munro and Mr. Mosher believe that the Norwood is the precursor of the steamship which will cover the 2,800 miles between Sandy Hook and Queenstown within ninety six hours. The success of the Norwood has convinced Mr. Munro of the practicability of making a yacht twice her length on the same model that will make 36 knots or about 35 shore miles an hour, and he is going to make one.

Mr. Munro said yesterday:

"The Norwood is an unexampled success. She has realized my expectations, but she has not yet shown the world what she is capable of doing. I am sure she can maintain, as long as her coal lasts, a speed of thirty statute miles an hour. I would not call her a success if she were capable of running at that rate only for an hour or so. I think she can give the Monmouth five miles start from Pier 8 and be at Sandy Hook far ahead of her."

Mr. Munro says that he is going to begin to build this fall a yacht to beat all records — even those of the best torpedo boats. She will be about 125 feet long, and will have double the power of the Norwood. She will be fitted with two Mosher boilers, which will supply steam to two sets of triple expansion engines driving two propellers 500 revolutions a minute. She will have sufficient coal capacity to last her, going at full speed, from New York to Queenstown. Mr. Munro will not have her unless her constructor guarantees that she will make 36 knots or about 35 miles an hour for 200 miles on her total trip. If she is successful Mr. Munro says that he will have an ocean steamer built to make the trip to Queenstown in four days.

THE NORWOOD.

Mr. Mosher has an order for a yacht somewhat larger than the Norwood that shall take over 30 knots, or about 35 statute miles an hour. It is being designed by William Gardner, the naval architect who built the Mirra and other famous cutters. Mr. Mosher said yesterday:

"I may run the risk of being considered ridiculous, not to say demented, when I declare that I believe I can build a boat to make 38 knots, or 40 statute miles an hour. But I believe I can do it. I would, of course, sacrifice everything to speed. No freight at all, and only a very limited quantity of mail would be carried. All passengers, and they would be limited, would have to pay about rates for transportation on the new lightning nautical express. I am sure that this steamship it need not be more than 500 feet long—could keep up, uninterruptedly from New York to Queenstown a speed of 35 knots. You can easily figure the time of crossing from that."

Mr. Mosher was somewhat overcome by the contemplation of his little scheme. While he was getting his breath the reporter calculated that the new Mosher express, with the flag of the Yankee nation snapping over the taffrail, would make the flight to Roche's Point in eighty hours, or just three days and a third.

Mr. Norman L. Munro, who has the honor of showing the world what the Mosher plan of boiler and engine may accomplish in a good model, is a native of Pictou county, Nova Scotia. He abandoned farming on his bleak native soil, and came here when he was a young man. Since then he has been publishing the Family Story Paper and hunting for steam yachts and launches to beat all creation. He thinks he has struck the right idea at last, and will try to prove it.

Tea and Its Consumption in America.

The export of teas from China and Japan to New York for the season of 1889-90 embraced about 81,000,000 pounds. In 1888-9 it was 80,848,700, and in 1887 it was 85,830,300 pounds. The special review of the Chamber of Commerce for 1890 omits any general statement of importation, consumption, or prices. Teas have steadily declined in price, and that with concomitant regret of importer, jobber, and broker. The fall in price is alleged to be chiefly due to the large shipments to this country from England and Canada; and these are said to be occasioned by the removal several years ago of the differential duty of 10 per cent. by the Federal government. Canada, closely protectionist in this matter, compels payment of 10 per cent. differential duty on teas warehoused in the United States and then transported thither, even when they were purchased for importation to her own limits. England ships her surplus to the United States without payment of duty, and without payment of additional freight, provided it be reshipped within six months after arrival in London. Commercial America hopes is that Congress will restore the 10 per cent. differential duty on teas coming from any other than the country of production. Oolong from the island of Formosa is reported to be the most popular with consumers, although in quality hardly equal to the fine Foochow tea. India and Ceylon teas are chiefly acceptable to educated palates, which do not comprise many of American origin, for the reason that their education has been neglected. Hence the liking for unwonted flavors is not widespread. The truth is that Americans are not a tea-drinking people, and that the annual per capita consumption of 1½ pounds has been virtually stationary for the past forty years.—Harper's Magazine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

WAR TALK CALLED FORTH BY SEDAN DAY.

Zola's Sensational Bell for France, Which He Declares is Ready, While Germany Says That She Will With God's Aid Fight as Courageously as 20 Years Ago.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Sedan Day was celebrated here with school fetes, services in churches, parades of veterans and banquets to the soldiers of the garrison. The principal monuments were decorated with wreaths and the public buildings and many private houses were covered with flags. A large new imperial crown wrought of copper surmounting the dome of the new Reichstag building was exposed to view for the first time. The papers concur in regarding the situation as a grave one. The Post says: "It is a great error to dissimulate the fact that the position is becoming worse. We celebrate the victory that saw rise the aurora of the German Empire. In recalling Count Von Moltke's saying that Germany must remain 50 years under arms in order to keep what she had won at Sedan, we have no desire to trouble peace, but if others provoke war Germany will be resolute and will fight as courageously as 20 years ago confident in God's aid."

The Kreuz Zeitung says: "If war is inevitable it will be a struggle of which the world has never seen the like. Our splendid army and generals of proved capacity and the courage and energy of the Emperor give us confidence in the result which will involve the very existence of Germany. If we are beaten it will be finis Germaniae."

The Freisinnige Zeitung says: "Germany unified after Sedan will remain one. In spite of the divergence between the German political parties all are resolved to maintain what was got at cost of much courage, more liberal institutions would further strengthen the country." Pastor Stoecker, in a letter to Das Volk, says: "The men of Germany may soon be summoned to defend the privileges won on bloody fields of 1870 and to fight for unity and honor and liberty. At the critical moment Catholic Socialists and all Germans alike will do their duty."

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The papers generally make no reference to Sedan.

An article by Zola in The Figaro proclaiming the necessity of wiping out Sedan is the sensation of the day. Zola says: "France is ready and henceforth has nothing to fear. Time has worked for us against the conquerors. Germany is at her apogee of power already, one almost hears the voice of the tempest that will sweep away another imperial dynasty and cause to totter a nation that has put forth its best efforts. Its best days are over. France surviving Sedan and drawing strength from defeat is invincible."

Love's Young Dream.

Love's young dream was a very bright one, and its fulfilment will be bright, too, if the bride will remember that she is a woman, and liable to all the ills peculiar to her sex. We remind those that are suffering from any of these, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will renew the hue of youth in pale and sallow cheeks, correct irritating uterine diseases, arrest and cure ulceration and inflammation and infuse new vitality into a wasting body. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years. b

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. cod-w

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	667,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109 522.88
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)		$64,824 07
" " " "	1886, "	89,452 97
" " " "	1890, (four years)	232,175 69

The Port Hope Times of Thursday says: The prettiest wedding that has taken place for some time past, occurred at St. John's Rectory, last evening, when Mr. Geo. W. Wyatt, watchmaker and jeweller, Peterborough, was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Byrne, the fair daughter of our fellow townsman, Daniel Byrne, Esq. The marriage was celebrated at the Rectory in consequence of sickness in the household of the bride's father. At the conclusion of the beautiful Church of England marriage service, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Daniel, the happy couple, amid showers of rice and congratulations, boarded the train for Peterborough, were Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt's future residence will be.

LABOR NINE HOURS A DAY.

The Workingmen Endorse the Nine-Hour System.

Spirited Speeches by Several Union Men —The Town Workingmen Take a Practical Interest in Town Affairs—A Deputation Appointed.

There was not a very large attendance at the public meeting of workingmen in Labor Hall last night, but an active interest was shown in the matters discussed by all present.

SUBJECTS FOR DISCUSSION.

Mr. Geo. Rose occupied the chair, and in opening announced the object of the meeting. There was work to be done in connection with the building of the Car Works, and it was thought by workingmen that a clause should be put in the bylaw that the contract be given to none but town contractors, and that none but town workingmen be employed and under the nine-hour system. Some were of opinion that this was too great an interference with other men's business, but he thought not. The shop clerks had the early closing law, and why should not the workingman have the same protection. A sample of how bringing in outsiders to do work affected the 9-hour system, was given in the building of the George street church tower, where the Toronto contractor worked his men ten hours a day, while bricklayers in town have been observing the 9-hour system. The present appeared to be a critical time for the 9-hour system of labor, and it should be vigorously supported. Discussion was invited on these matters.

A DEPUTATION.

Mr. MCGREGOR thought it advisable to appoint a deputation to wait on the town council with reference to this matter. The 9 hour movement was carried with difficulty in town, and the principle ought not to be allowed to lapse. The workingmen as ratepayers were interested in the car works buildings and should have something to say as to how the work was to be done. He moved that a deputation be appointed for this purpose.

Mr. A. WEBB said if the contract was given to an outsider he would be bound to a certain time, and he would have to take the first and any men that came along in order to have it finished in time; but if the town did the work by the day all the town workingmen would be given a chance.

The Chairman said he did not approve of the town doing the work by the day; but let the contractor base his tender on the 9 hour system and he would lose nothing.

Mr. P. J. MCNAMARA supported the idea of giving the work to town workingmen and said the workingmen should insist that the work be done under the 9 hour system, as had been done for some time past.

AN ALDERMAN'S VIEWS.

COUNCILLOR DAWSON endorsed the 9 hour system, and said the deputation should go to the council and request them to give the work to a town contractor, for he believed all but one of the town contractors approved of the 9 hour system. But as to inserting a clause in the contract making it compulsory on the contractor to adopt the 9-hour system, he said he could not support such a motion for it would be exceeding his duty as councillor to thus interfere with a man's business. Mr. Dawson grew warm in his advocacy of the 9-hour system, and pitched into the Knights of Labor for not doing anything to help the Peterborough workingmen in this matter. He said the man who had the contract on the George street church tower was a strong union man in Toronto, but here he works his men ten hours a day. He ought to be run out of town, Mr. Dawson said.

The Chairman said he did not see why the 9 hour clause could not be inserted in the contract. The merchants had adopted the early closing movement, which was the same in principle.

Mr. DAWSON explained that the merchants had gained authority from the Government to do as they had done, but the workingmen's unions had not got the Government to declare that 9 hours a day was a legal day's work.

The Chairman said there was no law on the Statutes of Canada making ten hours a legal day's work.

SOME OPPOSITION.

The District Secretary of the Knights of Labor stated that the notices in factories concerning 10 hours a day for labor (to which Mr. Dawson had referred) were simply notices put up in accordance with the requirements of the Factories Act, which state that no man shall be expected to work more than 10 hour a day. It was custom that had made 10 hours the recognized standard for a day's labor, and custom could make 9 hours a day the standard. The speaker defended the Knights of Labor against Mr. Dawson's remarks, and pointed out what that body had done in the Dominion, however quiet they had been in Peterborough. The speaker supported the resolution and said he would go further and advocate that the deputation wait on the council and ask them to insert a clause in the contract making nine hours a day the regular time and further that no wages lower than the union rate be paid to the laborers as well as to the organized mechanics—which he thought should not be less than 15c an hour. Toronto council inserted clauses like this, and why could it not be done here?

There was some discussion concerning the regulation of the wages, but Mr. McGregor and others thought that the to be contended for was the nine hours a day, which being upheld there would be no difficulty about the wages.

Mr. HARRY MCDONALD thought it advisable to have the 9-hour clause inserted if possible so that no weak kneed contractor would have the chance of making his men work the ten hours.

Mr. MCNAMARA made another spirited speech in support of the 9-hour system, and Mr. Dawson, Mr. Regan and Mr. McNamara had quite a discussion on the subject of union masters. Messrs. John Gibson, H. Carveth and others also joined in, the former stoutly defending the laborer's interests. The discussion threatened to be prolonged, when the chairman put the resolution moved by Mr. McGregor, to the effect that a deputation be appointed to wait on the council and prevail upon them to let the contract for the Car Works building to none but town contractors; and that a clause be inserted in the contract that nine hours be a day's work thereon.

A DEPUTATION APPOINTED

The resolution was adopted unanimously, and upon request the chairman name Messrs. McGregor, Hogan, McNamara, Carveth and Cinkscale.

Another resolution was then introduced, that the deputation ask the council to insert a clause in the contract to the effect that laborers wages shall not be less than 13c. an hour.

There was some discussion on this resolution, and it was amended by making the rate $1.25 per day, and then carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Robt. Hamilton, Sr.

In the usual place in this issue will be found the announcement of the death of Mrs. Robert Hamilton, sr., which sad event took place last Thursday. The deceased lady, on Friday last, returned home from a pleasant visit with friends at Chemong Park, in excellent health and spirits, having been apparently much benefitted by her stay at the Park. But on Saturday evening last she was attacked with a violent renewal of her old trouble—enlargement of the liver. Her sufferings, which were very severe, were borne with Christian fortitude and patience till this afternoon, when death put an end to her pain. Mrs. Hamilton was a native of Rotherham, Yorkshire, England, where she was married to her late husband at Sheffield parish church, in 1846. Ten years later they removed to Canada, living first at Port Hope till 1861, when they removed to Peterborough, where they have since resided. Mrs. Hamilton was a lady of many estimable qualities, a faithful and affectionate wife, a kind and obliging neighbour and a warm friend to all with whom she came in social contact. She was a devoted member of the congregation of St. John's, a most regular communicant and seldom was her seat among the worshipers vacant. Mrs. Hamilton was held in very high esteem by all classes of the community and her bereaved husband—their marriage being unblessed with children—will receive general sympathy in the loneliness in which his great bereavement has left him. Funeral to morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to St. Johns, thence to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Striking the Rate.

An important meeting of the Finance Committee of the town council will be held to-night—to strike the rate.

Police Court.

After several days of blank calenders, the police court slate bore a charge of allowing her cow to run at large brought against Mrs. Bailey this morning. A fine of $2 and costs was imposed.

Lacrosse in Port Hope.

A match game between the Canadians, champions of the Toronto League, and the Ontarios, an alleged Port Hope team, will be played in the Town Park on Saturday afternoon. An interesting game is expected.

St. Joseph's Hospital.

Report for month ending Aug. 31st, 1891: Number treated during month, 19; No. remaining in hospital, 9; No. discharged, 9; died 1; pay patients, 7; non-paying, 12. Attending physicians for the month, Drs. Halliday and McGrath.

Bobcaygeon Rate of Taxation.

At its last meeting the Bobcaygeon village council struck the rate of taxation at 23 mills on the dollar. Mr. Smiff thinks that with spirits at 10 cents a glass, and the rate of taxation 23 mills on the dollar, life is not what it is cracked up to be.

Opera House Dates.

Mr. McDowell, representing the "Casey's Troubles" comedy company, is in town today. The above appears here on the 9th. Mr. Banks, representing "Alvin Joslin," is expected here next week to bill his company, which will be in Peterborough about the 20th.

Operating an Iron Mine.

Mr. G. L. Woodworth, representing the Belmont Bessemer Ore Co., was, says the North Hastings Review, in Madoc on Monday, securing men to open a new iron mine in the township of Belmont, near Blairton. The company is composed of New York capitalists, and expects to mine on a big scale.

The Peculiarity of the Verb, Eat.

There is a peculiarity about this little word which perhaps some have noticed. In the first place it has reference to the consumption of food, and secondly has reference to most important drink. The verb eat, either in the present or past tense, contains the letters of the word tea—hawley bro.' fine tea is the particular beverage meant.

MISS COOK,

Of Hall, Innes & Co., Simcoe street, will open her dress making rooms on Monday, the 7th inst She has spent the last month in New York and Newport, and on her return will be in a better position than ever to please her numerous patrons.

Rapid Transit.

Steam and the steel highway have done a great deal towards annihilating time and distance. The distance across the continent is now brought within a very close limit. On Sept. 3rd the Peterborough Lock Works Company received an order for locks from British Columbia, written on August 27—only a week being needed from the date of the order, without allowing for delay in mailing, a delay of half a day or so in Toronto or Carleton Place where mails are transferred, to send and deliver a letter over a distance of nearly 3,000 miles

The Car Works Enterprise.

The Port Hope Times says: "The town of Peterborough last week voted a big bonus to a new car works company." The Times is a little out twice. Practically the town didn't vote any "big bonus." It simply voted a sum of $6,000 to construct buildings, which will be the property of the town, and the firm of Paterson & Corbin will merely have the use of them. The firm is not, either, a "new" company, but an established business which comes to Peterborough for the sake of being in a live town, and to get the advantage of the railway connections, which Peterborough possesses in a condition superior to any other town in Canada. The Times in its little splenetic paragraph is correct except that it is all wrong.

Consecrated a Deacon.

At St. Peter's Cathedral this morning an interesting and impressive ceremony took place, namely, the consecration of Rev. T. Collins, of Lindsay to the deaconship. The ceremony was performed by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, and he was assisted by Very Rev. P. D. Laurent, V.G., Lindsay; Very Rev. J. Browne, V.G., Dorro; Rev. W. J. Kelly, Douro; Rev. D. O'Connell, Eoniemore, and the Cathedral clergy. There was a large congregation present to witness the ceremony, which was marked by the solemn impressiveness that characterize the rites of the church. Rev. Mr. McColl will be consecrated to the priesthood on Sunday next at the 10:30 mass at St. Peter's Cathedral.

Lakefield Justice.

On Wednesday at Lakefield a magistrates court was held, the bench comprising Mr. John Hull, J.P., Mr. A. V. R. Young, J.P., Peterborough, and Mr. Samuel Nelson, J. P. The case, that occupied the attention of the court from 9 o'clock in the morning till four o'clock in the afternoon, was a charge of injury to property brought against James Fanning, Peterborough, and damages were claimed. The injury consisted in the defendant running into a buggy from behind and injuring the top, the buggy belonging to Mr. James Watson, Douro. The evidence of Mrs. James and Mr. Thomas Watson, who were in the vehicle injured went to show that they were driving on the road between Lakefield and Young's Point on Sunday, Aug. 30th, at a pretty sharp pace, and that when they slowed down the tongue of the vehicle of the defendants struck the top of the buggy. They did not think the injury was intentional but due to careless driving. The defendant claimed the collision was an accident due to the sudden stopping of the vehicle in front of him. The magistrates reserved decision.

F. M. C.

In the Canadian Order of Foresters' hall Simcoe street, last night was instituted a ruling (lodge) of the Fraternal Mystic Circle by the Supreme Deputy, P. W. R., Bro. J. A. McMurtry, of Toronto. This is one of the Secret Beneficiary Order and insures its members in the sum of $3,000, and at remarkably low cost. The order is very popular and successful, and it is expected that this charter will close with a level 75 names. On motion it was resolved that the meeting stand adjourned for one week to meet again in this Hall on Thursday evening next week, when it is expected the W. R. of Toronto Ruling, No. 213, and several prominent members of the order in the city will be present to assist in installing the officers for the current term. Every petitioner to this charter should be present at the next meeting, as a good time is expected, In the mean time any eligable person desirous of becoming a charter member can do so at the low charter, fee only $6.50. Full particular to be had at the music store of E H. Turner, 423 George street or of A. H. Melville, or any of the members.

A Dog Worth Having.

Mr. George Cochrane, License Inspector, came down from the lakes Wednesday night, after having spent some holidays at his lodge there. A basket belonging to him was accidentally taken away amongst the luggage of another camper, who on arriving home observed the mistake and sent the basket back to the station. The rightful owner was notified in the morning, and on going to the station for his basket he found it protected by a dog which he had with him at Stony Lake. The dog, a good deer hunter, belonged to Mr. Thos. Rutherford, and had been borrowed for the camping expedition. When Mr. Cochrane arrived at Peterborough Wednesday night he missed the dog, and supposed it had scampered away to its own home as soon as it got off the train. But the next morning the faithful brute was found beside the basket at the station. It had apparently followed the basket when it was first taken away, and subsequently returned with it, lying by its side all through the night, shivering with cold but watchful to the last. The station employes and others tried to drive the dog away that they might take the basket inside, but the dog kept all intruders away by the threatening displays he made of his teeth. Not until the owner of the basket appeared did the dog relax his vigil, when, his duty being performed, he ran away home quite contented.

The Local Lacrosse Team and the Association.

An Explanation of the Position of the Local Team.

In the Toronto World of yesterday appeared the following despatch:

MADOC, Ont., Sept 2.—The Peterborough Lacrosse club, after their defeat in Madoc on the 20th ult., tied with the latter team, and the question of playing off the tie was left to the President of the C.L.A., who this week ordered the deciding match to be played at Belleville to-day. Madoc was ready, and wired Peterborough to know if they would be on hand, but the latter replied that they would not play and had resigned from the association. The big towns of Kingston and Peterborough therefore lower their colors to Madoc, and leave the latter champions of the eastern district for the season of 1891. Madoc will now have the privilege of competing for the intermediate championship at Toronto.

There needs but little reply, beyond some explanation, to the above unsportsmanlike despatch sent (doubtless) by the Madoc Lacrosse Club. The facts are simply these: The first match of the District series was played in Peterborough on July 15th, between Peterborough and Madoc, the latter team being defeated. The next match was played at Madoc on Aug. 20th, when the match was decided against Peterborough, but it was not to be counted a defeat, pending the protest which Peterborough entered on the grounds of the Madoc club playing an outsider and a professional. Without in any way heeding the protest, the Central Association adjudged the match to Madoc, making the tie, and appointing the deciding match to be played at Belleville Thursday last, and that without consulting the Peterboroughs. This was manifestly unfair, for the rules require that such a match should be played on some neutral grounds as near midway as to distance, as possible between the two competing clubs. The fact is that Belleville is about seventy miles from Peterborough and only about thirty from Madoc. Besides the Peterborough team were notified on Tuesday by telegram that the match was to be played on Thursday, only one clear day between notice and match. Many of the Peterborough team being off on their holidays, and not being able to be reached within time appointed for the contest, the Peterborough's could not get its team together. Thus taking into consideration with the refusal to entertain a well grounded protest and the selection of a site out of the way and unfair to the Peterboroughs, and without any arrangements being made for a proper allocation of the expenses, the Peterborough's would have been foolhardy to enter the contest, and very properly resigned from the Association thus leaving Madoc with the doubtful glory of holding the district championship by a fluke, and, as far as any play of theirs was concerned, by the aid of imported players. The Peterboroughs felt fully justified in retiring, in which they will be supported by all true sportsmen. The bucolic bluster of the Madoc team in claiming Peterborough with Kingston is unjust. Kingston defaulted to the association on the eve of a match on the first of July with-ut cause, but Peterborough was in one sense driven from the Association. The reflections cast upon the home team by Madoc appear all the more unjust when it is remembered that Peterborough has always played a square game, with its own men, and is perhaps the only team in the whole Association which has not had imported or professional players protected against. Our boys are content to win or lose on a square game fairly played by bona fide members of the competing teams, and set little value upon victory obtained by the help of 'hired men' or by the arbitrary decree of the Central Association.

A Farm House Burned.

This morning a fire broke out in the residence of Mr. John Sweeny, north half of lot 1, in concession 4, Eoniamore. When Mr. Sweeny discovered the fire it had made so great progress that it was with great difficulty that the family escaped with their lives. The house with its contents was entirely destroyed. The blaze originated in the back kitchen. The house belonged to Mr. J. J. Lundy, but it is not now known whether there is any insurance.

The Salvation Army's Big Go.

The Musical Musketeers of Toronto, of the Salvation Army corps will arrive in town from Norwood, to-morrow morning at 7:10 and escorted, by a detachment of the local corps, will parade the streets and perform musical selections, and wake the early echoes, and the sleepy saint and sinner as well. In the evening a grand open air meeting will be held at some suitable public point at which the proceedings will consist of the usual devotional exercises, interspersed with music by the Musketeers, followed by a grand free and easy at the barracks. There will be meetings at the barracks all day on Sunday, with brief intermissions for taking — breath and meals—the meetings begin in the morning at 7 o'clock and continue till they close.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla. It had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Scratched 28 Years

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease With Sudden Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

M I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an untold amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease ever again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 57) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

SCORES OF CORSETS MAKE A PRETTY BONFIRE BLAZE.

Electric Effect of a Revivalist's Words in a Small Canadian Village Hereafter the Women Who Were Charmed will "Live as God Made Them."

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 5.—A few weeks ago the Free Methodists began a series of revival meetings in Sydenham and made many converts. Women seemed particularly anxious to be gathered into the fold. As the number of converts increased the excitement grew, and the meetings, which were held in the Town Hall, grew so noisy that complaint was made to the authorities, and the revivalists were notified on Tuesday that they would have to hold their meetings elsewhere.

Nothing daunted they left the place, after putting out scouts to advise their friends where the meeting was to be held, and adjourned to a large vacant lot in the edge of the town. Here they were addressed by J. F. Fraser, a revivalist, who sallied into the prevailing mode of female dress and said women are born beautiful and die misshapen because of the wearing of corsets. Fraser is an earnest and powerful speaker and his words created great excitement among the women present.

"Throw off the accursed invention" he cried, "throw it off and go to God as you left him. Burn them rather than burn yourselves in everlasting fire!"

This suggestion struck a responsive chord and he had hardly ceased speaking when an enthusiast piled up material for a bonfire and applied a match. It was a weird scene, the dusky evening, the crowd of religious enthusiasts, quivering with excitement, surrounding a fire which shot up long tongues of flame.

"Throw of the garment!" shouted the revivalist.

"Burn them!" hysterically cried a feminine voice in the crowd, and pushing and panting a young woman of 25 forced her way to the centre near the bonfire. She was tugging at her dress. There was a sudden gleam of white shoulders in the glare of the firelight and she flung her corset into the flames, saying she would die as God had made her and not as she had made herself.

Her example was contagious and in less than half an hour not a woman in the crowd wore a corset, and nothing remained in the blaze but a mass of grotesquely twisted corset steels, amid which the flames playfully flickered. The excitement was so great and the nervous strain so tense that several women grew faint, but they had burned their corsets and were happy.

The Free Methodists consider the revival a great success and talk of carrying the war into the States.

About Anglo-Saxon.

KINGSTON, Sept. 5.—Alfred L. Ridley, sentenced to four years in the Kingston penitentiary for forgery at the Elgin Fall Assizes in 1887, was released recently, his time having expired. It is stated that on his release he received a large sum of money from the Old Country, and left without seeing his relatives or friends or notifying them of his movements.

Ridley was a well known insurance agent at St. Thomas and a prominent politician. He probably wrote more communications to the newspapers than any other man in Canada, his nom de plume "Anglo Saxon" being familiar from Windsor to Montreal. He was also a leading Imperial Federationist. When he was arrested for forging the name of Daniel Warney, a wealthy Yarmouth quaker, with whom he had formerly acted as agent for $1,500, a calamity cry was sounded.

Ridley's wife, who is well-connected in England, was still living in St. Thomas, with her parents at last accounts.

The Body Found.

HAMILTON, Sept. 5.—The body of Fireman Couch, one of the victims of the terrible railway accident at the Beach on Sunday night, was recovered yesterday by Thomas Armstrong. The face and head have evidently been terribly scalded by the steam from the locomotive, as hardly a vestige of skin remains on the face, and some of the hair has disappeared.

A large force of men are still busily engaged in raising the wreckage out of the canal. As they have succeeded in getting out all the cars and the tender, there remain little but the locomotive, a few car trucks and 170 tons of coal.

He Hammered a Cartridge Home.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Sept. 5.—Johnnie Baxter went to Wilson's Falls, taking his revolver with him. He had a cartridge, but it was a trifle too large to enter the magazine. Pointing the muzzle towards him, and doubtless thinking that nothing would cause the cartridge to explode except the strike of the hammer, he commenced driving the cartridge home with a piece of iron. Of course a report followed, and the ball entered Johnnie's body just below the stomach. Dr. Bridgland was unable to locate the ball, but the chances were that the boy might die at any time.

Pursuing the Convict.

ORANGEVILLE, Sept. 5.—Dufferin fall assizes open in the court house next Monday before His Lordship Judge Rose. There is only one action on the civil docket that of the Waterloo Mutual Fire Insurance Company vs. Kirkland. The defendant was convicted fire-bug who is now serving a three years' sentence in Kingston Penitentiary, and the insurance company that was instrumental in getting him there is now endeavoring to recover the amount of the insurance money paid the convict.

Trade Unusually Brisk.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. Special telegrams to Bradstreets report further improvement in several lines of staples, notably dry goods, worsteds, nats and caps, clothing, hardware, provisions, rubber and lumber.

There is more activity shown in nearly all staple lines in the Dominion. Millinery fall opening sales at both Toronto and Montreal have been unusually successful. Sales of dry goods are larger as well. The Dominion reports 17 business failures this week, against 21 last week and 25 this week last year. The total number Jan. 1 to date is 1,321, against 1105 last year.

TURKEY'S AGREEMENT.

CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH RUSSIA PASSES THE DARDANELLES

The Semi-Official Statement Quickening the British Foreign Office in Obtaining Concerted Action of the Powers to Bear Upon the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5.—It is semi-officially announced that Turkey's agreement with Russia arising out of the Moscowa incident permits vessels of the Black Sea volunteer fleet carrying convicts, guarded by soldiers, bound to the Pacific, to pass through the Dardanelles on the Russian embassy advising the Porte and obtaining his consent.

Vessels carry discharged soldiers returning home unarmed will be allowed to pass through the Dardanelles on a satisfactory declaration by the commander of each vessel. This agreement does not affect existing treaties.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The semi-official statement which the Porte issued yesterday in regard to the agreement with Russia touching the passage by the Russia volunteer fleet through the Dardanelles is quickening the British Foreign Office in its efforts to obtain concerted action on the part of the treaty powers in demanding full explanations from the Porte. Within two days Lord Salisbury's attitude appears to have changed from one of pretended indifference into one of keen diplomatic activity. From Chateauville, where he still abides, he has roused the officials of the foreign department here, through whom night and day copies of dispatches pass in a stream to and from the European capitals. A high official of the department takes a view that the Russo-Turkish agreement will make necessary an early demonstration on the part of Great Britain, even if she has to act alone. Lord Salisbury's position, as it is understood to have been communicated to the Powers, is that the Russo-Turkish agreement is an extension of the treaty of Paris. Turkey could not assent to open a flagrant violation of the treaty by giving Russia the right to send warships through the straits, but she makes concessions tantamount to the same privilege in permitting the passage through the Dardanelles of a volunteer fleet equipped with guns and filled with soldiers. In the developments of diplomacy swift or slow British intervention ultimately appears to be inevitable. The Paris Temps compares the Russian volunteer fleet with the British steamers built for armaments in time of war. The fact is, when the treaty of Paris was concluded it was not foreseen that vessels would be designed of mixed merchants and war character. The Temps distinctly indicates that the French Government intends to support the Sultan's right to enter into a special contract with Russia outside of the articles of the treaty, with the straits trouble is directly involved the question of Egypt. Mankhtar Pasha the Parties commissioner in Cairo, has renewed his demand through the Khedive for the evacuation of Egypt by the English. Cairo advices state that it this demand is refused Mankhtar Pasha will ask the sultan to recall him and to leave the post vacant as a protest against the Khedive's continuacy towards the Suez-train. The British Ambassador at Constantinople Sir William White, is on the worst passable personal terms with the Sultan who has repeatedly made excuses to avoid seeing him.

Operations of French Corps.

PARIS, Sept. 5. General Saussier has arrived at Barsur-Aube to take the chief command of the French military manœuvres. The operations of the Fifth and Sixth corps began yesterday. So far they have been of unimportant character, consisting chiefly of reconnoissances and skirmishes between cavalry supported by artillery feeling the way for the forces on either side. The condition of the troops is excellent in spite of the great heat that prevails.

Fort Protecting Experiments.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A despatch from Kiel says that extensive experiments have been commenced at Friedrichsort with the view of protecting the fort at that place and elsewhere by a series of submarine mines against a possible attack from the sea. As a result of these experiments merchant vessels passing Friedrichsort are obliged to take a pilot on board, and they will have to continue so doing until the mines are removed.

As M. P.'s Wife in the Poor-House.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Patrick James Foley, M. P. for the Connemara division of Galway, hitherto supposed to be one of the most confirmed bachelors of the Irish party has a wife confined in the insane ward of the Lancaster poorhouse, of which she has been an inmate for ten years. Mrs. Foley was admitted in February, 1881, by the Islington Board of Guardians, and the authorities did not know she was the wife of a member of Parliament till recently.

Horrible Conditions of Living.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—From St. Petersburg comes more hideous news of the sufferings of the starving peasantry. In the valley of the Volga emaciated wretches can be seen feeding like beasts on the grass of the fields, while others resort to the forests and chew leaves to assuage the pangs of hunger. When a boat is seen on the river the people of whole villages line the banks, earnestly pleading for assistance.

Canadian's Victimized by a Chicago Co.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—President A. P. T. Elder and Vice-President and Secretary H. L. Barder of the Elder Publishing Co. of this city are in jail unable to secure bonds, on charges of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. An additional charge of having imported an alien under contract was lodged against Elder. It is claimed the concern has swindled hundreds of persons, the company even extending its operations to Canada and Australia. Jared Houset, a farm lad of 20 from Three Rivers, and Richard H. Jones, the alien in the case and formerly a butcher in London, Ont., makes complaint of being the latest victims. Investigating innocents to sign one sided contracts to act as "agents" for the company is said to be the method of the swindle. Between 300 and 600 letters a day from would-be "agents," generally enclosing money, are said to have been received.

OTTAWA OLLA PODRIDA.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT'S CENSUS MOTION DEFEATED BY 22.

Hon. John Haggart Vindicates Himself—The Cochrane Investigation Continued—Government Clerks Who Order Dry-Goods for Their Wives and Have the Bills Sent to the Government for Payment.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—When the members went sleepily home to bed yesterday morning it was a quarter after three. There were many exciting passages, and the discussion was of a personal character seldom been in the House of Commons.

At 3 o'clock the division took place and Sir Richard's amendment was defeated by 103 to 81, 22 majority for the Government. The Government members sang "God Save the Queen." In closing the debate for the Government, Hon. John Haggart took occasion to make a specific denial of the charges which have been made against him in the Public Accounts Committee and in the press. He admitted that he himself was a fair object of attack, but thought that Mr. Cameron of Huron, who had mentioned the matter on the night before, should have been above casting aspersion on the fair name of women who were in almost every case defenceless. Those women were as honorable as any in the land. He himself had never exchanged an unchaste word with any woman in this department and asked the House to support him in the demand that their rights be respected, and challenged Mr. Cameron to a fair trial of any charges which he might have to make.

THE COCHRANE CASE.

The Investigation Into the Charges Concluded Yesterday.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5. The committee investigating the charges against Edward Cochrane, member for East Northumberland, met again yesterday afternoon. Wesley Goodrich, bridge tender on the Murray Canal, said he heard that Henry Simpson was an applicant for the position. He asked Mr. Cochrane to get him the position on the bridge. Mr. Cochrane replied that there were other applicants, but that it was foolish to let his farm go, because he (witness) had said to several neighbors he would give his farm for a position on the bridge his health being bad. He did give a lease of his farm to Obadiah Simpson for one peppercorn to secure the position. He told Mr. Cochrane that he was willing to give a life-lease of his farm in order to secure the position, but did not tell him that he was willing to give $200 for that purpose. He did pay $200, however, before giving the lease.

Mr. Barron: "To whom did you pay the $200?"

Witness explained that he understood that he had to give Wade $200 for the position. Wade lived a long way from his house. He went to Mr. Cochrane's house and asked him if he would take it. Mr. Cochrane said to take it to Mr. Payne. Mr. Payne also lived a long distance off. Mr. Cochrane said his son Wallace was going and wanted to take it. He suggested that it should be counted. Mr. Cochrane did not seem willing to take it and count it, but finally he did, and gave it to Wallace, who gave it to Payne.

Mr. Cochrane did not want to take the money and only did so to accommodate him.

Mr. Barron: "What value did you get for the $200?"

Mr. Goodrich: "Well I got the situation on the bridge."

Continuing, witness said he paid the money to Mr. Cochrane a year ago last fall and got the appointment a year ago last spring.

This practically concluded the case.

The committee adjourned till Thursday next, when it will prepare a report.

DRYGOODS FOR THEIR WIVES.

One Method of Making Use of the Government Purse.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5. Notwithstanding that the Commons sat until after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, there was a quorum at the Public Accounts Committee when it was convened at 10 o'clock yesterday. The Bourcier case of the Public Works Department was taken up by Mr. Somerville.

Mr. McDougall, Auditor-General, was called in regard to some of the accounts, and on being asked if he ever called the attention of the Deputy Ministers to some accounts between the departments and contractors for supplies. Mr. McDougall said he would rather not answer the question, and he was not asked to do so.

Mr. Bourcier, who is a dry goods merchant in Ottawa, and who, it is said, had supplied one Horace Talbot, of the Department of Public Works, with various articles of dry goods, etc., on an official order of the department, was called, but he did not answer.

James Ashfield, who deals in glassware, was next called. Questioned by Mr. Somerville in various ways, he denied giving commission to the civil servants by an occasional contribution to churches and bazaars which they might be canvassing for.

At this stage Mr. Bourcier arrived. Examined by Mr. Somerville in respect to several accounts and cheques accepted by him, he said he never made the accounts out, neither did he sell the goods or get the money. This was done by Mr. A. C. Larose, with whom he was clerking. The Government never gave any business to Mr. Larose. He got the contracts from the Government, being a good Conservative. He bought the goods from Larose, and the latter gave him a commission. Larose was not now in business, but he (Bourcier) was. The accounts shown him amounted to $600.

Mr. Charlebois, bookkeeper to Larose in 1885, was the next witness. Shown some of the accounts mentioned, he said that he made them out.

"For the articles specified in them?"

Witness: No.

"For what?"

"Oh, for drygoods, or whatever Mr. E. Dionne or Mr. Horace Talbot wanted. Both had running accounts at the store. They would come to the store, order the goods and they would be sent to their houses."

Mr. Somerville: Are the goods they got mentioned on the invoices?

Witness: Oh, they were household goods for their wives and families. The goods on the invoices were such things as the department required.

Mr. Somerville: How were they paid?

Witness: They were paid by Government check.

Mr. Somerville: Did Larose know of the transaction?

Horace Talbot was then called. He made out the requisitions for supplies and the secretary signed them. The goods mentioned on the lists must have been received at the department, because Larose was paid for them. Asked as to his duties, he said he was at the call of the secretary. He denied everything or evaded the question. He said that the stories were gathered by Liberal members on the streets and around low places in Ottawa. Asked if he gave a silk dress to ex-Deputy Baillarge he replied: "Oh, that's so disgusting, you make my stomach ache!" He said the deputy knew that goods came from Larose.

A. C. Larose was the next witness. He said both Talbot and Dionne had running accounts at his store in 1885. He got checks or goods, but the accounts were not made out in his name because he was not a Liberal. They asked him to get some good Conservatives to make out their accounts in his name. He did so and sold the goods in the way mentioned. Talbot and Dionne asked him to render the accounts in a certain way and he did so. They got value for their goods and he got his money. He never gave them the goods until they came with the checks.

Mr. Talbot, cross-examining Larose, asked him to swear that goods were delivered at his house. The latter replied that his wife and family were there every day and goods were sent wherever they asked them to be, and when you took these checks you knew you were defrauding the Government. (Laughter.) Just a moment before Mr. Coatsworth and Mr. Taylor, were endeavoring to frighten Mr. Larose from giving evidence on the ground that he was defrauding the Government.

Mr. E. Dionne was the next witness. He answered "No," to all questions.

Mr. Somerville asked that he should have a report of the investigation made into Talbot's conduct in 1885 regarding this very matter. At that time the Deputy Minister, the Secretary and the Accountant enquired into this very matter.

THE KEEWATIN.

The Investigation Into the Charges Against Lt.-Gov. Schultz.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—The charges of misappropriating public money preferred by James Stewart, Winnipeg, against Lieut.-Gov. Schultz of Manitoba were investigated at a special meeting of the Public Accounts Committee last night.

Mr. Mulock wanted to examine Mr. Schultz first upon the items in the accounts relating to expenses of boat Keewatin on trip north.

Mr. Foster said that charges having been made against the Lieutenant-Governor it was only fair that the man who made the charge should first be examined and then Mr. Schultz could reply.

After an hour's discussions Mr. Foster's view prevailed, and James Stewart, who acted as sailing master, was examined. He objected to an item in the Auditor-General's report for 1890 of $180 for wages, stating that he and another man were the only hands and were paid $135; to an item of $68 for repairs, which he contended were not needed, because the boat was new, and to an item of $97 for provisions, which he stated he had bought and paid for himself. It appeared, however, that Stewart's connection with the boat stopped on July 15, 1889, and he was not aware, that a subsequent trip was made, to which some of the items referred. Mr. Schultz produced an affidavit from Monckman, Stewart's companion stating he had purchased the provisions himself, that Mr. Schultz had afterwards refunded him an equal amount of provisions and that Stewart bought none. Mr. Schultz also produced receipt from Matthew Watt to show that he had really made a cut on the repairs.

The Keewatin has had an important history. In the fall of 1890 she capsized and Oliver Morphy and two others were drowned. Stewart said she capsized again this year and lost her cargo. Stewart was asked a number of questions which showed he knew little about sailing.

The committee adjourned at midnight.

Uncle Thomas Denies.

PORTLAND, Me. Sept. 5.—Mr. Thomas McGreevy, M. P. for West Quebec, will say very little about the troubles which drove him from the Dominion. He denies that he has been in hiding or that he has had any reason to hide himself.

The whole trouble, which has resulted in the yet unfinished investigation, he ascribes to political feeling.

A Detective's Successful Work.

LISTOWEL, Sept. 5.—Government Detective Murray arrived here last night from Manitoba, with James Chambers, alias Gilkinson, who is wanted for the attempted murder of Listowel's chief of police at Clinton some months ago. Chambers and his companion committed a number of robberies in Wellington and Huron, and when Chief Bulmer attempted to arrest him at Clinton, he fired a couple of bullets into the officer and escaped. He next turned up at Portage la Prairie, where he was arrested.

Found Dead in Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Bunting of William-street went into No. 5, Lundy's terrace to see her neighbor, Mrs. Cuthbert. On entering the house she was shocked to find Mrs. Cuthbert lying on the floor dead. Drs. Clarke and Poole agreed that she had been dead for fully one hour and that heart disease was the cause of death.

Killed by a Horse.

BEETON, Ont., Sept. 5.—George, son of Mr. H. Brett, on the 12th concession, while cutting with the binder in heavy grain the machine became choked and necessitated greater speed, and as the boy was behind the horse urging the animal along, it became vicious and kicked him in the stomach. Twenty hours later he died.

A Car-Coupler Smashed.

WALLACEBURG, Ont., Sept. 5.—A man named Melvin Turnbull, belonging to Dresden, was accidentally killed here at noon yesterday while coupling cars in the Erie & Huron railway yard. His foot got caught in a frog, and, before he could release it, he was knocked down, a wheel running over his head, crushing his brains out.

A Gunning Accident.

MARMORA, Sept. 5.—A gunning accident occurred here last night. When Harry Boldrick, a son of James Boldrick of Stirling, was pushing his boat from shore his gun slipped and discharged, lodging the charge in his left arm above the elbow, which was shattered so badly as to render amputation necessary.

A Postmaster Sent Down.

QUEBEC, Sept. 5.—A postmaster named Grenier of Bonaventure county has just been sentenced to penitentiary for two years on his confession. It appears that a Montreal gentleman sent $55 in a registered letter to his daughter, who was summering at that place, and the postmaster kept the money.

Crushed Between Cars.

BEETON, Sept. 5.—A brakeman on the Beeton and Collingwood branch named Wagner was about to couple a passenger car with a freight car, when he was nipped between the two and severely crushed. His shoulder blade was broken and he was injured internally.

An Eye Put Out.

MARMORA, Sept. 5.—A son of William Bonter was helping Richard Leonard kill a sheep, when the knife slipped and struck him in the eye, putting it out.

A DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

The Building and 16 Workmen Blown to Atoms.

WHITE PIGEON, Mich., Sept. 5.—The dynamite factory of F. S. Reynolds & Co., near this place, exploded yesterday. It is estimated that there were about 20 tons of dynamite in the building, which was a three-story brick. Scarcely a vestige of it remains. Sixteen workmen, mostly Swedes and Norwegians, were completely annihilated. Not an atom of them is to be found, and it is impossible to learn their names, as the company's books, pay rolls, etc., are lost. As it was early none of the proprietors were in the building at the time of the explosion. The loss is estimated at $35,000. The concussion in White Pigeon was awful and citizens were badly frightened. Goods in the stores were thrown from the shelves and houses rocked to and fro. The spire of the German Lutheran Church fell with a loud crash, and the walls of several buildings are cracked and damaged.

An Official's Close Call.

MARKDALE, Sept. 5.—Mr. John Lyons, inspector of weights and measures, had a close call. He returned from an extended official tour up the lakes and felt out of sorts and concluded to doctor himself up a bit, and took a dose of saltpetre in mistake for salts. The error was immediately discovered and emetics promptly administered by his wife while the physician was being summoned. The old gentleman suffered severely and was in a critical condition all day, but is now out of danger.

An Invaluable Route.

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—Public interest is taken here in the rapid transmit of the mails of the Empress of India for Vancouver to New York. This is clearly voiced in a Time's editorial, which speaks of the probable delivery of mails in London 21 days after leaving Yokohama as an unprecedented feat sufficiently remarkable in itself to be pregnant of untold issues in the future of the British Empire.

The Pall Mall Gazette declares the route invaluable in the event of war.

A Terrible Charge.

TORONTO, Sept. 5.—Charles Cottingham, 10 Claremont place, was arrested yesterday charged with attempting to violate his daughter, a girl 14 years old. P. C. Gumnarston made the arrest.

BUY YOURSELF
A HOME!

Heads of families who are tenants why do you not pluck up courage enough to resolve upon buying yourselves a home? You have a few dollars or a few hundred, either of which may soon slip away or should they remain in the bank at four per cent. interest will only bring a very paltry return. You are not living in a village or hamlet where property is likely to decrease in value, but on the contrary, in what is acknowledged by all to be the BEST TOWN IN CANADA. This being the case, why delay one day longer. Your own good judgment must tell you that real estate of any kind is not likely to be cheaper, but on the contrary, will certainly be dearer, and that in the near future, consequently delay to you means loss, which you can and should avoid. At present I have a choice variety of all kinds of property in the centre of the town and in every direction therefrom, and most of those are at old and low prices, therefore come in and secure a lot or a house and lot. Do so to-day.

NOW PLAY HONEST. If by reading what I have to say my brain to write and my pocket to have printed and placed before you, you should conclude to buy, to whom should you go? To those who have slept while I have worked and have kept their money while I have spent mine for your benefit. You are honest and I know what your decision will be. Call to-day.

"The Conservative organization in East Northumberland must be "hard up" indeed remarks the Mail, an independent organ of Conservative leanings, when it accepts a contribution of $200 from a government employee on a salary of $400. The party loyalty of the well-to do members has evidently become exhausted, else so heavy a tax would scarcely be levied on a humble follower."

THE ELECTRICAL EXHIBITION AT MONTREAL.

An electrical exhibition, unequalled in magnitude and costliness, and which from the nature of the exhibits will, without doubt, be unequalled as a source of instruction to intelligent Canadians, and of almost incalculable value to the country at large, is about to be held in Montreal, P. Q., commencing Sept. 7th, and remaining open ten days. During the past decade the wonderful strides made by the giants in the electrical world have kept the public open-mouthed in bewildered astonishment Now for the first time an exhibition of all that is new, useful and novel in the electrical line will be given. The wonderfully practical uses to which electricity has been and can be put will be demonstrated; every piece of machinery, from the powerful motor of 150 h.p. to the small one for running a fan or sewing machine, will be operated by the mysterious current. Those who now linger anxiously on the corner of a street, waiting for a horse car, will look with pleasure upon the wonderful mechanism of the electric motor cars, and go away to dream of rapid transit. Those who have had their avoirdupois reduced by the burning rays of a July sun will be sorry the winter is coming, when they see how happy they could be in the cool breezes of an electric fan. The unfortunate householder with his last quarter's gas bill occupying space near his pocket-book, will find his eyes brighten at the thought that such is a thing of yesterday, and that the illuminant for him is the cool, steady, and inexpensive incandescent light, To the friends of invalids it will be a matter of pleasure that electricity will not only assist the physician in the performance of his professional duties but will materially assist the recovery of the patient by enabling him or her to listen with gladdened ear to the divine notes of a Patti, or silver tongue of some favorite orator, through the agency of the wonderful Edison Phonograph. To the capitalist, artizan, or anyone interested in mining, the development of our inexhaustible mines and the utilization of what is now the wasted energy of our vast water powers is a subject of intense interest. Where now tons upon tons of water rush madly over polished rock, unutilized, buildings can be erected, water wheels put in and connected with generators which will transmit the power in any direction and to any distance. At the mine it will be used to drill the rock, extract the ore convey it to the crusher, illuminate the works, and if necessary, finally convey it to the railway for transportation to the manufacturing centres.

The foregoing gives but a slight idea of what the Exhibition will be like. There can, however, be no doubt as to its amply repaying anyone for a visit. To most people, seeing is believing and were anyone to attempt to describe some of the exhibits, they might be laughed at for their pains; but after a personal inspection, even the most sceptical will be convinced, and ready to accept the next electrical story off-hand.

The exhibition is to be held under the auspices of, and in connection with the meeting of the National Electric Light Association of the United States. It opens on the 7th of September, and continues for a period of ten days. The first week will be devoted to the business meetings of the Association, which will be held each day from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m, at which sessions papers will be read and discussed by some of the brightest minds in the electrical fraternity. The afternoons and evenings of the same week will be filled out with an elaborate programme of entertainments, arranged by an executive committee of the citizens of Montreal, whose hands have been upheld by a very liberal appropriation from the city authorities, supplemented by most generous contributions from private sources. This Exhibition will have all the more interest for Peterborough, inasmuch a local institution—the the Edison General Electrical Co'y—will contribute a large quantity—some three or four carloads—of electrical apparatus to the Exhibition, including about thirty dynamos, a large number of motors, plant appliances, wires, etc., etc.,—in general a full sample exhibit of the immense variety of electrical apparatus and appliances manufactured by the Edison General Electric Company in Peterborough.

An Enjoyable Night.

One of the brightest performances ever witnessed says Guy Pemberton in the Evening Sun, is that delightful, whimsical, natural play, "Casey's Troubles." It is homelike, the story most probable and interesting, causing tears of sympathy or hearty laughter. Unconstrained you are interested in Miss Kennedy's portrayal of "Bess." You laugh and cry with her as she flits like a beam of light through each act of the play. She laughs, cries, sings, dances; she's a hoyden, a trusting little fisher maid maiden, and no matter what she does she carries you along with her an unresisting worshiper at her shrine. What a sturdy, massive, picturesque figure Mr. Sullivan is in the character of "Davis," the rough fisherman and heroic lover; his quiet intensity suggest the strength of the ocean. And I laugh with renewed enjoyment at I recall that delightful, verdant, uproarious foolish "Bob Backus" as played by Mr. Kennedy. I surrendered at once; I'm laughing yet, and I advise those who deplore the fact that we have so few good plays, go see "Casey's Troubles," and be happy. d56

Great Care Exercised.

The Bank of England's doors are now so finely balanced that the clerk, by pressing a knob under his desk, can close the outer doors instantly, and they cannot be opened again except by special process. This is done to prevent the daring and ingenious unemployed of the great metropolis from robbing the famous institution. The bullion department of this and other great English banking establishment are nightly submerged in several feet of water by the action of the machinery.

The fact that such great care is exercised daily in banking institutions in order to prevent robbery and wrecking, should remind every man and woman that they have a treasure to guard, of greater value than all the gold contained in the Bank of England and other kindred institutions.

This treasure is life; the most precious of all the gifts that God can bestow. Yet men and women go on from day to day, heedless of foes which find an entrance through unguarded channels. These foes, unless promptly arrested and turned out, must wreck this great and priceless treasure, life. To-day these foes are numerous, treacherous, daring and unrelenting. They respect neither sex, age or social position, and are ever on the alert to effect an entrance and prosecute their terrible designs.

In Canada, those which are most to be dreaded to-day are nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, languidness, worn-out feelings, despondency, morbidness and paralysis. Dreadful foes to think of and contend with; but more hideous still is the consummation of their work when they bring on, as is often the result paresis and insanity.

To guard properly that great treasure, life, we require at hand an agent as quick and effective in its action as is the machinery used for closing the great outer doors of the Bank of England.

The great acknowledged agent of modern times is Paine's Celery Compound, which, if used when the first slight symptoms are felt, will effectually close the doors against disease and suffering. Should you have neglected the premonitory symptoms and allowed any of the above mentioned dreaded foes to weaken you or lay you low, there is no power or remedy on earth that can so completely restore you to perfect health and strength as Paine's Celery Compound. Its sales are now enormous in every section of the country, and all are deeply impressed with its great remedial properties.

"Five years ago I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and had been given up by my physicians. I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after using two bottles of this medicine, was completely cured."—Anga A. Lewis, Richard N.Y.

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

A Bank Robber Lynched.

LOUISVILLE, Miss., Sept. 4.—Andrew Murrell, one of the two men engaged in the robbery of the Bank of Corder, at Corder, a village in this county, on the Chicago and Alton Railroad, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was taken from the Sheriff's posse at 9 o'clock last night and hanged to a tree a mile from the village.

The two men entered the bank, a small affair, while Cashier Groves was alone and compelled him to give them all the money he had. $663.93.

They then rode out of town, shooting right and left, and after dividing the money separated, one escaping to the Missouri River, the other being captured in a cornfield.

Murrell was from Knoxville, Tenn., and told his captors he had been stealing since he was ten years old, but that this was his first bank robbery. He had $318 when captured.

WATER UNDER THE SKIN.

A Berlin Doctor Makes Discovery of Interest to the Healing Profession.

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—A rather remarkable discovery has just been made by Dr. C. L. Sleich of this city. He was conducting experiments with a view to determining how weak a solution of cocaine would prove efficacious as a local anæsthetic in the minor surgical operations when he stumbled upon the fact that simple water ejected under the skin with a syringe renders the flesh at that point insensible to pain. The effect of the water is to create a slight swelling, resembling that caused by a sting. The space marked by the swelling remains insensible to pain for some minutes, so that incisions can be made without causing the slightest pain. To what extent this novel discovery will prove of practical worth to surgery cannot yet be determined. Dr. Sleich made use of it in the case of a huge carbuncle on the upper thigh. The insertion of the syringe was rendered painless by spraying with ether, and after the injection of water the doctor laid the carbuncle open by cross incision eight centimetres in length and scooped out the dead tissue, the patient declaring that the operation gave but slight pain. This treatment has no ill effect on the healing of the wound. In the case just mentioned the cuts at once reunited and healed perfectly.

ARMIES IN MOTION.

Military Manœuvres that Demand no Little Attention.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—In France, the Alsace-Lorraine and in Austria immense bodies of troops were set in motion yesterday, the being the date fixed for the long contemplated, much discussed grand army manœuvres of France, Germany and Austria. In view of the heated war talk caused by the echoes of Sedan, the Dardanelles incident and the Constantinople understanding, to say nothing of the renewal of the Dreibund, these military movements are being watched with the most feverish attention by the military men and diplomats of Europe. Changes in military organization, improved equipments, smokeless powder and new rifles are having their first real campaign test and much may depend upon the result. In England this showing of war material attracts deep attention.

THE TWO EMPERORS.

VIENNA, Sept. 4.—Emperor William of Germany, accompanied by Chancellor Von Caprivi, at Horn yesterday met Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who was accompanied by the King of Saxony, and the entire party, surrounded by brilliant military suite and escorted cavalry, proceeded on horseback to the headquarters at Gopitzen and engaged in the manœuvres.

A Presage of War.

BERLIN, Sept. 4. The appearance of the army worm, as it is called, in the Harz district, has given rise to forebodings among the peasantry of the approach of war. It is said that the presence of this worm or grub has always been followed at an early date by war and famine. The grub does not injure the crops, eating only fallen leaves or vegetable refuse.

Russia and the Suez Canal.

LONDON, Sept. 4. The Paris correspondent of the Times says Russia has purchased with the so-called sinapage fund as many Suez canal bonds as could be procured, in order to acquire influence at the company's meeting, so as at an opportune moment to turn the scale in favor of the French element.

Another French Railway Horror.

LONDON, Sept. 4. A report came from Paris last night that a transport train had gone down an embankment at Culmont de Chalindrey, that 200 persons were killed. The report is not confirmed.

The Grand Vizier Dismissed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 4. The sultan has dismissed from office the grand vizier and president of the council, Kamil Pasha. It is thought Djewad Pasha, governor of Crete, will succeed him.

Germany and American Pork.

BERLIN, Sept. 4. The long expected decree rescinding prohibition placed upon importation of American pork in Germany was signed yesterday.

Cable Chat.

Russian troops are about to enter Bokhara under the pretense of maintaining order.

Count Kalnoky and Chancellor Von Caprivi held a conference at Vienna yesterday of several hours duration.

The Imperial Bank of Russia has been empowered to make a temporary issue of notes to the amount of 25,000,000 roubles.

M. D. Hubert, editor of Gil Blas, and M. Laurent, editor of Le Gour, fought a duel at Paris yesterday. Hubert was wounded in the knee.

The Sultan has dismissed from office the Grand Vizier and President of the council Kramel Pasha. It is thought Djewad Pasha, Governor of Crete, will succeed him.

It is stated on high medical authority that the Queen of Roumania is afflicted with consumption of the spine and weakness of the heart.

A Brakeman Seriously Injured.

TORONTO, Sept. 3. George Banks, a brakesman on the Grand Trunk Railway, was seriously injured at Inglewood last evening. While putting on the brakes he lost his balance and fell between the cars, several of which passed over him. One leg was almost severed from the body just below the knee, and the other foot was badly crushed. He was also bruised above the left eye. Dr. Gillmore of Toronto attended the wounded man, who was taken to the city on the 9.30 train last evening. From the Union Station he was removed to the hospital in the ambulance.

SEALERS COMING IN.

Three Vessels Which Had a Streak of Luck in Behring Sea.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 4.—The sealing schooners Sapphire, Carmonite and Walter A. Earle returned to port yesterday with big catches. The Sapphire brought 2,435 skins, making the total catch for the season 3,443. She was warned out of the sea by H.M.S. Porpoise on August 9. The Walter A. Earle's catch is 2,967, of which 1,021 were captured in the sea. This vessel was also warned to leave Behring sea by the Porpoise on August 12.

The schooner Carmonite made a catch of 760 despite bad weather, and headed for Behring sea about the middle of July. Just before reaching the pass she was driven on the lee shore during a terrific hurricane, which carried away her foremast and did other damage to the vessel's rigging. The principal injury was soon repaired and she entered the sea on the 20th of July for the 24 days. Neal, Capt. Cutler says, were very plentiful indeed. He corroborated the story told by other sealers, who state that there never was a season when seal were seen in such numbers.

Labor Congress Officers.

QUEBEC, Sept. 4.—At a meeting yesterday of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress the following officers were elected:

President—M. Lafontaine, Montreal.

Vice-President—George T. Beales, Toronto.

Sec.-Treas.—George W. Dower, Toronto.

Executive Board (Ontario section)—A. W. Wright, Philadelphia; A. Lavigne, Ottawa; Charles March, Toronto.

There was a long debate upon state-aided immigration, and a resolution condemnatory of the same was adopted.

Parlor Matches Effectual in Suicide.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth Roy wife of Louis Roy of the real estate firm of Roy & Nourse, died at the German Hospital yesterday. A coroner's jury decided that she committed suicide while temporarily insane. Mrs. Roy had a quarrel with her husband last Wednesday. After her husband had left the house she soaked a box of parlor matches in water until all the phosphorous was dissolved. Having swallowed this concoction she came down stairs and remarked to one of the boarders: "I have done it."

No Doctor's Bills in Japan.

When a rich man calls on a physician he does not expect that he will be presented a bill for medical services. In fact, no such thing as a doctor's bill is known in Japan, although nearly all the other modern practices are in vogue there. The doctor never asks for his fee. The strict honesty of the people does not make this necessary. When he is through with a patient a present is made to him of whatever suits the patient or his friend—may be—[illegible]. The doctor is supposed to [illegible] fee, how and there is [illegible] with a Japanese Parsonage.

A Dead Shot

right at the seat of difficulty, is accomplished by the sure and steady aim of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Don't fool around with a pop gun or "First-look," when this reliable "Winchester" is within reach! Dr. Sage's treatment of catarrh is far superior to the ordinary, and when directions are reasonably well followed, results in a permanent cure. Don't longer be indifferent to the verified claims of this unfailing remedy. $500 is offered, in good faith, for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head, by its proprietors, the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. A Narrow Escape.

"I would probably have been in my grave to-day had it not been for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. For two years I suffered from bowel complaint and became very weak and thin, but after using half a bottle of the Extract I was completely cured and have since had not return of the complaint."—Miss Hilton, 34 Huntley street, Toronto. dw

Purity of ingredients and accuracy of compounding, make Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine the criterion of excellence. dw

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means. dw

Don't You Forget It.

"I will never forget that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved my life. Five years ago I had a terrible attack of summer complaint and was given up by my doctor and my parents. A friend advised Fowler's Strawberry and at the second dose I was relieved and soon was as well as ever."—Maggie McGillivray, Falkenburg, Ont. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VESTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

A Decided Mistake.

The Minden Echo makes the statement that there are over eighty cases of typhoid fever in Peterborough. This is an absurd mistake. It probably arose from a paragraph in the Times about a week ago, which was intended to apply to Toronto, but which by mistake in "making up" was placed under a wrong heading and thus made to apply to Peterborough. The Millbrook Reporter also falls into the same error by quoting the paragraph. It is to be hoped that these journals will make amends by correcting this error, which it is apparent is a mistake without malice pretense. It may be stated that the law requires that cases of typhoid fever are to be reported to the Medical Health Officer. The fact is that no cases have been so reported and therefore they do not exist and it is probable that there is not a case of true typhoid in town. There are a few cases of malarial fever incident to the season, and in some cases in which the person attacked is of weak constitution or debilitated, the simple malarial fever sometimes takes on a typhoid form, but it is safe to say that there is no prevalent typhoid fever in town. Nor are there any domestic cases of diphtheria; there are two or three cases in hospital, but compared to the population of the town these form a very small percentage. It is true that there is a considerable number of diarrhœal cases, the most serious ones being with weak children. This is what is to be expected at this season of the year, and is the most healthful communities, and this condition is not due so much to any general sanitary condition as to carelessness and improvidence in the use of foods that should be avoided, or carefully partaken of, at this season of the year.

The Peculiarity of the Verb. Eat.

There is a peculiarity about this little word which perhaps some have noticed. In the first place it has reference to the consumption of food, and secondly has reference to most important drink. The verb eat, either in the present or past tense, contains the letters of the word tea—hawley bro.' fine tea is the particular beverage meant.

Sanitary School Inspection.

Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer of Peterborough and Ashburnham, has inspected the public school buildings and premises Ashburnham, looking, to the ventilation of the building itself and the condition of the outbuildings and noting the condition of the water supply. He is making an analysis of the water. He found the buildings and surroundings in good condition. The schools of the town will be dealt with in a similar manner.

Cannonading in the Park.

Loud reports, like the discharge of heavy ordnance, reverbrated through the town in quick succession last night and everyone was on the qui vive to ascertain the cause. Some thought it was an echo from the printers practising for their baseball match to-day, but that was a mistake. The Peterborough wing of the Durham Field Battery was drilling on the Central Park and fired several rounds of blank cartridge from their guns. The boom of the cannon could be heard a long distance.

Eggs on the Double Shell.

Mrs. Jno. Irwin, of the post-office, made a rare discovery the other day. She was cooking some eggs she had purchased on the market, and on breaking the shell of one, another smaller egg rolled out instead of the usual meat. The egg inside was about the size of a pigeon's egg. It was perfectly formed and was separated from the outer shell by a layer of "white," without any yolk. Mrs. Irwin preserved the smaller egg intact, and exhibits it and the outer shell as a rare curiosity.

A Drunk With a Broken Face.

"Patrick Flynn, age 56, residence, none" was entered on the police blotter for trial this morning on a charge of drunkenness. Flynn when arrested by Constable Stewart last night was in a shocking state of intoxication. He had fallen more than once on the ground, and his face was bleeding copiously from the cuts and scratches which covered his countenance. This morning he was fined $2 by the magistrate, but no money was accepted from him until his friends in town come to his rescue. Flynn came here from western Ontario.

The Musketeers Arrive.

The seven o'clock train brought to town from Norwood the Musical Musketeers, a travelling band of musicians attached to the Salvation Army. They were welcomed at the station by a number of officers and soldiers of the local corps, and a procession was formed which paraded George street and Simcoe street to the barracks. The Musketeers comprise nine talented musicians, two of whom are lassies. They form a brass band on the street, and play on divers stringed and reed instruments at inside meetings. They will be the attraction at the barracks to-night and Sunday, leaving on Monday for points west on their way to headquarters at Toronto.

The New School and the New Flag.

The ceremony of opening the new school house, No. 12, Asphodel, was conducted with great success on Friday. There was a large and enthusiastic attendance. There was fine singing by the children followed by the enthusiastic hoisting of the flag, all the children putting their willing hands to the halyards. Mr Frank Birdsall performed the duties of chairman and addresses were given by Rev. J. W. McCleary, Ashburnham; Mr. Inspector Browne, Mr. T. Blezard, M.P.P., and by some other ministers and prominent persons present. After the speeches there was a pic-nic feast, and a delightful day generally was spent, the opening of the school and the hoisting of the flag being a great success.

As Good as his Word

As announced in the columns of this paper a few days ago, Mr. J. J. Sheehy held a grand Bargain day Sale to day, and judging from the number of parcels bearing his name in letters of red ink, which were seen in the hands of thrifty buyers from town and country, his efforts to please the people must have been a grand success. Outside his store to-day, rather a novel sign attracted the attention of passers-by. On a ground of spotless white were attached in letters of bright red material, the words—"To-day is Bargain Day at J. J. Sheehy's." For the future on certain days this sign will adorn the front of Mr. Sheehy's store. It will be a beacon light, as it were, to the purchasing public for genuine bargains. Special sale in the Hosiery and Glove department this evening.

Football Club.

A football club was organized among the pupils of the Collegiate Institute yesterday. There is a large membership, and if the enthusiasm manifested at the inauguration is turned to practical account, the raw material of which there is an abundance on hand, will quickly be developed into good football talent. The club will affiliate with the P. A. A. A., on whose grounds practice will be held every afternoon, beginning Monday. These officers were elected:—

HONORARY PRESIDENT—Cortez Fessenden, M.A., Principal

PRESIDENT.—J. A. Fife, B.A.

VICE PRESIDENT—Bert. Brooks.

CAPTAIN.—W. S. Drope, B.A.

SECRETARY.—Jno. VanEvery.

TREASURER—Rollie McWilliams.

COMMITTEE. — The above officers and Messrs. F. Heap, B.A., and Harold Fife.

Football should be boomed. Every other department of sport has this year been in a moribund condition to a greater or less extent, and during the fall, when football will be the only game practised, all young men of athletic proclivities, ought to rally to its support. Let another team be gotten up in the town, and a friendly rivalry instituted between the two teams. This would lead to the development of a combined club which would be able to cope with the best in the province. A few weeks' hard practice will accomplish wonders in this respect.

A Railway Fatality.

One Man Killed and Three Other Persons Wounded.

About nine o'clock this morning a collision occurred on the G. T. R. at Lorneville Junction, which was attended with fatal results. It seems that the express from Midland was backing up the line according to orders, and as it reached the diamond a locomotive with van attached attempted to cross in front of it. There was probably a mixture of orders or a misunderstanding somewhere to account for the collision. The rear coach of the passenger train struck the van and demolished it. The wrecked car was which it knocked down. Mr. Stewart, road-master, of Uxbridge, was in the van and seeing a collision was inevitable he jumped and ran. Just as he reached an apparently safe distance, he came in the way of the descending telegraph pole and was CRUSHED TO THE GROUND.

The blow fell on his head, and he died a few minutes later.

Those on the passenger train had a very narrow escape. A lady and two other passengers were injured. It was reported the lady was killed, but this is not the case. The passenger coach was not derailed, only one set of trucks being thrown off the tracks.

The damage to the railway will not be very heavy, and there was no interference with traffic.

Mr. Stewart, the unfortunate victim of the accident, was one of the oldest and most highly respected railroad men in the employment of the Grand Trunk. Deceased was well known among his fellow-workmen on this division. He was a local preacher. A large family in Uxbridge mourns his loss.

Telephone Charges.

The Prices to be Raised to the Original Rates.

From the Montreal "Star."

The numerous subscribers to the Bell Telephone, who have enjoyed the use of that instrument for some time past, will not be a little surprised at the announcement which the Company is at present making of its intention of increasing its rates. Those whose contracts are at present expiring are receiving together with their accounts a notification to the effect that should they desire to continue the use of the instrument during the ensuing year, the rate will be increased so much. Upon enquiry at the Company's offices to-day it was learned that the scale of increase in rates was: for dwellings, $25 to $30; for doctors, $25 to $35, and for general business offices, $25 to $50. It was explained that these were rates similar to those which previously prevailed, but which were temporarily reduced at the Company's own discretion. "The Federal Company," said the official seen "sunk from $260,000 to $270,000 and we lost money. Now, however, that this Company is out of the way we feel compelled to return to a paying basis. We may, of course, lose a number of subscribers by the change."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The above clipping from the Montreal Star shows conclusively the wisdom of the course pursued lately in this town by our local opposition to the Bell company. The Ontario Telephone Company has in reality done more for the telephone using public here than would at first appear or than they are generally given credit for. When they started operations last January there were about 160 people in this town who felt they could afford to enjoy a service at the rates then charged by the Bell Co.—viz. $30 per year or $25 on a three year contract. To-day after 8 months service there are two hundred and ninety four services connected with the Ontario system at their much more reasonable rate, and all are well satisfied to pay the moderate price asked for the service, even in the face of the free telephone service farce which has been worked here since last November on the part of the Bell Co. Since the Ontario was so vigorously taken hold of by our leading business men and has received such generous support from the entire public, the Bell have swallowed up the Federal in Montreal, and the clipping shows the consequence. Hundreds of men, who have for the past two years enjoyed a much more perfect service than they ever had before at the reasonable rates charged by the Federal Company, will be obliged to pay double now or lose their service entirely—and the monopoly fattens on the proceeds. How many of our townspeople, who are now enjoying the Ontario service at a rate they feel they can afford, would be obliged to forego the convenience of a telephone should such a disastrous thing occur as the absorption of our local company by the big monopoly. In taking telephonic service it is well for every man who has his own and his townsmen's interest at heart to ask himself if he should not do all in his power to encourage the company which has brought telephone service here within the reach of all.

A. SHAREHOLDER.

Central Exhibition.

Mr. W. Collins, Secretary, has completed arrangements with the Grand Trunk railway by which special trains will be run for the the benefit of visitors to, and exhibitors at the Central Exhibition. Persons along the Grand Junction can return home in the evening about 5 or 6 p.m and in the evening of the twenty third a special freight will be run at 6 o'clock to enable exhibitors of stock to get their horses and other animals to Lindsay that evening.

They Stayed at Home.

A group of shivering baseball players gathered at the C.P.R. station this morning before daybreak with the intention of taking the early train to Galt, where the Peterborough team is billed for a game to-day. After waiting half an hour, for the train was late, they were informed that the train was fifty minutes or more behind time, and with the heavy load it was carrying the probability was she would lose more time. This meant certain loss of connection at Toronto, without which they could not reach Galt, so the ball players decided to wait no longer and went dejectedly home. It was unfortunate that circumstances prevented the carrying out of their agreement, but the ball team was not to blame for it.

Hospital Extension.

The Nicholls Hospital Trust purpose making a much-needed enlargement of the hospital building. In another column tenders are asked for the erection of an addition for a "contagious diseases" department. Mr. Blackwell, architect, has prepared the necessary plans, providing for the raising of the rear wing, which fronts on the lane behind the hospital, another storey higher, the upper annex being laid out in wards for patients suffering from contagious diseases. By this means complete isolation is secured, the wing being cut off from the main building and the wards placed in the upper story of this wing. There will be in the new department four small rooms, one large one, 17 x 18 feet, and another room larger still which may be used for any purpose. This department will have a bath and perfect heating and ventilating arrangements. In the past all cases of contagious diseases have been placed in the upper story of the main building, a rather unsatisfactory arrangement, and the new building it is expected will be much better. The work will cost about $2,000.

Grand Opera House, Toronto.

A Special Attraction Secured for the Second Week of the Industrial Exhibition

Among the many attractions that Toronto has for visitors during the exhibition, the Grand Opera House has always been one of the most important. Very few would care to visit that great city without going to see that great Temple of Music, comedy and drama. Since it was first opened by the late lamented Adelaide Neilson, there has been presented within its walls all that has been excellent in the way of amusement. The present season promises to be a particularly brilliant one. Nearly every prominent attraction on the American continent will appear within its walls during the theatrical year, chief among which may be mentioned the famous comedy, Dr. Bill, which will be presented during the second week of the Industrial Exhibition, viz., the week of Sept. 14th. Dr. Bill has been secured by Manager Sheppard at an enormous expense and comes direct from London, England, where it has been running over 500 nights. When you go to the Exhibition, don't fail to go to the Grand Opera House and see Dr. Bill.

Scratched 28 Years

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease With Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 4, page 67) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

13 TRAIN ROBBERS SHOT.

A BODY OF RANGERS KILL ALL OF THE GANG BUT TWO.

Two of the Rangers Killed by the Return Fire of Robbers. A Short Engagement in Which the Outlaws Were Outnumbered and Almost Decimated.

UVALDE, Texas, Sept. 7. The train robbers, who were thought to have escaped across the Rio Grande River with a sum said to be $20,000, which they secured from the express car on the Southern Pacific Railway, were met Saturday by a body of rangers who had been in pursuit and a battle took place. From reports received 13 of the robbers and two rangers were killed and several on both sides were wounded. The rangers followed what was thought to be the course pursued by the robbers through the mountain passes, and although they had several times lost the trail they pulled up on the robbers. Thursday they discovered evidence that the men were but a few miles ahead of them and were headed toward Las Vegas. The pursuers pulled up on the bandits strongly and made better time, for after pushing on a portion of the night they were rewarded Saturday by falling in with the outlaws. The engagement was short as the bandits were outnumbered. They held the best position, however, and stood their ground until their dead and wounded were so great that resistance was impossible, and then the remainder fled. It is said that only two men escaped.

A Horrible Naptha Explosion.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 7.—Half a dozen men were at work on a pile driver on the Woonasquatucket River at the north end of the city Saturday morning, when a stream of naphta came floating down the River from the city's oil works above. As it reached the pile driver it took fire from the heat of the boiler. Several of the workmen fled, but three of them, Patrick Nagle, Patrick Fenn-ssy and Phineas Cammell remained. A few minutes later a terrible explosion occurred and the pile driver was enveloped in a broad sheet of flame. The three men at once sought escape. Nagle jumped ashore with his clothing in flames and his flesh burning; he soon fell almost lifeless. Cammell was badly burned. Fennessey jumped into the water and was burned.

A Canadian Chinaman Arrested.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 7. Saturday night a Chinaman and a white woman were arrested here. They came over on the ferry boat from Windsor and to all appearances he woman was pointing the Chinaman to a place of safety. The Chinaman gives the name of Ling Loon and the woman registered as Sadie Lang, 353 Orleans street. Toronto. She denied having anything to do with the Chinaman. She was locked up as a suspect, and the Chinaman was locked up charged with illegally entering the United States. He had $23 in cash and a certificate of residence in Canada was found sewed up in his clothes. He was disguised in civilized garb.

A Chicago Sky Pierser.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Plans for the new Odd Fellows Temple to be erected in this city have been prepared. They provide for a building as high as the Washington Monument. The entire ground space is built up to a height of fourteen stories. Above this the building extends six stories in the form of a square cross, the four spaces at the angles of the main building being left vacant. Above this a tower shaped structure fourteen stories high, making 34 stories altogether with an aggregate height of 556 feet. The estimated cost is $3,500,000.

The Race of the Goats.

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 7. The most novel of all sports was inaugurated here Saturday. A goat race gotten up by a sporting editor in a spirit of levity, proved more than a joke, as 5000 people turned out to see it. There were 60 entries, and the turfmen made books on results, and hundreds of dollars in pools were sold. Never was there such a sight before. The mayor and other city and county officials acted as starters and judges. Some of the goats made the 300 yards in 32 seconds in harness.

Stole a Communion Service.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 7.—A man named Dolan, who claims to be a breakman on the West Shore between Buffalo and Syracuse was arrested by Chief Young, whilst trying to dispose of the communion service of the Episcopal Church, Niagara Falls, N. Y., to one of our town merchants. The Rev. Mr. Cassmullin, the rector, from whose house the plate was stolen, identified the property. His worship gave the sacreligious outlaw 60 days to do penance in Welland jail.

SACKED BY A MOB.

A Report that the City of Coquimbo, Chili, Has Been Pillaged.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. A special to The Herald from Valparaiso says: A report reached here to night that the city of Coquimbo had been sacked by a mob. The report is generally discredited as it is thought that the authorities there have ample force at their command to repress any disposition on the part of disorderly persons to create a disturbance.

The question of the refugees on board the American and German warships has been settled definitely.

Feathered Their Nests.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. Investigation of the books shows the money of the Bahrenfelst Bank's depositors to have been taken as well. Balances ranging from $20,000 to upwards of $1,000,000 are carried in the names of men who were known to be poor before the beginning of the war. Such balances will all be confiscated by the provincial government and will be used as a fund to meet the expenditure under Balmaceda's reign.

Extending the Grand Trunk.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7. The rumor is published here that the Grand Trunk is about to extend its line to Winnipeg via Sault Ste. Marie and Duluth, and that when that city is reached the line will be extended to the Pacific Coast.

THE CANADIAN BUDGET.

ALLEGED ATTEMPTED ABDUCTION OF A CANADIAN HEIRESS.

Two Arabians Arrested for Murder—How the Election Petitions are Distributed—The Demands of Organized Labor—Mr. Conmee, M.P.P., Confirmed in His Seat—Many Matters of Interest.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 7.—Frank and Emile Risch, of Toronto, were arrested in St. George's Episcopal church here on Saturday morning while waiting for the former's prospective bride to arrive. The arrest was effected by Constables Black and Shea on a charge of abduction. It seems that for some time past Frank Risch (one of the brothers named in connection with the girl Sadie Lavelle) has been courting Lulu Rolls a daughter of a prominent citizen, but her guardians refused to countenance the affair owing to the youth of the parties. However, they arranged a secret marriage and waited upon the Rev. Robert Kerr, rector of St. George's church, and asked him to marry them. He told them he would, but insisted on the marriage taking place in church. This morning was fixed for the ceremony, but in the meanwhile Lawyer Cox, who is one of the girl's guardians, heard of it. He telegraphed to Toronto for information concerning young Risch and the reply was so unsatisfactory that he determined to stop the marriage. He applied to the rector, who said he could not go behind the license unless there was some urgent reason for so doing. An urgent reason was soon forthcoming in the shape of a warrant for the two Risches, who were arrested right in the church while they were awaiting the bride's arrival. They were immediately brought before the mayor, who remanded them to the county jail until Tuesday next to await examination. They pleaded not guilty. The girl is about 15 years of age and will have, when she becomes of age, property worth perhaps $25,000. Her father lives in this city and she resides with him. Lawyer Cox being her guardian under her uncle's will. On being interviewed by a reporter young Risch played the innocent and said he was unaware that he was doing anything wrong, and that the girl was perfectly willing to marry him.

Another account gives the additional information that Miss Rolls had been attending boarding school in Toronto, and it was here she became acquainted with Risch.

Reforms Favored by Labor.

QUEBEC, Sept. 7. The Dominion Labor congress closed their annual session Saturday and selected Toronto as their next meeting place. It declared for the establishment of a Government printing department by each province for printing public documents and producing public school books to be given free to scholars. It recommended free education, but not compulsory; tabled a motion to petition for the prohibition of Jewish immigration; urged that Parliament legislate for the universal adoption of the eight hour day, to be attained in three years by shortening present hours by 45 minutes a day each year; that articles manufactured in prisons and reformatories be exported and sold abroad instead of being brought into competition with the product of Canadian labor in the local market; and declared that as it is desirable both to improve the public credit by a further use of paper currency and to continue large public works and improvements, both of a national and municipal character, the latter should be persisted in and be subsidized by means of a new issue of paper money by the Federal Government, to be made redeemable in 30 or 50 years.

The French Army Manœuvres.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The second series of the great French army manœuvres, in which 150,000 men are taking part, commenced yesterday. The first series began Sept. 3 and consisted of the manœuvres of army corps against army corps. The second series will last until Sept. 9 and will consist of a five days' battle between General De Gallifet and General Davout, under the supreme direction of General Saussier, the military governor of Paris, who has already been designated as the probable commander-in-chief of the French armies in case of war. The final battle will take place Wednesday next around Vendemare.

An American Kodaker Arrested.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—An American, giving the name of Carleton Graves, stating his business to be that of a photographer and his address as "Columbia," was arrested yesterday at Mayence, charged with being a spy. Mr. Graves' baggage was seized and searched and he will be detained until satisfactory explanations as to certain actions of his, classed as suspicious by the German police, are furnished. It is presumed Mr. Graves was kodaking the fortifications of Mayence.

THE PERILS OF THE SEA.

A MAD SAILOR CARVES THE CAPTAIN AND HIS MATE.

The Dubbledam Disabled at Sea and the Passengers Panic Stricken—Sailors Washed Overboard—The Tugboat Erie Run Down and Sunk by the Ocean Liner Etruria.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A startling story is telegraphed from Deal, Kent, a seaside town near Dover. Loud cries for help, mingled with oaths and curses, were heard early this morning some distance seaward and almost directly off the town of Deal. Two local policemen immediately entered a boat and put to sea to inquire into the mysterious cries. The police, however, had been preceded and distanced by two Deal boatmen, who also went to the rescue. The boatmen found a boat of the ship G. L. Waters and witnessed a horrible fight which was going on in the small craft. Crouching in the stern of the boat was her captain holding a little boy in his left arm and a young sailor, both desperately defending themselves against the attack of another man. The latter, according to the boatmen, was an athletic seaman, mad drunk, who was attacking the captain and the young sailor with his sheaf knife. Upon the approach of the boatmen the drunken seamen threw the oars overboard attacked them with his knife and refused to allow them to rescue the occupants of the small boat. The mad seaman beat off the boat, and later on also beat off the police who came upon the scene. The result was that the ship's boat was allowed to drift away in the mist and eventually disappear. Later in the day search for the drifting boat and its occupants was renewed, but up to 3 p. m. nothing has been received from Deal on the subject.

A WILD TIME AT SEA.

The Dubbledam Disabled and the Passengers Panic-Stricken.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The steamer Dubbeldam, from Amsterdam for New York with 406 passengers, has put back to Plymouth. From Aug. 28 to 30 the steamer encountered strong westerly winds and heavy seas. At 3.15 a.m. Aug. 30 she struck something that was undoubtedly floating wreckage. The side of the steamer was scraped and her rudder came in contact with the wreckage and was damaged so that she subsequently broke adrift and was lost. Long hawsers were thrown out over the stern to act as drags in keeping the steamer head on to the sea, but this expedient failed and the vessel reached to and was soon lying in the trough of the sea. She rolled heavily and took much water on board, a quantity of it finding its way below into the saloon and steerage. For thirty hours she lay at the mercy of the sea, and the passengers, to say nothing of its exceedingly uncomfortable position in which they found themselves, were filled with great fears as the outcome of the voyage. Sea after sea swept over the decks, causing much damage to the small boats. On the morning of Sept. 1 a steering gear was rigged and the steamer stood upon her course for New York. The weather continued heavy, however, and Captain Pottjer decided it would not be safe to attempt to continue the voyage with his temporary steering apparatus. He therefore put the steamer about and reached Plymouth, where the Dubbledam will go into dock for repairs.

Sailors Washed Overboard.

LONDON, Sept. 7. The steamer James Turpie from New York for Malmo has arrived at Falmouth short handed. She reports that during the passage she encountered very heavy weather. Several immense seas boarded the steamer. One of them carried the mate overboard, and a short time afterward the steward was also washed off the steamer. It was impossible to save the men. A number of the crew were thrown to the deck by the seas and some severely injured.

The Tugboat Erie Sunk.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. The tugboat Erie was run down and sunk off Bedloe's Island early Saturday morning by the Cunard steamship Etruria, while she was proceeding down the bay on her trip to Liverpool. The son of the captain of the tug was drowned. The accident occurred at 7 a.m. during a dense fog. The Etruria, it is said, escaped damage and proceeded on her voyage.

Passports Required From Russian Jews.

LONDON, Sept. 7. A letter is published here from the minister in charge of British affairs at Jerusalem, saying that, on petition of native tradesmen, the Sultan has stopped the influx of Russian Jews, and that he will not permit them to land in Palestine without a special order. Fifty families who arrived recently by steamer were sent back. The letter adds that Baron Hirsch ought to arrange with the Porte terms of settlement which would permit of Jews locating in Palestine. Palestine, the writer says, is at present thinly peopled. If the country were terraced, planted and supplied with water reservoirs it would be highly productive and the cost would be small in comparison with the expensive system adopted in South American countries. In conclusion the clergyman says the country across the River Jordan is fine and fertile, practically uninhabited and able to receive an enormous number of settlers.

A German Field Marshall Resigns.

BERLIN, Sept. 7. Field Marshall Count Leonard Von Blumenthal, chief of the general staff of the Prussian army, classed as one of the most distinguished strategists of modern times has resigned command of the 4th army Inspection District, comprising the 3rd, 4th and 13th Army Corps (Kingdom of Wurtemburg) and the two army corps of Bavaria. This is taken to be another of the desire of Emperor William to please the South German federation, as shown in his determination to attend the Bavarian military manœuvres under the Bavarian flag as a guest of Bavaria and not as Emperor of Germany.

"Only Fit for Litter."

DUBLIN, Sept. 7. The Freeman's Journal says the wheat crops in West Clare and other Western districts of Ireland, are, owing to the recent terribly rainy weather, "only fit for litter." The potatoes are getting black and the blight is general. One-third of the potatoe crop is already gone and the barley and oats are rotting. Certainly Cork is suffering the least from the effects of the bad weather.

Municipal Gift to Toronto.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—On Saturday Hon. J. M. Gibson, M.P.P., Q.C., as representing the Ontario Government, presided at a meeting at the Lakeside Home for Sick Children, on Toronto Island. The object of the large gathering was to celebrate the completion of the best equipped children's hospital in the world, and to witness the handing of the deeds to the trustees of Victoria Hospital, Toronto. Mr. John Ross Robertson, proprietor of the Telegram, has spent $25,000 in the erection and furnishing of the Home. The Victoria Hospital on College street, which will be opened next month, has cost $150,000. Sick children from any part of Ontario are received and treated gratuitously. The Ontario Government has raised the grant from 15 cents per child per day to 30 cents in recognition of the benefit of the institutions to the province.

A Serious Allegation.

HAMILTON, Sept. 7.—It is said now by some of the railway trainmen who are to be examined in the inquest over the Burlington canal pitch-in, by which a fireman and brakeman were killed, that before the accident a notice was posted up in the store department alongside the Toronto round-house that in case of a green crew having to pass over the Burlington Beach Division no pilot would be allowed them. In other words that they would have to pick their way themselves and this notice it is alleged, has been taken down since the fatal accident of a week ago. The coroner will investigate this statement at the inquest.

The News From Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Mr. E. Dionne of the Public Works Department has been suspended as a result of Friday's disclosures.

The sub-committee of the Privileges and Elections Committee met on Saturday. From what can be learned it appeared there is no prospect of its agreeing upon a report. Sir John Thompson, Hon. Michael Adams and Mr. Girouard favor the exoneration of Sir Hector Langevin, while Hon. Messrs. Wills and Davies propose to bring in a minority report condemning him. The reports will be debated and perhaps a compromise, and the third report may be adopted by the House.

"Toronto, the Good."

TORONTO, Sept. 7. The Sunday Queen's Park business culminated to-day in the arrest of two park preachers, after the usual preliminaries had been concluded. At the police station the following charge was laid against the two men: Emmerar Hickerson, 284 Clinton street, carpenter; Charles Neil, 142 Portland street, cooper; charged with disorderly conduct in the Queen's Park. After remaining at No. 5 for a couple of hours the prisoners were liberated on bail. It is now likely that the validity of the by-law will be tested.

Fatally Wounded by a Scythe.

MINDEN, Ont., Sept. 7.—The little son of Mr. John Harrison of Minden township accidentally stepped within reach of a scythe his older brother was using in cutting weeds, inflicting a cut on his heel which bled rather profusely at the time and the hemorrhage continued until the child bled to death.

TOO HEAVY FOR BINDERS

Are the Crops of the Canadian Northwest.—No Doubts Now.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—According to information furnished by agents of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company in all sections of Manitoba and the Northwest there is now no doubt about the bountiful nature of the crops. Roots generally excellent. At Neepawa wheat cutting is nearly finished, and the yield will be 27 to 30 bushels per acre. Crops in neighborhood of Hartney heaviest for years, and last week's frost only did injury to green wheat; average 40 bushels. About 85 per cent. of wheat is cut in Souris; oats and barley also cut; late grain slightly injured. In Russell about two-thirds wheat and one-fourth oats cut; average yield of wheat 30 bushels and oats 50 bushels per acre. Nearly all grain cut in Moosejaw, and there has not been a sign of frost; best crop raised in the district; wheat 30 to 45, barley 60 and oats 70 to 90 bushels per acre. No damage in the neighborhood of Regina and fully four-fifths cut wheat 30 to 40 and barley 60 bushels per acre; oats very heavy with straw five or six feet long. Harvesting in the district of Carberry about three-fourths completed. Fully 75 per cent is cut in Mooreomin and grain is apparently entirely free from injury by frost; grain is so heavy that in many cases the binders are not able to cut more than half the full width. No frost at Morden and wheat, oats and barley splendid sample. Harvest is rapidly nearing completion around Brandon; slight traces of frost in some low lands to the north, but damage, if any, very light. At Qu'Appelle about 75 per cent. of wheat cut; sample good and is also that of Barley and oats; no frost, greater portion wheat cut and stacked around Virden; heaviest crop ever harvested. Harvest is in full blast around Minnedosa, nearly all our grain will be cut next week; slight damage on low lands. Ninety per cent. of wheat cut at Gretna; in low spots slight trace of frost; flax will yield very heavy. Wheat is about harvested around Prince Albert and is about harvested since 1879. Slight damage to frost in low lying lands around Deloraine, but bulk of crop will go No. 1 hard. It is expected that 75 per cent. of wheat around Portage la Prairie will go No. 1 hard. In the neighborhood of Calgary some farms average 40 bushels to the acre and harvesting will be over next week.

Two Arabians Charged With Murder.

GUELPH, Sept. 7.—Two Arabians are in the police cells on the charge of murder. The offence for which they were arrested was committed between Mapleton and Hall Station, Niagara County, N. Y., on Aug. 25. It appears that Antonio Saad, aged 26, and Habeb Saad, aged 21, were traveling through the country peddling jewelry, in company with a cousin, a girl about 17 years of age named Katrina Saad. On the day mentioned Habeb was seen quarreling with his cousin in the vicinity of a swamp. The girl was never afterwards seen alive, but her body was found some three days later in the woods. It is known that she had $30 in her possession and it is supposed she was murdered for her money. The marks on her body showed that she had been murdered, and suspicion pointed to Habeb as the perpetrator, but he had disappeared. It was learned from a letter written by his brother to a firm they buy goods from in New York that the parties were in Guelph. John F. Kennedy, Deputy Sheriff of Niagara Falls came here and secured the services of Chief Randall and tracked one of the Arabs to Rockwood, the youngest one, who is supposed to be the murderer, and arrested him in a store in that place. The other brother in town got wind of the pursuers of his brother and left the city on foot for Rockwood but was captured on the way.

$2.00

takes the choice of the lot, they are not trash but good cloths and well made, in all colors, worth three and four times the money, the only objection being many of them have the plain sleeve, which if the purchaser thinks necessary can be easily altered.

Another lot we have to offer at $3.00. A glance at, by the most sceptical, will cause them to put their hands in their pockets and see if they have brought their money.

For $5.00 we show a nice cloth Mantle with a braided sleeve, others of the new style are—well it would take a lady to describe them.

Beaver cloths in all colors, high collars richly braided, the edge faced with fur, double breasted and flap pockets, three quarter length, when on they are very comfortable looking and stylish. Prices from $6 to $15.

We have imported this year a lot of Scarlet Jackets and Coats lined with satin, all the new shapes, they range in price from $18.00 up. We have also a well assorted stock of long Coats in black and colors to select from.

MONDAY, SEPT. 7, 1891.

THE Mail thus employs the "jargon of the mart" to depict the sale of Government positions in East Northumberland to provide Tory campaign funds: "There appears to have been considerable activity in the bridge market during the period covered by the C. Crane investigation at Ottawa. At the opening holders offered freely at $150 for single lots, and a steady fair demand was experienced at that figure. One lot, it is said, went at $125, but this was a cut on what was understood to be the inside spot price. With this exception quotations remained steady for a time, but later the market stiffened and $200 was asked. One sale at least was effected at this figure. Deliveries were prompt."

The Kingston News says: "We are pleased to see that the Government has an intelligent appreciation of the new force of public opinion, which must enter into its future calculations, and that this year's grant to the Trent Valley canal has been considerably reduced. Let us pray that the scheme may be granted an euthanasia." But adds the Mail if it be desired that the scheme should be killed the killing should be done at once, and without further expenditure. This would not be an easy death, it is true, but it would ease the taxpayer.' What earthly reason the Kingston News has for desiring the Trent Valley canal an easy death it is hard to see. Kingston would be greatly benefitted by its construction. And the Mail must not be too sure that the death of the project would relieve the taxpayer. Toronto would be to sure to make a dead set on the Government for further appropriations for its harbour and the Government would not have the excellent excuse for refusing that they now have—namely that national works like the Trent Valley Canal are much better objects of public expenditure than scooping out the Queen City quagmire year after year.

THE extract from the interview published in the EXAMINER to-day with the Hon. A. S. Hardy, Crown Lands Commissioner for Ontario, concerning the recent visit of himself and the Provincial Secretary to the Rainy River region, will have been read with interest. Mr. Hardy speaks in glowing terms of the resources and possibilities of the district, but his optimism is more than justified by the experiences of settlers, and by the observations of many who have been over the country. Mr. Alexander Looking, one of the oldest settlers on the Rainy River, in his series of letters to the Globe a year or two ago, told the same story as that set forth in terser form by Mr. Hardy, and the Globe correspondent who five years ago, just after the district had ceased to be "disputed territory," went over the ground with a Government survey party, was, if possible, yet more emphatic and positive in his declarations are to the almost boundless resources and capabilities, and, withal, the beauty of the Rainy River region. The Province will never cease to have cause for congratulation that the development of this great territory fell to the lot of the Mowat Administration and particularly into the hands of such men as the late Mr. Pardee and the present Commissioner. Indeed, owing to the prolonged illness of Mr. Pardee before his death it may be justly urged that upon Mr. Hardy's shoulders has fallen almost the imitation of any great work to be done there. To say that Mr. Hardy is equal to his task is superfluous. A clearer headed, more vigorous minded and generally capable man does not exist in the Dominion. The extravagance, waste and boodling that have characterized the opening up of Dominion lands and the development of territory under Federal control have had no place under the Mowat regime in the settling up of this valuable district. The country there is not all fit for farming, but the more fertile portion—and this comprises an area that could easily accommodate half a million of people is a remarkably high grade of land, well watered and timbered, and above all free from the early frosts that trouble Manitoba. In other sections lumber and mineral resources predominate over the agricultural, and these, too, are being rapidly developed under the clean handed and practical administration of the Mowat Government.

The small boy who, when asked his age, replied that, judged by the fun he had had, he was 100 years old, pretty accurately described the feeling of the large audience at the Academy last night. Lillian Kennedy made a decided hit, and the amusement that was crowded into three hours to unravel "Casey's Troubles" was enough for two nights; and all the roles essayed by Miss Kennedy and the strong support, was equally charming and successful. The company is far above the average, and is sure of big success. d57

The Rainy River District.

The Agricultural Possibilities of This Part of the "Disputed Territory."

Hon. Mr. Hardy, Commissioner of Crown Lands, has returned from his trip to Northwest Ontario, and to a Globe reporter thus gives his impressions of that part of the province:—

"How did the Rainy River country impress you?'

"The territory lying along the banks of Rainy River, between the mouth and source, was a revelation to us. There is a stretch of nearly 80 miles of farm land between Fort Francis and the mouth of Rainy River along the Canadian bank which does not, perhaps, contain two miles of broken or untillable land in the whole distance as seen from the river. It is of unparalleled fertility. I know of no stretch of 80 miles in Ontario that can compare with it in richness or fertility of soil. It is easily cleared, the timber upon it being of second growth, and the stumps are easily removed, indeed come out readily in about three years from the clearing. The available land varies in depth along the bank of the river from ten miles to thirty miles as we were told, but it has not yet been fully explored, and may stretch back, as we were also informed, a good deal farther at certain points. It is capable of sustaining 500,000 people, perhaps more. The crops are uniformly of the best quality, wheat running from 30 to 35 and 40 bushels per acre, and other grains in proportion. Indian corn and tomatoes ripen, and the whole section, it is said, is free from the summer frosts that afflict Manitoba and the Northwest I have never seen early settlers more comfortable. There is a chance too for the farmer at certain periods of the year, if he chooses, to engage with the lumbermen on Rainy Lake and Rainy River at from $1 50 to $1 75 per day, and many settlers earn money in this way. A number of excellent settlers from Muskoka have gone in this year and their work of clearing has already begun. Some of them have erected houses and others are preparing to do so. They are an excellent class of men for this district, as they have been used to clearing woodland and breaking it up. I perdict a rush of settlers to this section of this country as soon as its merits are even half understood. The land is free grant land, and any settler can obtain 160 acres by settling and making the necessary improvements."

THE GREAT RAINY RIVER.

"Is Rainy River itself attractive or navigable throughout?" asked the reporter.

"It is one of the great rivers of the country. I had but a very imperfect conception of it. It appears from casual observation to be from a quarter to in some places a third of a mile wide, is almost uniform in width from source to mouth, and tugs and steamers ply over its whole course. There are but two places where navigation is difficult, viz., two comparatively small rapids about half way up. The expenditure of a few thousand dollars would overcome all difficulty in so far as these are concerned, and make as fine a navigable river as is to be found on the continent. The volume of water is great, the current is moderate, and the banks of the river are beautiful throughout. One drawback is that the American border is as yet an unbroken wilderness. The accounts vary as to the farming land on the American side, but it appears from the steamer very similar to that on the Canadian side, except that the soil is not so rich, indeed is much lighter in some places. What the Canadian section wants is roads, more ready access to the front and to existing railways, and for some of their products a more ready market, but above all what is wanted is more settlers. For all their coarse products—hay, fodder, potatoes, etc., —a ready market is found among the lumbermen at excellent prices. The settlers are looking for the rapid prosecution of the Port Arthur Railway, which it is thought must ultimately reach them and traverse the Rainy River valley."

They have discovered it! "What?", Vita Ore, which is warranted to cure Diphtheria or any Throat trouble, Dyspepsia or Female Weaknesses. Put up by the Vita Ore Co'y, Box 89, Belleville. d303m-w

The Voice of the People.

In every part of Canada the voice of the people rules, and the voice of the people endorses Burdock Blood Bitters as the best and surest blood purified known. Nothing drives out boils, blotches, humors, sores and impurity so quickly as B.B.B., and perfect health with bright clear skin always follows its use. dw

Solomon's Wisdom.

The wisdom of Solomon, were he alive today, would lead him to choose Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. It cures dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, constipation and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Handsome Prize.

An Evidence of What a Genuine Magazine Competition Offers.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of The Canadian Queen magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field for Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The (Kingston Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1891.

All ages and conditions of people may use National Pills without injury and with great benefit. dw

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

Grumblers.

The grumbler is the bane of our existence. Nothing suits him. His fault-finding is constant, and his misrepresentation of our motives is persistent. Everything we do he looks upon with suspicion, until we are just about ready to cut his acquaintance or compel him to take Beecham's Pills, which we know will cure his sour stomach, biliousness, constipation or other ailments of the stomach or bowels that makes him so bad tempered and disagreeable. Go to your druggist for these celebrated pills, or send 25 cents to B. F. Allen Co., General Agents, 365 and 367 Canal street, New York. w37d

AFTER THE COFFEE CROP

IS THE DATE FIXED FOR THE NEXT HAYTIAN UPRISING.

The Chief of the Coming Revolution—General Prophete His Plans and Present Operations—Still They May be Upset by Hippolyte's Aggressive Action.

The date of the next uprising in Hayti has been fixed by the revolutionary exiles in Jamaica and the mode of operations has been carefully planned. Unless aggressive action on the part of Hippolyte's provoke the disaffected population, nothing will be attempted until the coffee crop has been gathered. Most inhabitants of the republic are interested in the results of the crop, and are desirous of seeing the end of the season without any suspension of field labor.

This period of quiescence, however, will probably not last long. The man who will then raise head the revolutionary party and direct all its operations is Gen. A. Prophete, and he will probably fill the Presidential chair if the uprising be successful. When the writer suggested this to the General in conversation the other day, he replied in his broken English that he was simply chief of the revolution; "if the revolution were successful, well——." A shrug that might mean anything completed the sentence. He has just made a significant move. He has gagged nearly all the newspapers published in Kingston, and this circumstance alone tells how near at hand is the storm.

The names of Hippolyte and Legitime are usually as prominent in discussions on Haytian affairs that the public are apt to consider these two men the only important actors in the present struggle. This is far from being the case. In fact, it is very probable that both will soon disappear from Haytian politics. Hippolyte is an old man, and he lives as weary and troubled a life as the Czar himself. Surrounded by secret foes who are perpetually plotting against him he cannot be said to live; he merely drags out an existence, and a few years must see the end, if, as is not at all likely, he escapes the hands of the murderer. Legitime has so accountably ceased to be a factor of importance among the revolutionary exiles. He can still count upon a goodly number of followers in Port au Prince, but for some time his prestige has been waning, and here it is considered that his power and influence have vanished. New and younger men are coming to the front, and around these are gathering the more daring and restless spirits who are hating in exile, and would be back in their native land. One of these rising leaders of whom the world will hear a great deal is Gen. Prophete. As Minister of War under Legitime he earned a reputation for uncommon sagacity and strength of character, and acquired a powerful hold over the soldiery by his bravery and his military skill. He lately arrived in Jamaica from Paris, where he passed about two years, and immediately after landing he set about purchasing a retired residence where he could conduct the affairs of the revolution undisturbed by the unsympathetic Kingstonians or counter plotters.

GEN. PROPHETE.

Quite recently Prophete opened negotiations with several of the other exiled leaders, notably M. Piquant and M. Fouchard, and after numerous conferences was agreed to nominate him as chief of the revolution. At a general meeting of the party the nomination was ratified, and he was formally elected. Immediately he sent out a manifesto "to all patriotic Haytians," which was couched in the usually extravagant language, and signed by himself as "Chief of the Revolution."

Legitime has made no sign, but a party of thirty or forty published a proclamation repudiating the election, and stating that they were not present at the meeting. These proceedings were noticed in the local newspapers. Unlike some of his predecessors, Gen. Prophete is anxious for the good opinion of the United States and England, and accordingly he has taken a decisive step. Only the other day he approached the proprietors of the principle newspapers in this city and offered a subsidy to each if he would suppress all news antagonistic to his cause, and insert such as was favorable to Hippolyte. A certain sum would be paid every month in advance, and a bonus would be given if the revolution should be successful. The terms were accepted, and accordingly only news that has been edited by the revolutionary leader is now made public. Thus the newspapers of a British colony are directly assisting the cause of a black revolutionary general; and when the uprising takes place, and the usual influx of exiled Haytians occurs, not one word of their tales of massacres and general butchery will go to the world through the Kingston journals.

No aspirant to the Presidential chair of the republic need count on success unless his coffers can stand a long and continuous drain. Gen. Prophete has unlimited means, and it is his dollars that have kept the exiles alive, and have brought the munitions which are lying not far from Jamaica ready for the outbreak. Haytian exiles in other islands are promptly succored from the same source, and the cost of their passage to Jamaica is paid. When one considers the expenses of all kinds to be met day after day by Prophete, it is obvious that if the money is exclusively his own it will be his object to bring about the uprising as soon as possible. Where the revolutionary funds really come from, however, is a question that often bothers the minds of inquisitive Kingstonians; but they will puzzle in vain.

Gen. Prophete is a thoroughbred negro. He is powerfully built, and has features indicative of a determined character. In social life his expression is pleasant and his eyes are perpetually twinkling with humor.

The bishop of Derry, Dr. William Alexander, an eloquent preacher and the author of a work on the Psalms, has accepted an invitation from Columbia College to deliver a course of lectures next year on the evidences of christianity.

Brantford Notes.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 5.—Last night the mayor received a letter afrom Mr. Searge nt, general manager of the G. T. R., stating that the carshops cannot, as far as the railway authorities see in the meantime, be concentrated at Brantford. The reason is given that no offer of land is made, and that the value of land here and the offer is made by another position render it hardly possible to come to Brantford.

With regard to the loop line Mr. Sergeant remarks that the directors are favorable to building the loop line of two or three miles in length on condition that the city provide a right of way, and that the $32,-000, which would have to be returned to the city on the abandonment of the Brantford carshops, should be given as a bonus to the railway company to make this loop line.

An Aged Lady Kicked to Death.

DUTTON, Ont., Sept. 5.—On the farm of Mr. William McAllister, about three miles east of Dutton, reside McAllister, his son and his unmarried sister, Catherine, who was the housekeeper for the family, and was in her 84th year. McAllister and his son were away all day yesterday, and on returning in the evening found the house deserted and the door open. Supposing the aged lady had gone for her usual walk nothing was thought of it. Her protracted stay caused a search to be made, when she was found lying in the pasture field, a short distance from the house, quite unconscious and badly injured. She was taken to the house, and in a few minutes breathed her last. In the field were a number of horses, one of which is supposed to have kicked her in the face.

An Alimony Suit.

TORONTO, Sept. 5.—The Master in Chambers at Osgoode Hall yesterday made an order allowing service of the writ of summons and statement of claim on the defendant, in the alimony suit of Ellen Robinson against Joseph Robinson, by pinning a notice of the suit in the St. Thomas Evening Journal. The parties were married in November, 1872, and lived with her father. In September of last year Robinson eloped from St. Thomas with a young lady of the name of Eliza Rice, and has not since been heard of. As there is money now due and payable to Robinson, out of land in which he is interested, his wife sues him for alimony on the ground of desertion. Robinson is an engineer, and is the father of four children, whom he left with his wife.

The Grand Duke is Dying.

LONDON, Sept. 5. Duke Johann Albrecht and the Grand Duke Michael of Russia have arrived at Gelbensaude, where the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, brother of the former and brother-in-law of the latter, is dying. Yesterday the Grand Duke had increased difficulty in breathing, and paralysis extended throughout the greater part of his body. It is believed that in the event of death the Duke Johann will be regent for the 9-year-old heir of the Grand Duke.

Skewered and Cured.

"First I was skewered and then I was cured," says Jones, and he laughs heartily over his little joke. Well, let him laugh. Let laugh who wins. He was skewered through by dyspepsia and its train of ills. He was cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in the mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, nervous prostration or exhaustion, hot flushes alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant and indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity? These are symptoms of Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue the cause, if taken according to directions, for a reasonable length of time, or money paid for it will be cheerfully refunded. s

"I will never forget that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved my life. Five years ago I had a terrible attack of summer complaint and was given up by my doctor and my parents. A friend advised Fowler's Strawberry and at the second dose I was relieved and soon was as well as ever."—Maggie McGuiness, Falkenburg, Ont. dw

Self Application of Electricity

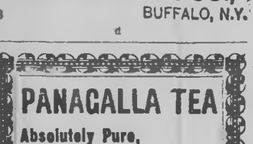
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

The Peculiarity of the Verb. Eat.

There is a peculiarity about this little word which perhaps some have noticed. In the first place it has reference to the consumption of food, and secondly has reference to most important drink. The verb eat, either in the present or past tense, contains the letters of the word tea—hawley bro.' fine tea is the particular beverage meant.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

ORDAINED A PRIEST.

Sacerdotal Consecration of Rev. Timothy Francis Collins,

A Solemn and Impressive Ceremony at St. Peter's Cathedral—His Lordship Pontificates and Consecrates the Candidate—The Assistant Clergy—An Impressive Ceremony an Eloquent Sermon—The Newly Ordained Priest Blesses the People.

Yesterday Morning St. Peter's Cathedral was crowded in every part by a congregation assembled to witness and participate in the important ecclesiastical function of ordaining a priest, Rev. Timothy Francis Collins of Lindsay who was, on the Friday previous, ordained to the deaconship. The ordination of a priest in regarded as one of the most solemn and impressive ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church. Upon this occasion His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, celebrated pontifical high mass, clothed, of course, in full pontificals, amice, alb, cincture, cross, tunic, dalmatic, maniple, stole and chasuble. These are emblems of the sacred power, which in obedience to his divine commission he confers upon the suppliant for ordination. His Lordship was assisted in the service of the mass by Rev. Father Rudkins as Archdeacon, Rev. Father Nevin, as deacon and Rev. Father Dube as deacon, Rev. Father Scollard filled the duties of notary, and Rev. Father McColl assisted the suppliant for ordination. The following young gentlemen who are preparing for the priesthood also assisted in the ceremonies:—Mr. F. McGuire, of Asphodel; Messrs J. and F. O'Sullivan, of Campbellford, and Mr. M. O'Leary, of Douro. Rev. Father McColl assisted the candidate for ordination, and the full choir assisted at the service of the mass.

Rev. Mr. Collins as mentioned, having previously received the tonsure, the four minor orders, porter, lector, exorcest and acolyte, and also the sacred order of subdeaconship and deaconship, the latter last Friday, and having been duly examined as to his conduct and morals and knowledge of sacred Scripture and theology, appeared in the sanctuary arrayed in the vestments of a deacon. The Bishop proceeded with the mass as far as the tract, when, having taken his seat upon the sedum episcopalium, the ceremony proper of ordination began.

Rev. Father Rudkins, as archdeacon, said in Latin: "Let him approach who is to be promoted to the order of priesthood," and the notary, Rev. Father Scollard, pronounced the name of the candidate—Timothy Francis Collins, who responded, "I am present," and he advanced towards the Bishop, holding in his right hand a lighted taper, and in his left a purificator for binding his hands. The archdeacon to the Bishop with the words: "Most reverend father, our Holy Mother, the Catholic Church, asks that this deacon here be raised to the dignity of the Priesthood." The bishop then addressed the clergy and people present referring to the relations present and future of the people to the priest about to be ordained and asked if any had anything to say against his promotion. Pausing a moment the bishop addressed the candidate in words of admonition, and pointing out that it is the duty of the priest to offer sacrifice, to bless, to govern, to preach and to baptise, to preserve chastity unlined and to lead a holy life. At this point the prostration of the candidate took place and the litany of the saints was chanted as far as the petition to "grant rest to all the faithful departed" when the bishop standing with mitre and crosier, thrice blessed the prostrate candidate, and then knelt till the conclusion of the litany. The impositionof hands was then performed by the bishop and clergy in stole. The candidate still kneeling the bishop extended his hands and prayed the Omnipotent Father to multiply his gifts on His servant chosen for the priesthood.

THEN PRESENTED THE SUPPLIANT

The bishop next took his seat and removing the stole from the candidate's left shoulder crossed it upon his breast with the words "Receive thou the yoke of the Lord, for His yoke is sweet and His burden is light."

The bishop next invested him with the chasuble, folded on the shoulders saying at the same time: "Receive the sacerdotal vestment by which charity is understood, for God is powerful to work in thee charity and every perfection work."

The Bishop then, with the mitre removed, prayed, invoking the blessing of God upon his servant, and that he might by the manner of his life and the gravity of his conduct show himself to be a priest trained in the manner recommended by St. Paul to Titus and Timothy, that he might be a model of justice, constancy, mercy, fortitude and all other virtues, that he might teach by example, confirm by his admonitions, and maintain immaculate the gift of his ministry; that he might change by an immaculate benediction, for the benefit of his people, bread and wine into the body and blood of God's Son, etc., etc.

The Bishop then turned to the altar, intoning the "Veni Creator," and after the first verse rose to annoint the hands of the ordained, using holy oil and the words of the prayer: "Deign to consecrate and sanctify, O Lord, these hands through this unction and our benediction." Then making the sign of the cross upon the hands of the candidate, the Bishop prayed: "That whatever these hands bless shall be blessed, and whatever they consecrate shall be consecrated and sanctified through our Lord Jesus Christ." After the Bishop had joined and bound the hands of the candidate with the purificator he presented the ordained with a and a patena, both of which were touched, while the Bishop said: "Receive the power to offer sacrifice to God, to celebrate mass as well for the living as for the dead, in the name of the Lord." The new priest then washed his hands while the Bishop continued the mass as far as the offertory, and proceeded to the middle of the altar, where he received an offering from the newly ordained priest.

The mass was then continued, the priest pronouncing the words after the bishop, the latter giving the priest the communion, and after having received, the Bishop washed his hands and repeated the following admonition in the words of our Lord: "Now, I no long r call you servants, but my friends, because you have known all things which I have done in your midst. Receive the Holy Ghost, the Paraclete in you." The Bishop with mitre, then turned to the ordained priest, who, standing before the altar, made profession of faith, reciting the creed with a clear, steady, melodious voice. He knelt before the Bishop, who placed both hands upon his head saying:—"Receive the Holy Ghost: whose sins you shall forgive they are forgiven, and whose sins you shall retain they are retained." Then unfolding the chasuble the Bishop clothed the priest entirely with it and said: "With the stole of innocence may the Lord clothe thee." The newly ordained priest after promising reverence and obedience to the bishop and his successors, received from the Bishop the kiss of peace.

The Bishop resuming his mitre and crozier further admonished the priest in reference to the duties of his sacred office, and pronounced a benediction upon him. Mass was then continued till after the benediction, when the priest, kneeling in front of the Bishop, received an injunction to consider diligently the order he had received and to live holy and piously.

The last Gospel was said, and the Bishop added a few words, referring to the high dignity which had been conferred on the newly-ordained priest; a dignity which should be a source of pride and satisfaction to any family which had furnished a member for the holy priesthood—one who could not only pray for himself, but offer prayer and sacrifices for his friends. He said it was proper as well as gratifying, that the diocese should furnish young men for the priesthood, who were natives of the country and knew the ways and wants of the people. Since the beginning of his episcopate he had had the pleasure of ordaining three persons to the priesthood. His Lordship then added that the newly ordained priest, whose benediction would confer special grace, would at the conclusion of the sermon, give the members of the congregation individually his first blessing.

THE SERMON.
